Calmly HE turned to me and looked at me, waiting....So I quickly turned back to THE HOLY FIRE and took out the BRASS LADLE. And again THE LAMB CAREFULLY poured the contents into THE SCALES TRAY. Again there was a nice pile of dark powder. But this time the scales had not moved. It had stayed in balance. HE looked down to the ledger and drew a series of dark lines across a line. At that point I had a sick feeling. HE LOOKED up and back at me aware of my discomfort.

"NOT MUCH TO SAY FOR THE HONEST MEASURE OF A MAN'S LIFE IS IT SHEMUEL?".....with that HE leaned over and gently blew on the pile of "dust"... "ashes"....and it simply blew away. There was nothing left. Nothing to record. Nothing to notice. Once again I took the LADLE from THE FIRE and gave it to THE LAMB.

And the vision ended.

Since the first time I have pondered many things. Received accusations and condemnation from a number of people who have had there "2 CENTS" to place before me. As "tough" as their words, thoughts, and curses were meant to be, they have been nothing to my awareness that if I would be placed in THE FIRE ..... what would remain? Regretfully very little is my fear. I guess HIS warning to PAINT MY FACE AND GET SILVER is not something to take lightly. Nor is it something that will be easy.

For any who have thoughts about these images....I'll share a couple of scriptures which I have pondered over for nearly a month. But they were not new to me...just suddenly sharp and focused.

- 1 Hear ye now what the LORD saith; Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.
- 2 Hear ye, O mountains, the LORD'S controversy, and ye strong foundations of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel.
- 3 O my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me.
- 4 For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of servants; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.
- 5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him from Shittim unto Gilgal; that ye may know the righteousness of the LORD.
- 6 Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old?
- 7 Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?
- 8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?
- 9 The LORD'S voice crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom shall see thy name: hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it.
- 10 Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure that is abominable?
- 11 Shall I count them pure with the wicked balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights?

this was MICAH 6....there is no reprieve for the wicked and double minded. But this vision was of the BEMA... the place of reward Paul spoke of...1 Corinthians 3:9-15

- 9 For we are labourers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.
- 10 According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

- 11 For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.
12 Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble;
13 Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.
14 If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.
15 If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire. (KJV)

Let me share one last set of SCRIPTURES....and then it is time for me to go and do what I am called to do.....
please do not expect to see anything else from me any time soon. my heart has been telling me many things.
Likewise those "nice" people who have "put" me in my proper place will be glad I am finally repenting and being humbled. Too bad it is not exactly how they planned for it is THE LORD who directs my steps.

- 9 A man's heart deviseth his way: but the LORD directeth his steps.
10 A divine sentence is in the lips of the king: his mouth transgresseth not in judgment.
11 A just weight and balance are the LORD'S: all the weights of the bag are his work.
12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness: for the throne is established by righteousness.
13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings; and they love him that speaketh right.
14 The wrath of a king is as messengers of death: but a wise man will pacify it. 15 In the light of the king's countenance is life; and his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.
16 How much better is it to get wisdom than gold! and to get understanding rather to be chosen than silver!
17 The highway of the upright is to depart from evil: he that keepeth his way preserveth his soul.
18 Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall.
19 Better it is to be of an humble spirit with the lowly, than to divide the spoil with the proud.
20 He that handleth a matter wisely shall find good: and whoso trusteth in the LORD, happy is he.

The Season Will Be Here Soon

Laura Harrison

It snowed last night. A heavy, unexpected March snow, interrupting the spring that we thought had finally arrived. As I walk down our road a cold wind blows around me, picking up loose snow and carrying it on ahead. The trees are heavy laden, some bent over from the weight of the snow. The world is silent and frozen. My Father is talking to me as I walk along. He says, "It's just resting. Under the snow and ice, where you cannot see, there is still growth and life, there is much going on of which you are not aware. There is life that will come forth in the spring; this is the time of waiting and preparation for all that I have planned. The season will be here soon where there will be much work to do to prepare for the harvest. Now is the resting and waiting. So it is with you; now there is much going on in the Spirit, things of which you are not even aware. There is growth, maturity, waiting on Me. The spring is coming soon, though, when what has been done in secret will be brought forth and to life. What has been done in secret will be brought to the surface. For there is much to be done in my Spirit, I have harvest plans. I have been breaking up fallow soil, I have prepared the land, soon will be the cultivation."

The Secret of The Lord

Rick Joyner

Last week we discussed Amos 3:7 where the Lord said that He would not do anything without first revealing His "secret council" to His servants the prophets. We also see in Psalm 25:14 that "The secret of the LORD is for those who fear Him, and He will make them know His covenant." He can trust divine knowledge to those who fear Him.

We may wonder how we can really be friends if we fear Him, but it is the understanding of these divine paradoxes that the path of life is found upon. The Hebrew word that is translated "fear" in Psalm 25:14 is yare' (yaw-ray'), which is literally translated fear. Some translations have rendered this word "respect," which of course it is, but it is respect to the tenth power. Even if we are His best friends, He is still God and we are still men.

John was the intimate friend of Jesus. Judas was familiar. There is an unholy familiarity with God that can be the foundation of the most tragic falls from grace. John, on the other hand, when he was old and the only original apostle left, was caught up into the vision that is recorded as the book of Revelation. He would still repeatedly fall prostrate in the presence of the Lord, and even before angels. The one who was arguably the man with the greatest revelation of Christ, and the most intimate friend of God, never lost his fear of the Lord. This is probably the main reason why he was trusted with such revelations.

In one of Paul's first epistles, he claims that he is not inferior to even the most eminent apostles. Later he writes that he is the least of the apostles. Then a few years later he writes that he is the least of the saints. In one of his last letters he writes that he is the greatest of sinners. Do you see a progression in this? The greater the spiritual maturity, the greater the humility.

What king or president would allow someone who was not discreet to get near his throne, or anywhere close to where sensitive discussions were taking place? If we want to be the friend that the Lord shares His "secret council" with, then we must understand both the honor and responsibility that it is. If we are going to be trusted with prophetic revelation, we need to have as much wisdom to know when not to share something as when to share. This wisdom is rooted in the fear of the Lord. We can be His best friend, but we must never forget who He is. As stated in Proverbs 9:10: "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom," and it is the foundation of all true prophetic ministry.

The Sin Of Gehazi

Angel Howard

Or, Getting our needs met by our own efforts, by our own understanding.

We've heard and understand the idea of "birthing Ishmael" but I challenge you to look at the sin of Gehazi.

2 Kings 5: 19 "Go in peace," Elisha said. After Naaman had traveled some distance, 20 Gehazi, the servant of Elisha the man of God, said to himself, "My master was too easy on Naaman, this Aramean, by not accepting from him what he brought. As surely as the LORD lives, I will run after him and get something from him." 21 So Gehazi hurried after Naaman. When Naaman saw him running toward him, he got down from the chariot to meet him. "Is everything all right?" he asked. 22 "Everything is all right," Gehazi answered. "My master sent me to say, 'Two young men from the company of the prophets have just come to me from the hill country of Ephraim. Please give them a talent of silver and two sets of clothing.'" 23 "By all means, take two talents," said Naaman. He urged Gehazi to accept them, and then tied up the two talents of silver in two bags, with two sets of clothing. He gave them to two of his servants, and they carried them ahead of Gehazi. 24 When Gehazi came to the hill, he took the things from the servants and put them away in the house. He sent the men away and they left. 25 Then he went in and stood before his master Elisha. "Where have you been, Gehazi?" Elisha asked. "Your servant didn't go anywhere," Gehazi answered. 26 But Elisha said to him, "Was not my spirit with you when the man got down from his chariot to meet you? Is this the time to take money, or to accept clothes, olive groves, vineyards, flocks, herds, or menservants and maidservants? 27 Naaman's leprosy will cling to you and to your descendants forever." Then Gehazi went from Elisha's presence and he was leprous, as white as snow.

Surely Gehazi had seen enough to know that God provides for all the needs of His servants. Having lived with Elisha and served him he certainly saw many things which would have strengthened his faith in God. So why then did he run after Naaman?

Sometimes God's timing is not what we would like or expect. Too often I see people jumping ahead of God the very same way Gehazi did. They see an opportunity to get something they have prayed for and have even received a promise from God about and instead of permitting God to work it out they run ahead to MAKE It happen, thinking and justifying themselves that it is here so this must be God. Not necessarily. Look what that cost Gehazi - EVERYTHING!

How sobering!!

Did We cause the need or promise of God to be fulfilled because we leaned upon our own understanding? Therefore moving out of the perfect plan of God? We can cry and pitch a fit wanting some comfort of what we have known and of course the enemy will come along and tempt you with what it is you carry on about. But, is it God's perfect will? Did we clog up the lines of communication with God by having immature temper tantrums? Therefore blocking our ears to Him, only listening for what we want? These only serve to give the devil a foothold in our lives. And have caused Many to stumble.

Do we justify not doing what we ought to do by leaning upon an old word of the Lord which was applicable for a season? Once more moving out of God's timing? How many blessings and acts of obedience have we missed simply because we trusted in our own rational thinking?

As the body of Christ we all are being tested as to whom are we going to run after.

Who are we going to trust?

Stop running after Naaman for what you need.

Angel Howard

Hebrews 1:7 In speaking of the angels he says, "He makes his angels winds, his servants flames of fire." May we all burn with a passion fire for Jesus and set the world a blaze!

The Shield Of The Lord

Bill Burns

March 28, 2000

This morning I was praying, and I saw a golden shield, and the Spirit said, "It is now the season of the golden shield, for now the Lord will be unto His servants a shield, and now He will reward those who have remained faithful to Him."

"Many of My servants have been persecuted, and I have hidden them away for such a time as this. But now I will bring them forth, and I will be unto them a shield of protection. I say, now the golden shields shall be brought forth from My temple with divine protection and provision."

This word brought to my remembrance that which God spoke to Abraham in Genesis 15:1, "After these things the word of the Lord came to Abram in a vision, saying, fear not Abram, I am your shield, your abundant compensation and your reward shall be exceedingly great." (Amplified)

A shield is an instrument of protection, when God becomes our shield, our protection becomes divine. The church has been in travail to birth a new manchild which represents the apostolic/prophetic government that the Lord is raising up for end-time ministry.

Spiritually, the child (apostolic/prophetic government) has been birthed, but the Queen of Heaven has been sent by the Dragon to destroy the manchild before he can come into his place of authority in God's house. So, Jesus, our High Priest must then become a golden shield of divine protection and provision.

We find a scriptural parallel to what I am talking about in 2 Chronicles chapters 22 and 23. 2 Chronicles 22:10-12, "Now when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed all the royal heirs of the house of Judah. But Jehoshabeath, the daughter of the king, took Joash the son of Ahaziah, and stole him away from among the king's sons who were being murdered, and put him and his nurse in a bedroom. So Jehoshabeath, the daughter of King Jehoram, the wife of Jehoiada the priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah), hid him from Athaliah so that she did not kill him. And he was hidden with them in the house of God for six years, while Athaliah reigned over the land."

Athaliah represents the Queen of Heaven come to destroy the royal seed. Joash represents the manchild. His name means Jah (God) supports (protects and provides for). Joash was then hidden from Athaliah in the priest's house. The priest's name is Jehoiada whose name means Jah (God) knows. Jehoiada then represents Jesus (our High Priest) who is protecting His royal seed until the appointed time.

2 Chronicles 23:9-11, "And Jehoiada the priest gave to the captains of hundreds the spears and the large and small shields which had belonged to King David, that were in the temple of God. Then he set all the people, every man with his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the temple to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and by the temple, all around the king. And they brought out the king's son, put the crown on him, gave him the Testimony, and made him king. Then Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and said, 'Long live the king!'"

The shields that were David's that were found in the temple must have been the ones that David took from Hadadezer and dedicated to the Lord. (2 Samuel 8:7-11). Verse 14 tells us that the "Lord preserved David wherever he went." Once again, the Lord will protect and provide for His servants as the Tabernacle of David is rebuilt (Acts 15:16-18). David knew the protection of the Lord's shield.

Psalms 3:3, "But You, O LORD, are a shield for me, My glory and the One who lifts up my head."

2 Samuel 22:2-4 And he said: "The LORD is my rock and my fortress and my deliverer; the God of my strength, in whom I will trust; My shield and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold and my refuge; my Savior, You save me from violence. I will call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised; so shall I be saved from my enemies."

If we desire to serve the Master and allow Him to raise us up for this end-time ministry, then we must wear the shield of faith, and we must trust in the Lord our God with all of our hearts. He has spoken, "Now is the season of the golden shield."

Prophetic Utterance through Bill Burns:

March 26, 2000:

I am looking over all the land, for it is written that I will raise up the tabernacle of David, and I shall establish it in the hearts of those who desire to become mighty men. Not only am I speaking that forth through My word and by My word, for it has already been established in My word, but My eyes are running to and fro and I am looking for the priests who will go and bring back the ark of My covenant, and they shall carry it upon their shoulders. There shall be no ox carts for them, for they shall cast aside the ox carts of religion and tradition and shall lift upon their own shoulders the ark of My covenant and carry it forth into My house. There between the cherubim I shall reveal My glory to My people, to My anointed ones, My David's that I am now calling forth from the whole earth. I am calling from the depth of My heart to the depth of your heart. Will you take up the ark? Will you be a priest in My house? Will you place it upon your shoulders and walk in covenant with Me? Surely if you walk in covenant with Me, you shall receive the benefits, and that which is hidden within it shall become yours. The written word of My promise shall become yours. The revelation of the golden pot of manna shall become yours. The authority of the priesthood shall bud and flower and bring forth fruit, for this is My purpose in all of the earth. This is the work that I am now doing. I say unto you, march to the sound of that which you are hearing. Take up the ark of My covenant and go forth in strength and power, for I shall not fail you. My glory shall be revealed to you, says the Lord God.

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

March 27, 2000:

There is a river whose springs are in you, for it begins in the temple of the living God whose temple you are and it issues forth from the threshold, which is your mouth. The waters of refreshment will come forth bringing fresh revelation and producing new life. For, behold, I am bringing you to a deeper level of understanding and new insight of My word that will literally produce a faith explosion. However, this stream will begin with only a trickle and then continue to increase until it becomes an absolute river that will carry you. Let Me produce this overflow in you as you meditate on My word and be immersed in the depth of revelation that has been stored up and is now ready to be released. And, I say to those who can receive it, this is Beersheba, a deep well that will produce enough living water to cause the desert to bloom. For, I say, that your days of barrenness are ending.

Ezekiel 47:1-7, "Then he brought me back to the door of the temple; and there was water, flowing from under the threshold of the temple toward the east, for the front of the temple faced east; the water was flowing from under the right side of the temple, south of the altar. He brought me out by way of the north gate, and led me around on the outside to the outer gateway that faces east; and there was water, running out on the right side. And when the man went out to the east with the line in his hand, he measured one thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters; the water came up to my ankles. Again he measured one thousand and brought me through the waters; the water came up to my knees. Again he measured one thousand and brought me through; the water came up to my waist. Again he measured one thousand, and it was a river that I could not cross; for the water was too deep, water in which one must swim, a river that could not be crossed. He said to me, 'Son of man, have you seen this?' Then he brought me and returned me to the bank of the river. When I returned, there, along the bank of the river, were very many trees on one side and the other."

March 28, 2000:

Behold, I am doing things on the earth that will absolutely astound you. Those things that I have promised are being released. What has already been established in the spirit realm will now begin to manifest on the earth. For, I have indeed spoken; my word has gone forth, and will not return to Me void. I am building that which will not be pulled down and planting that which will not be plucked up. I am establishing you with deep and lasting foundations. I am also sounding forth with a wake-up call to those who have been lulled to sleep by a spirit of religion. I will cause you to awaken and rise up out of the bed of religious exercise and tradition so that you can truly be moved by My Spirit. Those who have ears to hear, rise up out of your resting place where your center of attention has been on yourself, and set your face to seek Me and serve in My kingdom. For, I am calling forth the company of the redeemed, a strong people set in battle array who will not be cut down.

March 29, 2000:

As I waited before the Lord this morning, I had a short vision of a vast green meadow. As I looked at this meadow a feeling of peace and tranquillity flooded my soul. I mean there were no computers, no telephones, no automobiles or airplanes, no electronic devices, no television sets or alarm clocks. Then, I thought of Psalm 23 and realized that's where the Lord wants to bring me today. He wants to bring me to Himself where I can bask in the warmth and peace of His presence and let the rest of the world go by. In that place there's no need to worry, for He has everything under control. He knows the beginning from the end and He's not worried! As He admonishes me, I want to encourage you to come into His rest.

March 31, 2000:

Rise up, laborers, for I am positioning you to reap. I am calling you forth and equipping you for the harvest. There is a great work to be done in season. Haven't I told you to ask for the rain in the time of the latter rain? For, surely there will be a mighty downpour. Soon, the trumpet will sound that will send you out to gather in, but first the preparation. Set a watch! Sound an alarm! For, the enemy has come to distract you and thwart your purpose. He has indeed sent his fiery darts of accusation and condemnation to disable you. I say to you, awaken from the stupor of the deluge of this darkness. Rise up out of the pit of despair and clothe yourself with strength.

Isaiah 60:1-5, "Arise, shine; For your light has come! And the glory of the LORD is risen upon you. For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and deep darkness the people; but the LORD will arise over you, and His glory will be seen upon you. The Gentiles shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising. Lift up your eyes all around, and see: they all gather together, they come to you; your sons shall come from afar, and your daughters shall be nursed at your side. Then you shall see and become radiant, and your heart shall swell with joy; because the abundance of the sea shall be turned to you, the wealth of the Gentiles shall come to you."

April 1, 2000:

Behold, My cities of Judah, your foundations shall be laid, and you shall be built. I will raise up your waste places. I will make your wilderness like a garden and raise you up in joy and gladness of heart. For, I have set a standard in your midst and established a plumbline. So shall you build according to My pattern. Have I not called you forth for such a time as this? Do not be afraid of making mistakes, for I am with you and will instruct you in even the smallest detail. Am I not the Master Carpenter? Arise, let us build. The time has come for the walls to be built, for the decree has gone forth far and wide, and I will gather My people from sea to sea and from mountain to mountain. I will make the outcast a strong nation, says the Lord.

The Beaten Silver Trumpets

Becky McLendon

The Lord began showing me today the beaten silver trumpet. I had been pondering the nature of the silver trumpet for some time. He was gracious to speak to my spirit today while I was mowing the grass. We have been hearing the trumpet blast of God's messengers for centuries, but God says

"Many of these have been brass trumpets. They have been anointed with power to serve Me, but their service and the message has been mixed with the desires of the carnal mindset. My original apostles were beaten silver trumpets. All that they said was birthed right from My Spirit. There have been a few silver trumpets throughout the centuries but for the most part My messengers, though most were well meaning, were brass trumpets. For the most part My apostles were replaced by brass trumpets who mixed My word with doctrine/interpretation of man and called it "truth". For, lo, many centuries I have blessed the brass trumpets, even in this mixture, because of the sincerity of their hearts. But I say now, the day of the brass trumpets is over. It is the day of the BEATEN SILVER TRUMPET once again.

"My people have flocked from afar to hear the mighty prophets and apostles who are part of a parade of pomposity that is not of ME. They began humbly, but were enticed by fame and riches. Now many strut like peacocks in rich robes with a cocky confidence in their "office" They are brass trumpets. They have no love, but only pride in their high level of anointing. Brass trumpets think more highly of themselves than they ought. And they build vast storehouses and buildings to prove to all how highly favored of Me they are. But they have not love! So they are but sounding brass and clanging cymbals.

"This is the hour of my beaten silver trumpets. " Who are THESE?" the self-exalted ones sneer as they scurry to "keep their following".

"These," says the Lord, "are the ones who are ready to bring a message of truth spoken in LOVE. WHAT is a beaten silver trumpet? Those who have been purified in My refining fire, had the dross of fleshly attitudes and desires dealt with and put far from their tent. The beaten silver trumpet has sought ME and found ME. These have said, "Though none go with me, yet I will follow". These have fled immorality through totally submitting to His paths saying, "Lead me not into temptation, but deliver me from evil."

"These have kept silence before Me and submitted to My hand over their mouths. These have learned to keep silence unless I say speak. These have learned to dwell in the wilderness or in the cave by abiding in ME and I in them. These are the ones the brass trumpets have cast aside because they "got in their way."

But I say this day, the sound of brass will cease in My assembly. It will be replaced by the clear sound of the beaten silver trumpet. For My people have hungered for MY WORD and not some other man's word or by product of a showman's pride. So they shall be satisfied."

AMEN

Shabbat Shalom.

The Simplicity Of Christ

Doug Fortune

“But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your MINDS should be corrupted from the SIMPLICITY that is in Christ.”(2 Cor.11:3). I believe we need to back up to 2Cor.10:3-5 to gain the context for the above verse. And in reality, the context for these well known verses about pulling down strongholds, etc. is concerning the spiritual authority of the apostle to execute this warfare. I’m NOT saying that believers who are not apostles can’t execute this warfare, but apostles are particularly graced for it. The issue at hand is the MIND being corrupted from the SIMPLICITY in Christ by false apostles. Don’t worry, God isn’t saying you have to be a simpleton... THAT was actually the problem because the people were believing false apostles! The word translated simplicity is haplotes in Greek, and means SINGLENESSE; it is derived from haplous, meaning FOLDED TOGETHER or single, Paul is saying that we are to be folded together or single IN Christ. Wasn’t this the very prayer of Jesus in John 17:21 “...so that they may all be ONE just as You, Father are in Me and I in You, that they also may be ONE IN US... I IN THEM and YOU IN ME...”. Consider ICor.6:17, “But the person who is united to the Lord becomes ONE SPIRIT with Him...” and ICor.12:12-13, “...just as the body is a UNITY and yet has many parts, and all the parts though many, form only ONE body, SO IT IS WITH CHRIST... For by ONE SPIRIT we were all baptized into ONE BODY, and all made to drink of ONE SPIRIT...”. THIS is the simplicity or singleness IN CHRIST... becoming ONE with Him.

I realize that there are many good, well intentioned Christians who probably shudder at those words, ‘becoming ONE with Christ’, thinking them to be blasphemous, but according to Paul (in the very next verse after speaking of this simplicity) to preach anything else is to “...preach another Jesus than the One we preached....receive a different spirit from the Spirit you are received...”(2 Cor.11:4). The reason this idea of ONENESS with Christ may be offensive to some is because of religious strongholds of the mind, arguments and high things that exalt themselves against the true KNOWLEDGE of God (2 Cor.10:5). The word translated knowledge there is gnosis in Greek; it comes from the word ginosko which means to know, feel perceive, understand, and also in the Hebrew mind it was often used as a term referring to the intimacy of a husband and wife, “Adam KNEW Eve and she conceived’ ... the idea of the ONENESS of a husband and wife, the two become ONE flesh. Unfortunately most of our modern dispensationalists have taken the marriage supper of the Lamb in Rev.19 and pushed it off into some future time robbing us of the present fulfillment, when in reality that is what we just read about in ICor.12:12-13... ONE body, ONE spirit, being JOINED to the Lord! False religious arguments of the mind declare to us that there is NO WAY we can become ONE with Christ, at least not till we die and live in the sweet by and by! I declare to you that that religious stronghold of the mind is anti(instead-of)Christ and I cast it down now!... I speak a release of the abiding anointing within you to bring the REVELATION of the KNOWLEDGE of the glory of the Lord, His glory rising within YOU as the waters cover the sea!!! I declare to you that you have the MIND of Christ! I speak to the god of this world, the Adam nature that has brought blindness to the mind, and to the ‘rulers of darkness’, those spiritual entities that obscure the Light of TRUTH, and I command that power be LOOSED off the mind of the reader that Light of the gospel of the GLORY OF CHRIST shine forth for the KNOWLEDGE of the glory of God!

Friends, I happen to believe the prophets Isaiah and Habakkuk as they declare that “...the earth shall be FILLED with the KNOWLEDGE of the GLORY of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.”(Heb.2:14; Is.11:9). As I write these words I am looking at the ocean waves surging in front of me (we are on the Gulf of Mexico right now), and NOTHING can stop the waters from covering the sea! Seas are symbolic of peoples and nations, waters are symbolic of the IMMERSION of baptism (not just physical water baptism); “For as many as were baptized INTO CHRIST - into a spiritual UNION and communion with Christ... have put on, CLOTHED YOURSELVES with CHRIST. There is now NO DISTINCTION... for you are all ONE IN CHRIST.”(Gal.3:27-28). Indeed, as individuals in every nation come into the KNOWLEDGE of being IMMERSED in Christ, becoming ONE with and IN CHRIST, this IS the fulfillment of the WATERS covering the SEA... and the earth IS being FILLED with the Glory of the Lord!

I am not looking for God to evacuate His people off the planet and then destroy His creation, rather I am looking as ‘...nations shall come to YOUR light, and kings to the brightness of YOUR rising... the abundance of the SEA shall be turned to YOU...’(Is.60:3,5). I am looking to a Stone cut out without human hands that grows into a Great Mountain made up of Living Stones that fills the whole earth!(Dan.2:34-35; 1Pet.2:5). I am looking to the ultimate fulfillment of Gen.1:27-28 where we read that “...God created man in His OWN IMAGE, in the image and LIKENESS of God He created him; MALE AND FEMALE he created THEM. And God blessed them and said to them, Be fruitful, multiply, and FILL THE EARTH and SUBDUE IT...”.

Let us not allow our minds to be corrupted from the SIMPLICITY or ONENESS with Christ and be as the ‘double minded’ man we read of in James chapter one. We read of him in verse 8 and also in verse 23-24... he is living with a DUALITY of image. Most interpret these verses of ‘hearing and doing’ in a context of observing a law; it was never intended that way. The context is receiving the ENGRAFTED WORD, Christ IN US... Him living His Life through us has the power to bring FULL SALVATION to our SOUL (mind, will, emotions), it is NOT hearing a law and obeying it! (Yes, obedience is imperative in the life of the believer, but this is not the context of the verse.) For that ENGRAFTED WORD speaks within us that we are the righteousness of God IN Christ; that IN Christ we are a NEW CREATION with OLD things passed away; that the fullness of the Godhead dwells IN us; that we are seated in heavenly places at the right hand of God IN Christ; that we behold in the mirror the GLORY of the Lord and are transformed into HIS IMAGE. The corrupted mind of the ‘double minded’ man in his DUALITY hears who the Engrafted Word says he is, yet refuses to believe it and be a DOER. The word for DOER, poites in Greek, is from poieo which means to make or do, abide, agree. We are to ABIDE IN and AGREE with who the Engrafted Word says we are... THIS is the perfect law of LIBERTY spoken of in the next verses. This word liberty comes from the Greek word eleutheros- meaning unrestrained, as a citizen not a slave, exempt from obligation or liability. A ‘double minded’ man operates from a position of restraint and obligation; this is the person that RELIGION produces... he is always having to restrain his will and is motivated to do things because he feels obligated to. The one who is living in the SIMPLICITY of ONENESS with Christ has NO will other than the will of God and is motivated by the opportunity to be a vessel through which Christ can manifest Himself. This is the freedom of SIMPLICITY or ONENESS with Christ.

We must ‘discern the Body’ and understand that the Body (us) cannot operate apart from the Head (Jesus), can have no will other than the Head. This is the DUALITY that the serpent introduced to Eve in the garden and this DUALITY is still the tool of the adversary as many are feeding from the Tree of Knowledge of Good AND Evil.

Let us not allow our MINDS to be corrupted by the DUALITY of the serpent, rather let us embrace the ONENESS with and in CHRIST that Jesus prayed for... let us not preach ‘another Jesus’ ... let us truly BE the manifestation of Christ in the earth!

The SIN of Jonah

Becky McLendon

The Scripture tells us of Jesus reference to the SIGN of Jonah. But there is something else in the "rest of the story" that indicates the SIN of Jonah.

The reason the SIN of Jonah is of importance today lies in our reactions when God shows mercy toward someone to whom we have been sent to pronounce imminent downfall upon because of THEIR wickedness. Look at Jonah 3 and 4: Jonah 3:

- 1 And the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the second time, saying,
- 2 Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.
- 3 So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city of three days' journey.
- 4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.
- 5 So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them.
- 6 For word came unto the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.
- 7 And he caused it to be proclaimed and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water:
- 8 But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.
- 9 Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not?
- 10 And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil, that he had said that he would do unto them; and he did it not.

Jonah 4:

- 1 But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.
- 2 And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I fled before unto Tarshish: for I knew that thou art a gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest thee of the evil.
- 3 Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live.
- 4 Then said the LORD, Doest thou well to be angry?
- 5 So Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city.
- 6 And the LORD God prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his grief. So Jonah was exceeding glad of the gourd.
- 7 But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd that it withered.
- 8 And it came to pass, when the sun did arise, that God prepared a vehement east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and wished in himself to die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live.
- 9 And God said to Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry, even unto death.
- 10 Then said the LORD, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night:
- 11 And should not I spare Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

Many operating in the same capacity as Jonah, being sent by God to warn a nation, a community, an institution (such as the organized church) are in danger of falling into the SIN of Jonah, myself included. We have probably run from God at the initial call to go to a place or a group to warn them that they will be "doomed" if there is no repentance. THEN when they DO repent we might get angry at God for forgiving them. Jonah was ticked off because he had to put his neck on the line to speak such a "controversial thing" over a city. He knew how gracious and merciful God was because he had just been given a second chance. Then that city had the AUDACITY to respond to Gods grace and mercy, thus making his declaration over that city look "wrong". He went outside the city and pouted.

When we are given the call to bring a "hard message" to anyone, whether it be a community or an entire nation, will we be able to acknowledge God when he shows mercy on that community or nation, or will we become bitter because He showed mercy thus making us look like "we" were wrong with what we said?

Our Lord walked in mercy, touching and dealing with the most unlovable people on earth, telling many to "go and sin no more." The religious crowd walked in anger at that mercy, because now their "hard" message of legalistic oppression was rendered powerless in the face of mercy. They no longer "looked good" in the eyes of the community because THEIR rules and regulations had been proven wrong.

Let us prepare to rejoice when God shows mercy upon the very "cities" he has given us to issue a warning of doom.

I know for a fact that God will show great mercy toward His people even though multitudes right now "cannot tell right from left". He will show great mercy toward each and every nation on this earth, even though they are fraught with rebellion and pride. He will even show great mercy toward his angry prophets and apostles who get "out of shape" when they see blessings of forgiveness and restoration come to the very institutions they have been told to pronounce judgment and warnings of destruction.

Remember the song of the priesthood is essentially this: " Hallelujah, for the Lord is good, His mercies endure for ever!" Brings quite a powerful perspective into our message!!!!

Remember goodness and mercy follow us wherever we go.

Tell My people they perish for lack of knowledge of Me, and KNOW that I can pour out upon them a spirit of grace and supplication, and they can REPENT and receive My mercy!!! AMEN

The Slanderer

Mary Owens

Slanders against the people of God's

I was watching the biography of Norman Vincent Peale. I was shocked at the power of his preaching of Jesus. I never heard him preach before. I had only heard rumors of him. That strong preaching was not consistent with the slanders that I had heard. I could name some of them, so please don't write to me and tell me what they are. Can we KNOW that what we hear is TRUTH??? Is it a proven fact?

I've heard foolish slanders about Billy Graham. I could name some of them, so please don't write to me and tell me what they are. Can we KNOW that what we hear is TRUTH? Is it a proven fact?

I've heard slanders about almost every notable minister. I could list their name and all the slanders, so please don't write to me and tell me what they are. Can we KNOW that what we hear is really the TRUTH? Is it a proven fact? Are they guilty before proven guilty?

Some of those items may have some truth to them. Satan couldn't do his dirty work without enough truth to make the LIE palatable to entice the "Christian" to spread it.

Sad to say I have believed many of these slanders myself for too long. They slandered Jesus too. Don't you feel sorry for Mary? Jesus was born when illegitimacy was almost a crime. They said that Jesus was born of fornication. Then they accused him of doing his miracles by the power of satan. They called him a glutton and winebibber. The perfect, spotless Jesus, had a bad reputation with many religious people. His mother did too. People tend to believe slander and gossip.

The word devil is diabolos in the Greek. Diabolos means prone to slander, slanderous, accusing falsely.. Applied to a man who, by opposing the cause of God, may be said to act the part of the devil or to side with him.

We need to seriously think about accusations and slanders against the brethren. Minister's life's work is to save the lost. Are we helping or hindering? Are there those that are scattering in the name of truth?

What some call the love of truth is in reality an expose/slander type message. We live in a time when there is false doctrine, false teachers, and false prophets. I'm not forgetting that. That's another matter, but we have scriptural guidelines on what kind of talk we are to have.

1 Ti 5:19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses.

We can't stop email that slanders, but the Bible says not to even listen to someone unless there are 2-3 witness to their error.

I've read some of these accusations against godly people. The slanderers couldn't start to walk in the footsteps of some of those they've slandered with unfounded accusations. They makes preaching the gospel very hard by destroying the minister's credibility. When credibility is attacked by brethren then unbelievers won't listen.

The Bible says in, 1 Cor.6:1 Dare any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?

We're not supposed to try our preachers on the WWW or in printed material that circulate to the ungodly, and bring a reproach upon the church of Jesus. All our disputes should be settled in Christian love by God's called leaders. There are self appointed snipers today. Some are very well know and popular authors.

Mt 18:15-17 Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican.

God help us to put a guard over our mouths when it comes to spreading rumor or unproven bad reports. It could all be lies.

We could be doing the devil's work. Remember Diabolos means Applied to a man who, by opposing the cause of God, may be said to act the part of the devil or to side with him. When we side against God's people in spreading or believing rumor of bad report, without really KNOWING. Just taking someone's word for it, we may become the enemies of the cross of Christ.

There are some that pick words, or phrases, or past mistakes out, and spread them, as new and heretical against brethren and ministers. I read one such book, "Crisis in Christianity". I was so curious about this attack on some. I found that most of the statements made in that book were misjudgments, misunderstandings, and words taken out of context and the real meaning lost. People that author books and maintain web site for the purpose of exposing other brethren's supposed error to the world are being blinded by the enemy. They don't realize it, but they are helping diabolos.

We can state proper Biblical truth without naming names. Truth is light, and light expels darkness. I want to go on record that I repent of every bad thing that I've ever said about people that are out there trying to win the lost to Jesus. If they preach Jesus and him crucified then they are on my side.

Mark 9:38-41 And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us: and we forbad him, because he followeth not us. But Jesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name, that can lightly speak evil of me. For he that is not against us is on our part. For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward.

I am going to love any person that says that they belong to Jesus and fulfills that scripture. I don't care if they drive a Rolls Royce and wear pink wigs. As much as that bothers me, and it does, I am going to love them and let God handle it. I will simply pray for them. That's what the Bible says for me to do. If they are doing a mighty work for God I had better rethink my own conclusions about them, and repent.

Romans 14:4 Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.

You might say that there are those that say..1Tim 6:5b supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself.

My answer is this.. I don't KNOW which ones want money to give, or want it to heap it up for themselves. I won't lump them all together. If I hear a preacher with my own ears say error, then I won't listen to him, and I'll speak out against the error. Some of the people that I've labeled prosperity preachers may be great givers and keep little for themselves. I don't KNOW.

I'm going to try, by the grace of God, to keep a great old saying that I was brought up with. I hope you will do the same. "If you can't say something good about someone don't say anything at all". If I get off that please remind me of my error.

James 3:10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

Can you believe that some warn against unity and love? There's not one scripture to suppost that. I will warn you against division and hate. That's the opposites of love and unity. satan hates and divides us.. God loves and brings all into one body in Christ..

The Spirit of the Nicolaitans

Bob Jones with Keith Davis

<http://www.bobjones.org/articles/spiritofthenicolaitans.htm>

On May 19-21, Bob, Bobby Connor and myself were privileged to be involved in a prophetic conference in Shreveport, Louisiana. We had received an invitation approximately one year before but had not received permission from the Lord to go. In March of 2000, the Lord spoke to Bob through a vision directing us to Shreveport with His blessing and commissioning.

Prior to the conference, the Holy Spirit counseled us to help the people in Shreveport to: (1) Comprehend where they have been; (2) thereby understanding where they presently are; (3) thus allowing them to more clearly recognize where they are headed. The Lord spoke it to Bobby in this fashion: Disclose to them their (1) Firm Foundation (2) Factual Faith (3) Fantastic Future. In a visitation prior to this conference, a huge angel appeared to Bob stating his name - "Winds of Change". This angelic being was accompanied with three other angels, we believe representing three churches and their leadership the Lord is desiring to join together in the bond of unity. This huge messenger stipulated he has now been released to bring the "winds of change" to the church aiding us in the transition imminently ahead. These winds will fill the sail of the church to transport her on this virtuous journey. Things are not going to continue as they have in the past within the church and the manner in which she is viewed.

Consequently, we perceived the Lord's intent to keep the conference focused on this subject, first helping the people to understand the spiritual heritage in their community and the blessings upon them because of the faithfulness of their spiritual fathers. We then established scripturally and historically this spiritual heritage. Accordingly, this helped them to understand the restoration of the desolate heritage that was to be released and the changes they face. The Lord wonderfully blessed these meetings, not only with the release of the Spirit of Truth but also the demonstration of power setting many of the captives free and stirring the gifts of God within them. The Holy Spirit helped us to identify the calling within many of the key leaders and the gifts imparted to accomplish those purposes.

At the time of the conference, we did not fully understand the strategic role Shreveport played during the late 40's and early 50's as many of their key leaders embraced the outpouring of the Holy Spirit and did all they could to facilitate the revival throughout the nation. In fact, we later learned, the late Gordon Lindsey used Shreveport as a home base for the periodical Voice Of Healing to give testimony of the great miracles, signs and wonders accomplished by the Holy Spirit in their generation. The Lord clearly expressed He was desiring to restore that divine heritage and bring to life the seeds deposited through the spiritual fathers for this area. He also made it clear; this message was not strictly for Shreveport but also for the corporate body. We are to begin the process of "restoring the land and to make them inherit the desolate heritages". (Isaiah 49:8)

A few days following the end of this conference, the Lord gave Bob another vivid vision outlining the strategy of the enemy to counteract the spiritual deposit made in Shreveport. The Lord very specifically enumerated the manner in which this evil opposition intended to function and further made it clear this enemy will work not only in Shreveport but against all of God's "Cities of Refuge". This evil opposition has successfully undermined the working of the Holy Spirit over the centuries and must be overcome if we are to fulfill our Biblical mandate.

THE VISION

In the vision, Bob found himself and his wife Viola standing on an open plain in a barren, desert looking area. As he was inspecting the area in which he was standing, he observed a black snake approaching in the distance traveling towards a specific city. Bob knew intuitively that the snake was headed to Shreveport. However, upon initial observation he supposed the snake was a black snake and therefore harmless. In fact a black snake can actually be helpful in the extermination of rats, mice and other vermin. As the serpent came closer, Bob discovered a shepherd's staff in his hands, which he knew, represented spiritual authority to deal with the specific issues he was to confront. Suddenly, the serpent stopped in its approach to its target and displayed considerable surprise at being observed by Bob. This evil spirit has been able to keep itself hidden as it fulfilled its task of nullifying the grace of God released in certain areas.

Upon seeing Bob, the serpent raised its head and displayed that it was not in fact a black snake but a very deadly Cobra. As the cobra approached, Bob was able to keep it at bay with the shepherd's staff entrusted to him. When the serpent discovered it was unable to directly strike Bob, it then traveled toward Viola who was unarmed. This represented the enemy's intent to attack the church, as Viola was representative of the church body in this vision.

Bob found himself using the shepherd's staff to defend, not only himself but also Viola in this struggle to overcome this evil spirit. As he did so, the Lord spoke to him and told him the cobra represented the "spirit of the Nicolaitans". The spirit was coming in the form of "self appointed" leadership desiring to lord its authority over the church body injecting its venom causing destruction and death. Bob represented in this vision the "God appointed" leadership with the appropriate spiritual authority to fortify itself and the body of believers to whom they are assigned. In view of the fact that the setting for this vision was a hot dry place, it would seem to imply that this spirit will attempt to manifest itself in greater measure during the summer months of this year.

THE COBRA (SPIRIT OF THE NICOLAITANS)

As the battle continued, the Holy Spirit imparted to Bob the understanding that he was contesting an ancient religious spirit that had successfully undermined many purposes of God in the earth. It is the Nicolaitan spirit desiring to come between the church and the government of God established in the church with true spiritual authority. The "head" (leadership appointed by Christ) has the insight and understanding of God but can do nothing without the "hands and feet" provided by the body. Moreover, this evil spirit desires to masquerade as the true head of the body with counterfeit spiritual authority. Likewise, he cannot accomplish his purpose without the body functioning as the "hands and feet" putting into action his agenda. He will always attempt to divide true leadership from the body.

The term "Nicolaitans" is derived from two greek words..."Nikos" and "Laos". Nikos is defined as: a conquest; victory; triumph; to conquer; and by implication, dominancy over the defeated. The word "nicao" literally means; to dominate-intimidate-manipulate. Additionally, the term "laos" means "the people" or the "laity." Thus exacting the phrase "to conquer (dominate-intimidate-manipulate) the people (laity).

The Nicolaitan movement marked the beginning of an unrighteous priesthood in the church. The first item on this spirit's agenda is to divide in order to conquer. The primary objective of the Nicolaitan spirit is the separation of the body from the Lord's provision for leadership and the insight given through that spiritual authority. Normally, this is accomplished through accusation and persecution against the true anointed government established by the Holy Spirit.

This form of opposition promotes the separation of people into the priest class and laity advocating the "us and them" philosophy. Further, there is no place in the Word where priests or ministers mediate between God and the people, nor is there a place where they are separated in their worship of the Lord. God desires all to love and serve Him together. Nicolaitanism destroys those precepts and instead separates the ministers from the people making the leaders overlords instead of servants. The Lord expressed His hatred for this type of administration and expected His people to do likewise. In other words, there are to be no intimidating, controlling, power-hungry officers in the Church Body exercising counterfeit authority over the "layman". The scriptures plainly support a Priesthood of Believers, EACH being granted access to the Father through the Lord Jesus Christ. " You are a CHOSEN RACE, a royal PRIESTHOOD, a HOLY NATION, a PEOPLE FOR God's OWN POSSESSION, so that you may proclaim the excellencies of Him who has called you out of darkness into His marvelous light;" (1 Pet 2:9)

The Early Church, beginning with the Ephesian Church Age, confronted this form of opposition following the outpouring of the Holy Spirit on the Day of Pentecost. Children, it is the last hour; and just as you heard that antichrist is coming, even now many antichrists (anti-anointed) have appeared; from this we know that it is the last hour. (1 Jn 2:18)

The admonition given to this church age in Rev 2:2-7, to return to her first love is also the predominant message in overcoming this adversary in our generation. The spirit of the Nicolaitans will always be accompanied by the spirit of apathy and lethargy. These will cool our affections toward the Lord and the passion with which we are to carry out His purposes. We must not allow ourselves to concentrate our focus on any form of human leadership. As we remain concentrated on Him we will then clearly discern and distinguish the unholy attributes of the “cobra” and the righteous attributes of Spirit appointed leadership.

The venom of the cobra infiltrates the body attacking the central nervous system causing deterioration in major body functions. The spirit of the Nicolaitans deteriorates the structure of the church body by attempting to create subordinates rather than brothers and sisters. A slave brought under this kind of authority is always distraught and nervous because of the great responsibility and expectations to please his “master.” This creates an irrational spirit or a neurotic mind-set rather than a spirit of peace. It promotes insecurity rather than abiding strength. Many Christians leave the church because of the wounds this creates and their feelings of insufficiency. The church has a large segment presently oppressed with a variety of nervous conditions because of the success of this evil spirit working in the body of Christ.

The Lord is issuing a clear announcement that a counterfeit, self-appointed leadership will always attempt to supercede the true leadership delegated to the church by the Holy Spirit. This “cobra” and its deadly venom represents the characteristics detected in this form of leadership. The Spirit-appointed leadership will be marked by attributes of servant-hood, humility and righteousness even as the Lord Himself perfectly exemplified these qualities in His unblemished example for all generations to follow.

FALSE APOSTLES

But what I am doing I will continue to do, so that I may cut off opportunity from those who desire an opportunity to be regarded just as we are in the matter about which they are boasting. For such men are false apostles, deceitful workers, disguising themselves as apostles of Christ. (2 Cor 11:12-13)

The sure word of God will destroy the endeavors of the cobra. There is a false Apostolic leadership that is coming to the Church preceding the release of the true. Those who are self-appointed apostles may embellish tremendous gifts of administration, organization, and expression, however, that in itself does not make one an apostle. I say this so that no one will delude you with persuasive argument. (Col 2:4)

The false leadership will always attempt to set itself above the body of Christ usurping a position in the church rightfully belonging to the Holy Spirit. The church is not a democracy-- (government by the people; rule of the majority) but a Theocracy--- (government of a state by immediate divine guidance or by officials who are regarded as divinely guided). The “cobra” is attempting to separate true leadership from the body of Christ. If successful, the church is then faced with a form of self-appointed domination lording itself over the laity. The body is represented as the “hands and feet” working in harmony with leadership putting into action spiritual objectives. When directed by true Godly administration, the hands and feet can destroy the cobra and its evil agenda. Unfortunately, if the body is under the direction of the “spirit of Nicolaitans,” the same “hands and feet” can be used to undermine divine purposes and our prophetic destiny. The first defense against this spirit is returning to our first love and the simplicity and purity of devotion to Christ.

The spirit of the nicolaitans will target Christians who have lost their “first love”. In this place of vulnerability, the cobra will strike, injecting its poison subjecting the believer to its self-righteous agenda. Of course, it will always appear on the surface as harmless as did the black snake. Nonetheless, its true identity is that of a venomous, destructive, evil spirit. Very often, this form of leadership will utilize false accusation and innuendo to undermine the true leadership appointed within that body of believers. This will make the true government appear volatile and weak drawing the people to the false leadership anointed with the “spirit of the Nicolaitans”.

TRUE APOSTLESHIP

Paul confronted this as he was forced to give the signs of his apostleship... The signs of a true apostle were performed among you with all perseverance, by signs and wonders and miracles. (2 Cor 12:12);

“giving no cause for offense in anything, so that the ministry will not be discredited, but in everything commending ourselves as servants of God, in much endurance, in afflictions, in hardships, in distresses, in beatings, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labors, in sleeplessness, in hunger, in purity, in knowledge, in patience, in kindness, in the Holy Spirit, in genuine love, in the word of truth, in the power of God; by the weapons of righteousness for the right hand and the left, by glory and dishonor, by evil report and good report; {regarded} as deceivers and yet true; as unknown yet well-known, as dying yet behold, we live; as punished yet not put to death, as sorrowful yet always rejoicing, as poor yet making many rich, as having nothing yet possessing all things. (2 Cor 6:3-10)

It is the impartation of supernatural spiritual authority from heaven that makes one an apostle according to Biblical standards. The new Testament contains numerous warnings against false leaders drawing the flock astray with counterfeit authority. The spirit of the Nicolaitans will not approach in the manner of an enemy, rather, veiled as righteous leadership promoting seemingly appropriate agendas. Moreover, the scriptures make it plain, God has never placed His church in the hands of an elected leadership which moves with political mindedness. He has placed His church in the care of God-ordained, Spirit-filled, Word-living men and women who lead the people with meekness and faithfulness...shepherds who willingly lay down their lives for the sheep and will only feed them the Spirit-breathed revelation of the Word.

The government of God appropriately placed in the body will be (1) Chosen by Him, (2) Ordained by Him, (3) Equipped by Him, (4) Sent by Him. While they were ministering to the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, "Set apart for Me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them. Then, when they had fasted and prayed and laid their hands on them, they sent them away. So, being sent out by the Holy Spirit...(Acts 13:2-4)

True leadership will always do all in their power to point the church to the Lord and encourage them to cultivate deep and passionate roots with the Lord Himself. It will be their greatest desire to see others equal and even surpass the spiritual standards they enjoy themselves.

THE LORD IS BREAKING OUR BOW

“He makes wars to cease to the end of the earth; He breaks the bow and cuts the spear in two; He burns the chariots with fire. Cease {striving} and know that I am God; I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth." The LORD of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our stronghold. Selah. (Ps 46:9-11)

The bow is a symbol of might and strength... elements upon which we put our trust and confidence. A broken bow is an image of impotence or dependence. The Lord is “breaking our bow” and rendering useless the patterns and formulas we have relied upon in times past to advocate our own agendas and causes with which we have been striving in our own strength. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might. (Jeremiah 49:35) The bow was the national weapon of Elam, and therefore the "chief of their might"... that upon which their resilience in war depended.

The Lord breaks our bow because we have become dependent upon our own abilities to survive and even prosper. This form of self reliance can be extremely destructive leading into a form of ungodly self-righteousness. The sure word of God is coming forth, thereby negating the need for this form of the bow. Our “bows” are being broken so we can be reinforced with “The Lord’s Bow” and His strength for war. The Lord is determined to break our independent spirit making us totally dependent upon Him and the working of His Spirit in us. The Lord is “breaking our bows” and the things we have relegated confidence in so our trust would be wholly in Him. It is in our weakness that His strength is made manifest. It shall come to pass in that day that I will break the bow of Israel in the Valley of Jezreel... Yet I will have mercy on the house of Judah, will save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword or battle, by horses or horsemen." (Hosea 1:5,7)

Furthermore, the enemy will often attempt to promote a spirit of self-preservation within the church causing division and confrontation between one segment of the body and another. The Lord is “breaking our bow” removing the warlike mentality we have had towards one another promoted by this “Cobra spirit”. In this place of divine dependence we can “be still” and know that He is God.

The Lord is aching to initiate unity and fraternal affection between the various members of the body of Christ. In this sense the Lord is breaking our bow that has caused division and dissension within the church. If we allow ourselves to overly focus on the exploits of the enemy, it will serve as an object of distraction and division within the body. Likewise, if we unduly focus on the leadership sent to the church by the Holy Spirit, perversion will also be the end result. These bows are being destroyed as we are given the mandate to return to our first love and rivet our gaze solely upon the Lord. In so doing, righteous leadership will be recognized in its proper balance and harmony.

CONCLUSION

In Bob’s vision, at the end of the shepherd’s staff was a “snake hook” specifically designed for the handling of venomous serpents of this nature. The “snake hook” is divine love. An infectious, passionate love for the Lord Jesus Christ surpassing all other wants and desires. In this position of intimacy and affection, our vision becomes clear and our heart sensitive to the unfruitful deeds of the cobra. We will then become leaders according to the directive of scripture...Shepherd the flock of God which is among you, serving as overseers, not by compulsion but willingly, not for dishonest gain but eagerly; nor as being lords over those entrusted to you, but being examples to the flock; and when the Chief Shepherd appears, you will receive the crown of glory that does not fade away. (1 Pet 5:2-4)

The Ephesian Church was commended by the Lord for opposing the Nicolaitans. However, over the following generations this spirit grew in its power and influence. By the time of the Pergamum Church age, the Lord departed from commending the Body for separating from this evil influence to condemning the Body for its appeasement. The latter membership wasn't fully convinced of the poisonous problem posed by this spirit and tolerated its existence within the church.

The Lord clearly spoke to us in Shreveport announcing, the “winds of change” are blowing. The initial wind for this began in Shreveport as a token. Likewise, the Lord is using this as a teaching tool to prepare and warn the body of this evil opposition and its historically successful strategy. We must overcome this enemy in our quest to become one with Him. There is a spiritual heritage resident in Shreveport that is representative of many such areas in which a tremendous deposit was made by our spiritual fathers. The Lord is desiring to first restore that heritage and overcome the enemy that brought those movements of the Spirit down.

One of the encouraging aspects of the vision was the response of Viola (representing the church), once she recognized the serpent to be a cobra. Her immediate response was to flee to (Bob) the leadership the Lord had established in the Church and the true spiritual authority given, rather than allowing the serpent to separate her from it.

The church must understand the vast distinction between the impartation of spiritual gifts and the delegation of spiritual authority. Many in the body of Christ have the mistaken notion that their powerful gifts of the spirit qualifies them to be recognized as Apostolic leadership. Simply possessing powerful spiritual gifts does not meet the Biblical qualification of Apostleship. It is in the Lord’s commissioning and the delegation of spiritual authority along with the impartation of mighty gifts of the spirit. Miracles, signs and wonders will always accompany true Apostolic leadership assisting in the pulling down of principalities and powers within churches or geographic regions establishing a spiritual foothold for the kingdom of heaven. The proper Scriptural view is that the church is like a body with diverse people each having different gifts from God, yet all are of significant importance to the well-being of the entire spiritual body. There is no hierarchy in the Body of Christ---all are called to work together in the ministry as one Body headed by Christ.

This adversary we have described is anti-anointed and diametrically opposed to the “winds of change” the Lord is desiring to bring to the Body of Christ. The miracle working “winds of change” are prepared to be released upon the Body of Christ to “fill her sails” to carry her on this spiritual journey and the restoration of her great heritage. The Lord hates the deeds and the doctrines of the Nicolaitans. The church of the Apostolic period recognized this fact and likewise hated them. If we are to be in conformity with Him, and return to our Apostolic heritage, we must comprehend this spiritual reality. Satan was very attentive to the things taking place in Shreveport and has already plotted his counter attack. This same strategy will be utilized corporately within the church as the Lord releases His Apostolic authority to her.

We must always remember, our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but principalities, powers, rulers of darkness and spiritual wickedness in high places. Moreover, our continual prayer should be for the grace to remain free ourselves from the subtle and cunning influence of this spirit and its deceptions. Each of us stands solely by the favor of God and we desperately need the abundant release of His greater grace...He gives His grace to the humble.

If we encounter some who have fallen prey to the spirit of the Nicolaitans, we should discern the spirit behind the individual and fervently pray for the human being from a heart of compassion and meekness. Perhaps the Lord will extend grace and grant repentance. If so, we will have won part of the battle and rescue some from the grasp of Satan. The Lord's bond-servant must not be quarrelsome, but be kind to all, able to teach, patient when wronged, with gentleness correcting those who are in opposition, if perhaps God may grant them repentance leading to the knowledge of the truth, and they may come to their senses and escape from the snare of the devil, having been held captive by him to do his will. # The Sound From Heaven

Catherine Brown

"Run in such a way as to get the prize. Everyone who competes in the games goes into strict training. They do it to get a crown that will not last; but we do it to get a crown that will last for ever." 1Co 9:24, 25

August 16, 2000 This morning I wakened from sleep, and the Holy Spirit began to unfold a vision . . .

THE LORD WAS TIGHTENING A SCREW

My eyes were not yet open, but I could see the hand of the Lord, and He was tightening a screw. I wondered what He was working on and I took a closer look. To my surprise, the screw was part of a fitting that attached a shiny bell to a brand new racing bike. The bike was a beautiful vibrant red color and the Lord was taking great care in the preparation of it.

I watched as He tightened screws and applied a spanner to various bolts. The Lord knew exactly what needed to be adjusted or secured. He then began to pump air into the tires of the bike. The spokes of the wheels shone brilliantly, and when the Lord had finished examining the tires, they were perfectly balanced and firm and ready for the road.

A PERSONAL ENCOURAGEMENT FOR ME AND FOR THE CORPORATE BODY

The seat was carefully adjusted to a specific height. It was in perfect alignment and looked secure and safe. Ribbons were then attached to the handlebars of the bike, gloriously colorful and I imagined how wonderful they would look when the bike finally began its journey as it streamed along the road it had been prepared for, with the wind trailing a blaze of color in the ribbons. It was at this point that the Holy Spirit began to give me interpretation for what He was showing me. This is a personal encouragement for me, but it is also a word for the Body and I share it with you with great delight in my heart.

RALLY SPRINTER

As the Lord completed His work on the bike, the finishing touch was the name that He wrote in beautiful gold letters on the frame. The bike was called "RALLY SPRINTER". It looked magnificent. Jesus turned to me and smiled and explained that this vision was about the rally call to intercession that heaven is announcing to the nations. The bike speaks of a journey that we are going on with Jesus, a journey in prayer. The Bible is a road and we need to go there! Prayer is the root of power and that, which equips and enables the Church to fulfill her callings here on earth.

IN A SEASON OF INTENSE PREPARATION

By the Lord's hand the necessary adjustments are made. We are in a season of intense preparation - both personally and corporately. The Lord knows just what we need and how to prepare us. The air in the tires speaks of the in filling of the Holy Spirit. The wheels of the bike were perfectly balanced and we also require to stay rooted and grounded deeply in Christ to maintain a healthy spiritual equilibrium.

The seat was adjusted to the optimum height for the rider. It is so important that we are in just the right place - and that is in right relationship with Jesus. In order to know that we are "seated in heavenly places", we have to be in His arms. Our relationship with Jesus puts us in alignment with the Father's will. Those who are intimate with the Lord understand their authority in Christ and are able to exercise this authority in prayer in a Godly manner. A properly adjusted seat makes the journey comfortable and we need to feel safe and secure and be properly 'fitted' with our armor as we respond to this rally call to intercession.

BRIDE-TO-BE AS "TERRIBLE AS BANNERS"

The ribbons that were attached to the handlebars of the bike speak of the awesome anointing for warfare. The Bible describes the Bride-to-be as "terrible as banners" and this speaks of the power and authority of Jesus portrayed in the beautiful bride of Christ. The bike was fitted with a bell, which rang loud and clear, and the sound of this call to intercession will echo throughout the nations as never before. The result of this call to intercession will make a huge noise in the heavenly places - holy clamor and the enemy on the run - Hallelujah!

TAKE NOTHING OF THE WORLD

The bike itself was red and this is symbolic of the Blood of Jesus, which is eternally redemptive and eternally powerful against the forces of darkness. The name given by the Lord was "rally sprinter" and we are called to respond to this move of God, and to "run the race" set before us. There was no basket on the bike and therefore we are to take nothing on this journey. This means we are to take nothing of the world with us when we respond to Jesus. We are to be totally reliant on our Master for He knows our every need. The bike was shiny and new - how I wish you could have seen it, it really was magnificent! The meaning of this was twofold. Firstly, it speaks of personal cleansing and secondly it is a prophetic foretelling of the beautiful Bride of Christ, as she is prepared and cleansed in the Blood of the Lamb, she is made brand new, equipped with everything that is required of her by her Groom, indeed, it is from the Groom's hand that she is made ready for the marriage.

THE RIDER IS "YOU" --ALL HIS CHILDREN

The Lord then showed me who the rider was to be. He turned to me and smiled and said, "It's you"! Incredulous, I replied "Me????!!!" How we laughed - if you knew how long it has been since I rode a bike you would understand my response. I spoke to Jesus and reminded Him that I am not a very sporty person. The Lord smiled with deep affection and said "Child, it's not about your capability, it's about your willingness to be obedient. I am your sufficiency and in Me all things are possible, all I am looking for is a yielded heart." With this Jesus took me by the hand and helped me to get on the bike. We are each personally called and it is by the Father's hand that we are enabled and equipped.

SOME CALLED TO BE FORERUNNERS

There are some who are called to be forerunners, and therefore, there will be some who will begin this race - answer this rally call to intercession - before others. These will lead many others to follow where they go. No matter if you are a forerunner or one who will come after - Jesus needs us all. Those who are called as leaders will be servants. The first shall be last and the last shall be first.

I was carefully dressed in a helmet and knee/elbow pads - I'd like to tell you that I didn't argue, but I did. I protested, "But Lord, I don't want to wear that silly looking helmet and pads". The Lord explained that I could not go on this journey without His divine protection. I then began to understand that this had a corporate interpretation. The joints of the Body must be protected during this rally call. Every part of the Body must work together to answer this call. The enemy will seek to destroy the joints i.e. the unity of the Body and we must allow the Lord to give us His strategy as protection from the assault on the church. Unity is the Key and an essential protection from pride that would cause us to fall.

HIS THOUGHTS WILL FILL US

We are to think with the mind of Christ, and the helmet not only spoke of protection of our thoughts, but also of our ability to focus on this prayer journey through being totally in tune with Jesus. We are to be so close to our Lord that when we pray, we will be given His thoughts and we will pray His will be done. His thoughts will fill our hearts and minds and our mouths will be full of His glory, and we will be given anointed utterance, a holy and Biblical language.

NOTHING TO DISTRACT

The final piece of protection was a pair of sunglasses. These I liked, - they were cool! However, this was not the reason I was to wear them! It is not about our image or our reputation, it is about allowing the Holy Spirit to reveal Jesus to and in us and through us. It is HIS image that we must seek to model. The glasses were protection for my eyes during the journey. Nothing would distract or blur my vision because my eyes would be protected. We must be careful what our eyes see and our ears listen to, for this affords us purity and holiness. Those who will answer this rally call to intercession must have clean hands and a pure heart. In the Righteousness of Jesus we are cleansed and put right with God the Father, however, we must choose to live holy lives that honor Jesus. So I realized that the glasses would enable us to see where God wants us to go, and the bike (the rally call to prayer) was the means by which we would reach there. Where to go and how to get there!

FOCUSED AND WITHOUT FEAR

Finally, I found myself flying along the road at great speed, bell ringing, and banners triumphantly blowing. It was exhilarating and I knew such joy. I was totally focused and knew no fear. When we are in Christ and in obedience to His will for our lives there is a peace that no other can give us. Obedience brings the fullness of His peace and the Lord blesses our obedience and releases His precious anointing by the Holy Spirit in order that we can run with Him and complete what He has set before us. This is not about works, it is about submission to His purpose and plan for our lives.

THE LORD HANDED ME A GOLD TROPHY

At last I saw the finish line approaching, and standing there with incredible Fatherly pride was Jesus. He was waiting for me to cross the line with His arms open wide. I finished the race and ran into His loving arms, losing myself in His embrace. Tears of joy ran down both our faces and the Lord handed me a gold trophy. Jesus calls each of us to finish the race. It is love of Jesus that compels us to continue and to persevere. It is love that gives us a vision for the 'long haul' and there is wisdom in the waiting. The Lord makes us the answer to our prayers, through conforming us to His image.

The prize is Jesus. There is nothing that we take with us when we reach the 'finish line' - other than that which we have built for eternity. It is only Jesus that will satisfy our hearts.

ANGELIC HOST APPLAUDING

I finally noticed the angelic host who were all around applauding. Heaven has been with us all along, but all I have seen is Jesus. The angels stand with us and run with us as we complete the Great Commission. We are not alone, and the silent crowd of witnesses urges us along and so much want to see the Bride run into Her Lover's arms. Jesus is waiting - will you answer His call?

LISTEN TO WHAT THE SPIRIT IS SAYING TO THE CHURCH

"Beloved,

Hear my heart today and listen to what the Spirit is saying to the church, those who have ears to hear and eyes to see. I am coming soon. I will have a beautiful Bride and she will run into my loving arms, for there is nothing in heaven or earth that can separate her from my love.

A RALLY CALL

I place before each of you this day a rally call. Hear the trumpet in the nations. This call to intercession is a Last Days holy call. It is for those who will give themselves completely to My will and who will bring their yielded hearts. I require nothing more, only your willingness to run the race with Me. I will give you everything you need for the journey. There is nothing that I do not see, and there is no inadequacy in Me. I am your sufficiency. I desire that each of My children hear and respond to My call. I spent many hours on earth with My Father in the place of prayer. I desire that you follow me.

DYING TO YOUR DESIRES

Where I am there also will my servant be. Those who are my servants must also follow me. Follow me into death - die to your own desires, that you might also follow me into resurrection power. For if the seed falls to the ground and dies it produces many seeds. If you will die to your flesh, you will see the harvest of My Righteousness in your lives. Many shall come and find shelter in the branches of your tree. My Father is the Gardener and the fruit that the Spirit produces in your lives brings Him great joy. Those who display such fruit, do so for eternity, and those who display this fruit will ask in My name and receive the answer to their prayers, for the Father's honors those who follow me and go where I go, and do as I do. You will bring the Father glory by displaying much fruit.

"IT IS TIME," THIS IS THE SOUND FROM HEAVEN!

And my beloved, my resurrection power is coming, as you have never known it. "IT IS TIME", this is the sound from heaven. IT IS TIME! By my hand I have conquered the power of death, and by My hand I shall have for myself a beautiful Bride, for I have spoken and the prophets of old have spoken and my Spirit shall bring to pass that which the Father has decreed since time began. It is time for My Glory to break forth in the nations. IT IS TIME. It is time for My bride to walk in holiness and purity and Righteousness. It is time for humility and the calling forth of the Christ fruits, which will wreak havoc in the kingdom of darkness.

We are to be married. I am preparing My Church. Those who will run the race to completion will know the fullness of my favor and my joy. I give you my peace. |I cover you in My wings, I give you my fellowship. My arms are wide open and my heart overflows with joy for each one of my precious children. There is nothing that you can do to win my affections for My love is freely given. Grace abounds and all I desire is that you open your hearts and yield to Me.

I have loved you with an everlasting love and long to draw you to me. Come into My Presence, seek My face, Hear My heart beat , Run the race. It is time".

Amen.

End Time Prophetic Vision

The Sons Of Glory

Catherine Brown

While in a time of prayer and worship, I saw a vision of the earth splitting wide open and one by one, young men and women were attempting to come forth from creation. As I looked more closely, I saw that there was a covering over the place where the young people were trying to come out of. It had the appearance of an amniotic sac and the young people were struggling to push their way out. I immediately was impressed by the Holy Spirit, that this was a birthing process and that it was also a difficult birth.

I heard the Spirit say "Push Church, Push".

The young people were growing so weary from the birthing process, that I sensed there was a possibility that some would be lost. I then saw a picture of birth and the head of a tiny babe was crowning and then receding. The labor pains were extremely intensive but the child was unable to stay in the position for birth, the head was going back and forth and back and forth and the baby was becoming exhausted.

I felt specifically this picture of birth referred to the vision of the youth coming forth as part of the Lord's end time army, with particular application to the late teenage years and the twenty's. Just like the image of the tiny babe, they too were spiritually exhausted and needed birth assistants to stand with them for a safe 'delivery'

OUR SUFFERINGS AREN'T WORTH COMPARING

"I consider that our present sufferings are not worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed in us. The creation waits in eager expectation for the sons of God to be revealed." Ro 8:18

I began to travail and ask the Lord for strength for these young people and to cry out to Him and ask that He would give a similar burden to travail to the spiritual mothers and fathers in the Church.

The Lord instructed me that this travail would take two forms. One would be a travail that involved the intensive pains of labor, and the other would be a travail that used praise as a tool for the harvest. Great joy would be released to bring forth the sons of creation. Zion brought forth before she travailed, and the youth that I saw in the vision are already birthed in the heavenly places, but I believe the Lord is calling us to help Him birth these awesome apostolic young people and see them come forth in the natural.

"Before she goes into labor, she gives birth; before the pains come upon her, she delivers a son." Is 66:7

TIME TO HELP IN THE BIRTHING PROCESS

We must take up our places in the birthing process and call out to God until these precious saints come forth. Like never before we are required to enter into the process of spiritual birthing.

"PUSH CHURCH, PUSH!"

The Lord's words "Push, Church, push" will remain forever etched in my soul.

Simultaneously with this a vision, I also saw a vision of the Lord, and from the Center of His being, many young people were running out from Him. From the womb of the dawn the warriors came forth. This speaks of the absolute certainty that the Lord has purposed that young people have a place in Him and His purposes. They have an inheritance of Glory, just as the older generations do.

THE KINGLY ANOINTING

King David laid the foundations for the Temple to be built. He recognized the inexperience of his young son, and with great joy, he led the leaders of Israel in a time of sacrificial giving. Despite having used his resources to provide for the Temple, King David willingly gave from his personal wealth because of His devotion to the Lord. David moved in a 'kingly anointing', an anointing that is coming upon the Church today. What is evident from this passage (1 Chr 29) is that under the kingly anointing, the generations learned to work together.

THE OLDER GENERATION IS THE FOUNDATION

The experience of the older generation (David) laid the foundation for the younger generation (Solomon) to build upon. It was with great joy that this sacrificial giving was made. David prepared the way for his son to move into the fullness of all that God had prepared for him. In deep humility David paved the way for the next generation to step into the purposes of God, without any loss of his own authority, integrity or unique position in the Lord. The consecration of the Temple was carried out by Solomon, who lovingly embraced the mantle of his forefathers, which was passed from father to son. This coming together of the generations in complete unity preceded the GLORY falling upon the people.

"When Solomon finished praying, fire came down from heaven and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices, and the glory of the Lord filled the temple" 2 Ch 7:1

THE GENERATIONS MUST WORK TOGETHER

David of himself could not build a house for the Lord's Glory. But with his son, who understood that peace and rest are in the Glory, together with the worshippers, they saw God's Glory come down. This is a picture for the Church today. The generations must work together in unity if we are to see the Glory fall.

The weighty presence of God will come through ascending the hill of the Lord, entering through the gates of praise, leading into anointed worship, to standing in the Glory. We are called to live in the Glory realm and to experience the atmosphere of heaven. In the Glory there is rest, refuge and protection, in the Glory God's presence is manifest; in the Glory there is ease, ease for healing, for resurrection power to flow.

We must rid ourselves of every ounce of death in order that resurrection life and power will flow through the Church. In the Glory, there is holiness and sanctification. In the Glory, we see the manifest presence of God and we hear His voice. The presence of Jesus and the Holy Spirit bring the anointing and in the intimacy comes the Glory. In unity of spirit, the Glory falls.

"My prayer is not for them alone. I pray also for those who will believe in me through their message, that all of them may be one, Father, just as you are in me and I am in you. May they also be in us so that the world may believe that you have sent me. I have given them the glory that you gave me, that they may be one as we are one: I in them and you in me. May they be brought to complete unity to let the world know that you sent me and have loved them even as you have loved me." John 17:20-23

WE MUST HELP BIRTH THE NEXT GENERATION. EVERY WARRIOR IS NEEDED

Beloved, join with me in praying for the next generation. We so need one another. The Holy Spirit will teach us how to move forward into the Glory.

"But when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all truth. He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come. He will bring glory to me by taking from what is mine and making it known to you. All that belongs to the Father is mine. That is why I said the Spirit will take from what is mine and make it known to you." John 16:13-15

In Him, your humble servant

The Sound Of A Drum

Judith Grobelny

This morning as I spent time with the Lord I heard a drum beating in the Spirit. I saw that many were hearing this beat, turning to listen, and rising up into the purposes of God. I saw the forerunners come up through the clouds - the breakthrough - (as in a previous vision) and they are streaming ahead.

There is the sound of an army rising, a rustle, like leaves blown by a wind, throughout the whole earth.

God's people are beginning to hear.

God's people are beginning to stand.

God's people are beginning to turn!

in a way that has never been known before.

They are all hearing the same sound, they will all move to the same beat, it is the insistent drum beat that accompanies an army moving forward into position.

Many are putting down work they have pursued faithfully for years. Many are turning from the things of this world they have served. Many are moving into the river of God's purpose for this time; so many that they form streams and tributaries that feed the river and cause it to swell and become as a river in flood.

There is a new sense of fellowship, friendship, and camaraderie flowing over those who respond to the call. They recognise one another instantly and are delighted to be together. This is unity beyond anything prayed for or imagined in the past - a hand on a shoulder, a pat on the back with love and trust, without reservation.

They are gathering together with joy, not in buildings, but in the open places, they are coming into the open and will be seen. They are coming into the light. They are beginning to shine forth light into the darkness, and illuminate large areas.

Be listening, be ready to run, be ready to come. BE READY.

Shalom,

Judith Grobelny

The Sword of Truth

Risa Utley

Last year the Lord spoke the following word to me and also gave me the dream/vision to go with it. He has recently been reminding me of it as I have seen much of it already beginning. I therefore re-submit to you.

The Lord spoke to me very clearly one morning that there was a Sword coming upon the land. But this was not a sword of war but a Sword of Truth. The Sword would cut away all that was not of Him. This Sword of Truth would expose and make plain the light and the dark, there would be no more gray. For anything that was not of Him, any piece of us that we had not allowed His Spirit to deal with, those areas where compromise had taken place, He was going to remove. He told me to not fear the Sword, it IS coming. He WILL have a Holy Bride, a Holy Church and this is necessary. But if we would seek Him, humble ourselves and submit to His cleansing willingly, without reservation, when the Sword came it would be much "easier" for those who had already allowed Him to cleanse and heal. Those who either refused or were so blinded by their own agendas would find it a very trying time.

After receiving this word in the morning, when I went to bed that night, I was still pondering it all. I asked the Lord to show me more and I then had a dream or vision, I am not sure just which it was, but I knew it was His answer.

I saw little silhouettes, like little gingerbread men. Some were missing a toe here, a hand there, maybe part of a foot. There were some however who were missing major portions of the body, some only had a head and neck and part of the chest left. The Lord showed me that these were representative of the ones that had been thru the Sword.

Those with only small pieces missing are the ones that had continually submitted themselves to His cleansing, the Sword when it came did not have to cut away much and so was much less painful. The more that had not been already dealt with, the more the Sword had to cut away until some were just barely "left".

He also likened the following to me: when one receives a cut, be it a paper cut, or with a sharp knife or glass, the sharper the "cutter" the less we feel it when it happens, and also the quicker it will heal. There is pain, yes, but if that blade were dull, or jagged oh, what pain then! You see, when we surrender our will to His, when we choose to allow Him to complete within us what HE will and not what we will, we are allowing Him to take that sharp scalpel to our flesh and yes it hurts, but only for a short time. When we refuse to submit, it "dulls the blade" and there is so much more pain to bear, and it takes a long time to heal-this is our own doing. He WILL have a holy church, He

WILL have a spotless Bride.

How much the cleansing "hurts" us is up to us. Will we accept His call? Will we submit to His purification? Will we allow Him to do in us what HE wills? This is His challenge to His Bride today.

After the Lord gave this word to me, I did "put it out there". But when I began to see people that I loved in situations of pain and distress, the Lord reminded me of this word. I realized that I should have been more diligent to "get the word out" and so maybe some who are going thru the Sword right now may have had an "easier" time if they only knew.

Now the enemy could have caused me to feel shame and despair and twisted the conviction of the Holy Spirit (we all know he loves to do that!) but I did not allow him to do that. I recognized the chastising of the Lord and so I learned from Him.

Just because we may post a word on a list, does not mean we have completely fulfilled our duty to the Lord when He gives us a word for the Body of Christ. I learned this through this experience. Therefore, I am posting this word again, and have shared it with many others as well because if we know what He is planning to do, then we can be ready. We must be alert. We must not "hide" what God gives us and we must not be afraid to speak His words. I pray that you be challenged to come up higher in Him, to allow Him to take you to that deeper place in Him.
In His Grace,
Risa

The Secret Power of Lawlessness

Chimezie Onyebilanma,

15/10/00 "For the secret power of lawlessness is already at work ; but the one who now holds it back will continue to do so till he is taken out of the way" . 2Thess 2 v.7

It takes God's help to see evil for what it is. Just like we may appreciate the earth's vastness while standing on it but it takes rising above it by the help of a plane or the sort to really see how vast it is. So too sin. A man may know he is a sinner but it takes encountering God for him to really begin to see sin as sin. The more we draw closer to God the more we will be more replused by sin because we will increasingly see it as it is – "that sin might be recognised as sin....so that ...sin might become utterly sinful" (Rom 7:13). That is why a person's intimacy with God can be judged by his attitude to sin.

We need God to open our eyes to the sinfulness of sin. And the way it is at work in the world even now. This determined work of lawlessness that is decaying societies, families, and men. Destroying all that is good so that they may not be able to worship God. We see in verse 4 the twin attack that the devil is using – opposing godliness and exalting sin. These days in the name of modernism and liberty the devil is making subjects like holiness, consecration, purity etc, unattractive . And at the same time he is making sin very attractive. The Church has increasingly become much like the world. Many of us have today lowered our standards from what they used to be.

All these is so subtle that if we are not careful we will be overpowered by it and reap decay even in our own lives. We must beware! The most important thing in life is not to accomplish great things for God but rather to live holy lives unspotted by the world so that we may please God. Watch out and no matter what happens don't let this decay eat up your life , nor your relationship with others. I challenge you to examine your life and to come against every manifestation of this secret power of lawlessness.

The only thing that that can restrain this work of lawlessness is the Holy Spirit . How we need to walk and work with him not only to save ourselves but also to become salts of the world around us so as to save others from this decay. It is time to straighten out our lives. Straighten out our walk with God and our relationships with others. May God help us.

That all the nations may praise Him,

Chimezie Onyebilanma,
cross-cultural missionary with CAPRO in Togo, West Africa.

The Stage Is Set

Michael D Bottomly

This Word came to me as I was simply looking at the circumstances surrounding me and I found myself questioning the promises that God has given me for my family, life, and ministry. The promises that came in visions and dreams and prophecies that are yet to be fulfilled.

All that has happened up until this point in all of time has not only been for that time's purpose, but in preparation for the time we live in right now! This is a kairos time for the church, a final preparation, the last leg if you will!

The Lord spoke this verse to me: Ezekiel 12:21-25 "And the Word of the Lord came unto me saying, 'Son of man, what is this proverb that you people have about the land of Israel, which says, "The days are prolonged, and every vision fails"? Tell them therefore, "Thus says the Lord GOD: "I will lay this proverb to rest, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel." But say to them, "The days are at hand, and the fulfillment of every vision. For no more shall there be any false vision or flattering divination within the house of Israel. For I am the LORD. I speak, and the word which I speak will come to pass; it will no more be postponed; for in your days, O rebellious house, I will say the word and perform it," says the Lord GOD."

God's people have feared the things to come because... "Maybe I heard wrong..." "Maybe God decided not to do that for me because of something that I did..." "Maybe I wasn't good enough and He chose someone else..." "Maybe I didn't have enough faith to make it happen..."

A fear has come of what people think, "Where is your God now?" they mock. The question is, "Can I trust God with my reputation? My name? My finances? My relationships? My transportation?" Those of you who have walked through this, or may be walking through it right now are about to be surprised, that God has not forgotten about you!

David prayed against these fears in Psalm 25, "...let me not be ashamed; for I put my trust in thee."

Let our hearts cry out with such triumph that we no longer care what the world thinks, but that our hearts focus on what He thinks. He is utterly pleased with our faith(trust) in the midst of adversity! The answer is coming, be patient! because "...through faith and patience (we) inherit the promises." Hebrews 6:12

When you heard the Word the first time you had no problem believing it, you had the goose bumps, and the shaking leg, you had gold dust on your hands, and your legs wouldn't stop dancing (these are all awesome things!). Patience comes through abiding (John 15, Galatians 5:22), patience is the ability to hold onto that Word through persecution and tribulation.

Matthew 13:20-21 says, "But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it; Yet hath he not root in himself, but endureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended."

Why did the tribulation and persecution arise? Because of the Word, so don't take it personally when your boss yells at you, or when your kids begin to back talk, don't take it personally... satan is not interested in you, He is interested in the Word, so hold on tight cause deliverance is coming! God is faithful.

God almighty is waiting for the perfect time (kairos) to fullfill His word, but "Know this, says the Lord, "My Word Shall Go Forth, and surely I shall tarry no longer in fulfilling it, before you know it my answer will overcome you, and cause you to even push harder to keep up with the grace that I will pour forth over you my bride! Your strength will not carry you, but this grace which I will pour over you will begin to sweep you away with it's mighty power. You are my beloved, frightened and broken you have come to me, I WILL HEAL YOU."

The Lord also said "I am setting the stage (world, your situation) for my entrance. I am about to take center stage, and all those who would try to hold My role that I alone play will be brought low, but those who will follow my lead role will be exalted with Me", says the Lord.

The Third Apostles Gathering

Cary Goodwin

The Third Apostles Gathering
will be in Oklahoma City Sept. 26-27 & 28, 2000

The Spirit of the Lord that was intended for this time to bring us the Body of Christ into the unity of the Faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ was birthed in the midst of the Lord's Apostles at the second Apostles Gathering.

There have been several scriptures that have been coming to my mind in the past few days. Scriptures intended for this dispensation of time that have not come to pass yet.

One of those scriptures is Romans 10:19 But I say, Did not Israel know? First Moses saith, I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.

Listen to this word the Lord gave me in July of 1998. I had been seeking the Lord about a word that had been delivered to me suggesting that we were to have a preliminary Gathering in Jerusalem in 1998. As I seriously sought the Lord about this so called word. He told me it was not necessary to go to Jerusalem and then He said.

"This Gathering of My Apostles under My Command is about the bringing forth of the New Jerusalem. It is about the fulfillment of the Times of the Gentiles. It is in this fulfilling of the End Times of the Gentiles that my beloved Israel shall be provoked to jealousy. Use caution move not by the flesh, move not by power nor by might but by my Spirit saith the Lord." This word was given on 7-8-98. As you can see this is of Utmost Importance.

In John Chapter 17 vs. 22 the Lord prayed, And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one:

In Sept. 96 while listening to a sermon on the Glory of God the Lord spoke very loudly and very clearly to me and said, "I have given you the key that will unlock My Glory and the Final move of My Spirit for the Last Days and the Final Harvest". That Key is the Gathering of His True Apostles Under His Command. I know that this doesn't sit well with those who think God is the author of chaos and confusion. Those who think God must move after their own Order and Ways. Never the Less I testify of this Command given to me and the words I have received of the Lord on this subject.

We are coming up on the fall feasts and the Jewish new year which will mark the end of the 6000 years given to man on the earth. This next Gathering will be on the fourth Anniversary of the date the Command was given. I am truly excited about what the Lord is about to do in our midst. In Vol. 11, I described the birthing of the spiritual child that the Lord birthed in our midst at the last Gathering. This is very significant. <http://apostles-gathering.com/vol.11.html>

There are going to be many fulfillments of the book of Revelation that will just happen seemingly unnoticed by the religious sectors. It was the same when Jesus was born in the flesh on the earth. A few shepherds were told by the Angels that the Messiah was born and a few wise men knew, who followed the signs of the aligning of the stars in the heavens. So it is today. Let us also take note that Herod led by Satan went about to kill all the male child.

In Matthew 15:8-9 This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

None would want their faith to be in vain. Think about it seriously. This is a time like no other time when we must put away from us the systems, ways and doctrines of man. Not all will receive this.

Revelations Chapter 18 vs. 4; And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues. Verse 5; For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

This mystery Babylon is the same spirit that was operating in the Pharisees. It is the same religious spirit that works in every religion today to Deceive the Nations from the Truth of God. This is what Jesus was warning us about when He said beware the leaven of the Pharisees. The blood of the Prophets and the Apostles was found in her.
<http://apostles-gathering.com/chapter10.htm>

It is important that you Apostles who stood as Apostles in the Second Gathering be at the third Apostles Gathering. It is important that all of the Lord's True Apostles who have heard be there.

After the second Apostles Gathering one of the elders called me and told me that the Lord had just told him that the Lord spoke to him and said, With out the fulfilling of the Apostles Gathering His own calling would not be fulfilled. Another Brother this morning who is a Prophet just wrote these words.

Dear Brother,

I too realize that without the Apostles Gathering and their fellowship I wouldn't be able to complete the vision that the Lord gave me.. for the Apostles are a part of the vision. And therefore the vision can not be complete until they become a part of it when the ships sail in ministry in actuality.

I see a blanket being woven so tightly that no foreign article or strand can implant itself upon it and stay. Indeed the Lord is putting together the Body of Christ and each person is being put into their ordained position, so that the Body will not only function correctly and with power but that it is in rightful order as well....End.

The Lord is about to empower His Apostles and set them in the direction He has called them to.

If you are an Apostle of the Lord Jesus Christ and want to attend please get us your testimony of your walk with the Lord and why you say you are an Apostle as soon as possible. Put Apostle Testimony in the Subject Line and include your phone number.

If you have already sent your testimony and haven't heard from us please send it again. I don't want any to slip through the cracks. Placing Apostles Testimony in the Subject line will definitely help.

Any who want to come to help us pray for the Presence and the Glory of the Lord are welcome. If you can not be there please remember to cover us with your prayers on those days.

The Apostles Gathering will be at the Holiday Inn
1000 N. Interstate Dr.
Norman, Oklahoma 73072
Telephone 405-364-2882
<http://apostles-gathering.com/hotelinfo.html>

They have given us a room rate of $72.00 per night. Make your reservations as soon as possible. I have asked them to put up round tables for us instead of the usual seating arrangements.

I am going to ask those of you who understand the importance of this Command to take a step of faith before the Lord in placing your faith and understanding in action. I know the Lord will meet you there and Bless You for it. We still need to continue to get word of this Command out around the World to the Body of Christ. I am truly excited about this Apostles Gathering. . Remember to pray for the traveling expenses of the Apostles. Some are in foreign countries operating on very little.

God Bless You all with the Riches of His Glory that is in Christ Jesus our Lord. I love You

Trusting And Abiding In The Peace Of God

Rick Joyner

From: <http://www.morningstarministries.org/Articles/word/aug72000.htm>

Each morning as I pray over the different ministries in MorningStar, I am confronted by the truth that what we are doing is far beyond my ability to control. I could spend all of my time with any one of the eight major ministry divisions and it would not be enough, yet I can only give each one a tiny fraction of my time. I am also challenged by the fact that each of these ministries can have an impact on Christians around the world because of the influence that we have been given. This is a very serious responsibility. As I ponder the weight of this, it can be even more unsettling. But each day the Lord gives me His assurance that His Spirit is with us, and He upholds the world with His power!

I have come to believe that all responsibility is beyond human ability. That means that there is nothing we can do right without God. When I think about my family, I could spend all of my time with my wife, or any one of my children, and it would not be enough. In everything we are dependent on the Lord. In all that we have been given to do we must abide in Him. If we are abiding in Him, which we do by taking His yoke, we actually find rest for our souls, not striving.

This has been a Sabbatical year for MorningStar, but I do not ever remember being busier. However, the true issue of a Sabbatical is not just resting from work, but it is learning to abide in the Lord and His rest. That is our true goal for this year, and it seems that the Lord is helping us to do this by giving us so much that we cannot possibly do it without Him.

I was reading an article on what separates people like Tiger Woods and other star athletes from their peers who often have more talent. The conclusion was that it was their ability to stay focused under stress. This is also probably a key issue that separates those who bear much fruit from those who are bearing little or none. However, our focus is not just on our task, but on something infinitely greater the Lord Himself.

Studies have shown that one minute of rage can sap the strength of a normal eight hour period. Just being angry for a few minutes can do the same thing. Worry also drains our energy at an amazing rate, even much faster than hard labor. How much more effective could we be, and how much more energy would we have, if we would abide in the peace of the Lord? Could this be why Paul wrote that ... the God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet (Romans 16:20). This is also a reason why elders in the church should not be quick tempered. (Titus 1:7). There are few things that can sap our effectiveness like anger, or fear. On the contrary, faith releases the power that created the universe.

We often think of great faith as something that happens spontaneously so that we can be used for a miracle or healing. However, the greatest faith of all, and the most effective, is to live day by day trusting Him. It is trusting Him so much that we look at every problem as an opportunity to see His work in our life. It is not worrying, but rather trusting and abiding in the peace of God that will crush anything that Satan tries to do to us. If the Lord created the world out of chaos, He can easily deal with any problem that we have. I have heard many Christians say that they know the Lord can do miracles, but they just do not know if He will. However, He has said that He always will if we believe Him. Therefore, as we read in John 6:29:

Jesus answered and said to them, "This is the work of God, that you believe in Him whom He has sent."

Our main job is not to build a church, or a ministry, but to grow in faith. As a ministry we are just now being moved into position to begin our ultimate mission. When we look at the task we have been given we will always be overwhelmed by it because it is much bigger than we are. However, our goal is not the work, but rather to grow in faith in the One who alone can accomplish it.

We have been promised that we are entering a time when we will see great miracles. We need to also understand that this is probably because we are being thrust into a place where we are going to need so many of them. Even so, I know that is what most of us have signed up for. We want to be a part of what God is building, not men.

Let us continue to prepare for our purposes by seeing every problem, every obstacle, as an opportunity to see a miracle. Let us determine to abide in the peace of God so that we can see the God of peace crush Satan under our feet. We must also recognize anger and wrath as the great enemies of our purposes. We cannot allow them to gain entry into the fortress of faith that we are called to build. They are the primary enemies who will seek to drain us of our faith, our focus, and even the physical energy that we have been given.

The Temple Intercessors

Mary (Koons) Wattenford

June 15, 2000

In the Spirit - just as I did a few nights ago - I found myself in the "Heavenly Temple," walking down a corridor and then outside(?) to the courtyard on the East side of the Temple. Again, I saw a crowd of people, all face down praying. Tonight, however, I saw wisps of what appeared to be smoke rising from the people praying. I was reminded of the verse about prayers of the saints being as "incense," and realized that what I was seeing rising above them WAS the Heavenly incense of prayer - pleasing to the Father.

And the Lord said:

Those who have NOT been caught up in the enemy's trap of "moving forward," before I tell My army to move - you see below you. A modern army would be immobilizing - preparing stores of supplies - looking for supply routes to keep the "front line" troops fully supplied with an abundance of ammunition, food and gasoline to move the vehicles. The "foot soldiers," would be on patrol - spying out the land ahead of them, ever alert for snipers or movements of enemy forces. THIS IS MY ARMY - SEE THOSE I HAVE CHOSEN!! Where are they and what are they doing? They are here - within My Temple, interceding - and their prayers rise above them and are then collected as the ammunition that MY ARMY will use to "rout the enemy forces!" Notice they are not "walking on foot - going out on patrol," for My troops KNOW that when they are on their knees - they will discover ALL they need to know about upcoming forays by the enemy. They will have already BROKEN THROUGH into "his ranks," while he debates the best area to attack! STRONGHOLDS ARE FALLING MY DAUGHTER....worldwide - those "strangleholds" that have kept My intercessors - at bay and hindered My moving in the fullness of My POWER - are COMING DOWN!!!.....They are COMING DOWN....and they will NOT be rebuilt!

My army does not need weapons of modern warfare - for the SWORD OF MY SPIRIT can defeat even the most MODERNISTIC of weapons. What use is a "laser beam" of intense heat when My Father can call down "fire from Heaven," and consume the attacking force BEFORE they have even had time to aim it? Of what use is having sonar, radar, and tracking devices that can pinpoint a "needle" from a hundred miles up - when My army has a KING who has overcome death and the grave, and can point to the holes of his resurrected body to show the VICTORY of "ALL" VICTORIES? My army does not need to search out the "best supply routes," for I can send "manna from Heaven," and I MYSELF AM THE BREAD OF LIFE.... the Staff and drink that fills to overflowing!

What you see My Daughter is preparation - the preparation necessary to "OVERCOME," ....and MANY WILL OVERCOME - even as I OVERCAME - "if" they look NOT to the right or the left but KEEP their "eyes" on the CITY ON THE HILL....the Heavenly City where "death" is as alien THERE [in Heaven] - as "living in My fullness and abundance" IS HERE! [on earth]. But this WILL CHANGE....for although My church has been faithful in "only" a little, MY TRUE BRIDE IS COMING FORTH - and her bridal veil covers a "beauty" that rivals the stars of the heavens! The victory you look for - has ALREADY BEEN ESTABLISHED in the Heavens.... The banner you fight under is one the enemy sees as an "apparent loss...." - but my enemies ALSO thought that I too - had perished, and as before, the Father will ONLY ALLOW THEM TO SEE what HE DESIRES THEM TO SEE! For I have My "secret weapons" too! And those who have spent lifetimes interceding, crying out - bowing down before Me, reverencing My Name and pleading for the lives of the saints and the salvation of the lost, these will come to the FOREFRONT of My army, having learned that ALL THINGS are possible when you look NOT at the circumstances - but RISE UP IN FAITH AND LOOK TO ME! My army will not come with programs for the masses - busywork - or self-styled "self-improvement" workshops - NO!!!! My army will come with banners flying - singing with SHOUTS OF JOY IN VICTORY..... Not "busy," but "prayerfully jubilant" because they KNOW that it is IMPOSSIBLE for them to loose! They are not looking to "self-improve" themselves, rather - they seek to LOOSE "self" entirely, and be a servant to the many.

These you see are My troops, My chosen ones, beloved of the Father....and because of the great love for which they have for ME - HE will glorify ME by hearing their prayers - enjoying the fragrant smell of the incense their prayers have produced and He WILL move swiftly to answer their requests - so that HE MAY BE GLORIFIED...even as I AM HONORED AND GLORIFIED AND REJOICE IN THEIR ABIDING FAITH AND TRUST IN MY MERCY AND LOVE.

And another angel came and stood over the altar. He had a golden censer, and he was given very much incense [fragrant spices and gums which exhale perfume when burned], that he might mingle it with the prayers of all the people of God (the saints) upon the altar of gold before the throne.

(Revelation 8:3)

The Time Of Visitation

Bob Neumann

44 And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

45 And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought;

46 Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of thieves.

I had a "different" kind of "vision" today.... which spurred me to put together "in due season". I just spent a couple hours with Trey and shared it with him. I can't blame "bad pepperoni" for this. I don't really know what to call it...it is that "different"...so let me tell it as best I can.

I had gone "to bed" shortly after 9am. It had been a busy night. So it could be called a "dream". I "found" myself walking in a "MALL" wearing my usual T-shirt and jeans. Along side me walked THE GOOD SHEPHERD wearing typical "work" clothes; jeans, plaid shirt, work boots. The same JESUS I "saw" years ago in the carpenter shop when HE told me HIS NAME IS Y'SHUA. HE has not changed.

We walked down the middle of the "aisle" as people flowed around us. Everyone was in a hurry or were preoccupied. We walked for a while and came to an intersection where "corridors" from all four directions merged. In the middle was a fountain and benches for people to sit. We sat down on the ledge around the fountain and just "people watched". Unlike some visions where I "knew" that the place was a spiritual "composite" this was "too real". It looked like any "super mall" in America today. Three, maybe four levels of shops. People of every color, age, description walked by. Individuals and couples, families and groups seemed to "flow by". I watched as groups of "young people" ambled by. They were not in as much of a hurry as most of the others, but they ignored those around them just as everyone else did. I watched boys of 13-16(?) saunter by with attitude. I watched girls who were trying to look older move in clumps from place to place. Weird hair.... tattoos...piercings... make-up out of TV talk shows for male and female alike.

I had this feeling about "the lost generation" when I saw an elderly couple go by with cane and walker in use. I "knew" that it was more than a generation that was lost and I looked at my friend, THE SHEPHERD as HE WATCHED humanity walk by. And I recalled the verse that said..."JESUS WEPT" and I recalled all the grief I had "felt" with ABBA for the "lost".

We sat a good while watching and I noticed people really paid no attention to two common men. I also noticed the children "looking" at everything around them as they were pushed or dragged by. Several-made eye contact and a few smiled. Something which THE LAMB returned easily. I thought, why are only children smiling? I had to think, I see few people smiling any more. You smile when you are happy or safe. When you are content or comfortable. Of course a "smile" can be a mask, a facade to hide things. But few who passed by had anything to hide. Most were in a hurry and had "things" on their minds it would seem.

With only the "idea" of a lost people/nation on my heart I sat and waited wondering if HE would tell me what all this meant. When HE did begin to speak it was in that quiet voice of instruction. I bet HE sounded just like this when HE ASKED the twelve to look at the "lilies of the fields". I was hoping HE would not ask "WHO DO THEY SAY I AM".... but I was pretty close....

"ON THE TENTH DAY OF THE FIRST MONTH I RODE INTO JERUSALEM JUST AS IT WAS WRITTEN. FOR FOUR DAYS I STOOD AMONG THEM IN THE TEMPLE COURTS TEACHING AND

THEY SAW I WAS WITHOUT SPOT OR BLEMISH. WHERE WOULD I GO TODAY TO BE INSPECTED TO BE FOUND WORTHY OF BEING SACRIFICED?" I thought about that...and thought again. Would HE go to "CHRISTIAN TV/RADIO" and say "IT'S ME!"? Maybe stop by "PRAISE THE LORD" or "THE 700 CLUB"?

Or would it be here in a "mall" where the people are?

In my spirit I heard the cry of Isaiah...

1 Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price. 2 Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness. 3 Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. 4 Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people. 5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and nations that knew not thee shall run unto thee because of the LORD thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel; for he hath glorified thee.

I looked at HIM with the fountain behind HIM bubbling and flowing. As I thought "set-up, again" HE SMILED THAT SMILE AGAIN.

"I CAME WITH LIVING WATER AND FEW HAVE DRUNK OF ME. TELL ME IF THE "JESUS" THE SO CALLED "MEN AND WOMEN OF GOD" HAVE TAUGHT AND FED TO MY LAMBS AND SHEEP IS ANYTHING LIKE 'I AM'?"

And I thought of the "Hollywood" JESUS'S and the "manger baby"...the LAMB on the cross...and the GLORIFIED SON.... and I looked at HIM.... which "JESUS" were these people looking for? I looked around at the sheer number of people walking purposefully around us, going about "their business" and I remember HIS WORDS at age 12...

49 And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business? 50 And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them. 51 And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart. 52 And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

"GOTCHA, DOG," HE SAID AS HE SMILED TOWARD ALL THOSE AROUND US. "I AM STILL HERE TO DO MY FATHER'S BUSINESS. TOO BAD MOST OF THE SERVANTS FORGOT THAT LITTLE POINT. OTHERWISE THEY WOULD HAVE BEEN EXPECTING MY COMING. BUT LIKE BEFORE THEY HAVE MISSED THE TIME OF VISITATION. I SENT MY WORD THROUGH MANY. THEY HAD THE LAW AND THE PROPHETS AND THE GOSPELS. DID NOT CHANGE THE REALITY AROUND US. THE "AUTHORITIES" TODAY ARE NO DIFFERENT THAN THE SCRIBES AND THE PHARISEES. MANY ARE FIRM SADDUCEES AND DO NOT KNOW IT."

We stood up and I watched HIM stretch like any man would who sat in one place a little too long. And suddenly it was all there.... HE IS REAL.... and HE LAUGHED as HE TOUCHED MY SHOULDER.... "THE MESSIAH MAN TEACHES ABOUT IS A REFLECTION OF MAN. I AM A MAN AND I AM THAT I AM. THAT IS WHY I UNDERSTAND ALL BECAUSE I NOT ONLY HAVE BEEN THERE, I STILL AM THERE BECAUSE I STILL HAVE NEVER LEFT OR FORSAKEN ANY IN COVENANT WITH ME. THE LOST ARE LOST BECAUSE "MY SERVANTS" WERE REPLACED BY "THE CHURCH". THEY SHOULD BE ONE AND THE SAME, BUT ARE NOT. SO WHAT DO I DO, DOG? THEY HAVE IGNORED MY WARNINGS AND FORGOT MY INSTRUCTIONS. LIKEWISE FEW WILL REJOICE WHEN YOU

"SHARE" THIS WORD."

Suddenly we were standing in the "back" of a building. We were dressed in black suits with tallits and yarmalkas. We took "our seats" at the back of the congregation and watched as the TORAH SCROLLS were brought out and SHABBAT services began. I watched as the Rabbi begin the service as the couples and families "entered into" the prayer...."SHMA Y'SRAEL....". I wondered how HE felt watching a female rabbi minister to an "unsegregated" congregation. That earned me a smile as HE LOOKED at me and held up a book in HIS HAND.

"I THINK I SAID MY WORDS SHALL NOT PASS AWAY, DOG," HE EXPLAINED AS HE TURNED THE PAGES AND I SAW HEBREW CHARACTERS ON THE PAGES. "IN FACT I DO NOT SEE EVEN ONE JOT OR TITTLE DIFFERENT FROM WHEN I READ FROM ISAIAH IN NAZARETH. WHAT DO YOU THINK THEY WOULD SAY IF I AGAIN QUOTED FROM ISAIAH 61 RIGHT NOW?"

Now that one whacked me good.... and I looked up and around us. No one seemed to notice the conversation as HE CONTINUED..."WHAT MAN ESTABLISHED CHANGES WITH TIMES AND SEASONS. AS IT WAS IN JERUSALEM SO IT IS HERE. SO IT IS WITH THE CHURCHES THAT CLAIM MY NAME BUT DO NOT FOLLOW IN MY FOOTSTEPS. I SAID THAT IN MY FATHER'S HOUSE ARE MANY CHAMBERS. MANSIONS SOME PREFER. IT IS NOT THAT BIG A DEAL UNLESS THE "DEAL" REMOVES YOU FROM WHERE I AM. WHERE I AM IS TWO FOLD. TO DO WHAT PLEASES ABBA.... AND TO DESTROY THE PLANS AND KINGDOMS OF THE ENEMY."

"WHAT I SAID BEFORE STILL GOES, DOG, EITHER THEY ARE FOR ME OR AGAINST ME. TELL THEM THAT WORD FOR WORD. MY WORD WILL NOT CHANGE. IT IS WRITTEN... EVERY WORD. TELL THEM THEY CAN IGNORE RHEMA AT A HEAVY COST. TELL THEM THAT WHEN THEY IGNORE LOGOS THEY BRING UPON THEMSELVES THE WRATH OF THE LAMB. IT IS WRITTEN, SO IT WILL BE".

At that point I "woke up".... lot of IMAGES.... lot of WORD.... went to THE WORD before trying to put this "on paper"....John 7:37-53

37 In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. 38 He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. 39 (But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified.) 40 Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet. 41 Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee? 42 Hath not the scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was? 43 So there was a division among the people because of him. 44 And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him? 46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man. 47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived? 48 Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him? 49 But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed. 50 Nicodemus saith unto them, (he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them,) 51 Doth our law judge any man, before it hear him, and know what he doeth? 52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet. 53 And every man went unto his own house. (KJV)

They did not know their "time of visitation"....

1 Woe unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and that write grievousness which they have prescribed; 2 To turn aside the needy from judgment, and to take away the right from the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherless! 3 And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory? 4 Without me they shall bow down under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 O Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, and the staff in their hand is mine indignation. 6 I will send him against an hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets. 7 Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy and cut off nations not a few. 8 For he saith, Are not my princes altogether kings? (KJV)

And "JESUS WEPT"...

9 But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light: 10 Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy. 11 Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul; 12 Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, whereas they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

The Turning Point

Chuck Pierce

Transcribed and sent by: Bob & Priscilla Friemering parker@ecis.com

Note from Bob and Priscilla: this prophecy is actually two parts -- The first was given at the beginning of the final session of this conference; "Apostolic Church Arising" on September 23, Camarillo, ca. The second part was at the end Prophecy given at global harvest "apostolic church arising" conference Camarillo, Ca - September 23, 2000

Chuck pierce prophesying:

"I am going back to 1962 in this nation and the things that occurred In 1962 that has brought an infirmity upon this nation. I would say To you I am raising up an apostolic strength and an apostolic Government in my church that will have the power to break that Infirmity. I say to you certain things have happened that since 1962 that has caused a spirit of infirmity to cause my people to be bowed low and the destiny of this nation to take a wrong turn. But I say to you I Am even right now beginning to shift and release an anointing into certain individuals in this land that can cause the power of that infirmity to break and I say to you : Those weaknesses that entered into the DNA structure of this nation In 1962 I say I am about to detect, I am about to send, and I am about to break off of this nation. I say - even in this place go back to what occurred in the media in 1962 and you will break the cycles of weaknesses that have been communicated to this land. I say to you go back and take a stand in places that you once stood. I say go back - go back for I say now an anointing has arisen, an anointing has been released and I have chosen to release that anointing in California and what brought infirmity into this nation -- I say the apostolic leadership in California will cause it to be reversed saith the Lord"

Part 2

"This state is going to be the turning point of this election in days ahead The Lord says, "I've brought you here, I've anointed you, I'm saying To you before you leave here, make a prophetic declaration of which way the nation needs to go. It will take root in this land. I've sent you on a mission. I've called into a place. Do not leave here until you say "this nation will go this way" when you make the declaration I've put it in your mouth -- when you declare it's going to take action in this state I gathered this remnant together this week because if you had not gathered, this nation would have gone in the wrong direction. I say, "declare before me that this nation has now turned and that over the next 21 days that things will begin to happen supernaturally Throughout this land" The next 21 days declare that my apostolic church will arise and that no government will be put in place that will stop the arising of my Apostolic church. I say to you I have connected you, I have established you and I am anointing you anew and afresh now. I say let my authority arise on This earth and in this nation that the change of the future might occur - saith the Lord."

Test The Spirit

Sharon Hine

Children, I love you, I am your front and rear guard, your song in the night and your bright morning star. My Spirit will guide you into all truth, not a greater revelation surplus to scripture, but the truth as revealed by My Word.

Test the spirit child, test the spirit. Even that which seems plausible, even that which seems right, submit it to My Word. Does it contradict My Word of Love? Does it oppose My Word of Grace? Does it rob you of freedom or joy? Does it fill you with peace? Does it leave you in hope? Does it ignite a passion for Me?

For I would not give you any word that would bring division. I would not be in words of condemnation and control. I AM the author of life, not the prince of death! So I say to you again child, test the spirit, for the enemy of your soul draws near to deceive, be on your guard. At this time, you will be called upon to stand up against false prophecy and instruct in My love - for I am calling you to work in the opposite spirit.

The old is being made new as I pour out my Holy Spirit upon the earth, but I will start with My House. The cleansing has started, the time has come and I say I will sort the wheat from the chaff. Look to Me at this time don't look at the water beneath your feet but trust My love.

This is a walk of faith and will continue to be a walk of faith as I move in your life in a deeper way. Allow My Holy Spirit to touch those areas which have been untouched and allow Him to guide you. My Spirit is gentle, He is love and peace.

My Spirit will not be offended if you test Him on whether Jesus has come in the flesh, My Spirit will welcome your test. So test the spirit and walk in truth and humility. Test the spirit and oppose the enemy who would come to steal, kill and destroy.

To The Unsaved

Pat Cocking

"TO THE UNSAVED,"-- JESUS AS PROPHET, PRIEST, AND KING-- IS ABOUT TO BE INTRODUCED

PROPHETS, PRIESTS, AND KINGS

INTRODUCTION

Jesus Christ in His Prophetic, Priestly and Kingly offices is about to be introduced to the unsaved and magnified in the world in unprecedented ways through His people.

A. CHRIST'S PRIESTLY ANOINTING

Jesus stands forever as our Eternal High Priest ever living to make intercession for us. His blood speaks over our lives, justifying us, remitting our sins, and proclaiming the power of the unbreakable eternal covenant. Twenty-four hour houses of prayer will be springing up all over the world. Prayer initiatives will be birthed in exponential proportions. This prayer movement has already begun but it will soon be bursting into a full measure of empowerment.

TAKING THEIR PLACE ON THE WALL

Many will take their place on the "wall" in order to secure the work of Christ's intercession in the earth. Weeping and wailing will be released like never before for the lost to come to Christ. Deep "love burdens" for the lost will rise up in believers. A birthing of the harvesting anointing, compassion for the lost, and vision for the poor will be laid hold of through this priestly anointing. Many believers will be called to leave places of secular employment in order to enter into the full time ministry of intense and fervent intercession to labor for this harvest.

As a result of the non-stop, continuous cries for the lost and for the remission of sins in the earth, multitudes will be receiving Christ globally.

EVEN THE CHIEFEST OF SINNERS WILL BE SAVED

Every nation will know the copiousness of the coming harvest. The priestly anointing will be operative in the Body of Christ to not only birth this harvest but to also sustain it. Even the "chiefest of sinners will be saved." Many politicians and heads of corporations will come to Christ. Those operating under priestly anointing will be called to pray much for kings and for those in authority.

B. CHRIST, THE PROPHET

Jesus Christ is the Word that was made flesh and dwelt among us. He is the more sure word of prophecy.

"The testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy". Jesus means "Salvation, Savior, the One who saves". It is the testimony of the Savior (not the judge) that will be released to the lost through the church in these last days. The prophetic word will be taken to the streets. Jesus is going to raise up His holy standard against the false prophets, against the worldly psychic and new age prophetic expressions of these times.

He will raise up His people to move so powerfully in prophetic ministry that the lost will respond to the love of the Savior through this witness. His people will represent His Savior's heart through prophetic gifting released in the media (television, radio, newspapers, Internet and bulletins).

THE ARTS WILL COME ALIVE

The arts will come alive with increased prophetic expression, creativity and authority. Christ, in His prophetic office will be manifested through His people like no other time in history. Even children will be declaring dreams, visions and significant prophetic words that will impact the lost and even leaders of nations.

POLITICAL LEADERS WILL TURN TO THE CHURCH

Many city, regional and national leaders will turn to the church for direction concerning political and economic decisions. The prophetic word will become so strong in some situations that the very moment something is decreed, a miracle will take place. Signs and wonders will be decreed prophetically and then instantly manifested. Many will come to Christ through this.

C. CHRIST, THE KING

Christians will be coming into great awareness of their authority in Christ.

Jesus said, "All authority in heaven and in earth has been given unto me... go ye therefore...." The Body of Christ is going to be carrying great anointing and authority which will challenge sickness, disease, death, and evil of every kind.

This will be especially evidenced through the younger generation but the anointing will fill all who are willing to believe and receive. Many young evangelists will be raised up who will be moving in extraordinary power and manifesting miracles, sign and wonders.

THE LOST WILL BOW TO CHRIST

The lost will bow to Christ as a result. Many believers who know this authority will proclaim the authority of Christ in cities and nations and even spiritual principalities will tremble in fear as a result. This display of power will provoke a retaliation from spirits of darkness and a great wrestling will take place. The warfare will be over our inheritance -- the nations. A Gideon's army will be used to secure the victory. The fearful and unbelieving will not be in this company of kings...only those who believe in Christ's absolute authority in the heavens and in the earth. Kingly anointing will be modeled in unprecedented ways. The authority of these "kings" will be birthed out of brokenness and humility. They will be a people who are intimately acquainted with the cross and the person of Christ, the King of kings.

"And with great power the apostles were giving witness to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and great grace was upon them all." Acts 4:33

EXALTED IN GREAT GRACE

Jesus, the Prophet, Priest, and King of His Kingdom will be exalted in great grace through His people in this hour. The Harvest is at our doorstep. We are being called to posture ourselves before Him in humility in order to walk in these three awesome expressions of His love....."consecrate yourselves for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders."

"Let Your Kingdom come, Let Your will be done On earth as it is in heaven"

Tough Love

Roger Taylor

I have an unusually clear, vivid dream this morning with detailed conversations and emotions.

I was a young man (once again) seated at a table in a restaurant with three attractive young ladies, one of whom I was deeply in love with. She was chatting with the other two and ignoring me. She was putting me down and making fun of me and telling them how I had pursued her and asked her to marry me.

I quietly got up and left. As I was walking away, she caught up with me and took hold of my arm. I turned to her and she began apologizing, saying how sorry she was. I touched my finger to her lips and said, "It's forgotten". As I took my finger away, she again began to apologize. Once again, I put my finger to her lips and said, "It's forgotten".

She looked deep into my eyes and said, "Yes".

I said, "yes, what?"

She said, "Yes, I will marry you". With that, she threw her arms around my neck and kissed me long and hard.

As we separated, I took her left hand, reached into my pocket and took out a large diamond engagement ring and put it on her finger. She looked at me, astonished, and said, "You already had the ring?" I replied, "I have been in love with you for a very long time." She kissed me again, and took my hand and led me back to the table to introduce me as her fiancé and show them the ring.

End of dream.

By this time I was wide awake. As I lay there wondering whether this dream meant anything or was just wishful thinking, the Lord began explaining the dream to me - I could feel His presence.

He explained that I was Him in the dream, feeling what He felt. The young lady was His intended bride - the church. (That may have been His intentions, but it was not at all clear that it was her's). Her friends (the world) were well aware of her hypocrisy and self-contentedness. They knew she was not feeding the hungry, clothing the poor, visiting those in prison or going out and inviting those on the highways to the wedding feast. He said to me, "I am walking away. There is coming a famine of My word and My presence in many of the churches. Most of them will not even know I am missing and will go on doing things as usual. (This has been happening already)

Some will notice and will come after Me and seek Me. I will be easy to find." There was no hint of condemnation or bitterness, only a deep sorrow.

Then He reminded me of some verses in the Song of Solomon, which is a word picture of the great love of Christ for the church. I am not an emotional person - just ask my family, but I had tears running down my cheeks as He shared a tiny bit of His feelings of love (all I could handle) for His bride and His desire to be with her.

"Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away (from the world)." Sgs. 2:10

The Untimeliness of God

Waiting Joseph Herrin

The Untimeliness of God

It has been prophesied by some in recent days that the Father is preparing a group of His children to be able to walk in tremendous callings in the days ahead. This group will be a type of firstfruits. It was common in the land of Judah and Israel for the people to plant an early crop of barley, only to plow it under when it began to reach maturity. This sacrificial crop enriched the soil, preparing the way for an even greater wheat harvest which would follow.

I believe the group God is raising up at this time corresponds to the barley crop. God will use them to prepare the way for a tremendous wheat harvest which will follow. As ministers of God, they will devote themselves to the Lord's purposes in them of ushering in the great last days harvest and in bringing forth beauty in the Bride of Christ.

Part of the preparation of this group is removing all religious thought and reasoning from them. These false thoughts born of man's reasoning and fleshly desire will be replaced with the true knowledge of God. One particular tenet of religious thought that the Father is revealing in my life, and I believe in the lives of many others, is that God's will can be recognized by timeliness and sufficiency of His provision. We are taught that if God's provision for us comes through for us in a timely manner, then it is proof of His will. If His provision tarries past some immovable physical deadline, it is proof that He would have the need met in some other fashion.

My particular crucible of testing involves trusting God for financial resources. Nearly eight months ago God told me to leave my job as a PC Coordinator with a local hospital. He indicated at the time that He would take me into a new realm of ministry involving writing, speaking and whatever else He would bring to me. God confirmed this direction in my life many times over. It was a tremendous step of faith for me, so I asked Him to confirm His will many times. This He very graciously did. After a point, though, He quit reassuring me and left me to exercise faith in the path He had set before me.

During this time I have had no regular financial support. I am not a paid staff member of any church. Being 39 years old, I am much too young to collect retirement. To add to the trial, I am married and have two children, ages 10 and 12, who rely upon my provision for them. My wife does not work outside the home, rather she finds her employment in home schooling our children and fulfilling the other responsibilities of being a wife and a mother.

As I said, it was eight months ago that I left my job at the Father's leading, and during this time we have not lacked for food, clothing, transportation, shelter, or any other basic need of life. However, God's provision has not always been timely. On occasion my home mortgage and other bills have been in serious arrears before God's provision was manifested. At one point my mortgage payment was 3 months delinquent and I received a notice of pending foreclosure proceedings before God's provision was manifested.

The testimony of nearly one and all, both within the church and without, is that if God had truly led me to walk as I am, His provision would be both timely and amply sufficient. Indeed, many of the churches I have been in have taught that one of the primary ways to discern God's will in the life of the believer is to see if His provision is manifested in a timely and sufficient manner. Is this religious thinking, or does it reflect the true knowledge of God and His dealings with mankind?

It would certainly be nice if this were true. It would mean that those who are walking in obedience to God will never know lack, nor will they ever have to wait an undue amount of time to see God fulfill His word to them. Unfortunately, for those who wish this to be true, the Bible reveals that this is not the case.

One of the clearest examples in scripture is Abraham. God gave him a promise of a son. Abraham waited and waited. He knew at some point that he would pass a line of physical possibility. At some point his body would grow old and no longer be capable of reproduction. Abraham and Sarah waited as long as they could. The deadline was at hand. Sarah, being the dutiful wife, finally suggested that Abraham do something she really wished he would never have to do. Sarah was cutting her own throat. She was suggesting that her husband have a child by another woman. Physically, she could see no other way. Isn't God a timely God? Wouldn't He fulfill His promise to her husband while he was still capable of having children? This must be the only way.

Of course we know the story. Abraham listened to Sarah and had a child by her handmaiden. God then appeared to Abraham again and told him that this child was not the promised one. Whoops! If this wasn't the promised one, where would he arise from. Abraham was now past the point of having children, and so was Sarah.

Romans 4:19 And without becoming weak in faith he contemplated his own body, now as good as dead since he was about a hundred years old, and the deadness of Sarah's womb... (NAS)

God was very untimely (according to man's expectation) in fulfilling His promise to Abraham and Sarah. Something must have clicked in Abraham's thinking at this time. He realized he and Sarah were too old to have children, but God was still saying they would. God must not have been limited to perform His word within a time frame of physical possibility. It must have occurred to Abraham that God's word can be accomplished past what we would consider a point of no return.

This sort of messes up the nice religious theory that God's will can be recognized by its timeliness. The scriptures also show that God's will cannot be recognized by its sufficiency. Paul said:

Philippians 4:10-12

- 10 But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at last you have revived your concern for me; indeed, you were concerned before, but you lacked opportunity.
- 11 Not that I speak from want; for I have learned to be content in whatever circumstances I am.
- 12 I know how to get along with humble means, and I also know how to live in prosperity; in any and every circumstance I have learned the secret of being filled and going hungry, both of having abundance and suffering need. (NAS)

Paul said that he at times knew humble or lean times. He experienced going hungry and suffering need. Those who support the theory that provision indicates whether one is in God's will would have to conclude that Paul was outside of the will of God. "Why Paul, don't you know that if you were really doing what God called you to do that God's provision would be present in your life?"

Those who preach a prosperity gospel have somehow overlooked much of the testimony of scripture. We don't like to wait upon God. We don't like to think that at some point we might endure lack or hunger. It is easier on our flesh to teach that God will always bless us with an on-time abundance of the things we need. By teaching this we are justified to go out and obtain what we need after our own fashion when we perceive that God hasn't met our need, or satisfied our longing, to the degree, or with the expedience we expected.

We may ask, "What could it hurt to try to help God out some if we perceive a real need and God's provision is absent?" The account of King Saul's failure to wait for God's provision should provide us reason to hesitate to "help God out." The story of King Saul's failure to wait upon God is familiar to most saints. I have heard it frequently taught on. I think most saints are much too hard on Saul. I know few who would not cave in to the same pressure.

Saul's son Jonathan had just gone and raided a Philistine garrison and had achieved a decent victory. This angered the Philistines. They called their whole army together. Their numbers were tremendous. "Now the Philistines assembled to fight with Israel, 30,000 chariots and 6,000 horsemen, and people like the sand which is on the seashore in abundance... (1 Samuel 13:5).

How many people did Saul have. We are told that there were 2,000 men with Saul and 1,000 with Jonathan. King Saul was vastly outnumbered. The people with him saw this and it is said that those following him "trembled." They were scared to death. Things then began to deteriorate. Saul's army began to slip off and disappear.

1 Samuel 13:6-7 When the men of Israel saw that their situation was critical and that their army was hard pressed, they hid in caves and thickets, among the rocks, and in pits and cisterns. Some Hebrews even crossed the Jordan to the land of Gad and Gilead. Saul remained at Gilgal, and all the troops with him were quaking with fear. (NIV)

Now, it is bad enough to be outnumbered and to have the numbers get worse and worse (it got to the point that Saul only had 600 men left, 4 out of 5 of his soldiers deserted), but to have the ones who remained “quaking with fear” made it even worse. Who was there to encourage and embolden Saul? Who was there to tell him to stand fast and trust in the Lord? Few of God’s saints today have ever been put in such dire straits.

Saul rightly knew that only God could deliver Israel in such a situation. It was customary to entreat the Lord’s favor before entering a battle. The king, however, was not to offer the burnt offering. It was pre-arranged that the prophet Samuel would show up and make the offering and entreat the Lord’s favor. Saul waited seven days, the days agreed upon for Samuel to arrive. When Samuel didn’t show up on time, Saul could endure the wait no longer.

It must be said that it was a tremendous test for Saul to wait even seven days. Each day he received reports of more Philistines gathering and more of his army fleeing. Saul was surrounded by terrified men. A seven day wait had to have been agonizing, but Saul waited these seven days. However, Saul had a point past which he could wait no longer. His endurance had limits to it.

1 Samuel 13:11-12 Saul replied, "When I saw that the men were scattering, and that you did not come at the set time, and that the Philistines were assembling at Micmash, I thought, 'Now the Philistines will come down against me at Gilgal, and I have not sought the LORD's favor.' So I felt compelled to offer the burnt offering." (NIV)

In actuality, Saul seems to have done the prudent thing. Certainly, he felt justified in his own eyes. Things started out bad and they were falling apart. In very little time Saul anticipated having no men left at all. The Philistines could come against him at any moment. In offering up the burnt offering he was seeking the Lord’s favor. There was only one thing wrong, Saul was not permitted to perform the sacrifice.

It is apparent here that in God’s sight, the end does not justify the means. Samuel told Saul,

1 Samuel 13:13-14 "You acted foolishly," Samuel said. "You have not kept the command the LORD your God gave you; if you had, he would have established your kingdom over Israel for all time. But now your kingdom will not endure; the LORD has sought out a man after his own heart and appointed him leader of his people, because you have not kept the LORD's command." (NIV)

It is interesting to note that if Samuel had shown up at the appointed time that Saul would have appeared to be the most godly of men. He had faithfully waited seven days under the most trying conditions when all were deserting him. How many of us appear godly when God is on-time? How many of us look like heroes when God meets us according to our expectation? But what if God’s answer is delayed; what will be revealed to be in our heart? Will we also feel “compelled” to do that which we know in our heart is wrong? Selah.

Prayer: Father, give your servants the strength and confidence in you to wait upon your provision. Keep us from presumption. Father, protect us from the terror that comes upon us suddenly. May we not be moved, but may we find peace attending our way as we fix our eyes upon you.

Father, instruct us that we might acquire the same peace that Your Son had, sleeping in the bow of the boat while the storm raged and others’ hearts were filled with fear. As the popular song of one of your handmaidens says, “You have been my Lord and Savior; won’t you be my Prince of Peace.” Father, we ask for your peace that we might persevere in the storms and trials of life. Out of our confidence in You, may we be preserved in the day of testing. Amen

Joseph Herrin (6-7-2000) bherrin@hotmail.com

This test has been the most excruciating of all. I have been tempted repeatedly to throw in the towel. At times, only a tremendous fear of missing the will of God and being disqualified to be a partaker of the things reserved for overcomers has kept me to the course. As one of God's prophetesses has recently stated, "Only those who finish the course receive the prize. Don't quit half way through the race."

The test I am speaking of is waiting. I am now in the eighth month of waiting. The trial has been severe because God has selected a path for me that would bring me into opposition with all around me. Christian brothers and sisters have judged me to be in great disobedience. I have been characterized as arrogant and prideful and wicked. My own family has judged me to be deluded and some have even questioned whether or not I was ever truly saved.

Does this worry you? Do you wonder why so many would judge a Christian brother to be in such gross disobedience? Are you affected by the preponderance of negative opinion? Certainly so many could not be wrong, could they?

Consider Joshua and Caleb returning with 10 other spies to look over the land of their promised inheritance. The land was a veritable fortress. There were walled cities and warriors of great size in the land. Joshua and Caleb did not deny this. They believed, however, that their God was bigger than these obstacles and that the giants before them would simply become their prey.

Not so, the other 10 spies. They judged by appearance. They looked at themselves and were made weak. In their own strength they perceived that they would fail and their own strength was all they had. They had not learned how to exhibit confidence in an almighty God. The rest of Israel gave way to the same fears.

Some have estimated that Israel consisted of nearly 3 million people at this time. Joshua and Caleb stood against the opinion of 3 million of their brothers and sisters. What arrogance, what pride for these two to believe that they were right when so many said that they were dead wrong. In fact, those who said they were wrong wished them to be dead. It is said that they spoke of stoning them. I have been stoned with the rocks of accusation and insult. It hurts. Some of the bruises don't go away very quickly. Some are deep bruises.

Consider David when he was yet a youth. He is sent to the site of battle to carry food to his brothers and to bring back news of their welfare to his father. He finds all of the army of Israel hiding behind rocks as the champion of the Philistines comes out daily to challenge and taunt them. David hears that King Saul has offered a reward to any Israelite warrior who will challenge Goliath and slay him. He even has offered one of his daughters as part of the reward. David hears of this and is incredulous.

David is not intimidated. He hears the taunt of Goliath and is filled with indignation. "Who is this uncircumcised Philistine who defies the armies of the LIVING GOD?" David cannot believe that such a reward has been offered to kill him. This idolater has defied the true God. His protection has been removed. He will become a prey to a warrior of the true and living God.

David's oldest brother Eliab overhears David as he talks to the soldiers about the reward offered to kill Goliath. David's words are bold and Eliab becomes angry. Eliab felt justified to hide behind the rocks every day. Goliath is huge. David's fearless words sting and Eliab begins to accuse David of evil.

1 Samuel 17:28 Now Eliab his oldest brother heard when he spoke to the men; and Eliab's anger burned against David and he said, "Why have you come down? And with whom have you left those few sheep in the wilderness? I know your insolence and the wickedness of your heart; for you have come down in order to see the battle." (NAS)

After all, who did David think he was. The entire army of Israel was cowed before Goliath. David was surely just exhibiting arrogance and pride. He was deluded to think that he could slay Goliath. He was but a youth. The opinion of all Israel was against him. Why did he think he was right?

No, being in the minority doesn't mean you are in the right, but being in the majority doesn't either. One must look at the issues involved. One must see what emotions and physical and spiritual forces are shaping opinion. Fear and a desire for self-preservation were very evident in the majority in both cases mentioned. Courage and confidence in God was present in the minority.

What do you suppose the percentages are today? Do the majority of Christians express confidence in God? Are they stepping courageously out in faith, entrusting themselves to an almighty and loving God? No, most are rather choosing to play it safe. They are given to pursuing the “prudent” path. What then do you suppose their response will be to a brother or sister who wants to face the giant?

It is hard, however, to face such opposition from brothers and sisters and family over a prolonged period of time. It wears at one. It is easy to give into despair when you have taken a stand that requires courage and confidence and then God delays in bringing about your vindication. Even Abraham had difficulty in waiting. At times it seems that desperation assails you. It is best not to make decisions in these moments. Stand firm. Wait. The answer is coming.

Isaiah 40:31 Yet those who wait for the LORD will gain new strength; they will mount up with wings like eagles, they will run and not get tired, they will walk and not become weary. (NAS)

Prayer:

Heavenly Father, give me the strength to endure the test. Give me the fortitude to finish the race. Though I stumble, give me the courage and resolve to get up again and return to the race. Consider my frame, that I am but dust. However, I desire to be courageous dust. I desire to be bold dust. I desire to be dust that brings glory to You. Breathe Your breath upon me and cause me to stand. Cause your resurrection life to renew me and bring forth fresh vitality. My eyes are upon You, Father. You are my shield and my buckler. You are my strong tower and my fortress. Cover me over with the pinions of your wings. Hide me from the power of the evil one. Do not let my enemies triumph over me. My eyes are on You. My eyes are on You. Lift up my head once more and set my feet upon the solid Rock. Amen

Strategic Task Force Commits to Reach "The Untargeted Peoples"

Bruce Wilkinson of Walk Through the Bible Ministries spoke yesterday to the 500 members of the Strategic Task Force challenging them to take responsibility for reaching the 253 "Untargeted Peoples" that the AD2000 and Beyond Movement has identified. These are people groups from the Joshua Project list which have populations over 10,000 people and are less than 5% Christian and 2% Evangelical. They are "untargeted" because no known agency is taking responsibility for sending a team and establishing a church planting effort.

Wilkinson started by sharing an experience he had while reading the journals of missionary Hudson Taylor during which God challenged him to: "Obey the Great Commission." As a result he has turned Walk Through the Bible Ministries into a globally-focused ministry with the goal of teaching the Bible to "the whole world." When God told him to obey the Great Commission, he had no idea what it would mean for Walk Through the Bible Ministries or how this new vision would unfold. But as he committed himself to the task, God led Wilkinson to start a new ministry called World Teach which has the goal of preparing a faculty of teacher around the world to teach 10 Bible courses 30 times a year in every district of 50,000 people.

Wilkinson then challenged the assembled members of the Strategic Task Force to stand up and take responsibility for reaching each of the 253 Untargeted Peoples on a list provided by Luis Bush of the AD2000 Movement. Dozens of delegates came forward to register their commitment to reach specific peoples on the list. Soon over 170 Untargeted Peoples had been covered. But there were still 100 left. Paul Eshleman of the Jesus Film Project, then took the podium and announced that three large agencies represented at the meeting had agreed to cover all of the remaining Untargeted Peoples. These agencies were the Southern Baptist International Mission Board, Campus Crusade/Jesus Film Project and Youth With A Mission (YWAM)

This list of "Untargeted Peoples" was first introduced at the Mission Executive Meeting at the Global Consultation on World Evangelization 1997 (GCOWE '97) in Pretoria, South Africa. At this meeting the over 500 assembled mission agency leaders took responsibility for all but 279 of the almost 600 Joshua Project Peoples that had no known church planting effort among them at that time. Over the last three years Mission Frontiers has occasionally published this list and encouraged mission agencies to target these peoples with a church planting effort.

In the coming days the task force will be working out the details of a new fellowship of global strategists and a vision statement to guide future efforts to develop global strategies to reach every tribe and tongue and bring the gospel to every person.

The Upcoming Presidential Elections

Wayne Barto

About 7 to 8 months ago I read the prophetic article [The Upcoming Elections] written by Bob Jones and Keith Davis regarding the openness of George W. Bush to receive the prophetic word of the Lord. Since there was not much going on with "campaigning" at the time, I just put the word on the "back shelf" and to my discredit didn't really pray over it or for Mr. Bush for that matter. I did have a witness in my spirit about the veracity of this word. You see, the Holy Spirit had let me know sometime previous to this article that there was something special about the destiny of this man when I had heard him speak on TV as the Governor of Texas. I just didn't know the specifics of what that special destiny might be.

Well - now that the campaign has heated up and Mr. Bush and all the rest of the candidates are in the news and on television daily, I have from time to time thought of this article and had decided to pull it out and re-read it. However, I continued to keep procrastinating and never seemed to get around to it. In the meantime, Mr. Bush's early popularity had begun to wane and it seemed that all kinds of confusion and misconceptions about him and his candidacy were swirling about him. Then it happened - he lost the New Hampshire primary to John McCain. Something that I had supposed at one time could not have happened. Still - I hadn't pulled out the article to re-read it AND I had not even prayed for Mr. Bush - at least not with any fervency, faith or desire to see God's destiny in him fulfilled.

As I sat on my couch, only halfway reading the newspaper and listening to the TV at the same time, I suddenly realized that Mr. Bush was on TV conceding his loss in New Hampshire. He was doing his concession speech with a lot of humility and at the same time with a lot of hope and anticipation of greater things ahead. Suddenly the Holy Spirit said to me, "Are you going to pray for him or aren't ya!" Instantly I was convicted of my lack of diligence and obedience to His prior nudgings and also cognizant that this was an urgent plea! It was more than a plea - it was one of those "do it or else" deals. I think you know what the "or else" part of this is! It is that God is looking for those who will "stand in the gap" for His purposes to come forth in the earth and specifically in our country. Without the "corporate man" standing in the gap - He has no other choice - we get what we deserve!

It's time to pray for George W. Bush! It's time for the church to be discerning about the Lord's purposes! It's time for the church to listen to the Lord's prophets! It's time for the church to stand in the gap! It's time to repent for our stubborn apathy, prayerlessness and intercede to ask God for mercy!

Shortly after the Spirit spoke this to me the South Carolina primary was coming up. For several nights in a row leading up to vote, I prayed earnestly for George Bush and for God's purposes to come forth. What was supposed to be an almost dead heat going into voting day turned out to be a 10% margin of victory for George Bush! I then went back to my old ways and got distracted from praying again. Michigan and Arizona came upon me before I knew it and his opponent won both state primaries.

I am sending you this message to encourage you to re-post the original word with any updates you might have. We can't let the spirit of political correctness hold back the revelation of the Lord's prophets. He gives these words to us for a reason - and it isn't so they can be put on the back shelf! When I finally re-read the word from Bob and Keith - guess what the bottom line was that it was saying to us? PRAY! PRAY for George Bush and the Lord's purposes to come forth!

Grace & Shalom, Wayne Barto

The turn of the tide for New Zealand

Shirley Baskett

The tide is coming in. But not everyone will enjoy the return. Like the tide, the water turns and churns and things that have sat hidden are stirred and risen to the surface. For New Zealand, the tide has turned. Watch for exposure of the hidden things, even in political circles where some dirt has been stirred. There is a time coming when people will not know what to think. Even the top leadership will not be spared, challenging even the most well trained liberal thinker. It is a time for secrets to be aired and dealt with. Even as medical mishaps have been revealed recently, there are more to come of wider effect. Watch carefully news of TB in the country.

For the church, this is just the start of new things. It was prophesied many years ago that New Zealand was a 'pattern nation' - and so it has been for many things. Small enough for use as a market test area, socially used to practice change. But the Lord has a greater purpose for this nation as a pattern nation and His Spirit will turn back and cover the dry ground.

lay bare the secrets of your own heart now and repent, as the day will come when the longsuffering of God is ended and secrets will be revealed. His silence has not been consent.

Heb 4 v 12 - 14

"For the word of God is living and active. Sharper than any double-edged sword. It penetrates even to dividing soul and spirit, joints and marrow; it judges the thoughts and attitudes of the heart. Nothing in all creation is hidden from God's sight. Everything is uncovered and laid bare before the eyes of him to whom we must give account. Therefore, since we have a great high priest who has gone through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold firmly to the faith we profess."

The Vision Of An Ancient Scribe

Deborah Burgess

Recently, I have been grieved over the situation within the body of Christ and the problems that exist there. Also, I have a fifteen year old daughter who is at that stage where she thinks that all the things I say and do (and especially the rules of the house) are only to see how miserable I can make it for her. After a very rough day together, I finally laid my aching head on my pillow and began to reach out to the Lord for understanding. I so desire for my daughter to realize that I love her; Yet I can't change the rules, for they are there to protect and instruct her into a good and rewarding life.

As I drifted into a deep sleep, the Spirit of the Lord came upon me and I entered into another realm; there, seated at a table was an Ancient Scribe, it seemed. I experienced an environment (whether in the body or out of the body, I cannot tell), an atmosphere if you will, whereby I could not feel my aching head, heart, or even my bones (which tend to ache with my age). It was weightless, it was beautiful. I had the sense of completeness, of being totally satisfied, no needs. The scribe seemed to be one who had been throughout all time, and who had witnessed all the events of the ages past. He knew exactly what was needed, both then and now. He spoke to me of God's Love, and of how it was lacking and sorely misunderstood among men. He told me that if only believers would enter into it, they would never again turn away. Once tasted, there could never be a desire to turn back to the weak and beggarly elements of the world. My dear ones, we would never turn away from each other if we truly loved one another. If we had the essence of God which is love in our very being, we could not do the things we do to ourselves. Do we realize that we can not say we Love God and treat our fellow man the way we often do? Within the Body which claims to be the Church, there does not truly exist the Love of God... It does not dwell there. We must have honor and respect for the way the Lord has set up his kingdom. All divine Principles (rules) are set up out of love. When Nehemiah began to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem (The Kingdom) at one point he gathered the people, and the law was read and explained to them. When they understood it, they sorrowed in their heart that they had turned away for so long; and in their Godly Sorrow, they Gladly and Joyfully returned to the ways of the Lord (Neh 8:9-10).

Love is not a feeling, it (He) is not the feeling of joy, or the attitude of patience, the feeling of peace, or the action of longsuffering. These are mere adjectives which explain and describe how love behaves. LOVE EXPRESSES these things, and through them God imparts the revelation of His Love. If you are trying to express these thing but still haven't the author of them, you don't have Love. You will run out of natural patience, joy, longsuffering, etc... It's back to the drawing board for this one! We go around with smiles of joy and peace on our faces; our very controlled voices have a tone of longsuffering and patience; But.. OUR TEETH and our FISTS are CLENCHED, we can hardly wait to get out of the situation we're in. We are ready to explode!!

If we are honest in our hearts when we finally lay our aching head on our pillow, our hearts ache for our failure to deal properly with difficult situations. We sorrowfully admit to our failures! Does this sound familiar?? Good, then you are on your way to LOVE. But if you are talking about how you can not stand this or that person, complaining and gossiping about others, and when you lay your head on your pillow you are satisfied with yourself..... YOU ARE IN TROUBLE!

As a parent, I can not change the rules for my daughter, they are out of Love and concern for her welfare; and so are God's ways for us. They are all born out of His great Love. We must enter in to these ways by faith in Jesus Christ, in order to experience the truth of His love.

I want to go back now to my experience with the Ancient Scribe.... He showed me that Love is God's healing agent, and that God's Love was the highest and Holiest form of relationship that humans could ever experience with one another; and therefore, once they had tasted and participated in Gods true love they could never leave it.

The Ancient Scribe told me to tell the Church "There is only a little time left for you to enter into His love and then it will be too late for a season... A long hard season." No child feels loved when being chastened do they? Neither do we, when we can not know his presence in our lives, or sense that He is there. Beloved, His blessing can not long remain upon, nor will He even appear to put his approval on, those things which are not true. The fiery trial which is soon to come upon the whole body of Christ is to burn out all of the lies (Wood, Hay, & Stubble) within us (Ref 1Cor 3:12-15). We have only a short time remaining to willingly enter into the ARK of His Protective Love (as it was in the days of Noah!), and begin to act upon it.. Not just ACT LIKE it!! God is saying to us "Lay aside, put away, and overcome, your Foolish and Childish ways... Grow up in Christ, and BE My mature, Manifested Sons (See Ro 8:19)!!" He is calling the Church to repent.. repent.. repent!!

THE WORD - Alpha and Omega

by Doug Fortune

‘In the beginning was the Word...’(John 1:1) The WORD...in the Greek, logos means ‘something said including the thought’; the root word lego means ‘to lay forth, to relate in words usually of systematic or set discourse’. Consider what a word is...it is the expression of a thought. And what is a thought?... ‘as he thinketh in his heart, SO IS HE...’(Prov.23:7); a thought reveals who we ARE. God does not have random, arbitrary thoughts, His thoughts are Who He IS, His purpose, His image. It is interesting to note that ‘In the beginning...’ was NOT just the Thought or Image or Purpose, but rather the ‘WORD’... the expression or communication of the Image of God Himself. God is not content just to BE Who He is, it is His original purpose to EXPRESS or communicate Who He is, expression is His very nature; ‘...and the WORD (expression) WAS God...’. Heb.1:3 tells us that Christ is ‘... the EXPRESS IMAGE...’ of the Person of God; we read in Rev.19:13 that His very name is The Word of God; in Rev.1:11 we read that Christ is ‘...Alpha and Omega, the First and the Last...’. Christ is the First expression of God as the Word (John 1:1) and He shall also be the Last expression of God as we read in Revelation; let us consider what is between the First and the Last.

John 1:14,&16 tells us that the ‘...Word (Christ) became Flesh... and of His fullness have ALL we received...’. This Word made Flesh said of His own words, ‘... they are SPIRIT and LIFE...’(John 6:63). So here we have this One SINGULAR expression of the fullness of Who God is, Christ manifested in the flesh body of Jesus... and He is speaking or expressing words that literally are Spirit and Life; the WORD speaking the WORD! Now Acts 6:7, 12:24, and 19:20 all tell us that the WORD (logos - same as in John 1:1) grew or multiplied. Remember that at this point Jesus has already died and been resurrected, so how is the WORD multiplying? The answer is in 1 Peter 1:23 ‘...you have been regenerated - born again - not from a mortal origin (seed, sperm) but from one that is immortal by the ever living and lasting WORD (logos) of God.’(Amplified Bible). Col.3:16 says ‘... let the WORD (logos) of Christ DWELL in you richly...’; James 1:21 speaks of the ‘engrafted WORD (logos)’; and of course Heb.4:12 tells us that the ‘WORD (logos) of God is ALIVE (zoe)...’. So Christ, the First expression of God, the WORD, speaks forth regenerating WORDS of SPIRIT and ZOE Life into those who receive this engrafted WORD to dwell; and these are described as living EPISTLES, ‘...you are a letter (epistle) from Christ delivered by us, not written with ink, but with the Spirit of the Living (zoe) God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts...’(2Cor. 3:3). So we see that the SINGULAR Alpha, the First WORD, is multiplied into EPISTLES.

Christ, the WORD, the First expression of God also says that He is the LAST, Omega... I find it interesting that Christ, the WORD, even describes Himself as the letters Alpha and Omega. How is it that He shall be Last, Omega, and how does this relate to the WORD multiplying into epistles? Well, Eph 4:12-13 tells us of God’s intention of perfecting the saints by ‘... oneness in the faith... the full and accurate knowledge of the Son of God... the completeness of personality which is nothing less than Christ’s own perfection, the measure of the statue of the fullness of the Christ...’ You see, only Christ is capable of living like Christ, you and I cannot... but Christ can live

THROUGH us. True to God's original purpose of expressing Himself as the WORD, that exact same WORD is multiplied in US and expressed through US... 'Even when we were dead by shortcomings and trespasses, He made us alive together in fellowship and in UNION with Christ. - He gave us the very life of Christ Himself, the SAME new life with which He quickened Him...' (Eph.2:5 Amplified Bible). Jesus prayer in John 17:22 states it clearly, 'I have given TO THEM the glory and honor which You have given Me, that they may be ONE EVEN AS We are ONE: I IN them and You in Me, in order that they may become ONE...'. Also, let us consider in Heb 4:12 that the WORD divides asunder between SOUL and SPIRIT, and this is written in the context of entering into His REST and ceasing from our OWN works. We must embrace the piercing of that two-edged SWORD that proceeds from the mouth of Christ IN US that slays the 'man of sin' (Adam nature), dividing asunder all that is a product of our mind, will and emotions (our OWN works), and live our lives from our SPIRIT which is Christ IN US, the WORD, the very zoe life of God. THIS is how Christ, the WORD is First and LAST, it is the '...mystery hid for ages, but now revealed... Christ (the WORD) IN YOU...' (Col.1:26). Paul states it clearly, '...it is no longer I who live, but Christ (the WORD) lives IN ME...' (Gal.2:20). Christ living through us, WE shall be the expression of God, the WORD, '...that in the dispensation of the fullness of times He might gather together IN ONE all things IN Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth, even IN Him...' (Eph.1:10).

Yes, Christ is not only Alpha, the First, the SINGULAR WORD we read of in John 1:1, but He is also Omega, the Last as the WORD is multiplied into living EPISTLES and consummate in the 'Lambs' BOOK of Life (zoe)' (Rev.21:27)... from the Singular WORD to EPISTLES to the BOOK of Life, the same zoe LIFE from First to Last.

From First to Last, Alpha to Omega, it has been the very nature and purpose of God through Christ, the WORD, to express Himself, to manifest Himself, and ultimately consummate all IN CHRIST. 'He planned for the maturity of the times and the climax of the ages to unify all things and head them up and consummate them IN Christ...' (Eph.1:10 Amplified Bible)

The Waves Of Revival

J. Conrad Lampan

As a response to the people that asked about the "waves" of revival let me share this insight with you all.

Taking as an example the Argentine revival we can see three major "waves" so far. What is most interesting is the fact that these waves are not independent from each other; each one has different characteristic and at the same time each includes the one that came before and also overlaps the following.

In 1982 there was a wave of deliverance. God used one man, Carlos Annacondia to bring forth what was a major frontal attack on Satan. As a result thousands were saved, and healed, and delivered from all kinds of oppressions. God was showing through him the kind of spiritual authority that we have in the Name of Jesus and that we were not really using. But though the church was being blessed many if not most of the churches were just looking "from the outside".

God kept moving and then there came a second wave that hit the church from the inside ten years later. God showed that what He was doing through Annacondia and the authority and power that were manifest in his ministry were available for all Christians. God used Claudio Freidzon to bring forth a second wave of empowering the whole church for revival. As a result thousands of pastors have seen a dramatic change in their ministries and churches after visiting Argentina and been prayed for by the pastors of the revival.

The third wave came recently and deals with holiness. It was ushered in by Sergio Scataglini after he received a dramatic touch of fire from God, a consuming fire. He was showed that 98% of holiness is not enough and that God expects us to live in holiness but not in our power but in His. God is showing now that though the authority and power of the Holy Spirit are available for us they cannot be used if we are not willing to live in holiness. It is a dangerous cocktail to try to mix the Holy Spirit with our flesh. Remember Uzzah! This wave of holiness is sweeping over churches changing lives by the thousands and causing people to live in purity even in areas they had been struggling for years to no avail.

The wave that is being insinuated now has to do with a call to intimacy with the Almighty. A call to friendship with Him, to seek His face and as we say in our motto to "usher Jesus in and let Him be God. God is showing now that if we are to be holy, it will happen as a result of being in His presence and let him change us; if we are to have an outpouring of the Holy Spirit it will be as a result of spending enough time in His presence until His glory "sticks" to our faces; if we are going to see miracles and wonders it will be as result of being with Him so much that nothing of our own is left so the anointing of His Spirit will operate in full; if we are going to see people being saved by the thousands it will be when as a result of seeking His face we begin to preach not for the sake of the souls but for Jesus' sake! It is not "our" love for souls but His love for souls; it is His heart in us.

Each wave has been accompanied by all kinds of manifestations and miracles. At the time being there seems to be a "slowing down" in relation with those manifestations and with the occurrence of "outpourings" in the world that has caused some people to proclaim that the "river" or the "fire" is over. I think that obeys to at least two reasons:

1.) God has showed us what He can do when He is in control and now is calling us into intimacy with Him; it is like He is saying "people what you have seen in Argentina, or Brownsville, or Toronto, or England are just samples of what I am bringing to the earth, now come close to me and be my friends if you want to see revival" The next wave might well be the last revival in this earth! There is an explosion of the Holy Spirit coming that will hit not just a church or churches but whole cities and nations. So, in a sense this "slowing down" is an opportunity for us to get ready, to be prepared for what comes next. Believe me it will come sooner than we expect it!! What God is telling us now is "people it is I, behind the manifestations, it is I, behind the revival it is I !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!"

2.) In a sense God is letting things "cool down" to expose our hearts. Many people have been crying out for revival but not from their hearts rather from their plans. Most everybody wants an explosion of the Holy Spirit that would fill the churches with new converts. Many expected to have revival to boost up their membership and their ministries and when things did not come up the way they were expecting them, they decided that revival "is not worth the cost anyway", and in some cases they are just speaking plainly against what they now call "fake" revivals!

I believe God is just letting things cool down for a moment to separate the waters. We will see the greatest -and last- harvest of souls sooner than we expect it and there will be many crying bitterly because they will not be allowed to participate because they did not respond to God's call to seek His face. The time of seeking God's hand only is fading away.

So far for now. In the next post I would like to share about some details of the present times in relation to revival and the hindrances to it.

Be blessed and be a blessing.

The White Buffalo

Julie Baxter

A Word to Those Who Seek the White Buffalo

A Word to the Native American In the year 2000

The Word of The Great Spirit, the Spirit of the Holy One, the Everlasting Father comes to you who seek the white buffalo. Know ye not that I have come and given you that which I promised when I made man and woman in my likeness and when I spoke my image into their hearts? Know ye not that the dominion I gave the first man, Adam, in the garden is that which I would have each man and woman enjoy? Know ye not that the creation which you have worshipped is to be in subjection to you? Know ye not that I am coming for a people who are in perfect communion with me?

Ah, my people, my lost tribes, my wanderers and my hunters. You have been lost and yea, stolen from the place in history that I decreed was yours. You have wandered, ever wandered, searching for that which I have desired to be placed within you forever. And yea, you still hunt for that elusive element to satisfy the longing of your souls, your spirits and your bodies. Thus your enemy stalks you and takes you captive. For you look within your own means, and not to the One who can satisfy your cravings. Some of you are without hope for you have looked to yourselves. You have looked to others who say they have power to change your destiny, but they have failed and betrayed your confidences. Some of you experience riches and know not that they are taking you further and further a field, in order that you might be snared as a bird in a snare. The bird is confident in its ability to fly, but ignorant in the ways of the trapper.

But thus saith the one whose coming is spoken of among The People

Your destiny is written, I will walk among you, and will be your God, and you shall be my people.

For the LORD your God moves about in your camp to protect you and to deliver your enemies to you. The LORD your God moves about in your camp seeking those who search for truth eternal, who will not let the fire burn out, nor the flame be quenched.

I will teach you to do warfare against my enemies, and you will experience the victory that belongs to the one true God. I am a jealous God, and there is none other, and yea, I would have you to experience my jealousy and my zeal for other nations and other peoples, if you are in deed, my people, and the people of my name. I will put a bow of steel within your arms, but my gentleness shall be your testimony. I will cause you to rise like eagles on the sudden updrafts of my spirit, and cause to be avenged. Righteousness and peace have kissed each other and truth will spring forth out of heaven. The People shall be again a great and mighty nation and shall be joined to all those who are the people of the name.

Your legacy is the sweet communion between you and the God who will never forsake His people. Your legacy to demonstrate and to give to your children is the intimacy that is possible between a person and their God. Yea, the dominion I promised Adam, I gave unto my son, I will give unto you as my child.

For if you seek me with your whole hearts, and turn not to the ways of those ones who worship that which I have created for you to enjoy and subdue, I will come to you, and I will make myself known to you. The lands, which have been fruitless, will again bloom like a rose, and the forests, which have been desolate, will again flush with life abundant. The crops that you have sown will again bring forth a plenteous harvest, and you will again have more than enough to share with the pilgrims passing through your land. Your name will again be respected.

Every Father wants for his offspring to have better than he himself has had, and so will I that you should prosper even as those who have cleaved to me have prospered. Yea, my testimony is abroad once again, those nations who seek my face, I am cleansing and I am healing.

I, the Great God, I am bringing forth a glorious bride from caves and pastures where none sought to do her good. I am giving to her a beautiful wedding garment, a skin of the finest quality and rare, embedded with the choicest gems, and slippers to dance before my people and me. I have given her a heart to seek after me, to desire me and to cling to me. I have put a new song within her, and she is now speaking and singing my words to the nations. I shall cover her and protect her, and she shall move where she wishes, for her very desires shall be those which I speak to her on soft morning breezes. In the evening of each day she will rest in my arms, and none shall say to her, you are not my people. None shall remove her from her place again, and none shall take that which I have given unto her.

Rise up! Awake, put on your beautiful garments, oh My People. Peace unto you. Come then and come to the council that I will make with you. Come before me with your heart in your hand and offer to me your choicest sacrifice. Give unto me the praise of your lips and acknowledge me, JESUS the CHRIST, LORD of LORD, KING of KINGS, TRUE GOD, SAVIOR, and CHIEF of every tribe and nation. If you will come, then I will meet you, and all you have longed for shall come to pass, and never again will you be ashamed. Never again will that which I have given you be taken away. I will love you with an everlasting love, a consuming love, and you shall shine like stars in the heavens. This is my covenant to those who seek the white buffalo, if they will seek me, I will come to them, and make them my people and their wandering will be over.

The Wrecking Crews

Bob Neumann

THE WRECKING CREWS This is the third image of four. All four different with few "words" but many and deep images. The first two had little interaction with THE MASTER and with the "others" seen. The last two revolve as much around the characters as the images.

This third vision began far differently. It started with a steam whistle in the background. It felt like I was awaking from a "nap". I was sitting on the ground leaning against a "Alice pack"/"rucksack". A white plastic 'hardhat' had been covering my face and had fallen down onto my chest. It seemed midday and I stretched a little when someone gave a gentle nudge with a heavy work boot to my ribs. I looked up into THE MASTER'S FACE and got to my feet with the idea "break time" was over. I was standing on a nice grassy piece of land with a gentle slope. I quickly caught up with HIM as HE neared the base of the hill and noticed we had "stepped into" a heavy shadow. I looked up to see what was causing the shadow and saw this massive building that gave me cold chills on my goose bumps.

It was huge....and I felt the wrongness of it immediately.

I have seen the SEARS TOWER in Chicago many times. It's height and "loftiness" always left me impressed. But this left me a deep sense of loathing. I seemed to stare up a long time wondering what was wrong with it and got nowhere. It took a single line from THE MASTER to return my attention to HIM. "THERE IS A JOB TO DO.", was all HE said as he walked toward the building. We came to what I took was a "MAIN ENTRANCE" with large ornate doors made of dark and heavy wood inlaid with stained glass. HE handed me a large stencil and I noticed I had a can of spray paint in my leg pocket. Never noticed I was wearing a heavy pair of work jeans with tool belt and "stuff". THE MASTER had a heavy chain and padlock with which HE secured the doors. I placed the stencil against the door and sprayed the paint.

IT WAS BRIGHT RED....and said THIS PROPERTY CONDEMNED BY ORDER OF THE KING.

HE immediately made a right turn and went around the corner of the building. Once again it was another "MAIN ENTRANCE", but modern smoked glass and steel. Again HE padlocked the doors and I painted. And here I went from door to door spraying the stenciled declaration and making sure all the doors were marked. Again we turned a corner and had another door and another facade to the same building. That crazy building had one corner after another, one facade after another. Nothing "four square" here I thought as I scurried to keep up to THE KING who seemed to be in a hurry....on a time schedule.(that is a "feeling" I had/discerned)

But eventually we turned a last corner and came to what was that first door chained and painted. I noticed heavy wires coming under the door. There were three sets of seven wires that came out and onto three large heavy spools with a heavy bar through their center holes. Without a pause...without a word HE stooped down and picked up the bar on HIS SIDE and I copied HIS ACTION and we started to walk away from the BUILDING and up the hill where I had been "resting".

When we got to the place my Alice pack had waited HE stopped. Putting the spools down HE casually pulled out THE ROD OF IRON as if it were a broomstick and handed it to me. Turning over one spool HE sat down and cut the first set of seven wires and handed me the wire cutters/strippers. With remarkable ease I cut the other two sets and sat down on a spool. I watched as HE took out a control board of some kind and set it up in front of HIM. As I watched I separated and stripped the insulation from the first wire. With a grim and determined look on HIS FACE He attached the wire to the "board".

I guess that was when I noticed the first "set" of voices. About half way down the hill was a group of people following a man in an expensive suit. He was talking to the 'crowd' and every now and then the volume of his voice would increase and I would pick up a word or two. As I tried to listen another group sort of arrived, and then another. I thought, this is "getting interesting"....when I heard a quiet "YO....DOG" as I saw HIS HAND outstretched awaiting another wire. I mumbled "sorry" and HE looked me in the eye. "IT'S OKAY DOG, IT'S ALMOST OVER" and went back to the board.

By this time there were many groups all with their own "leaders". A few were close to where we were and all sort of ignored us. Those that did notice had "ugly" looks for us just sitting there. There were some real "characters" in this freely flowing mob scene. One was a guy with a gold painted hard hat and a ballpeen hammer in hand. He slurred his words and kept shouting about "tearin down the idols". There was a group of "elderly" women dressed in white robes/togas...flowers and leaves in their hair. They were barefoot and chanting something about "she shall overcome"....I was puzzled when I heard THE KING say...."the mother goddess Sophia, dog" and I turned back to HIM realizing I had more wires to strip. HE gave me a soft smile that warmed my spirit and pointed to the side. Here was a tag team of a guy/gal in flowing "ecclesiastical robes"....they had pry bars in their hands. Beyond them was a group of people with long plastic "horns" like you sometimes saw at ball games. When the organist played the mandatory "notes" and everyone yelled "charge".

We were down to the last few wires when the noise level suddenly escalated and the guy with the gold hard hat charged the building. Like lemmings all went down and "surrounded the building". There were groups with tambourines and banners, sledge hammers and crowbars. It seemed our "new age" matrons were carrying smoking something or other and I thought of "burning sage". What I got was a "YUP" from THE MASTER and watched as HE took the last wire. Just then I noticed one "leader" had broken the padlock and had pushed some of his people in. A different leader rushed for the door only to have it apparently locked from with in.

It was then the absurdity hit me. All these "religious" types were going to tear down BABYLON. But in reality they wanted "IN".... I noticed that when some one made progress at making a hole or breaking a window. As often as not someone tried to get into the building THE KING CONDEMNED.

I looked back to MY MASTER, THE KING sitting in common work clothes, watching me watch them. It was then I noticed the "shadow" had now come up the hill and we were sitting now in the shadow of this monstrosity of a building. A parody of HIS CHURCH. HE reached behind HIM and picked up a 'bullhorn' and tossed it to me. I stood up and pushed the 'on' button and took one step toward the BUILDING and all THE WRECKING CREWS FEVERISHLY doing what was right in their own eyes. I stooped down and picked up THE ROD OF IRON and leaned it on my left shoulder. I looked back at HIM and HE simply said..."GET IT DONE DOG".....

I watched HIM look down at THE CONTROL BOARD. I faced the setting sun and the BUILDING and shouted through the bullhorn ""FIRE IN THE HOLE"".....and I saw the building shake and everyone around the building stop and stare back at us. "ONCE MORE, DOG" HE SAID and again I shouted ""FIRE IN THE HOLE"".... again the BUILDING shook, but now most of those assembled around the thing went back to their work. if anything, more feverishly than before.

Now I turned back to HIM and I could see tears running down HIS FACE. and I remembered the verse "JESUS WEPT" and I felt tears running down my face and HE quietly said..."AGAIN"....

"FIRE IN THE HOLE!!!" the echo continued unnaturally long, it seemed a few people actually stopped their actions and looked again toward us...but no one moved. I watched as with firm precision THE LAMB OF GOD flipped three groups of seven switches. the first seven explosions actually sounded like one longish one followed by seven fast explosions, then seven more. I watched as the whole "thing" sort of shimmered and begin to fall into itself. it was then the weirdness I sensed showed itself. the "summit/top" of the building was far wider/larger than the base. all who were around the building were covered by uncountable tons of debris.

and I noticed the dust in the air. there was no wind or breeze so it was slowly settling straight down.

I turned back to THE KING and HE had HIS BACK to me. in front of HIM stood a "fence" of WHITE LINEN. it was the "outer" wall to the TABERNACLE. we came to the opening and looked to the space the TABERNACLE would be raised. "I TOLD YOU TO GET SILVER", HE stated simply. and I stared into THE INNER COURT from THE OUTER COURT. HIS LAST WORDS WERE A REPEAT OF AN OLDER IMAGE....one from PALM SUNDAY..... "SO GO PAINT YOUR FACE AND GET THE JOB DONE".....

that is where it ended. selah semuel

The Wedding Dress

Mary Koons

I woke up about 3:30 this morning.... and while in prayer.....

I began to see myself on those "Heavenly Steps" by His Throne. I was wearing the black mantle he gave me several years ago on.

The Lord stood up and came over to me, next thing I know I'm seeing myself in this TRULY INCREDIBLE wedding dress with a very long "train" behind me.... The first verse I received as I looked back at the train... was Ephesians 4:8

"Therefore it is said, When He ascended on high, He led captivity captive - He led a train of vanquished foes - and He bestowed gifts on men."

(Ephesians 4:8)

The train itself seemed to have "liquid" fire or electricity flowing in waves down its length. The "purity of the white color" was there, but it was of such an incredible, breath-taking BEAUTY!

I guess I was apparently stunned by the length OF this train...and was then reminded of this verse from Isaiah.

"In the year that King Uzziah [meaning: "my strength is Jehovah"] died, [in a vision] I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne high and lifted up, and the skirts of His train filled the [most holy part of the] temple."

"Would My Bride have any less?" the Lord asked me.

There was sooo much here! The next thing I began to notice as I looked down was these exquisite luminescent pearls around my neck)... I was reminded of the verse.. "PEARL OF GREAT PRICE"

"Again, the kingdom of heaven, is like a man who is a dealer in search of fine and precious pearls.

When, on finding a single pearl of great price, went and sold all he had and bought it." (Matthew 13: 45-46)

The dress also had embedded "jewels" in it, when I turned, diamonds sparkled and glittered, reflecting the light from His Throne. The bodice of the gown also had several, small blue sapphires.. that sparkled and gleamed.

I KNEW that the dress itself was "linen," but the sleeves were of the purest, whitest most delicate lace I'd ever seen. But - it was difficult to get a clear picture of the pattern on the lace, because well, this is the HARDEST PART to describe. My "flesh" was GONE!!! I looked down at my hand, and there was this "FIRE...GLORY OR CONSUMING FIRE" that was a SUBSTANCE... like a "liquid pool" of FIRE. I'm assuming what I was seeing was "PURE SPIRIT" but to a degree I'd NEVER seen before. Sparks were shooting out from underneath the "dress" (where flesh should have been, and wasn't).. The WHOLE "EFFECT" of THIS combined with the "beauty of the dress itself was incredible... Everything was glowing, liquid white fire - HIS FIRE.....

I discerned that I had a golden crown on, which I felt totally unworthy to even know about, must "LESS~!" be wearing...

I then was reminded of the verse about "feet that proclaim the gospel of peace..." so, I looked down to where my "feet" SHOULD HAVE BEEN.... what I saw instead was again, liquid FIRE.... with beams of HIS RADIANT LIGHT shooting out from them.

"And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!" (Romans 10:15)

I was also reminded of how the Apostle John saw the resurrected Lord in Revelation.

"His feet glowed like (bright), burnished bronze as it is refined in a furnace, and His voice with like the sound of many waters." (Revelation 1:15)

I wondered why I didn't feel a veil covering my face... I was told that the "unveiling" of the Sons of Glory is imminent.. and that HE has - for those who have been called to this calling - ALREADY "RENT" the veil.. and that it was time for us to "enter in" to this complete indwelling of HIM and HIS PRESENCE.

The last thing, to me - was the most incredible of all. I was handed a small mirror and when I looked at my face... MY EYES - HAD BECOME HIS EYES!! POOLS OF BROWN - LIQUID, L-O-V-E... LIQUID LOVE is the ONLY WAY I know how to describe it... HIS FIRE was there too, but MOST OF ALL, LIQUID LOVE....POOLS OF HIS LIQUID LOVE.

GLORY---GLORY TO GOD!!!!

Will YOU Deny Me?
Mary Koons

October 06, 2000

Simon, Simon (Peter) listen! Satan has asked excessively that (all of) you be given up to him - out of the power and keeping of God - that he might sift (all of) you like grain,

But I have prayed especially for you [Peter] that your [own] faith may not fail; and when you yourself have turned again, strengthen and establish your brethren.

And [Simon Peter] said to Him, Lord, I am ready to go with You both to prison and to death.

But Jesus said, I tell you, Peter before a [single] cock shall crow this day, you will three times [utterly] deny that you know Me.

(Luke 22:31-34)

Will "YOU" Deny Me?
Mary (Koons) Wattenford

I was typing an e-mail to a friend - and the Lord began to speak to me and said:

HARKEN unto My voice - You who would "COME!" from far and near.... for the day is at hand - EVEN AT THE DOOR!

Hear the sound of MY TRUMPET? Do you hear? Do you see, do you understand what THIS MEANS? Where are My chosen vessels in this hour? Have they locked themselves in and travailed unto ME that I might bring them forth in MY IMAGE?

WHERE ARE YOU GOING - My little ones? WHERE ARE YOU GOING?

Watchman, Watchman - "WHAT OF THE NIGHT" And the watchman cries out, "THE NIGHT IS FAR SPENT!"

(and then I began to see AGAIN - what I had seen last night in prayer)

An old farm house - with a "weather vane," on the top as if on a steeple... ONLY THIS weather vane is in the shape of a cross, and a "crowing" rooster rests in front of it...and I was REMINDED STRONGLY! how the Lord told Peter - that HE WOULD DENY HIM "THREE" times...

So many, so many say they will never DENY ME... yet as they have been led into the refining fire, many have turned and FLED! They see NOT what I AM is trying to accomplish in them, for them - where their desires, their will; becomes MY DESIRE AND MY WILL!

What does it profit you if you gain ALL - but loose your own soul?

Oh My Children! I CRY OUT TO YOU - SEEK MY FACE! I have chosen those whom I will use... I have sealed them with the seal of "MY" righteous judgment! And they WILL GO FORTH~!! THEY WILL GO FORTH... and they will look neither to the left nor to the right, but LOOK UNTO ME! They will speak forth WORDS OF FIRE! that burn through the plans of man and of the enemy! They will move forward and NOT RETREAT!

These will be given a robe or purest white.... for they have TRULY burned off the lust of the flesh in their pursuit of ME. They have left ALL, and though the persecutions persist, the end approaches, when the tail truly WILL become the HEAD!

See how the cock crows My daughter? So full of himself! Far too many who should be out in My harvest fields ALSO thought "far too much" of themselves... and got their eyes OFF OF THE CROSS! Does My word NOT SAY - TELL THEM OF JESUS! and HIM CRUCIFIED~!!!!

How can My resurrection power FLOW through such an obstinate and stubborn people who will not bend their knee to Me? But go their own way without thought of their suffering brethren? Where is THEIR COMPASSION? WHERE IS THEIR LOVE? They are of their father - the devil, for LOVE is not their aim; truly - only "power" is their aim...and they will receive NO honor or glory from Me, for these ALREADY have "their reward" in full!

But LOOK NOW - look unto this vista My child - Can you not see it?

IT IS A FAR BETTER COUNTRY WHERE YOU NOW WILL WALK! And a far better DAY THAT AWAITS YOU! Clearer and clearer MY VISION has become YOUR VISION... generation after generation has SOUGHT and CRIED OUT AND LONGED for "this day!" BUT "THIS!!!!" is the generation that WILL see it come to pass! THIS!!!! is the generation that will TRULY "walk" into the Promised Land, unafraid, for their feet have been "FIRMLY PLANTED" by Me, and they will NOT loose their focus, nor will they turn aside from what I have called them to do. FOR THEY CANNOT! For they have lost "self" and found "SPIRIT!" They have lost "material wealth" but have "treasure in Heaven!" They have lost family, friends, and yet everywhere they will go - will be a father, a mother, a sister, a brother! TRULY, TRULY! I SAY UNTO YOU... MY GLORY IS ABOUT TO FALL - such as "NEVER" been seen before upon this planet. THE RESURRECTION POWER OF YOUR RISEN KING! GLORIFIED, TRANSFIGURED into the image that will be BURNED into your consciousness! ALL WHO SEE YOU will stare - transfixed, by what I AM has done....and they will question and they will wonder, and say, "LORD!! LORD~!! Did "I" NOT prophesy in YOUR NAME?" But I KNOW THEM NOT! They speak falsehood, and lies....when they cry out that "ALL IS WELL!" when "MY TRUE WATCHMEN!" are crying out, "THE NIGHT IS FAR SPENT!"

The crow cries out and struts, even as the false prophets do.... for they are one and the same.

THREE TIMES - THREE TIMES - THREE TIMES~!! Did Peter deny he EVEN KNEW ME... THREE TIMES - THREE TIMES - THREE TIMES~!! It took Peter "three times" to remember what I had said to him....

Will it take YOU that long?

The Wells of Abraham

Robert Burgess

"And Isaac digged again the wells of water, which they had digged in the days of Abraham his father; for the Philistines had stopped them after the death of Abraham: and he called their names after the names by which his father had called them. And Isaac's servants digged in the valley, and found there a well of springing water. And the herdmen of Gerar did strive with Isaac's herdmen, saying, The water is ours: and he called the name of the well Esek; because they strove with him. And they digged another well, and strove for that also: and he called the name of it Sitnah. And he removed from thence, and digged another well; and for that they strove not: and he called the name of it Rehoboth; and he said, For now the LORD hath made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land (Gen 26:18-22).

The above passages of Scripture are among the very first the Good Lord used to open my eyes to His Kingdom; I remember I was laying in bed late one night, reading Genesis, when all at once it seemed to be that a thousand lights lit up my room and my understanding was elevated to a place it had never been before. I had no Strong's Exhaustive Concordance at the time, I was just a poor country preacher who could scarcely even afford a Bible, much less one of those. But as I read these verses, my mind became filled with the Knowledge of the Lord as he led me in the Spirit to behold a panorama of events which mirrored those which would take place long after.. At the End-Time.. These Wells speak to us of Spiritual Revelation of God, and of the operation of His Spirit among men.

The Wells were Stopped

"And Isaac digged again the wells of water, which they had digged in the days of Abraham his father; for the Philistines had stopped them after the death of Abraham: and he called their names} after the names by which his father had called them."

As we pursue this study from point to point, keep in mind that Father Abraham had NAMED (Pronounced the Nature of) these wells many years before the events which followed would unfold; therefore, being a Prophet, Abraham gave them their names "Prophetically." It seems that he clearly understood what would take place after his demise, even as Paul and others, for as Jesus also said; "Abraham rejoiced to SEE my day (Selah).. he SAW it, and was glad (Jn 8:56). There can be no other explanation as to why their names so perfectly describe the times and events surrounding their later discovery by Isaac, or the conflicts he would suffer as a result. By the same token, Father Abraham provided us with strong Prophetic insight into the events of our day. In like manner, the life and times of "Isaac's servants," also mirror the awful conflicts which have surrounded the Rediscovery of the wonderful Revelations of the Kingdom of God at the End-Time. The Scriptures here declare that after the death of Abraham, the Philistines came into this valley and Stopped these wells, Literally filling them with EARTH., FLESH, or Man's Traditions.. Abraham is seen in this setting as a Type of the Early church Fathers who had dug these wells of revelation out of the Good Ground of the Kingdom, but however, after their demise, grievous wolves did come in, not sparing the Flock, and turned the grace of God into Lasciviousness (Occupational, Job Security).. Notice they called their NAMES... This then, is the Key to understanding the unfolding of End-Time Events here.. The first well was a "Well of Springing (or LIVING) water." We know that this has to represent Pentecost in type; for: "In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of LIVING water. (But this spake he of the Spirit (Pentecost), which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified (John 7:37-39).)"

Esek

It should be carefully noted that Esek denotes Strife.. and there has always been nothing but strife generated between the true Spirit-Filled believers and the nominal elements over the subject of the true Pentecostal experience..

In the sleepy little Hamlet of Topeka, KS in the fall of 1900, there had gathered a small group of believers from nearly every quarter of Christendom to study out together a very strange topic in their day; Namely, the true Baptism in the Holy Spirit, and what was the real Scriptural evidence that went along with it.. After a few weeks of Study, they all reached the unanimous conclusion that it was Speaking in other Tongues, as the Spirit gave Utterance. The little group's leader, a man named Charles Parham (From the Hebrew Param, meaning "To rend," or cause to "Separate" ) suggested that they all begin to fast and pray that the Lord Jesus would baptize them in the Holy Spirit, just as he had the believers at Pentecost.. It wasn't many days afterward at about 30 minutes into the 20th Century on January 1st 1901, that a young girl named Agnes Ozman became the first of the Millions upon Millions who would become known (among other things) as "Pentecostals." It was reported that a strange, soft "Blue Flame" danced wildly about over her head about six inches or so, for nearly an hour, while little Agnes spoke fluently in language after language, completely lost in the ecstasy that only the presence of the indwelling Spirit of God can bring.. Almost immediately however, Denominational men, opportunists, looking to get in on some of this "Action," rushed to Topeka and tried to either take control of this "New Move" of God, or else destroy it.. Poor Brother Parham found himself being accused of the most terrible and low-down sins that a man could be found guilty of.. Beloved, the devil is no gentleman, he will KILL YOU if he can, and he almost did kill the little Apostle of the 20th Century Pentecostal Movement, Bro. Charles Parham.

Note: The Word "Gerar" means "Cud-Chewer(s)" or, one who "Meditates." The Herdmen of Gerar, then, represent none other than those Nominal Fly-By-Night preachers who rushed in to take over this most genuine move of the Holy Ghost recorded since the Biblical Era.

Sitnah

And they digged another well, and strove for that also: and he called the name of it Sitnah (Gen 26:21).

As the strife and warfare increased against the fledgling move of God, the Servants began to "Dig" yet another well and to "Unstop" that which man's traditions had all but obscured. The Scene changes now to a large Campmeeting of Pentecostal believers gathered from all around the world, this was being held just outside Los Angeles California in a place called "Arroyo Seco", in the year of 1910. Many outstanding men and women of God were there, fasting and praying, seeking God for yet more enlightenment from the Holy Ghost as to the next steps they should take in "Following on to Know" Him as Lord of All. A young woman Evangelist from Australia by the name of Mary Woodworth~Etter was speaking that afternoon; her message was entitled "And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the Name of Jesus." She was preaching along mightily saying "We lay hands on the sick in the Name of Jesus; we cast out devils in the Name of Jesus... we do everything in the Name of Jesus... except in water baptism.." Suddenly there broke forth from among the congregation such a tremendous gush of Prophetic Utterance that the little preacher was nearly knocked off her feet, finding a chair she turned the service back to the man in charge who could do nothing but give an invitation to all to come and receive water Baptism in the only form recognized by the early church and the New Testament writers.. The prophecy that interrupted the service was only a few words long, but it was a "Shot Heard Round the World." "Repent ye therefore, and be Baptized every one of you in the Name of Jesus...." Hundreds lined up quickly to be immersed in an old cattle trough.. Many who were to be the great "Movers and Shakers" in the future Pentecostal Movement were gladly baptized in that wonderful and Holy Name of Jesus that day.. Even little twelve year old C. M. Ward (who would later become the great Host and Speaker for the Assemblies of God Radio Broadcast "Revival Time") was fully immersed in Jesus' Name, along with his father, and others of his family.. Now as if "Esec" hadn't caused enough strife with the nominal element, this NEW well of revelation caused the spirit of literal HATRED (or, Sitnah) to rear it's ugly head.. Jesus said; "Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated (or, Sitnah)} of all nations for my Name's sake. And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another} (Mat 24:9-10)."

Beloved, whether we like it or not, the wonderful Name of Jesus, whether applied in laying hands on the sick, casting out devils, or even in water baptism has an anointing upon it like nothing else under the sun. God has honored His Son, and given Him a Name which is above EVERY NAME!!! As the Nominal elements saw yet another well opened to the children of Israel (the Kingdom) they immediately rushed in and did the same thing they tried in Topeka; namely, to Denominationalize it, with themselves (of course) as the leaders (or, Herdmen). This revelation was "Muddled" and in so doing, it became perverted into a "Godhead Issue" instead of a formula for baptism and entry into the Kingdom of God.. This was not, in it's beginnings, given us as a subject for debate over the Godhead. This is a "Faith" issue, if anything; do we believe in the Father? Then Accept the Son! Do we believe in the Son? Then Accept the Holy Ghost!! Do we believe in the Holy Ghost? Then Accept what he said through the mouths of the Holy Apostles and Prophets, and let the people be baptized every one in the Name (not Titles) of the Lord (The Father) Jesus (The Son) Christ (the Anointing, or Holy Ghost)..

Rehoboth

(Gen 26:22) "And he removed from thence, and digged another well; and for that they strove not: and he called the name of it Rehoboth; and he said, For now the LORD hath made room (or, Rehoboth) for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land (or, Kingdom)."

I am pleased to report that; "A man's gift maketh room (or, Rehoboth) for him, and bringeth him before great men (Prov 18:16)." Now we come to the important Issue of our day, of the leadership and unifying of the Body of Christ under the influence of that God-Ordained Leadership... Notice that the nominal "Herdmen" wanted nothing at all to do with this "Well;" for if they had entered into this revelation, they would have to give up their man-made traditions and "Particles of Faith (or, literally, Sand)..". In this move of God beloved, no one is "Voted in" or can be "Voted out," this is the KINGDOM of GOD!!

The current revelation of the Restoration of the "Gift Ministries" of Apostles and Prophets into the governmental offices of the Kingdom (which were ordained from old) has found no part in the realms of the denominal "Herdmen." It is necessary to understand that the mark of human government is identified as the "Almighty 2/3rds (or, 66.6%) Majority Rules.. This "Mark (Selah)" may be well true, and even called for, in the Kingdoms of men; But in the Kingdom of God you are ordained an Apostle without anyone else's permission but God Himself.. This is why the "Herdmen of Gerar" can gain no influence here; for this is a realm of giftings and callings where only God can bring you before his "Great Men." No matter how big a flock you may have, or how small, for that matter, if man voted you into your position by the above principle, you have no part in the future movements of God' s Kingdom.. By the same token, you may not even now have a single soul sitting at your feet, as it were; and yet you may be a mightily anointed Apostle, Prophet, Evangelist, Pastor, or Teacher for the Kingdom.. We are of good cheer in this place, for God is not mocked.. Keep sowing the Word in faith brothers and sisters; cast your bread upon the waters and wait; it will surely come to fruition:

"For the LORD hath made room (or, Rehoboth) for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land."

PROGRAMMED TO YIELD FRUIT

Listen to this certain word of prophecy! The best is yet to manifest. That which has been in your heart is a Seed, programmed to yield fruit from the inside out...salvation to the uttermost...healing, health, deliverance, favor, safety and provision.

Take another look at that dream, or vision, received during those special moments with Me. Inherent within your revelation is the Power (dunamus) necessary to bring itself to pass. There has been a magnificent shifting in the heavenlies, a casting aside of demonic forces that have attempted to delay delivery of answers and promises.

WE MUST REPENT OF FEAR!

All is new...everything! However, you must unconditionally surrender and trust, as the Author and Finisher of your faith, the Great General, calls each shot. Repent of fear.

That spirit can no longer be granted any place. As I am, you have become in this world. And literally, there is to be a performance of those mightier works. Father was not just idly chatting when that command was issued. The strategy for filling this planet with Glory will be related to the Church, as She remains poised to receive. Remember, expectancy is the breeding ground of miracles!"

A DAY OF VISITATION- EVEN WHOLE CITIES WILL BE VISITED

"Heaven's best is heading in your direction! Hear the Word of the Lord. Has it not been written that I will appear unto your joy (Isaiah 66:5)? My day of visitation is joyfully here...a selected period when the Anointing and Unction will overshadow people, places and yes...even whole cities. Angelic forces have been released to work with those who have been specifically called to perform exploits in that Name above all others. As soon as the Word is spoken, there will be a corresponding manifestation. Often, before you even call, Dad plans to answer. Obedience to that sophisticated Radar System within, will produce the unimaginable and previously unthinkable.

IN PLACES --- ALL WILL BE SAVED AND HEALED

There are to be meetings where all will be saved and healed! Isn't that is total agreement with the Word? Where sin, or its byproducts, abounds, grace should much more gain victory! Darkness doesn't displace light. But light dispels darkness! Oh, the praises of angels will be clearly discerned, as well. Again, prepare for the magnificent! Lean not unto your own understanding. Humanity cannot fathom what is about to take place. This is it! Sin, sickness, poverty and death will bend their knees to the Glory!"

READ THE CONTRACT!

"Read the Contract, Chosen Vessel! Do you know what the Father has to say about His Kids? No longer is the Believer to be the tail, but the head, far from all oppression, blessed going out and coming in, always having complete sufficiency, possessing the excellency of that Power on the inside. Furthermore, Beloved, those enemies are to be seen no more. You are bone of Daddy's bone, flesh of His flesh. Before Satan can touch the Bride, he will have to deal with the Groom and Me!

BUT WE AWARE OF THIS . . .

And,take it from Papa, the defeated prince of darkness is not thrilled about that idea! Be aware of this! The power of life and death remains in the tongue. Whatever you say will surely come to pass, since there is a new Anointing on the spoken Word. A tear between Heaven and earth has been achieved. Consequently, the two have never been closer than they are, right now. The contents of one are dropping into the other. As an added benefit, My Voice has gained more clarity and amplification. Understand, walking in the Spirit is similar to shifting gears in an automobile. But the Christian has to decide and initiate. Nothing can prevent you from remaining in that Secret Place of the Most High, under the Shadow of the Almighty! The Cloud has begun forming. As the Body gathers together in Jesus' Name, fruits and gifts will fall, including the Spirit of Prophecy (Christ). That Wave is swelling. High tide is about to strike planet earth!"

In agreement with Mark 9:23, we must believe that God still speaks to His Children through the Lamb's Blood on the Mercy Seat. His very heartery articulates revelation, as everything Dad desires for this world is contingent upon a hearing ear and yielded heart. Let's look at a few of the ways the Revelator conveys Heaven's design.

YOU CAN HEAR HIS VOICE!

The Christian can hear the Voice of God through the written Word. This requires us to spend quality time, on a daily basis, in the Book of Life, permitting the Holy Spirit to quicken Scriptures, making them alive and relevant. That is one of His assigned tasks.

Daddy speaks to some through dreams and vision...His language, if you will. When a night vision (dream) is from Him, it must firmly agree with the Book and magnify Jesus. The same holds true for visions. In this new millennium, we should anticipate more revelational gifts to stream down from that Heavenly opening.

THE DAY OF THE APOSTLE AND PROPHET

Prophecy is another means utilized by Papa in speaking to the Church. Frequently, a prophecy will confirm what the Lord has already spoken to the Believer. This is the day of the apostle and prophet. He can do nothing without first revealing His will to the latter, who affords utterance for purpose of manifestation. Always run what is received through the grid of your Spirit, since the Third Person of the Trinity is commissioned to provide a witness, one way or the other. The Master placed all trust in the Paraclete (Spirit)...our precise link to the Throne Zone. Without Him, we can't make it; and even the very elect will be fooled.

THE INNER WITNESS

The Lord can transfer His blueprint through our desires, since He works in each Child both to will and do of the Creator's good pleasure. When a leading just doesn't leave, sort of remains in your heart, it may well be from God, particularly if fulfillment of the revelation will result in a magnification of Him and bring glory to the Kingdom.

The inner-witness and peace are to be the umpire of your heart. Listening to that man on the inside (inner-man) will usually tell the story, determine whether or not a word is from Dad.

I like this! "And let the peace (harmony) from Christ rule (act as the umpire...deciding factor) in your hearts (determining and settling with finality, questions that arise in that mind) to which as (Members of Christ's) one body you were also called (to live)...(Colossians 3:15).

We are armed and ready!

The Winds Will Blow

Stephen Hanson

8. The wind blows wherever it pleases. You hear its sound, but you cannot tell where it comes from or where it is going. So it is with everyone born of the Spirit." John 3

4. He makes winds his messengers, flames of fire his servants. Ps. 104

6. The wind blows to the south and turns to the north; round and round it goes, ever returning on its course. Ecc. 1

25. The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house; yet it did not fall, because it had its foundation on the rock. Matt. 7

14. Then we will no longer be infants, tossed back and forth by the waves, and blown here and there by every wind of teaching and by the cunning and craftiness of men in their deceitful scheming. Eph. 4

"The winds have blown, and they have blown-in many things." There are different winds and occurrences here on this earth. Be careful how the winds affect you. It is true as I have said, that false Christs and prophets would arise. And it is also true, if it were possible, that even the very elect would be deceived."

(The Lord showed me a man who was holding onto something so that he wouldn't be blown away. The wind was blowing very furiously and his arms were holding onto part of a tree it seemed. This was so that he wouldn't be caught-up in the storm which was raging. As I continued to look at this tree and the branch which came out of it, I noticed that the branch became an arm and a hand. This hand then, seemed to be the very arm and hand of God.)

"I can be that strong arm and anchor for you, my people. When the winds blow and it appears that everything would be lost, then come to Me as your strong tower."

"There are different types of winds in the natural: There are those which would come from off the gulf. There are those which blow-in from the east and west, and there are those which blow from the north. In the Spirit there are also different types of winds. There is the gentle wind of my Spirit which comes to refresh and renew. There is also the wind of "change" which comes. There are cold winds which come from the north. From the "icy patches" they come. These winds are not meant to harm you, but to "temper" you. Then there are winds which are sent from the enemy. They are things which are "unannounced." They are issued forth from his caverns. They come in the form of "deceit," and "distraction," and "confusion." They would "blow-in" as a wave of doctrine. They would entice you with beautiful things. They may appear to be sound, but under the surface they are filled with all kinds of corruption."

"Oh arm of the Lord.....be particularly wise and discerning in this hour. Pay attention to the winds. See the signs and recognize them. This is the hour for great prayer and intercession about these things. This is the hour to fortify the walls of your Spirits. The enemy can come in many forms; be wise to his ways. The winds blow, but you can find shelter my people, with Me. "

19. when suddenly a mighty wind swept in from the desert and struck the four corners of the house. It collapsed on them and they are dead, and I am the only one who has escaped to tell you!" Job 1:19

21. The east wind carries him off, and he is gone; it sweeps him out of his place. Job 27

9. The tempest comes out from its chamber, the cold from the driving winds. Job 37

17. You who swelter in your clothes when the land lies hushed under the south wind, Job 37

24. What is the way to the place where the lightning is dispersed, or the place where the east winds are scattered over the earth? Job 38

26. He let loose the east wind from the heavens and led forth the south wind by his power. Ps. 78

7. You destroyed them like ships of Tarshish shattered by an east wind. Ps. 48

The Winds Of Change

Sandy Warner

6/10/00

Hi Loved ones, The following is a Word about the winds of change. I have included my personal comments following.

A Word given to Rich Hughlett

Rich's email: rich@ev1.net

Received March, 2000

At the beginning of this prophecy I saw the winds of a great storm blowing debris everywhere, and towards the end of the message I saw in my mind a great eagle hovering above her nest violently flapping her wings.

"Winds of change, Winds of change," Saith the Lord. "For I am releasing mighty winds of change from the four corners of the earth, for the demolition of the old for the rebuilding of the new. Winds of change for the uncovering of the hidden, winds of change for the revealing of the truth. There shall be winds for re-evaluation, winds for relocation, winds for restoration, winds for refining, winds for realigning, winds for refreshing, winds for blessing, winds for repentance, winds for salvation, winds for prosperity, winds for healing, winds for deliverance, winds for consecration, and winds for sanctification."

"To those who resist, the winds will bring destruction, but for those who yield to My Spirit they will be winds that will propel them on the course that I have prepared for them. So seek My face to set your compass, and spread your wings and allow the currents of My Spirit to bring the changes that must be made to bring you higher and closer to Me," Saith the Lord.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS FROM RICH When I came to the word sanctification, the Holy Ghost spoke these words to me which I feel are not part of the prophecy, but are for counsel and instruction especially to those in leadership: "A greater circle of influence requires a smaller circle of sanctification."

I am not a teacher but I will try to explain what the Holy Spirit taught me about sanctification. The word sanctification means to be set apart to God. Most Christians don't understand that there are different levels of sanctification just as there are different levels of the anointing.

One day the Holy Spirit spoke to me through a prophecy and told me that He was calling me to a deeper level of sanctification for a closer walk with Him. He soon began to prune my relationships and my circle of fellowship got smaller. Joyce Meyer expounded a little one day on this. She said that the hardest thing for her to deal with is loneliness. She influences a lot of people but God requires a deep level of separation for her to carry the level of anointing that her job requires. I see a lot of people in the ministry that don't allow the Holy Spirit to have full control of their lives. It is very crucifying to the flesh to be set apart but there is a price to pay for us to follow Him and come up higher. ~~~~~

COMMENTS FROM SANDY

When I read this Word, several things came to mind. First, in Bobby Conner's Shepherd's Rod 2000, it says in the Table of Contents, "God is Getting Our Attention to Change." [Bobby's site: <http://www.bobbyconner.org/>]

Secondly, the Lord gave Mahesh's wife, Bonnie Chavda a vision in 1995 about the refreshing but also violent wind coming upon the land. On this vision the Lord told her, "Everything that can be shaken will be shaken. Everything in which you have found safety or comfort but not from Me will be exposed and uprooted. There will be those who will call this wind "demonic" because of what it will make manifest. Demons will be stirred up, the flesh will be made obvious, things formerly hidden will be exposed and seen as they are in relation to My Spirit: BUT THIS WIND IS FROM ME!" [Mahesh's site: <http://www.watchofthelord.com/>]

FELLOWSHIP WITH THE WORLD When Rich emailed me his comments about hearing the phrase, "A greater circle of influence requires a smaller circle of sanctification," I noted that the Lord often speaks to His prophets in riddled speech. (Num 12;6-8) Rich connected it with what the Lord was doing in his life of sanctifying his fellowship.

I was reminded of the passage, "You can enter God's Kingdom only through the narrow gate. The highway to hell is broad, and its gate is wide for the many who choose the easy way. But the gateway to life is small, and the road is narrow, and only a few ever find it." (Matt 7:13-14 NLT) There are many sources of unholy fellowship including fellowship with the world.

PERSONAL CHANGES I have to say that since the beginning of this year, I have never had so much "change" occur in my home and personal habits. The Lord in His loving but serious way, finally managed to get my attention by throwing me into that violent wind. It was quite perplexing at first, because I was being thrown back and forth between soaking in His Presence, to being beat up by principalities. I had been involved in heavy warfare before, but this was different. It was as though the weapons that worked before were not effective. The Lord in His infinite patience was training me and putting me into obedience school.

OBEDIENCE SCHOOL I recently came across several stories about dog obedience school. They were from different sources and I did not feel it was an accident that the Lord brought these to me. I really believe they reveal the Word of the Lord.

One was a story about a fellow teaching his hunting dog to hunt. First the dog was to learn to heel and stay by the master's side. On command his dog ran forward for the find, but in the process got lost. He was running to the right, then to the left, sniffing and frantically searching all over the place - occasionally looking back for the next command. At each command, the dog was getting more and more confused. Finally his master told him to come back and heel. Sometimes when we are sent on an assignment, we get lost in the process of understanding His Words and need to return to His side until we can figure out what He wants.

The other dog training stories all agreed that the master needed to be consistent, firm, patient, and loving. It was quite humorous to hear of these dogs being told over and over again the same command, and the dogs doing everything but the command!

After unrelenting and repeated commands, finally a dog would do what was commanded. At that moment, the master breaks out in overwhelming praise and positive feedback, to confirm the dog's actions. This is the moment of communication. The master speaks, the dog responds correctly, the master says YES, and the dog finally understands! CONNECTION.

I couldn't help but think of my being thrown into that violent wind and not knowing the difference between heads and tails. (Heads, I made the right choices and enjoyed the Lord's Presence. Tails, I made the wrong choice and got slimed by demonic garbage in my sleep.) Back then, I kept having the suspicion that my choices on TV were opening a demonic door. It seemed strange to me that if I watched something like a craft show or an animal show I would not get slimed. But if my conscience was twinged for even a moment in channel surfing, I would get dumped on at night with demonic dreams, etc. Somehow through God's grace, just like the poor dumb dog, I finally got the message. We cut off cable TV and since we could not get the local channel, we just turned it off.

The Lord brought me a confirmation as I listened to an old tape called, "Bob Jones in Atlanta." I do not know the year, but I think it was in the 90's. I was amazed. He saw demons that were going to be released by watching movies. Some people would become demonized and others would get slimed through what they were watching. He said that this would be an immediate thing that would happen as soon as one looked. He said there would be a quick repercussion for what ever we do. This included lingering too long in turning the channel. Bob said Satan is being cast down to earth at this time, and we can't get away with things we did in the past. He said, "Glean your own TV. Get it out of the house. Is there anything more important than your children and your family? This is the year that if you want a devil to live in your house, that will happen. Come into a separate and more restrained life style. Get rid of excess baggage. Being a friend of the world, makes you an enemy with God. God is going to deal with the church about entertainment." [end of Bob Jones notes]

I was quite amazed, it was like he read my mail! The Lord brought back to memory one of my main prayers last year. When all of the terrible prophecies of judgment were coming out on the Internet, I prayed, "Lord it doesn't do a bit of good to spank someone if it is for something they did a long time ago. We have little memory of truth or consequences. How are we going to make the connection?" I started asking that He would give us immediate feedback to our decisions, so that we could understand what He was saying.

I was overwhelmed by the confirmation of listening to this tape after we cut off our TV. I kept thinking, "Where was this Word when I needed it?" Something gnawed in the back of my mind that I HAD heard this tape before. Then the Holy Spirit brought to remembrance that I had heard it, and when I did, I had filtered it with compromise. I thought the Word was just about horror movies and since the Lord had rebuked me about carnal movies years before, and I was trying to obey, I had a mind set that it did not apply to me. Now after the fact, I realized that compromising holiness had blinded my eyes and deafened my ears towards hearing the warning of the Word of the Lord. He told me, but I did not listen. I had to learn the hard way.

Did I learn? After all was said and done, I had to go around the barn another round. I rented a nice old fashioned musical video tape. However at the counter, I found out it was rent one, get one free. As I looked over the selection I kept thinking, "This is burn time, if you disobey." So I asked both counter people to recommend a true life drama that was inspirational without questionable material in it. I brought it home with the intention of turning it off if something came up. In the 2 hours, there were 2 short sentences spoken in humor that stung my conscience. I dismissed the two phrases, because the movie was very good. I felt like I was home free. Then the final scene, lasting about 30 seconds, blasted me with filth. That night during sleep, I got slimed with demonic filth - big time.

When I woke up, His Word finally came through, "When you are involved in warfare, you have no business touching the unclean thing." I thought of the following scripture:

"Therefore the children of Israel could not stand before their enemies, but turned their backs before their enemies, because they have become doomed to destruction. Neither will I be with you anymore, unless you destroy the accursed from among you. Get up, sanctify the people, and say, 'Sanctify yourselves for tomorrow, because thus says the LORD God of Israel: "There is an accursed thing in your midst, O Israel; you cannot stand before your enemies until you take away the accursed thing from among you." (Josh 7:12-14 NKJV)

One might ask why would the Lord suddenly become so strict? I was asking the same question for a lot of weeks. It is because of His love. In one of the dog training stories, a dog was being trained as a guide for the blind. During a heeling session, she was a couple of inches ahead of the master, instead of at his side and the trainer seriously rebuked the dog. It appeared too constraining to require such strict obedience, but then the explanation came. It only takes one car to hit the dog. It only takes one moment for the dog to run out of control and lose her life. The training is not for appearances, it's for the dog's safety.

So Beloved of the Lord, as we view our daily lives, I share these things that we might consider that the Lord is bringing us into a lengthy season of change where He will be unrelenting until we finally "get it." Time is speeding up, and we are now receiving His quick feedback to personal choices. I am also noticing on a positive side that when I make a right choice, like pray for someone, that He downloads me with His Presence at the time I pray, as a YES confirmation. I may be like a dumb dog and not know heads from tails at times, but I sure like positive feedback!

Lovingly,
Sandy

PS - The Lord often speaks to me when I make typing bloopers. I typed the following sentence, and once again, He amazed me! "It only takes one moment for the dog to fun out of control and lose her life."

The Wooing God

Bryan Hupperts

May 3, 2000 Has someone special ever caught your eye and you found yourself talking differently, dressing differently, even acting differently just to attract their attention? If you're human, yes. To woo someone is to court them, to pursue them, to charm them into a special, intimate relationship. If the intoxicating effects of that sort of enticing charm make relationships pleasurable and interesting between men and women, then consider the Wooing God.

Job 36:16, "He is wooing you from the jaws of distress to a spacious place free from restriction, to the comfort of your table laden with choice food." God describes himself here as the one wooing, calling out for intimacy to a wayward people trapped in inescapable places of terror and hardship. He presents himself as our knight in shining armor, our champion who has come to rescue us and deliver us unto himself. His wooing, his enticing us with his own goodness is meant to offer us a better place than the one we know - seating at the Lord's banqueting table.

The book the Song of Solomon is replete with the delightfully tender phrase, My Beloved. Song of Solomon 6:3, "I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine." There is a special ownership of two people in love. In a sense, they own each other. When a man and woman marry they become 'one flesh.' When a person joins themselves to the Lord, they become, according to 1 Corinthians 6:17, 'one spirit' with him. Each becomes the others' Beloved.

When the Father's voice thundered from Heaven at Jesus' baptism he publicly called him, "My beloved son." When we, the bride of Christ, become one spirit with Jesus through faith, we become the Beloved of God as well. He becomes uniquely ours and we become His.

God reveals himself as the one doing to calling, doing the chasing, seeking out and saving a people crushed by the weight of their own rebellion and sin. And why would he woo us unto himself as if we were a beauty to be pursued? Because He is Love, and according to 1 Peter 4:8, "Love will cover a multitude of sins."

The concept of covering has to do with a Hebrew marriage ritual. In Ruth 3:9 a husband takes a woman under his skirt and declares that he alone shall cover her. Again in Ezekiel 16: 8, "I spread My wing (skirt) over you and covered your nakedness. Yes, I swore an oath to you and entered into a covenant with you, and you became Mine,' says the Lord GOD." This wrapping of two bodies under one covering represents a union of marriage, of two becoming one, and of the past being covered. It represents the fresh beginning of a new life.

In the story of Ruth, once Boaz had covered her with his skirt, Ruth's Gentile past was no longer an issue. Because her Beloved had covered her, she became a bride of the covenant. His love covered her completely. She became his and he became hers. And in the same way, when Love himself covers us with his blood at the Cross, we are covered, wrapped up in his righteousness and declared to be the beloved Bride of Christ.

There is a still, small voice that is wooing you away from your bondage, your heartbreaking hard places, and degrading imprisonment offering you sweet freedom in Christ. That is the voice of God speaking tenderly to you inviting you to a place of blessing and honor. He declares, in Isaiah 22:17, "Behold, the LORD will carry you away with a mighty captivity, and will surely cover you."

Can you say with the assurance of the saints, "I am my beloved's and he is mine?" Heed the wooing of God and be finally and forever healed. The only wise answer to the tender wooing of God is, "I do."

The Work that Refreshes

Joseph Herrin

If you were to examine Christians today to determine their mental state you would be struck by how much depression there is among them. Many Christians today are fatigued, weary, worn-out, burned-out, and despondent. Many of those in this state are some of the most earnest and sincere of God's children. Many have been, or are now, involved in Christian ministry. Also, many lay people of the church who desire with all of their hearts to be found pleasing to God are suffering from this wasting away of their spiritual vitality. What is the cause of this? Certainly this existence is not the "overcoming" and "more than conquerors" description given of Christians in the New Testament.

The book of Hebrews, in chapters 3 and 4, speaks of "entering into God's rest." Hebrews 4:9, 10 states, "There remains therefore a Sabbath rest for the people of God. For the one who has entered His rest has himself also rested from his works, as God did from His." This rest is what the children of God so badly need today. Notice the verse which says, "For the one who has entered His rest has himself rested from his works." Herein is the key to finding rest.

Christians today are experiencing fatigue and depression in droves because they have not ceased from their own works. You may ask, "Are Christians to sit and do nothing? Are we not to be doing some kind of work?" Certainly, Christians are to be working. Christ said, "We must work the works of Him who sent Me, as long as it is day; night is coming when no man can work" (John 9:4). The question is not, "Should we work?", but, rather, "What work should we be doing?"

There are two main areas of Christian work. The first area, and probably the one in which Christians wear themselves out the most, is in the area of salvation. Many Christians today are wasting themselves away in a vain effort to either establish their salvation or maintain it. There is only one work that will purchase and forever maintain our salvation, and that is the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus. Our only part in this is to believe it; Jesus did everything else for us. John 6:29 states, "Jesus answered and said to them, 'This is the work of God, that you believe in Him whom He has sent.'"

The only work left to us regarding our salvation is clearly shown in this verse, "that you believe in Him whom He has sent." Even this believing does not originate from within us, it is the gift of God. Ephesians 2:8, 9 "For by grace you have been saved through faith [in Jesus]; and that [faith] not of yourselves, it is the gift of God; not as a result of works, that no one should boast."

Even the faith to believe in the finished work of Jesus Christ that purchased for us our salvation does not come from within us, it is the gift of God. Why then do so many Christians wear themselves out trying to earn or maintain their salvation? Such striving is all wasted effort. The only work of salvation on our part is to believe that Jesus perfectly and eternally purchased our salvation for us on the cross, and even our faith to believe is given to us by God.

Hebrews 3:19-4:3 And so we see that they were not able to enter because of unbelief. Therefore, let us fear lest, while a promise remains of entering His rest, any one of you should seem to have come short of it. For indeed we have had good news preached to us, just as they also; but the word they heard did not profit them, because it was not united by faith in those who heard. For we who have believed enter that rest. (NAS)

Do you believe in the good news of Jesus Christ, that He has once and for all paid the penalty for sin? Do you trust in Him alone for your right standing before God? This belief is your only work in regard to salvation, and, as we have seen, even this faith to believe is given to you by God. There is no need to wear yourself out by trying to achieve salvation.

But, some might ask, "What then about maintaining my salvation? Don't I have to do certain things to stay saved?" I will let the Apostle Paul answer you as he did the Galatians.

Gal 3:1-3, 11 You foolish Galatians [Christians], who has bewitched you, before whose eyes Jesus Christ was publicly portrayed as crucified? This is the only thing I want to find out from you: did you receive the Spirit by the works of the Law, or by hearing with faith? Are you so foolish? Having begun by the Spirit, are you now being perfected by the flesh? Now that no one is justified by the Law before God is evident; for, "The righteous man shall live by faith." (NAS)

Having begun our life in Christ through faith, can we now maintain it by keeping a set of laws? God forbid! Our only work in regard to salvation from start to finish is "that you believe in Him whom He has sent."

This striving to achieve or maintain salvation by keeping the Law or performing certain duties is wearing out many Christians today. Also, it is a slap in the face of God. It is saying, "Christ's work was not enough, I must add to my salvation." Galatians 2:21 declares, "for if righteousness comes through the Law, then Christ died needlessly." Galatians 5:4, "You have been severed from Christ, you who are seeking to be justified by law."

If Christians today would lay hold of this truth, that salvation comes by faith, then much fatigue and depression caused by wearing themselves out through vain effort would be erased. By this act of believing, many could "enter into God's rest." There is, however, another area of works where Christians are failing to enter into God's rest. This area is in our service to God.

Our service to God is distinguished from the work of salvation in that it has no bearing upon salvation. Service has to do with our fruitfulness as Christians. Whether we bear little fruit, or much fruit, we are still Christians, but God desires that we bear much fruit. Many Christians are wearing themselves out in their service to God and have failed to enter into the work that refreshes.

To understand how to serve God without growing weary, we must first understand what constitutes true service to God. Our service is something that we render to God because we are rightfully His. You work for your employer because he pays you wages. We work for God because we have been purchased with the blood of Christ.

God paid for us with the life of His Son. The purchase price has been paid up front and in full. I Corinthians 6:19b, 20a, "You are not your own. For you have been bought with a price." We are no longer our own masters (we never really were). We belong to God. God is not only our rightful owner, He is our Creator and Lord and Master. We are totally under His authority.

Because we are under God's authority, it is He who determines what our service will be. It is at this point that many Christians stumble and consequently exhaust themselves.

If a grocer hired you to work in his store, you would expect him to tell you what your duties would be. If he hired you to stock the shelves, he would not be too pleased to come back and find that you had spent your time cleaning the windows. You could argue that you were indeed working, but he would not be impressed because you failed to do what he hired you for. By ignoring his authority, you have become useless to him. In the same way, many Christians fail to remain under God's authority and they do not wait for His Spirit to lead them into their activities.

Rather, they choose for themselves what their service will be and they end up walking in the power of the flesh and are soon discouraged and exhausted.

To live and serve under God's authority we must allow ourselves to be led by the Spirit of God. "For all who are being led by the Spirit of God, these are sons of God" (Romans 8:14). God does not intend for us to bring our reason to bear upon what our activities should be. Man's mind can justify many things and our reasoning will not lead us to obedience. Only by being led by the Spirit of God can we know what the will of God is and be able to walk in it. The life under God's authority is by necessity a life in tune with God's Spirit.

Matthew 7:21-23 reveals what the outcome is of doing good works apart from the authority of God. "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven; but he who does the will of My Father who is in heaven. "Many will say to Me on that day, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in Your name, and in Your name cast out demons, and in Your name perform many miracles?' "And then I will declare to them, 'I never knew you; depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness.' We see in these verses that it is not enough to simply do good works. We cannot reason as a Christian, "I must do good works, therefore I will do whatever is at hand." This is action without obedience. First you must allow God's Spirit to guide you to those things He wants you to do. Jesus said, "He who does the will of My Father will enter the kingdom of heaven."

We must place ourselves under the authority of the Father and only move at His command. To move without command is to remove oneself from God's authority and this is lawlessness. Therefore, to be involved in a work apart from the clear direction of God's Spirit is to practice lawlessness. This is why Jesus told those who were doing things in His name, but not by the will of the Father, "Depart from Me; you who practice lawlessness."

Jesus' own example was always to do the will of the Father. He says in John 5:19, "Truly, truly, I say to you, the Son can do nothing of Himself, unless it is something He sees the Father doing." John 5:30 likewise records, "I can do nothing on My own initiative... I do not seek My own will, but the will of Him who sent Me." Again, in John 6:38 we read, "For I have come down from heaven, not to do My own will, but the will of Him who sent Me."

We see from Christ's example that doing the will of the Father is of the ultimate importance. Nothing else constitutes obedience. Jesus did not decide for Himself who He would preach to, or who He would heal, or what miracle He would perform. He did not act on His own initiative, but always did the will of the Father. Likewise, we as children of God must not determine for ourselves what activities are worthy of our labors.

We must not mistake a need for a command. There were many needs in Jesus' day, but Jesus only addressed the needs the Father commanded Him to address. There were great needs among the gentiles, but Jesus said the Father had not sent Him to the gentiles. There were great injustices in government, but God had not led Him to address these injustices. Jesus did not heal every leper, nor did He feed every person, or cast out every demon. He only did what the Father showed Him to do; anything else would have been lawlessness.

Satan's tempting of Jesus in the wilderness dealt with this very issue. Satan tempted Jesus to do something that would meet a very real need, but he wanted Jesus to do it of His own initiative. Jesus' need for food was very real. He hadn't eaten in forty days and He was hungry. Satan tempted Jesus to turn the stones into bread and so to meet His need of food. Jesus, however, waited on God to meet the need in His own timing. He said in another place, "My meat is to do the will of My Father." If Jesus had of His own initiative acted to fill a need, He would have missed the will of the Father.

We cannot choose to pour ourselves into activity or ministry simply because there is a perceived need. Only when the Spirit of God directs will God also provide the power to accomplish His will. To act without command is to commit oneself to striving in the flesh and we will miss "entering into God's rest."

Before the fall, Adam could work tirelessly, even effortlessly. Adam could work from sunrise to sundown without fatigue. Only after choosing his own way was he cursed to work by the sweat of his brow. Today, if we will refuse to choose our own way, but will wait upon the Lord, we will have the promise of Isaiah 40:31, “Yet those who wait upon the Lord will gain new strength; They will mount up with wings as eagles, they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not faint.”

Yes, our bodies will still require rest, but our spirit will be renewed within us. We will not experience the depression that results from following our own course and striving in the power of the flesh. We will be built up in our inner man as the Spirit of God “gives life to our mortal bodies” (Romans 8:31). As we cease from our own labors we will be able to “enter into God’s rest” and truly know the work that refreshes.

To sum it all up, we must be sure in any activity that we engage in that we are being led into it by the Spirit of God. Do not mistake a need for a calling. To work without God’s command is to practice lawlessness because we have removed ourselves from under His authority. To be led by our reason leads to fatigue, depression, and burn-out.

Let us allow God to lead us into the paths He has ordained for us to walk in. Then we will bear much fruit and our way will be prepared before us. Let us have this same attitude that was in Christ Jesus, who never sought His own way, but always did the will of the Father. “For we are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them” (Ephesians 2:10).

Hebrews 4:11 Let us therefore be diligent to enter that rest, lest anyone should fall through following that same example of disobedience.

The Wooden Ship

Mary (Koons) Wattenford

July 4, 2000 A few days ago I was shown the beach, foam forming on the shoreline at the beach, the ocean and a rather small, wooden, single mast ship that was sitting on a tranquil sea. As I stood at the edge of the beach and looked down I saw "foam" which was increasing with each ebb and flow of an ocean wave. The sky when I first looked upward was clear and blue. My attention was then drawn to the wooden ship that was apparently anchored, or unable to move because there was no wind for its sail. I could see people walking around the deck of the ship - but it was too far away to be able to distinguish any further details. SUDDENLY, the sky began to become overcast from dark, threatening storm clouds that appeared to be converging over the ocean. I was not afraid - even when lightening strikes could be seen angling downward towards the earth, and felt no urgency to move. Thunder began to rumble and then a "heavy" raindrop fell, then another, and another..... the wind began to blow, increasing with each drop that fell. Soon, the solitary drops became a shower - and then, the shower - an outburst - and by then the wind howling - until it too, was at gale force.

After feeling OVERJOYED at the first few raindrops my eyes were again drawn to the wooden ship. They, like me, were out on the deck enjoying those first few solitary drops. I could see they were holding out their hands, wanting the drops to splash on their fingers. But as the rain increased in volume and intensity - I could see they were becoming increasingly uncomfortable; until by the time the shower had become a downpour, all had left the deck to go below. As the wind increased, the solitary sail began to whip around, tossing the small vessel like it was a toy. Within a few minutes the sail was ripped to shreds and useless. At that point - I saw a shaft of golden light descend and encircle the vessel. Then - SUDDENLY the wooden ship EXPLODED and the people were thrown from what they had thought was their "safety net" below decks to the mercy of the raging sea. I could see arms going up - as if they were either pleading for "Help," or being shaken so violently that they could not begin to try to escape the tempest around them. Within a few moments - ALL WAS GONE, the wooden ship and the people. Nothing remained. I had felt so helpless watching the people drown and had wanted to try to help them - but it had all happened so quickly, and I was so far away - there was nothing I could do. I also knew that the "golden light" which had encompassed the ship was sent from God.

INTERPRETATION:

Last night in prayer - the "ebb and flow" of Heavenly sent waves began to ripple through those of us praying with increasing duration and intensity. I realized that it truly WAS as "birth pangs," the duration, and strength of the anointing - ebbing and flowing, then another "wave" would arrive - stronger and of longer duration. I was reminded of these verses from the Olivet Discourse:

For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, And there will be famines and earthquakes in place after place;

All this is but the beginning - the early pains of the birth pangs - of the intolerable anguish.

(Matthew 24: 7-8)

For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, there will be earthquakes in various places; there will be famines and calamities; this is but a beginning of the intolerable anguish and sufferings - only the first of the birth pangs.

(Mark 13:8)

The "foam" which was increasing with each ebb and flow of the ocean waves represented the INCREASE of His anointing being poured out at this time, representative because of its visual similarity to "birth pangs." As these "anointings" increase upon those who KNOW HIM - although everything around them "appears" tranquil and normal, things will begin to change so rapidly that most people like those on the wooden ship, (sea in scripture represents people-humanity) will be caught "unawares" of the severity of the storm that has arisen and is crashing down upon them. The people aboard the wooden ship ASSUMED they'd be quite safe riding out the storm right where they were - rather than sailing the ship into harbor. I believe the "wooden ship" represents MANY churches, who have "anchored their vessel" out in the middle of a tranquil sea. These churches have safely "ridden out" storms of the past and see no reason to try to MOVE OR CHANGE their position because of a "few dark storm clouds" on the horizon. Their "enjoyment" of the few raindrops they reached out and touched however, soon turned to alarm when the "heavy drops" began to fall more quickly, the wind increased and shafts of lightening and thunder rumbled around them. Rather than remain on the deck of the wooden ship, all aboard went below deck to hide from the storm clouds, wind and rain. The modern day church - for the most part - has lost its ability to STANDFAST in "any storm," and when God's anointing increases to the point where they are UNABLE TO CONTROL THE FLOW OF IT - they will "take cover," rather than try to withstand or absorb it. The gale force winds tore apart the solitary mainsail on the ship and it began to toss violently. This represents the modern day church which has been content to "get by," with just an occasional small "puff" of wind from the Holy Spirit but will be TOTALLY UNPREPARED for the torrential rain and gale force winds that the "storm clouds" brings with it.

The golden shaft of light that encompasses the wooden ship - I believe represents God's anger against those churches and/or individuals who have "maimed and hurt" HIS sheep, and those who are unable to bear the "Power of His glory," will be literally blown away by it. The "wooden ship" with the "solitary sail" could not handle such an incredible manifestation of the power of God and "exploded," throwing everything and everyone on it, out into the sea, where all was lost.

Again, from the Olivet Discourse we find a parallel to what I was shown:

They [the Jewish people] will fall by the mouth and the edge of the sword, and be led away as captives to and among all nations, and Jerusalem will be trodden down by the Gentiles until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled - completed.

And there will be signs in the sun and moon and stars, and upon the earth distress (trouble and anguish) of nations in bewilderment and perplexity (that is, without resources, left wanting, embarrassed, in doubt, not knowing which way to turn) at (the echo) the roaring of the tossing of the sea.

(Luke 21:25)

The people aboard this vessel had no idea what to do and were helpless, unable to survive what happened aboard the "vessel" that had always served them so well in the past.

And the Lord said:

These are the "wooden ships," that men build. They are not of ME - for I do not build with hammer and saw, but with stone uncut by human hands. What man among you does not "count the cost," of a building before you begin the project? What banker would loan you the funds to complete the building if your building materials were not able to pass inspection, or your contractor had a history of doing slipshod, inferior work? Yet, too many claim to be in My Kingdom - who do this exact same thing! They build their foundation NOT upon the ROCK of their salvation - but upon their own pride, arrogance and egos. They use "slipshod" materials and try to pass it off as the "REAL THING..." Those who SHOULD be "supervising" the "supervisors" are stamped "rejected" and cast out from the building and the builder because they sought to bring My wisdom or will into "their" project. My Spirit is allowed to blow as a "mere whisper" else wise the "building and its occupants," are tossed about because they have not prepared their "vessels," as they should.

What is coming is of Me. ....though many will say it is not. I say unto you that while you stand on the beach and allow the "flow" of My Spirit to rise and fall within your spirit you are repeatedly washed - and made inwardly clean. At My word the Holy Spirit will flow in, by and through you and remove anything that is not of Me - so that you will be a fit vessel for the Master's use. Continue to adjust yourself daily to the "flow" of My Spirit so that you too are NOT caught unawares and tossed about because the force has become more than you can withstand!

As the sky darkens around you and lightening and thunder herald the arrival of My "heavy" latter rain - soak up MY PRESENCE.... Come into the Holy of Holies and worship Him who rent the veil so that you could enter in. Stretch out your hands towards the Mercy Seat, for between the cherubim - is the Blood of the Lamb that WILL OVERCOME!

The Wind Of The Spirit

Teresa Daly-Crews

While ministering this week I received what I call an electric thought from the Spirit. The Lord showed me a Hot Air Balloon. He said we were like the balloon. In the basket of the balloon stood bags of sand that were symbolic of flesh, sin and demonic strongholds in our lives. Because of the weight it has been difficult to float upward. The Spirit said that directly above lies a STRONG SWIFT POWERFUL WIND of the SPIRIT. Many in the Kingdom are stalled right beneath this Wind.

In order to rise higher and catch the Wind we must remove the sandbags (sin, flesh, strongholds) from our baskets. As quickly as we throw them off we will rise. The Spirit of the Lord is highlighting areas in our lives that displease Him. If we will acknowledge these areas, He will help us remove them.

There are so many in the Body who feel stalled out right now. The position right below the Wind is difficult and holds many obstacles. Division, confusion, frustration, hopelessness, depression, deception are just a few of the primary obstacles. Much of the attack is false illusions and perceptions in the mind. The enemy knows how close to victory we are and is trying in every way he can to stop us from rising. He is also trying to convince people that the past victories were just an illusion and not reality. Some have fallen to this lie because they have not outwardly felt the present victory. We must focus upon the NOW and not let the thoughts of the past nor the vain imaginations of the future weigh us down.

The Breath of God is blowing and we must rise to it. Our responsibility is to surrender and obey, praising Him through it all.

In His Service,

THE YEAR OF THE DRAGON

Chad Taylor

"Lest Satan should take advantage of us; we are not ignorant of his devices..." (2nd Corinthians 2:11).

In a series of prophetic revelations and visions I have come to the simple conclusion that as we race toward epic times in the church, the kingdom of darkness as well is setting up their best strategies and schemes to attempt to thwart the Church since the Garden of Eden. Releasing darkness, "the darkness shall cover the earth, and deep darkness the people..." but we can also anticipate at the same time, "... the Lord will arise over you, and His glory will be seen upon you..." (Isaiah 60:2). Above all else we must know our Father's heart and pray accordingly in this critical hour. Even as the year 2000 has been a spiritual landmark for the church and the world, so it is in the ranks of Satan as well. Unprecedented in church history the Spirit of the Lord is imparting and impacting His people with a profound, and sometimes even simple, revelation to combat effectively the hordes of hell that are amassed against us.

Like an ensign, we see a world arrested by this darkness, captivated by its deceptions and illusions. More than ever before the Church must be a "city upon a hill that cannot be hid...." I believe it is the current wisdom and revelation now being revealed by the Church, from Her prophets and apostles, Her teachers and shepherds, evangelists and preachers, that is posturing us to invade the darkness like never before. Leaving an indelible and eternal mark in its midst and setting the captives free by the billions as we enter into this final harvest. By these relevant and recent prophetic insights we might now take up the weapons of our warfare more effectively and powerfully. Opening the prisons to them that are bound and binding up the broken hearts of nations.

So in this heart and passion I offer to you the Church this simple and yet, I believe by the Spirit of the Lord, urgent and critical revelation. The Year of the Dragon. To the intercessors and those on the walls of Jerusalem, let this bring insight and enlightenment to your prayers and intercessions. To the prophets and evangelists, may it fuel your fervency and passion for the lost and better equip you to tear down the strongholds. And to the Apostles and Pastors, let it quicken you to the impending battle that looms over our cities and streets and the victory that is certainly within our reach...

2000: THE YEAR OF THE GOLDEN DRAGON

Dragon cultures exist in both the Eastern and Western world. Dragons are deeply rooted in the Chinese culture. The Chinese often consider themselves, 'the descendants of the dragon.' Chinese emperors think they are the real dragons and the sons of heaven. Thus the beds they sleep on are called the dragon beds, the throne called the dragon seat, and the emperor's ceremonial dresses called the dragon robes. Traditionally the dragons are considered as the governors of rainfalls in Chinese culture. They have the power to decide where and when to have rain. They believe the kings of the water dragons live in the dragon palaces under the oceans. It is similar to Job's description of Leviathan in Job 41.

According to ancient texts the dragon was a creature 'with a pair of antlers like the one of a deer, a camel head, the eyes of a hare, and the neck of a serpent. Its belly looks like the one of a shen (a mythical water dragon that resembles a crocodile). Its claws look like the ones of an eagle, its paws like the ones of a tiger and its ears like the ones of a buffalo. The Chinese use the same Chinese character for Gold and Metal, and as Gold sounds more valuable, the Chinese like to call the year 2000 the "Golden Dragon" rather than the Metal Dragon.

The dragon was able to morph from one form into another within a few instances, from fat to thin and from tall to short. It could also rise to heaven and descend to the depths of the sea. It seems to be that the dragon is a supernatural creature that can accept any type of form. The Chinese sign for the dragon appears during the Yin and Shang dynasties (from the 16th to the 11th century BC, the period of the earliest Chinese hieroglyphs), between inscriptions on bones and turtle shields. These inscriptions depicted a horned reptile, teeth, scales and sometimes paws as well. Above the sign there's often a symbol that seems to indicate that the dragon is considered to be a violent, evil, and bearer of terrible news. The dragon is sometimes called, "the musical serpent..." What we see here is Satan manifesting himself throughout history in different "forms." "And no wonder! For Satan himself transforms himself into an angel of light." (2nd Corinthians 11:14).

There were nine "dragon sons" that were worshiped and made into idols. Supposedly they were the sons of the four "dragon kings", Ao Shun, Ao Ch'in, Au Jun and Ao Kuang. These four are depicted as brothers. Each brother rules one of the four seas that surround the earth. As myth tells it they live in the "Crystal Palace", which is underwater. It is here that their ministers, army and watchmen live and guard the sea. I see this literally as the enemy revealing his own identity and those that rule with him. This should give us more ammunition as we pray and bind these four "dragon kings" or principalities.

China is also the bosom of Buddhism. The main identifying trait of the dragon is false religion, occult, and witchcraft. This is their calling card or profile. Even as there is a revival in the Church, there is also a "revival" in false religions and cults. More than ever the masses are turning to the "father of lies" and following his many devised and devious schemes. His false prophets are roaming the earth propagating these occultic and even accepted and publicly embraced religions. "Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also transform themselves into ministers of righteousness, whose end will be according to their works." (2nd Corinthians 11:15).

Isaiah 59:19 says, "When the enemy comes in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord will lift up a standard against him." 2nd Chronicles 7:14 makes it very clear God's blueprint for restoration and clearly defines this 'standard' He has promised to lift up. "If My people will humble themselves and pray..." But this is not prayer in its conventional means and practice, but this is revelatory prayer moved by the Holy Ghost! Not just simple repetitious utterances, but with the Lord's unction, "as the Spirit gave them utterance!" Praying by divine enterprise and illumination. This is why the Lord is revealing to His church "the deep things of God..." To better equip us for the battle at hand, and lay waste the enemies plots and ploys.

The year of the Dragon is also termed, "Awakening of the Dragon." Throughout the centuries scientist came up with many explanations and theories about the dragon. It's beyond any doubt that it must have been, in its earliest appearances, a reptile; a snake, alligator, or lizard. Reliquees and archeological sites dating from 5,000 to 6,000 years BC have shown that lizards, alligators and dragons were adapted in totemestic masses of honor and rituals.

According to Revelation 20:2 the dragon is the devil. "He laid hold of the dragon, that serpent of old, who is the devil, and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years..." It is this enemy and foe that we must reckon with in the spiritual realm and fight. Though the battle for our souls has been won at the cross the battle for the billions yet to acknowledge that fact is still waged and fought for every day. This is the epic tug-of-war we find ourselves engaged in at this very moment as the Church. "To the intent that now the manifold wisdom of God might be made known by the church TO THE PRINCIPALITIES AND POWERS IN THE HEAVENLY PLACES." (Ephesians 3:10).

God is revealing His ancient strategies and means of absolute victory to us! We are His weapons of warfare! "Whatever YOU bind on earth is bound in Heaven, whatever YOU loose on earth is loosed in Heaven...."

SAN JOSE CALIFORNIA

(Below is a quote from an article on this historical San Jose event.)

"Awakening from 7-Decade Sleep"

"Thanks to funding from the San Jose Redevelopment Agency and Chinese Historical and Cultural Project, San Jose's Golden Dragon, glistening the thousands of sequins and spangles, awakened on July 30, 1995, after 71 years of slumber. The San Jose Dragon's last documented appearance was in front of the Ng Shing Gung in 1924. Since then, Gung Lum, the Golden Dragon disappeared from public view.

After year's of disrepair, the original dragon head surfaced and was refurbished with the aid of Redevelopment and CHCP funding. Dave Thomas, martial arts master of East-West Kung Fu, labored for months to restore a salvaged dragon head and tail and create the Dragon's new 125-foot body, appllied with multicolored, sequined designs.

Also called the Golden Dragon, the Dragon was also given a second name, Dragon of the Heart's Delight, which reflects the name of its home in the Santa Clara Valley – known as the "Valley of the Heart's Delight" before its newer sobriquet, "Silicon Valley." The name was selected from among entries in CHCP's "Awake the Dragon Contest” that was the source of stories and paintings depicting the dream adventures of the dragon’s seven-decade sleep. (‘Heart’s delight’ or dim sum is also the term for Chinese savory treats.)

At the 1995 Chinese Summer Festival, the Golden Dragon awakened when a mixture of potent herbs was rubbed onto his eyes in the traditional eye-dotting ceremony. At that magical moment, the Dragon reared his 3-by-5-foot head in a whirl of smoke. He rose to dance again with the help of 40 dancers – the strongest at his head and the fastest at his tail." (End of quote)

All over the world these "dragon festivals" are taking place. These rituals done by a Taoist Priest deemed, "the awakening of the dragon" are laying the foundation to build these fatal and false religions or cults that are not only thriving in foreign lands, but now in America with as much zeal and fervency. Seducing the youth and promising illusions of grandeur. But in all reality it is only the concoction of that "serpent of old, the devil..." Weaving a web of deceit and deception, but ensnaring billions in its process. This is the revelation that the Spirit of the Lord is imparting to His Church, the revelation to pray and intercede and see this dragon slain! To see this Dragon hung on his own gallows and the children set free! This is what we must pray! This is what we must intercede! "See then that you walk very carefully, not as fools but as wise, redeeming the time, because the days are evil." (Ephesians 5:15-16).

DRAGON BOAT RACES

‘The dragon boat festival is typically celebrated "the Fifth of the Fifth" - the fifth day of the fifth month. Red is the prominent color on the boats because it is the color of the number five and symbolizes heat, summer, and fire. Dragon Boat Festival is called Duan Wu Jie in Chinese. Jie means festival. The festival is celebrated on the 5th of the fifth month of the Chinese lunar calendar. This will be a key time to pray and intercede for these "festivals" to come to nothing and the power they are releasing to be negated.

The 2,000 year-old Dragon Boat ("Tuen Ng") it is one of Hong Kong's most revered festivals, featuring fierce dragon boats racing in a lively, vibrant spectacle. In year 2000, the festival falls on June 6 with local dragon boat races throughout the territory. The enemy know the power of a "sacred assembly" as mentioned in the book of Joel. We need to as the Church, understand this principle of revival as well, "Blow the trumpet in Zion, consecrate a fast, call a sacred assembly. Gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the youth and the nursing babies...." (Joel 2:15-16). We need to have the same severity and seriousness in our assembling as the enemy has in his, understanding the power and impact we have when we do.

The Festival commemorates the death of a popular Chinese national hero Qu Yuan, who drowned himself in the Mi Lo River during the third century BC. The dragon boat racing began more than 2000 years ago when a group of fearful people believed that the boat racing would ensure prosperous and bountiful crops. Their celebrations took place on the summer solstice - the time of year typically associated with disease and death and when man felt most helpless against the powers of nature. It was imperative then that a boat capsize and at least one person drown - which was considered a special sacrifice to the gods and was, surprisingly, a sign of good luck. Another manifestation of the dragon is suicide. We must pray against this expression from the enemy’s camp. There is a focused thrust from the enemy in the area of suicide that we must counter attack with poignant passionate prayer.

The phenomenon of dragon boat racing stretches across the world from Hong Kong, Sydney, Seattle, New York, London, Cape Town and Dhaka. The Dragon Cup USA is a non-profit organization, which hosts dragon boat races on Lake Washington, in Seattle. Preceding each race a ceremony, which dates back over the centuries, is performed. This ritual associated with the races is the awakening of the dragon, where a Taoist priest prepares the boat by dotting the eyes of the dragon head in order to end its slumber. This ceremony is conducted to cleanse and "bless" the area of the competition, the competitors, and their boats. It also gives the boats and their crew the strength of the dragon and the blessing of the goddess of the sea...' Seattle as well as these other cities are powerful points of spiritual contact for divine intercession and Christian intervention. We need to take these cities into our places of worship and intercession and push back the enemies attempt to occupy them.

DRAGON SLAYERS!

"In that day the Lord with His severe sword, great and strong, will punish Leviathan the fleeing serpent, Leviathan that twisted serpent, and He will slay that reptile that is in the sea..."(Isaiah 27:1)

And the dragon was enraged with the woman, and he went to make war with the rest of her offspring, who keep the commandments of God and have the testimony of Jesus Christ. (Revelation 12:17).

"But they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb and the word of their testimony, and they did not love their lives to the death..." (Revelation 12:11)

The Spirit of the Lord is raising up a divine company of intercessors and prophets that will speak to the demise of this dragon. A Church that from Her lips will come an authority and power that only the Son could inspire. They will march around the fortified cities and with a great shout the walls will fall flat and the masses will be set free. Not only Rahab, but also all of her descendents even to this day, that have put out the hand of fellowship and friendship to God's army. God will spare their lives in this hour, and by the millions they will join the troop and march to the holy beat of God's heart.

Like the four lepers in 2nd Kings, an army will rise from famine and defeat, and will march and the sound of their feet will be the sound of a great and mighty army. The enemy will flee at the sound! Like Zechariah the father of John the Baptist, the Church that has been in silence will now utter great and mighty things. Revelations that have been hidden even to this day, will they now reveal to the "principalities and powers in the heavenly places..." And we once again declare the awesome wonders of God. A generation of Dragon Slayers is emerging from the smoke of battle with a great sword of His Word and authority. Terrorizing hell and wreaking havoc in the kingdom of darkness. The motto of this generation will be, "As long as we are alive, hell will have no peace..."

DRAGON SLAYER ARISE TO THE CALL OF CHRIST AND MARCH INTO THE NATIONS WITH THE UNCTION AND POWER OF CHRIST. THIS IS YOUR HOUR TO 'ARISE AND SHINE! FOR YOUR LIGHT HAS COME! AND THE GLORY OF THE LORD IS RISEN UPON YOU!' (ISA. 60:1).

The Young and the Old

Priscilla Van Sutphin

6-26-00

For a long time, God has shown me the necessity of discipleship like Jesus did with the young. I used to train nursing students in this way, and since becoming Christian, there have been many times when I saw that the programs we have for the youth do not foster the closeness, and allow for the wisdom we could impart to them. I thought if I ever had the opportunity to teach the youth, I would want to do it that way.

Then in 1991 I had a dream, and in the dream, my son and I were in a large white house (the church) taking care of infants, and toddlers. In the dream, there was a switch on the wall of the room upstairs, where most of the dream takes place, and it was taped over, as it did not work properly. (Energy source not on-Holy Spirit power) And he and I were caring for babies, with no resources. There were no diapers, no wipe-cloths, or anything to clean them with, around the room were puddles of urine, muddied by poop. I was dismayed as a toddler was leaning on a window, close to the ground, and grabbed him away, as we were on the second story, and I was afraid he might hurt himself. My son at my instructions, started to take the children ranging in age from a premie to 2 yrs downstairs to safety. As he was doing this, the premie, who had been laying on the big king-size bed fell into the bassinette and as I walked over to see if he was ok, the bassinet was filled with water (Holy Spirit), I pulled him up and told Dave to take the littlest first. We moved them all to safer downstairs quarters. I was also dismayed with lack of power (electricity) to do all I wanted to do in the dream.

And it has been so, here sometimes. It's not that I don't have any. I have seen miracles here in ministering to the poor who don't have insurance and such. But I have longed for MORE of God's presence to be DEMONSTRATED so the adults would believe and be more committed to Jesus.

The lack of resources in the dream is identical to the situation I have been in for years, doing ministry with very little resources of money to help. Many close friends have helped. The churches I have attended have been divided in support Many have wanted to lift up their own names, and have me contribute to their ministry without giving back much in return, or with little real relationship. I am in a place of doing missions around me, in a Mexican-American neighborhood. It is like living among Native Americans in the warfare aspect and has been demanding on me physically. I have lived and worked among them for 7 years. In fact they are Native "Americans", as they were here before us in California.

Many of the families are now attending church and they were not before. Many children have been saved, and are attending bible studies weekly. It has been difficult to gain their trust, as they have been much maligned, and oppressed by whites. But God has given me much grace to keep going and my son has been a source of balance for me. Last year once, I was telling him my frustration with not having the power I want to see with more of the miraculous, and he said (Age 20, and backslidden) "Mom, you have accomplished the most valuable miracle. Their hearts have changed. They love you and some used to hate you." Now I KNOW, it has not been me. Plenty times I wanted to give up and if I had been healthy and not sickly, I could have gone to work and forgotten about ministry. I took strength from David Brainard's story. The physical drain on me when I was doing the food program for 14 hrs on Mondays, was enormous. For two days afterwards, I could not move much, as I've had chronic fatigue, and I would be stiff, and in pain for those next couple days but God always gave me "GRACE" the day I would do it. By evening my back would be riddled with pain. But at that point all I had to do was have them come for the boxes, and be available for any who might need prayer. The people who helped me with driving, and paid for their own gas, and helped carry in the food for 30-35 boxes eventually each week, were Mexicans. Many are here are on work permits. Many of them, have wives who do not speak English. Many work for far less than we would work for, and yet have been trained in their own country for doing more skilled jobs. Many are not skilled, and have to live on minimum wage, or get a little more for construction related jobs. A comparatively few earn good money but share everything they have with family in Mexico or here.

I have never seen a more loving and generous people, except maybe the Laotians I worked with once for a short time. Yet, the church lives affluently compared to the way they live. The church has the money they need for things these wish they could provide for their children. Sometimes the kids don't even get a gift for their birthday. They get a choice of a gift or a special dinner. Yet everyday we go to bed FAT and filled with whatever we want and need as Americans, and think we have the right to riches without sharing them. I am sad for this, very sad for the church who has so much and gives so little comparatively speaking.

A few years ago, a friend of mine who is a single mom, wanted her son to go on an outing with the church youth group to Lake Tahoe. She lives in a wealthy area although she herself was not wealthy. The church told her she could BORROW the money to send him and make payments later. They were ironically taking the youth up to a resort area to TEACH THEM ABOUT "SELF DENIAL"!!!!!!!

Now for me, I am in the place God wanted me to be. I have been mocked and criticized for doing the work of the Lord without "working" for my money. But God put me in a humble position on purpose, as I had been full of SELF-sufficient pride before, as I have a masters degree in nursing. I thought I KNEW everything! If I needed more money, I just worked harder. But at the time, I was not saved. I didn't think about God much, and I didn't think much about the plight of the poor. God humbled me and eventually told me through Scripture. "I have made your strength as the drought of summer". And, that He did it to lead me to repentance. And what for? You may ask for my complacency and apathy towards others. Do we even think of the most important commandments of Jesus.?

"Love one another as I have loved you by this all men will know you belong to me."

Now I had been generous, I thought. I had always spent more hours in the hospital as a young nurse holding the sick babies. I would go buy clothes for them, when their parents didn't have the money. I had compassion. But it was MY COMPASSION to a large extent. And when I found the Lord, He began to bring me around to His ways of thinking, and His compassion, which is not the kind that gives you a fuzzy feeling for doing something, but which compels you to weep for those who weep. We are to bear one another's burdens. Several years ago when praying with a couple on a regular basis for revival the Lord spoke that the revival would come in the "ONE-ANOTHER'S".

THAT is why many have written on the need to take the kingdom to the streets. Now I have been sowing here for years, and I expect there will be a great harvest when Revival does hit. I've seen visions of it. people falling down in repentance before the Lord.

Please America. Humble yourselves in the eyes of the Lord, before He comes as Bridegroom and King to humble you. It says in the scripture in Daniel, that the Lord knows how to humble those who are prideful and arrogant in their hearts. Remember King Nebuchadnezzar? He had to gravel like a dog. Yet we mock the people who make chicken sounds, or snorting sounds of a pig in renewal Could it be God is telling us something about our arrogance and pride in these manifestations? I THINK SO ! He made Saul lie naked among the prophets on his face to humble him.

I have had to be humbled, and I thank Him for His mercy in doing it, so that as He comes with His GLORY, perhaps, by His grace, I will be kept from humiliation. It is a hard thing to break when it is all around us. We must be vigilant in asking God to crush it!

Now this past week, a friend of mine came from Georgia to visit and a lifelong desire of hers has been to go to Seaworld. We made it there ok in my old Dodge van, but when we started back we'd only gone a short ways when I heard the clanking of metal. The rod that holds the alternator had slipped again had been partially fixed but needs a new bolt as the old one is stripped. And the rod was hitting the fan. I had to pull over, and thank God I could, then I had no flashlight to check it with. So Rose and I started praying. Almost within a couple minutes a young man of about 21 yrs stopped and brought a flashlight and tool kit and we got it pushed back a little so I could drive it uphill to the gas station and look at it better hoping for a mechanic.

Well, there was no mechanic, and the young man turned out to be a Christian, who lives in north San Diego county and goes to Horizon Church of San Diego. He was so eager to help, but had not much experience with cars he had not the skills we needed. He insisted I take the new flashlight he had to use to check it so we could possibly push the rod back in as we went but he could not push it back very far.

Then we went off, and it happened again, and Rose suggested calling Triple A So I did, and we prayed again for mercy and someone who knew more what they were doing with the car. God answered our prayers, and when I told him I had to get to central Orange County. he had mercy and helped us get the rod back to almost it's original position. And he gave us an old tool to pound it in with more effectively. He was an older gentleman, I would guess close to 50. By now we were close to Camp Pendleton, in Carlsbad. He gave me instructions so that we could get off in a few miles and check it, then keep checking on the way home, and to not drive so FAST, to keep it at about 50-55 mph. As we took off towards home I was to keep my speed down about 55. The only problem was I do not have a functioning speedometer. The car that was given to me by a pastor has a few problems. This was one of them. So I "guesstimated". We made it home, but not before the Lord had a few things to say. 1) is a confirmation of Catherine Brown's word about REBELLION recently posted on several lists. The young need to work with the OLDER generation and vice versa. Both generations are needed for this revival that is coming. The alternator is important to the power in the car; no alternator working, no power. Without the pin in the right position, the alternator would get off balance and not work. 2) The young man gave me the (source of light) his generation will have MUCH power from the Holy spirit (He had given me a new light)and we should let them pray for us. God is giving them something we have never seen Believe me on this one. They will flow with great anointing and it will stun and amaze us if we will listen and be patient with them and their mistakes of learning. 3) The older has much experience and wisdom to impart to the younger generations, if we will listen. The older man gave me an old well worn tool. 4) It is not God's desire to leave out anyone from this revival all we have to do Is humble ourselves before him and ask Him to remove our dross. 5) But we MUST allow the youth to come forward and use their gifts. It will be messy, like our trip home and full of adventure, and trusting in God. We had to keep going. We did not have the money to spend on hotels, plus Rose had to leave the next afternoon. I have no money to fix the van. My friend Chuy is up to finding the right bolt as I write this fixing it for free. He knows I live in trust in God and his family has been blessed with miracle s from our prayers together, even though he has as yet not surrendered his own heart to the Lord, the rest of his immediate family has! God's going to get him soon! Who knows, maybe today will be the day ! 6) There is also a word to the older generation DO NOT BE IN SUCH A HURRY TO GET BACK HOME TO JESUS HE HAS WORK FOR YOU TO DO AND WILL GIVE YOU THE GRACE AND STRENGTH TO DO IT. It says in scripture, "The Lord God Israel gives strength and power to His people." 7) Young people, DO NOT BE IN A HURRY TO GET TO WHERE YOU THINK YOU WANT TO GO GOD HAS A PLAN FOR YOU.

So many times when I have been in need as a single person, since my divorce, it has often been a poor white person, or a hard-working Mexican who has helped me. There have been times the church or family has helped meIt is not my intention to malign the whole church. But the most help has come from a few close friends; my "family" has rarely helped. I have been orphaned at times from my real family, but God has adopted me. And my "family" have been my friends who come from many different Ethnic and Racial backgrounds. God wants ONE CHURCH, ONE HEAD Who is Jesus. Will we listen to Him and to each other ????? Will we work together????? This week with Rose, having a prayer partner for a week, spoiled me to the max what a blessingI am praying the church will come together in loving each other as we do She renewed and refreshed my sense of the love of God for me and what a precious gift that is !!! And she was a physical manifestation of the need to go out two by two.

And if we as the church will step out in FAITH and love the lost as we love themselves, we will have AWAKENING ! Priscilla Van Sutphin Upstream10@hotmail.com <http://upstream.homestead.com>

Unblurred Vision

Becky McLendon

Today I came across some notes I had taken while in Australia last summer from an article by Wade Taylor, "The Realm of Unblurred Vision". It opened this message up to me today This has been a subject very near to me this past couple of years and a vast company of others who have seemingly been deposited in a wilderness...a place of "howling", as it were, to be taught of God the lessons of survival and endurance in order to see the VISION clearly. First off, What is vision. It is NOT what we commonly refer to as vision. EVERY one has A vision...and the common error in Christendom is to BUILD ON THAT VISION. I was discussing Ezekiel 8 with a brother the other day...and the chapter reveals the nature of many "ministers" each worshiping their "vision" rather than THE VISION, which is CHRIST. We get people on OUR bandwagon, have telethons and fund drives and group those around us who will pray OUR vision. And it will seem to flourish for a while then...FIZZLE...it is no longer doing what it was supposed to do. How do we maintain the VISION ...the UNBLURRED VISION...?

Here is a poem by Loyal Marion Thompson:

A mountain tree if it would see
The far horizons and the stars,
May never know a sheltered place
nor grow symmetrical in grace.
Such trees must battle doggedly
The blasts and bear the scars.

The price and reward for those who are pressing on toward the goal of the high calling in Christ Jesus involves wonderful benefits and clear hardships. To press into Christ one may "never know a sheltered place"...a place of comfort and ease. Taylor said, "While struggling to maintain the place of vision, he must continually withstand buffeting forces of a hazardous environment." WHAT??? YOU MEAN WE MIGHT HAVE MORE WILDERNESS TO TRAVERSE? Taylor adds: "Our coming into this realm of unimpaired Spiritual Vision requires a separation from the seemingly good in order to be brought to the best. Therefore many WEIGHTS(acceptable things not born of the spirit) must be laid aside if we would climb higher." Few are willing to ascend the mountain with Him and abide there, for vision always has a price. Many rest in the safety of the sheltered place. The sheltered place "looks good" to the eye, all symmetrical, ordered and elegant. But the sheltered place is NOT on the mountain of Vision. It is the Call of God to ""Come up hither, and I will show you things to come". Song of Songs 2:10 My beloved spake, and said unto me, Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away. Song of Songs 4:8 Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse, with me from Lebanon: look from the top of Amana, from the top of Shenir and Hermon, from the lions' dens, from the mountains of the leopards. Revelation 4:1 After this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter. Wade Taylor goes on to say, "Those who ascend the mountain of vision will never again be able to rest in the safety and security of past experiences or visitations." Those with God's vision are always pressing toward the mountain realm of even greater vision and revelation. I heard Him say last week , "Yet a little while and I will call to you to "Come up hither." " God is ready to impart great vision to those who seek Him. Let us count the cost and go up when He calls. "Come let us go up to the Mountain of Our Lord!!!"
Be Blessed Today,

Using Discernment

USING DISCERNMENT WITH PROPHETIC WORDS

July 24, 00

This is a teaching that I believe is very important for us as the body of Christ. As we grow in our callings and prophetic gifts and abilities, it becomes more and more crucial that these "words" are discerned properly, and that they come from a clean and a pure heart. It becomes very easy for other things to come in that can add a mixture to the pure stream of God's river and prophetic flow. Now, we also don't want to go obviously to the other extreme, where the "spirit will be quenched either," and we "despise prophecy."

(I Thes. 5 19. Do not put out the Spirit's fire; 20. do not treat prophecies with contempt. 21. Test everything. Hold on to the good. 22. Avoid every kind of evil.)

Below then, are four things which become important for us to use as criteria so that we can then properly judge or discern, prophetic words. Hopefully then, we can come to mature manhood as a church, and will be able to know the voice of God as He is calling us to come up higher. Perhaps we know of some of these things, but do we practice them; do we put them to use? If we don't then, we are accepting EVERYTHING that comes our way in a church service, a gathering, conference, or across our computer screens. There are so many voices out there in the world, and there are also perhaps, many "voices" which we have heard and seen from the prophetic community--- some are good and pure; but others leave us with a taste of cardboard and are defiled. To be sure, "We prophesy in part and we know in part," and I am not referring to a type of perfectionism here, but merely so that we can develop and use better discernment towards the prophetic.

CRITERIA:

1. Does it bear witness with your spirit that it is of the Holy Spirit?
  2. Does it line up with the word?
  3. What is the spirit of the prophet? Does it line up with spirit of the message?
  4. Content flow, clarity----Is it simple...is it readable, is it clear...or is it muddled? Does it change persons in the midst of the word?

1.) Here is where discerning of Spirits is important. 29. Two or three prophets should speak, and the others should weigh carefully what is said (I Co. 14) Others should "weigh carefully" what is being said, or "discern" the message, whether it be from God or not.

*It is interesting to note that we are told here in scripture that if something is given to someone else who is sitting down, then they should give their message, and the first speaker should stop. Now, this obviously needs to be done in a decent and orderly fashion. ( 30. And if a revelation comes to someone who is sitting down, the first speaker should stop. 31. For you can all prophesy in turn so that everyone may be instructed and encouraged.) I wonder how often this sort of thing happens. The first speaker then, must have enough sensitivity to know when to stop speaking, so that someone else will be able to speak forth his or her message from the Lord. We also have some solid teaching in I John as well: (1. Dear friends, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, because many false prophets have gone out into the world. 1 John 4)

We need to be more like the Bereans: (Acts 17:11. Now the Bereans were of more noble character than the Thessalonians, for they received the message with great eagerness and examined the Scriptures every day to see if what Paul said was true.) *They examined the scriptures every day and checked to see what Paul was saying was indeed true. We need to be of the same mind.

2.) Obviously the prophetic word needs to have as its basis, the content of what can be substantiated in scripture. Any true prophetic word will not violate or go against the simple truths that may be found in scripture. I believe that those who are young in the prophetic gift prophesy a word from the Lord, which is mostly scripture in content. What I mean here is that much of the prophetic word can be found "word for word" in scripture. As we grow in our maturity and are more experienced with hearing from God, He then can trust us with words that have as their content, more of a directional flow, or are more profound in content. They still will have as their basis and foundation though, the foundational truths which may be found in scripture. In other words, they will build-up and edify, while at the same time, they will point to the severity of God as found in His judgment for a nation or an individual.

3.) By this I mean, is the message angry, does it have a sense of self-pity, or is it coming from a spirit of being hurt? It is so very important that we "empty ourselves," and not carry things inside us that may well cause a root of bitterness to spring up, or that could obstruct the prophetic flow. These things can easily creep in, and taint the message of the word that we speak. We are called to build-up and edify the body of Christ, not to scold or embitter others. Does the message portray attitudes that come out of unhealthy or damaged relationships with others, or can we see a patient and fruitful character portrayed in the word which is given? I am not saying that there will not be judgment in any of these words, nor correction, nor anything less than the "full counsel of God."

4.) God is not the God of confusion, but He wants us to understand what He is saying to us. Thus the message needs to be one of clarity and not to be obscure. (I Co. 14:7. Even in the case of lifeless things that make sounds, such as the flute or harp, how will anyone know what tune is being played unless there is a distinction in the notes? 8. Again, if the trumpet does not sound a clear call, who will get ready for battle? )

(By this I don't mean that it is wrong for a prophetic word to change from a word which is spoken from the Father's heart to that of Christ. It becomes very important who our audience is also in the prophetic word, which is given. There are times I have seen words which say, "My daughter", or "my jewel," and this word has been sent out to the entire body of Christ and even posted on a site. These types of words are NOT meant for the entire body, but are PERSONAL words that should be kept by the individual. In the content of the message are there words which seem to single out the person speaking as if they are more important or "above others?" If so, then the word is coming from a source other than God. We are called as servants not that others would "serve us." We need to ask God for wisdom and ask Him "who" the prophetic word is for and He will inform us. If it is a word for a specific church or group of people, then ask the Lord when and how to deliver it. If it is for an individual or simply something said for one's self, then ask Him about that as well. Finally, if it is for the body of Christ at large, and is "universal" in nature and content, then:

Hab 2: 2. Then the LORD replied: "Write down the revelation and make it plain on tablets so that a herald may run with it. 3. For the revelation awaits an appointed time; it speaks of the end and will not prove false. Though it linger, wait for it; it will certainly come and will not delay."

Uganda Is The Proof

John Mulinde

Friday Fax

Friday Fax 2000 issue 33,
25 August 2000

Uganda: all things are possible for God - Uganda is the proof

"We sometimes hear reports of cities which have been transformed by God's actions. The current events in Uganda, though, are truly extraordinary. We are talking about the transformation of an entire country!" Those are the words of World Trumpet Ministries' John Mulinde. "The glory belongs to God alone, who answered his people's earnest prayers with mercy. Uganda, a nation in the heart of Africa, and the source of the Nile, has a remarkable history. In Idi Amin's time, we experienced an economic disaster, coupled with the destruction of many churches and murder of large numbers of Christians. The civil war in the 1970's and 80's brought renewed suffering; human rights were ignored, whole villages wiped out, and even children were tortured, which can only be described as demonically inspired. Next, the nation was struck by AIDS, which brought indescribable suffering. Thousands were left as orphans, and many families have no breadwinner. In the midst of this suffering, though, a deep cry for help was born in people's hearts, a new seriousness in prayer.

God has answered. Today, Uganda is experiencing a national spiritual revival. Whole villages have experienced a simultaneous outpouring of the Holy Spirit. The economic situation is being transformed, with a steady 6% growth over the past six years, the third-fastest rate in Africa. New buildings and renovations can be seen everywhere.

The most astonishing aspect may be the turn-around in the AIDS situation. Uganda is the only African nation in which the AIDS rate is rapidly dropping. All of these changes happened because the whole nation turned to God in their desperation, crying out in prayer. It was no average prayer, but the deep and lasting prayer characteristic of revival movements. Uganda's churches have matured, and address topics of national interest such as family, education, social justice and erasing poverty. There is a notable unity between the churches; God's Spirit is moving everywhere."

You Have a Destiny in the Father!

Russell Walden

In your spiritual walk to you ever feel like you are lost in the crowd? Milling around aimlessly? Without purpose or focus? Take heart my friend, God has not forgotten you. Men may have disregarded you as a nuisance, or unimportant, but the Father knows you. You ARE a thread in the tapestry of his purpose. Consider just a few verses from Jeremiah chapter one and apply them to your life:

Jeremiah Chapter 1:2 To whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign.

Jeremiah ministered during the reign of Josiah, one of the most popular and righteous kings after Solomon and David. Considering the popularity of Josiah and the seemingly negative bent to Jeremiah's message, we can see the context in which the leaders of his day marginalized him as a kook.

4 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

Notice how Jeremiah interacted with the Spirit of God. He didn't conjure up a word to fit the circumstances of his day. The word of the Lord came to him. This phrase is so often repeated that the significance is overlooked. So-called prophetic ministry today is troubling to me. They gather in their conferences and prophesy one to the other and go away largely unchanged. For the vast number of prophets in the land today what an amazing thing that they have so little impact upon society or even the church they claim to represent.

Perhaps they are speaking unadvisedly. In the old testament and the new there was never a want of prophets who claimed to speak for God. Why is this? Because the people of God are hungry to hear his word. And they will support and uphold the ministry of anyone who convincingly speaks for the Almighty. But where is the long term impact?

There are many "schools of the prophets" today, but look in the scriptures: there was never a viable ministry or voice for God that came out of the prophetic groups in bible history.

The most effective and memorable prophets were isolated men, who being social creatures, suffered horrible loneliness, and rejection.

Are you a called man or woman of God? Isolate yourself. Seek the face of God before you seek the face of man. Don't spend your energies posturing and preening in the company of your peers. Remember the words of Jesus: "We piped... you haven't danced, we lamented and you haven't mourned..."

Set yourself apart until you are more VERTICALLY connected to God and in communion with him, than you are HORIZONTALLY or laterally connected with men. Then and only then can you have a viable ministry that will actually help others rather than a pointless effort bobbing in the side currents and eddies of God's purpose.

5 Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee, [and] I ordained thee a prophet unto the nations. {ordained: Heb. gave}

Before you were conceived in your mother's womb, the Father of Lights knew you. He was intimate with you and in communion with you.

Your call, and your purpose in God is not the outworking of the forces of time and circumstance. Many walk in a "call" that is only the outcome of natural events. They have never sought out or embraced the purpose of God, or the call of God that was established in them before the foundation of the world was laid.

You have a destiny. You have a purpose. Before you came out of the birth canal the Father sanctified you, he set you apart for HIS plan and his special purpose.

He ordained you before there was time. He delivered you up upon the altar of his greater purpose. You are not an accident, the Kingdom of God is not a mere hobby or past time. The Father galvanized his purpose and plan in your life before your mother ever saw you for the first time.

And THAT plan is the one you must feel after and follow out to its conclusion. Every promise of God is fulfilled as you walk that journey. The provisions of God for you are found along that path. Many people cry out to God, questioning why they are aren't experiencing the blessings of God.

The blessing of God will continually be anemic in your experience until you seek out and commit yourself to the Father's will for your life.

Do you question whether you can know the will of God? No problem. He doesn't hold you responsible for finding out his will for your life, he holds HIMSELF responsible. He WILL communicate to you in such a manner, in WHATEVER manner is necessary to overwhelmingly convince you what his plan is for your life. YOUR RESPONSIBILITY then is two-fold: 1. To inquire concerning God's plan for your life. 2. To submit to and follow it out in obedience and commitment.

6 Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! behold, I cannot speak: for I [am] a child.

The father never calls you to that for which you are qualified or well suited. The greatest musicians and worship leaders are those who in reality don't truly have great talent or natural ability. Those in music with large talent and skill are seldom used of God, and if they attempt to use their skills their ego gets in the way and obscures the message of the kingdom.

Are you overwhelmed by your shortcomings? Good, God resists the proud but gives grace to the humble. Nothing humbles a person more than standing face to face with their own ineptitude and inability. As you seek to fulfill God's purposes in your life, don't rely on your strengths, they will often mislead you. Lean on your weaknesses. In the kingdom of God your weaknesses are your greatest assets. For when your weakness is most glaringly evident, God's glory is most graciously in view.

7 But the LORD said unto me, Say not, I [am] a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak.

You don't have to admit your failings. They are painfully obvious to even the most casual observer. When you stand and deliver, don't refer to yourself. You aren't representing yourself. Say what the Father says. Give his words and not your own. Get your ego out of the way.

Where will you go? Where the Father sends you. How will he send you? He will direct you by his spirit, through the inward witness. He will guide you through the opening of doors of opportunity. Don't kick down doors of opportunity. They might open and lead you to disaster. Go through the doors that the Father opens before you and conduct yourself as the mouthpiece of God.

Are you where the Lord wants you? Fine, but hold everything loosely and remember his plan is not graven in stone, its written in sand. Things change. People change. He will move you on, often from relationships and place you thought were permanent fixtures in your life.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I [am] with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD.

Close your eyes and your ears to your detractors. Peter stepped out of the boat against the advice of 11 of the best preachers of his day.

Your friends and mentors are always ready to fellowship with you in failure. They will forgive you anything except success. They will tolerate anything except following the leading of the Lord outside their sphere of influence. They can't help themselves. They are creatures of emotion, insecurity and dependence. They need to influence you and control you in order to validate themselves.

Lovingly, but firmly withdraw yourself from these influences. As leeches they will sap your spiritual strength and keep you from the path that the Father would have you walk in.

9 Then the LORD put forth his hand, and touched my mouth. And the LORD said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth.

If you seek the Father's face, you will see his hand. How many ministers and Christians immerse themselves in spiritual activity and vocation, WITHOUT the touch of God. They employ their skill, their intellect, their charisma but there is no resonance of God's power or presence in anything they do.

The simple touch of God in your life is the only asset your ministry has. Father touch us. Touch our hearts and lives. Touch our mouths, our pens and cause us to emanate with your grace, power and glory, to the eclipse of all that we are or could be in the natural realm.

10 See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant.

Having been brought forth according to God's purpose, you must then understand the divine activity in which he will employ you.

Many talk about "prophets and apostles" today. Largely, they are frauds and charlatans. True prophets will not mince and prance within the confines of organized religion like trained monkeys while the pastor plays the role of organ grinder.

True prophets tear down what needs to be torn down. They root out and destroy. They throw down the sacred cows, the carnal programs, the reputations of worldly church leaders and backslidden pastors. If a true prophet were to step foot in the average church today, the gravediggers would be working overtime the next week. Ananias and Saphirra are examples of this.

True apostles never build on another man's foundation. They are TRUE spiritual fathers, not STEP fathers. How many so-called apostles carry on today as surrogate "fathers-in-the-lord". When they haven't "brought to the birth" in the lives of their followers. They haven't laid any foundation of their own. They are simply religious multi-level-marketers seeking to broaden their base of support.

Be Bold! Be firm in your resolve! Expect the Father to give you his guidance, then follow that guidance wherever it leads. Every promise and every good thing the Bible promises you is laid up in store on that road leading to the Father's grand purpose for your life!

Unity For Revival

J Conrad Lampan

I the last post I wrote about the "waves of revival" and I mentioned that God is cleansing His church and "re-accommodating" things so we can get ready for the next greatest (and probably last) revival this earth will have.

God is separating "waters". He is calling the church to a closer walk with Him; intimacy with the Holy Spirit and necessary to this: Holiness. I think that all revivals in these last years are just samples of what comes next. God showed us what He wants to do and is showing us how it will be done: letting Him do it! It is His revival after all.

One important issue about revival is that there has to be unity but not the kind of unity that develops around a common project. We can come up with many city-wide, nation-wide, inter-denominational project that is not necessarily unity. It is unity around the "person" not the project, it is unity around the Holy Spirit. We have had way too many common projects.

How will it happen? We should seek the face of God for His sake and not for the sake of revival! When we seek His presence He produces the kind of unity that prepares the ground for and outpouring of the Holy Spirit. The 120 in the upper room were expecting something from God but they did not have the slightest idea of what they were expecting! They were probably as surprised as the rest when it happened! They were not doing anything and they did not have any plan other than wait upon the Lord! All together in one place in one accord . . . seeking God's face! Now, to do this we cannot cling to our private feuds anymore. He is in control or we are in control not both.

There seem to be two groups of people growing in these days. One: people that are getting intimate with God, people that are seeking God's face no matter what, hungering for His presence, it might have began with a sincere cry for revival in the Land but now they are just seeking God's face and letting Him bring revival in His appointed time! These are the people that God is knitting together into a spiritual unity that ultimately will use to usher revival. People that will receive God's blessing and be vessels of His blessings precisely because they did not seek the blessings but the face of the Blessor!

The other group is composed by people who are not willing to take a public stand for God neither to abandon themselves to the presence of God. God is crying out "Choose today whom will you serve" To make such a choice might mean to stand out of our, group, out of our structure, and out of our plans. Means to leave the privacy of our own "feuds" for the sake of God's kingdom. When the Apostles were filled with the Holy Spirit they were not in their houses, or in their "churches" or in their plans or activities.

We have made such an issue of our privacy so that we do not allow anybody to tell us what to do, not even God. We so much cling to our privacy that it has become isolation. And many ministers are applying this principle to their churches. We have some churches so "shelled in" that not even the Holy Spirit can penetrate them! They want revival, they want God to bless them but they try to manipulate God! No unity is possible then. I am not speaking against privacy but against isolation because that is exactly what the Devil wants: to keep us separate so we don't see God's plans!

Jesus said to Levi "Follow me" and He kept walking. Matthew had to make a quick decision: either he followed Jesus immediately or he would miss the opportunity. We have the opportunity of being part of the last harvest or look from the outside. There will be no "Second Call" because this is already the second call!

In history of all revivals they were ushered by people that had nothing to lose. In human sight they were the people "not wanted" or the people that had no talent, or people that even being gifted people they lost it all in Jesus. All means all: desires, churches, ministries, all belong to Jesus.

There is not and there cannot be such a thing as "we have a church, and organizational structure, we have a way of doing things that has proven effective...we just need more power from God"

There is not either "we deserve it" for whatever reason. Revivals come at the sovereign will of God. Read the Bible, read history of revivals, whenever people gathered to just seek the face of God the result was revival!

In some sense we have people and even whole churches that have a "hardened" heart like Pharaoh because they have made a decision to follow after their own plans. God is letting it happened like He did with Pharaoh because His goal was then and still is TO SHOW HIS GLORY. He simply cannot show His Glory through our fleshly human constructions. Revival comes to show His Glory not to give glory to a church or ministry. Moses, the man that spoke to God face to face was not allowed to enter the promised land because he let, just for a moment of anger when he hit the rock, his flesh interfere with God.

Can anybody explain why so many churches are literally dying - in all denominations- and other churches are experiencing amazing growth under the power of the Holy Spirit? God is letting the hearts of those who chose their own way to be hardened so they will not interfere with God's plans.

There is a process of unity going on. God is doing it, but in His own way. He is really serious about His plans. He will fulfill His plans with us or without us. This process of unity though not seen in full stage yet can be hinted when we take a look around and see -one here, one there- people that are hungering for Gods presence, people that are getting so desperate for God's presence that they are ready to cry out "God I want your presence even if it kills me!"

Hope this insight blessed you. In the next (and last) post of this series I will share about the principle of Authority that is also needed if we want revival.

Be blessed

Vision for the Church

There was a desert-a place full of sand as far as the eye could see. All across there were leather "bags". These sacks were made to hold water, wine, and oil. They were empty appearing, although deep, deep inside the residue of what they had contained was evident and remained to this day. It is true some had indeed dried up, some had become rancid and spoiled and even changed from sweet to bitter. These bags were tough though and although wrinkled, cracked, dried, and worn from the time that had past; and the elements of wind and rain and scorching heat they had been exposed to, they had not been destroyed them.

*Note the inside of these sacks was still in tack and holding what was unseen and hidden.

As I walked I discovered on the scene a broken rust covered chain that looked small and flimsy. I guess it had been forgotten and left alone. After I picked it up, I noticed an old Ferris wheel and was drawn towards it. As I got closer, I could hear music still playing, almost inviting me to hurry up. I could not understand this since the wheel was in obvious need of repair and the chain was missing. It needed to be painted, and most of the seats were broken. It could not still be useful due to being time worn and weather beaten.

But oh, the song! It was so loud and clear and sweet and inviting. I almost expected someone to appear and offer me a ride!!!!

Word from the Lord:

There are two groups of people I am approaching at this time. Both of which have developed according to My schedule. First I speak to My faithful ones. Some of you have thought I have taken to long to come and refresh you. You attempted to wash yourselves up, put on clean clothes, and continue on the journey. I have more for you. It is I who has awaited this day. It is time for you to taste that of which has been waiting for you. I come now to pour out My fresh water and wine and oil. The oil flows freely for you My faithful. By My own Hand I remove the tough, leathery covering that has kept you. Although you have been encased in safety, you have been hindered in movement. I release you in order for the oil to have its way within you, for then the wine shall flow freely and in abundance with living waters from your midst. I grant new life, moving and breathing. Do not laugh as Sarah did! I declare new life comes with the oil to make your hearts merry and to give you joy. As your heart continues to beat in step with Mine, a new rhythm shall be felt and heard and made evident. You shall be able to function as intended when first filled with the water and wine and oil of My Spirit. Yes some have with persistence and determination held on to what was first granted, Yet I say this day---let it go. Let it go and be filled a new!

You had longed for the return of My Son, and the stirring of that desire is being fanned by My Breadth once again. Hear My word to you. It is the children, the generation of the righteous whose cries I hear day and night. In your behalf they have turned to Me as you use to do. I come now in response to their pleas. It is your children who shall herald in the return of glory. They look for and hasten the day, each day from across the face of the earth. It is they who have led the way to this out pouring. I am a faithful God, faithful to all generations. The chain you saw so small and weak and broken in appearance is also being lubricated by the oil of My presence. It's name is Unity. Look now, I am being faithful to your fathers. I was faithful to their fathers, and to their fathers, fathers. I continue in My faithfulness to you. I now demonstrate My faithfulness to this generation, this chosen generation. As the chain of Unity is being secured in place, look. It is shiny and bright with the oil and polishing of My love. It is made of silver and reflects the light of My redemptive power. The wheel is beginning to turn in time with the sound of worship erupting. As the wheel turns, again it is the same song that Moses and Noah and David heard. It is the sound of joy in my people and victory in their land.

As your children sit their rightful place with Me , your "pouch" (that bag from the desert scene) covers the handle of the wheel and they are launched to arrive where assigned. They shall not spin round and round as you have done. Not just prophesy is being place in them--but true prophets are arising. Not just those who can pray for the sick--but workers of miracles are in your midst. Not just those trained to pray--but ones anointed with the mantle of intercession come before Me. Not just those who set their minds on things above--but true seers into My kingdom now walk the land. This is MY anointing, and it doesn't just break the yoke, it destroys it, never to function again over your lives, or theirs!

So come now all of you and join in the sound of the song rising to the throne of grace and mercy. I free you from the pain of your own judgment, and that of one another. I alone am the judge and My decree of Freedom is being proclaimed loud and clear through the bond of love now functioning in unity once again.

Undone

Becky McLendon

I have been getting the word UNDONE in many situations concerning my walk with the Lord. Night before last one of the most vicious storms I have witnessed in East Texas hit us. Violent lightning flashes and thunder crashes ...complete with golf ball sized hail. My husband and I watched the hail slam into our windows, knowing that we would have two "dimpled" cars the next morning. I was awestruck, yet fearful of the power of this storm, especially since the wind was switching directions so rapidly. We ducked into a safe room once, just in case.

Later after we had returned to bed, the Lord spoke to my spirit: "My Glory is in this storm." I must have mumbled from under the comforter which was over my head..."HUH?" because He repeated it: "My Glory is in this storm." I replied, then I AM UNDONE.

Isaiah said that when He saw the Lord high and lifted up in the temple.

"Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips; for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of Hosts." (Is 6:5)

UNDONE: Comes from the Hebrew word DHAMAH, meaning to cease, to rest, to be silent, to be quiet, to make an end, to destroy, to lay waste to desolate, to be destroyed, to perish. Isaiah felt that way in the presence of the glory of GOD. I get in all this a sense of being unraveled, taken down, unwrapped, disclosed, brought to naught. And that is EXACTLY how I felt in the midst of that storm, knowing that God's GLORY was in it..

Lord, I know at this time there is no way we can stand in your glory. We are trusting YOU to bring us to a place of being undone so we can receive the burning coal on our lips, making us pure in heart so that we CAN stand in the glory. AMEN.

I don't know about you, but i want all iniquity taken from my heart. All impure thoughts and attitudes...BE GONE. Trust God when he UNDOES you, he is taking you down to bring you through!!! He is grinding old broken vessels into fine dust so he can add the WATER and RE DO YOU into a vessel worthy of his service.

Love each and every one of you in Christ Jesus

Becky

For God speaketh once, yea twice, yet man perceiveth it not; In a dream, in a vision of the night, when deep sleep falleth upon men, in slumberings upon the bed; Then he openeth the ears of men, and sealeth their instruction, That he may withdraw man from his purpose, and hide pride from man. A Nuclear Strike On America

And the Deliverance of God's People

By Evangelist Ed Hawk Graham

<http://www.forestdrakeministries.com/storms.html>

It was the Lord's day, Sunday 2-28-99. I had been studying God's word all day and praying that the Lord would give me a fresh word concerning the storm of His judgment upon America.

As I prayed, I fell off into a deep sleep and the next thing I knew, I was standing outside preaching to a great many people of the coming storm. I kept preaching over and over that all who trust in the Lord and believe in His warning should start to prepare themselves for the coming storm. As I preached, many started to prepare, but others just laughed at my words of warning and went on their way. I saw many families split as the ones that didn't believe in the coming storm departed from the ones that believed in God's warnings and were starting to prepare themselves. As I watched the believers prepare; the nonbelievers just went about as nothing would ever happen to them.

I continued to preach of the coming storm to all who would hear the warning. As I preached, we all heard the sound of a large plane going over our heads. As we all looked up, we saw that it was not a plane at all, but a I.C.B.M. nuclear missile on its way to its target. We all watched as the missile crossed the sky and disappeared out of sight. All at once, we saw a very large mushroom cloud going higher and higher into the sky.

I looked at all the people before me and told them the storm was upon us. I then yelled, "All who have trusted in the Lord and His warnings, take cover as God's judgment is now upon this country". I looked once again and the mushroom cloud had now started to recoil back to the earth. I yelled one last warning for all who believed God's warning to take cover. As I watched, I saw all who would not believe the warning just go about as if nothing was about to happen. I started to pray in the spirit as I watched the nuclear cloud cross the land before me, demolishing everything in its path. Just before it reached me, I took one last look to see that all who trusted in the Lord's warnings made it to their shelters.

As I lifted the door of my shelter and went inside, the door closed behind me as the power of the storm hit the ground. As I cleared my eyes, I saw that my whole family had taken God's warning and were in the shelter with me. We all started to praise the Lord for His protection. As I looked around in the shelter there was more than enough food and water to last through the storm.

For what would become many months, the storm raged on and we remained in the shelter of the Lord. Each and every day we became closer and closer to the Lord as the things of the world were being stripped away through the storm of His judgment.

All at once, there was a great calm and the Lord moved me to open the door of our shelter. As I prayed in the spirit, I opened the shelter door and stepped outside. As I stepped out, I found myself looking at all the destruction the nuclear strike had caused. I then found myself calling to all who trusted in the Lord's warning to come forth. When I said this, one shelter door after another started to come open and God's people started to come out of the ground untouched.

Because they trusted in the Lord's warning, He had kept them through the storm. We all started walking across the land and we could see that all who did not trust in the Lord's warnings, were lost in the storm.

We all started to praise the Lord and I woke up from my dream. For the next few hours, I found myself praising the Lord Jesus for His protection for all who trust in His warnings of the coming storm as I prayed the Lord placed three verses upon my heart all in PSALMS. Psalms 22:4-5, which says, "Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them", they cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded. Psalm 32:7-8, which says, "Thou art my hiding space, thou shalt preserve me from trouble; thou shalt compass me about with song of deliverance, "Selah" I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go; I will guide thee with mine eye. Psalm 91:10-11, which says, "There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plagues come high thy dwelling. For He shall give His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

TREMBLE YE WOMEN THAT ARE AT EASE ISAIAH 32:9-15 David Eells

For God speaketh once, yea twice, yet man perceiveth it not; In a dream, in a vision of the night, when deep sleep falleth upon men, in slumberings upon the bed; Then he openeth the ears of men, and sealeth their instruction, That he may withdraw man from his purpose, and hide pride from man. He keepeth back his soul from the pit, and his life from perishing by the sword. JOB 33: 14 - 18

Greetings in Jesus Name: (Please look up the verses as you read this.) Several years ago I prayed over our children and asked God to give a dream or vision concerning our future. God did this; and He gave Justin, my youngest son, an open vision. He saw a large ship full of people on the sea. The right side of the ship was full of people dressed in white, while on the left they were in black ( like the sheep and the goats [Rom. 13:11-14 and Rev. 19:8] ). A jet plane suddenly swooped down and shot a rocket at the ship and sank it. The people in black could not swim and sank. (The water represents the curse of the Word as in Noah's case.) Those in white swam around and built a new, smaller ship with the pieces and a smaller motor. At that time God gave me the interpretation that he through judgment would separate the apostate Christians from among His people (Babylon from among true followers). He that overcometh shall thus be arrayed in white garments and I will in no wise blot his name out of the book of life (Rev.3:4,5).

Recently (6-96), I had two very vivid dreams. First, I saw military bases in the U.S. being bombed and strafed. In the second dream, I was on one military base and saw a massive desertion of the military. I read the minds of military leaders who were fearful and confused. I saw leaders begging their general for orders saying, "We're being attacked. We must have orders." The general replied very anxiously, "I have received no orders; I don't know what to do." I knew that this was a large scale invasion of the U.S. I saw a group of deserters with keys in their hands looking for the military vehicles that their individual key fit. I rode with one of them as he frantically tried to get to his family in the South. An invasion front blocked his path; sadly, he had to turn around.

I have learned from experience that my dreams and visions are true; but for the sake of those that will hear me, I asked God for a confirmation. He said, "I've already given you one--Justin's vision!" The Lord showed me there were two interpretations to that vision. Both the religious Babylon of apostate religion and the civil or secular Babylon of the U.S. would be like a ship sunk in the ocean! ( Rev. 18:21, Jer. 51:64) But those dressed in white (Rev. 19:8, Rom. 13:11-14) will be saved. More recently (7-96), I saw the United States stretched out before me; and above and parallel to it, was a veil. Above the veil was a gigantic bomb hanging from a string! The United States was as if it were water teeming with fish. The fish were under the bomb, but they could not see it for the veil. It was then that I noticed a fishing pole in my hand. (Thanks, Lord, for this gift.) Standing where I was, if I caught the fish, they would be able to see the bomb and be out from under it. I live in the U.S. and have no orders to move, but I was out from under the judgment of the bomb (Ps. 91). The Lord is going to preserve through the midst of this judgment the hearers and doers of His Word (Mt. 7:24-27) because righteousness delivereth from death (Pr. 11:4,6). Afterwards God will prepare a table in the wilderness of the U.S. Then God's people will once again learn to receive deliverance, provision, and healing from Him and not from the arm of the flesh (Jer.17:5). When Egypt is destroyed, Israel will go into the wilderness to learn to trust in His salvation. When Babylon is destroyed, Israel will go back to their Land of Promise (promises) and build the New Jerusalem.

I visited a small church recently (my first time there), and a young Christian stood and testified that he had seen a vision. He said he saw nuclear missiles coming to the U.S. Then he saw the "Welcome to Warrington" sign, and there was nothing but a great huge crater in the area. He saw some Christians getting up off the ground, dusting themselves off, and going on. He saw this small church, which is in Warrington, with Christians inside and out. A foreign military convoy pulled up. The soldiers got out and pointed their weapons at the Christians. White spirit beings (angels) passed between the soldiers and the Christians, and the soldiers tumbled over backwards. A nuclear missile would wipe out Warrington and this church, but obviously God is saying that a "small church" would be preserved through the midst of the catastrophe. After this a lady testified that she had just seen great fireballs falling from the sky. I stood and testified of a dream and a vision of the same type as these. Another woman stood and prophesied that some standing there would be martyred for the cause of Christ. Sadly, the pastor got up the next Sunday and threw all of God's warning out the window, saying the rapture would happen first.

Wishful thinking should not get between us and the truth. In 70 A.D. the Christians who took Jesus' warning in Matthew 24:16-18 seriously were saved, and those who did not were destroyed! When the Turks invaded Armenia, the Christians who believed in the Word, dreams, visions, and prophecies escaped while over two million of those who did not were killed. In Europe before WW II, Christians of all types received dreams and visions of the coming destruction. This was well documented. Throughout Christian history God has done this before judging a country. Now it is happening all across the U.S. Many of these dreams and visions (like the ones in this writing) say clearly that the rapture will not happen before God judges the U.S. I am not talking about whether the rapture comes before or after the tribulation. God will judge the U.S. first (1 Peter 4:17), before the tribulation as an example to the world. After all, the U.S. is the leading exporter of the following evils: pornography, low life movies, fornication, abortion, weapons of war, backslidden religion, and materialistic love of the world. So do not listen to the wishful thinkers. Listen to God and prepare your soul! Ask God to give you and your family dreams and visions about the future of the U.S. He promised He would in Acts 2:17-18. Pray and cultivate a close relationship with our Lord and learn to hear His voice.

Curt's dream #1: "In my dream I awoke to crying and screaming. Explosions of bombs were everywhere. Everyone was running trying to find a place of safety. There was no safety. No building was left standing. Nothing was recognizable. Black smoke was everywhere. No one was in charge. Everything was chaotic and crazy. Missiles were coming in from submarines off the coasts of the Atlantic and the Pacific. We didn't have a chance. It all happened so suddenly. Destruction seemed to be all over America."

On Ray Brubaker's prophecy news show, it was said that God spoke to their producer that something ominous (sign of something to come) would happen on Dec. 8th.. What came to light was that the Russian nuclear missile subs were caught on the East and West Coasts, inside territorial waters, opposite our missile silos; and their attack subs were tailing our nuclear subs.

Eleven years ago the Lord appeared to me as a King. He ushered me into a great palace, that I now believe to represent the New Jerusalem. He showed me in this palace a tower that was built of logs like a log cabin but narrowing toward the top, where there was a place to stand. He said, "I want you to have this." He also showed me a payment book with so much a month in it. I have lived on an average of that amount coming miraculously from many directions, ever since. After this, in a vision, I was caught up high above Baton Rouge, Louisiana, where I lived. As I looked toward Florida, I saw that tower in Pensacola. A few months later God had miraculously bought me a house and car free and paid for in Pensacola, Florida, where I now live. Only recently have I really understood the meaning of the tower. The tower to the Jews was a place of refuge from an invading enemy as in Judges 9:46,51. From 887 B.C. Israel was at war every seventeen years for a period of fifteen cycles until 631 B.C. when Israel and Judah were taken captive and ceased to be nations (II Kings 18:9-13), the only city to escape capture, was Jerusalem (II Kings 19:31-34), which was called the tower of the flock in Micah 4:8. Only those in the tower escaped the invasion! Now history must repeat itself (Ecl.1: 9-11). These things happened unto them by way of example; and they were written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the ages are come ( I Cor.10:11). The U.S. is in a war every seventeen years and we are now at the fifteenth cycle when in Israel and Judah all was destroyed but Jerusalem, the Tower of the Flock! (See Addendum A) It is obvious that God is dealing with the U.S. as he did with Israel. He made an example of them to the world when they fell into apostasy--even to the extent of destroying them as a nation! Who will be in the tower of Zion? Ps.15, Ps.24 and Ps. 91 tell us. Pr.18:10 says, "The name (Heb; nature, character, authority) of the Lord is a strong tower; the righteous runneth into it and is set on high." Paul commanded, "Whatsoever you do in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus." This is not "saying" the name but abiding in it. Each of us should be building this tower of the name (nature) of Jesus in our lives, by counting the cost and bearing the cross (Lk.14:26-28 ). Those who don't will perish in the coming judgment ( Matthew 5:13).

Curt's dream #2: "In this dream I awoke and was on the top of what seemed to be a lighthouse. I could see nothing but rising water across the far side of the tower. Suddenly I felt the water which had risen to my feet and was rising fast. Off to the left in the distance was a row of hills that seemed to have spotlights on them. There were some people in the tower, and I was talking to them. I don't know who they were. The next thing I knew the water covered everything, including the hills; but we who had been in the tower were on debris afloat on the water." There is a flood of destruction coming, but those abiding in the tower will be saved.

Friend in Christ, if you are convicted that you are not where you need to be in Christ then turn your faith toward God. Faith is the "victory that overcomes the world" (1 John 5:4). Faith is calling the things that are not as though they were" (Rom. 4:17) until they come to pass. We must be "seeing that His divine power hath granted unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness...whereby He hath granted unto us His precious and exceeding great promises that through these you may become partakers of the divine nature having escaped from the corruption that is in the world by lust" (II Peter 1:3-4).

Christ made you "free from sin" (Rom. 6:18,22) so why should you "live any longer therein?" (verse 2) for you were "delivered out of the power of darkness" (Colossians 1:13) so "reckon yourselves to be dead unto sin but alive unto God" and "let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body that you should obey the lusts thereof"(Rom. 6:11,12). "if you live after the flesh, you must die; but if by the Spirit (God's power) you put to death the deeds of the body, you shall live. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are the sons of God" (Rom. 8:13,14). Believe God's promises and escape the lusts of the flesh. "Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God (II Cor. 7:1).

Unity

Dan Root

July 6

I have given them the glory that you gave me, that they may be one as we are one: I in them and you in me. May they be brought to complete unity to let the world know that you sent me and have loved them even as you have loved me. John 17:22-23

This prayer by Jesus only hours before His death has been called the "last unanswered prayer." Jesus repeated Himself so many times regarding unity that we must conclude that the concept was and is at the top of His priorities for His Church. Jesus' great passion for His disciples to be unified was very extreme. His expressed longing came as the final words of a man who knew he was about to die. He asked our Father 5 times in one prayer (John 17) to bring His disciples to complete unity.

Jesus did not ask the Father for partial unity or superficial unity! He asked for divine, perfect and complete unity! He referred first to the Father and Himself as a role model of perfect unity. He reflected on how He had received glory from the Father and given the same divine glory to His disciples so that they would be united in purpose and love and power in order for the lost to be found! The Son of Man knew that if He were lifted up among men, all fallen men could be drawn to Him. This could not happen without supernatural Kingdom unity.

Are we living out this passionate prayer that Jesus submitted to our Father in Heaven? Do we allow the glory that comes from above, the same glory that was with Jesus, to be demonstrated in power and grace in one another without criticizing each other? Do we allow His presence to encourage us in divine relationships established in heavenly places for the purpose of a Kingdom much greater than anything man can build? If not, we are missing the mark and living a contradiction to our LORD and Savior's great longing for us.

Application How do we facilitate this kind of unity? What must we do to be saved from our own vain pursuits and agendas at the expense of what the Holy One wants to do through us in unity? We must turn away from anything that brings disunity caused by human selfishness. We must encourage others that His Truth cannot be partially received. It must be fully received and because some will not receive His full truth, there will be divisions but not because of our ungodly behavior. Those divisions will arise due to disobedience and unbelief.

Thus, we must focus on what we do have control over through the grace of Christ within us. Starting with our LORD, we can become one with Him through moment by moment fellowship and obedience to His words of Truth and the love-sustaining power of His blood. We can ask Him to be with us through every trial and temptation that we face and know beyond a doubt that He will never leave us or betray us regardless of what people may do. We can also learn to identify the thoughts and imaginations that so often infiltrate God's people. We must quickly refute and bind falsehood, treachery and human vanity. As Paul stated, "We are casting down imaginations and every high thought that exalts itself against the knowledge of God (including the unity He requires) and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ. (2 Corinthians 10:5)

Finally, we can each learn to recognize the interconnectedness of the LORD's Kingdom and acknowledge that relationships, expressions and persuasions that may be unfamiliar to us, may actually be a part of the LORD's diverse bodily expression. We must be slow to judge and quick to celebrate with those who rejoice and weep with those who weep so that as one entire universal Bride, we see ourselves becoming the expressed completion of what Jesus began. <||><

Unleashing My Fury! Harley Hickling

September 30, 1999

As the trumpet call goes forth I say to My warriors, arise, as on Eagles wings and retake the high places the Prince of this world has laid claim too since his victory in the garden for I have prepared and equipped you My servants for a time such as this! I will no longer tolerate his control of these many high places for it is now time for his dominion in these places to be not only canceled out but to be utterly crushed and utterly destroyed as well! No longer will I permit his demons to have access to these places from which they have launched with total impunity their many attacks upon my people for I Am unleashing My servants and My fury upon these who have brought one assault after another upon My beloved, truly believing that they will be able to continue to use these launching sites for their attacks till the end of time. They are in for a very harsh awakening for they shall soon be confronted by My servants with the rod of iron within their grasp and the authority that its presence entails and they will know instantly that the end of time as they have known it is indeed about to end quickly. With the great authority that I have entrusted My servants they shall crush those who are in rebellion against Me for as My servants smite these high places with the rod of iron, the portal to the Abyss shall be opened and the demons departure assured. Those among the enemy present will be rapidly reduced to trembling, fear and dismay as the awareness of their utter defeat becomes a painful reality to them, for they shall be escorted by warrior angels into the Abyss itself where their fate shall be forever sealed. By My power My servants shall utterly destroy these high places in totality reducing them to ashes, for these places shall never again be used by the servants of Satan in their efforts to dominate and control My children. The absolute destruction of every high place shall cause a giant ripple of chaos and fear to spread rapidly throughout every sector of Satan's kingdom for this opening salvo against his purposes and plans shall cause Satan not only to blink his eyes but to cower and cringe in abject fear for the loss of these high places will be of great significance to him and one that he knows portends his ultimate and final defeat. Because of this devastating sweep he will soon find that uncounted multitudes of those that I have chosen for Myself, those that have been chained and held in his bondage shall be suddenly released from their shackles and shall soon be harvested into My barns for indeed is not the wheat both white and heavy and ready for harvest?

Listen for the sound of the Trumpet My servants! Go forth in my power and authority and reduce Satan's high places to ashes!

My Over Flooding Presence Harley Hickling

October 1, 2000

Daily I hear from many of My children complaints concerning the dryness they are experiencing in their relationship with Me. I would say to you who are experiencing this drought, in particular, and to all of My children in general, that you need to reassess your experience in Me for I have indeed opened up the Heavenly flood gates and My rain is pouring out as never before upon all who are sensitive to My presence. Not only is there a downpour from above but I tell you My River is also in flood stage breaking forth from its banks inundating vast areas with My loving presence and power. Just as in the natural, where I have stored away vast quantities of water in subterranean vaults so I shall I be breaking loose huge quantities of My spiritual water from the many spiritual vaults contained throughout the earth. This loving resource I have stored for this time. When this huge loving force breaks forth, a general flood shall appear everywhere, and when it does My loving presence and power shall over flood each and every one of you who are actively seeking My presence no matter where you may be.

Having said this one might ask, why have you sealed vast vaults of your loving presence for a time such as now? My answer. Many, who the blood of my son covers, can see Me only dimly and many, many more can see me not at all. Many would believe that that is just the way it is. But this is not so for I have decided to change the rules of how the game of life is played out in your world. I shall no longer remain a passive observer of all that transpires for I have decided to become an active player. A player determined to win those who belong to me. And what keeps this multitude from seeing me is primarily the other gods of your world that have their attention. In descending order of importance these gods are 1. the trappings of mammon, 2. personal comfort zones and 3. peace and security. I Am very soon about to strip away every vestige of the trappings of mammon throughout your world. Wealth and prosperity shall soon be a thing of the past. Even the greatly wealthy will experience great personal disruptions. Multitudes throughout your world will be greatly stunned and affected by that which will soon be upon them A great shifting away from that which now currently is will turn many a life upside down, but in My stripping away of mammon, many who are now blind will be able to see Me and to see Me more clearly. Those who see Me and seek Me shall find Me and shall be surrounded by the loving flood and power that shall already be in place around them. Those who still find trouble in seeing Me I shall remove that in which they find comforting whether it is their fat 401k retirement program, their homes, their place of employment or even the church they attend which hasn't taken Me seriously, in years, if ever. With the blockages of comfort removed even more shall see Me and take Me seriously. When they do, they too will experience My loving presence and will know that though their world is now topsy turvy everything will be okay if they remain fixed upon the Lord their God. Yet there will still be vast numbers who will continue to hold out for the things of this world for their hearts have become hardened towards me. These then will experience the loss of all their peace and security as your world breaks out in many and various violent wars bringing about great destruction. The nations of mammon will not escape this judgment. Even a million intercessors will not change this outcome for those of you that have taken on this burden have not received that burden from Me. Your prayers are in fact in direct opposition to My purposes and intent and I would suggest you reconsider that which you are doing. Yet even among those who hearts have been hardened there will still be a few who will finally be able to see Me and to receive My love from that source that will still be present and available.

Those of you who seek Me with all your heart will experience this great presence of My love throughout all that which is about to transpire as I go about changing your world in very drastic ways. These will find security, guidance, comfort and provision in the shelter of My wings and throughout all that which will soon begin to transpire My beloved will experience My over flooding presence of love and power continually.

Unnamed Among the Mighty

Bryan Hupperts

When my Chinese-Malaysian wife Cyndi and I married she took my very German last name and became known as a Hupperts. I like to claim that she is from the Far Eastern side of Germany because, well, she looks Chinese! There is no fair skin, blonde hair, or blue eyes on her side of the family. Still, because of our marriage covenant, she is honorable named with my family.

There is such momentum in this world to make a great name for yourself. The people at the famed Tower of Babel said, in Genesis 11: 4, "Let us make a name for ourselves." The desire for notoriety and greatness is strong. The desire for fame and glory has ruined many of Gods' people.

There is a way to achieve greatness and glory and yet be unnamed among the mighty saints of God! There is a story about three unnamed soldiers in King David's army told in 1 Chronicles 11:15-19. It's lengthy tale so I won't quote it all.

The hated Philistines had a military stronghold in Bethlehem. David and his men were on a military campaign and were holed up about 13 miles from Bethlehem hiding in a cave called Adullam. This is the same cave where those who were in debt, or were wanted for crimes, began to gather together with David and became his army.

David was homesick and said with longing, "Oh, that someone would give me a drink of water from the well of Bethlehem, which is by the gate!" So the three broke through the camp of the Philistines, drew water from the well of Bethlehem that was by the gate, and took it and brought it to David.

Aren't crazy friends great to have around when you need them?

David was shocked that they heard his secret longing and actually acted on it. These three had broken into the enemies' camp to fetch a drink of water for their beloved Captain!" And he said, 'Far be it from me, O my God, that I should do this! Shall I drink the blood of these men who have put their lives in jeopardy? For at the risk of their lives they brought it.' Therefore he would not drink it."

What I love about this story is that it reflects the fierce personal loyalty David's men had for him. These men walked so close with David they could hear the faintest beating of his heart – and they were willing to risk their lives to fulfill his deepest desires. Oh, that we could walk with God like that and hear the faintest beatings of His heart – and act on them. Walking in the Spirit isn't some Spartan ascetic exercise but rather a journey of joyous moment by moment abiding in the presence of Love Himself.

What is even more interesting is that these three might men are unnamed. Boy, after pulling this stunt off you'd think these guys would be famous! The exploit was done but no single person received the credit, the recognition, the glory, the ticker tape parade, the fame or medals of honor. Curious, isn't it? They weren't motivated by a desire to make a great name for themselves, but to please their King.

Shouldn't we serve the Kings of kings with the same sort of self- sacrificing ardor?

On the day when we stand before the Lord Jesus, we shall receive rewards for our lives of service done in his name. And we shall be listed in the Book of Life individually yet known as the people of God. And when we receive our rewards for hearing the faint beating of God's heart and acting on it to the risk of even our own lives, we shall nonetheless, according to Revelation 4: 10-11, take those genuinely earned rewards and cast them back at Jesus' feet in praise. We shall declare as we cast our crowns before His throne, saying: `You are worthy, O Lord, To receive glory and honor and power; For You created all things, And by Your will they exist and were created.'"

His name alone shall be magnified on that great day and we shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

Unrighteous Righteousness

Nita Johnson

We shared an article with you by our dear sister Katherine from Scotland, in which she writes about a powerful experience she had through which she was shown the self-righteousness of ministers first, then the Church. We are going to take the liberty to expand upon that sharing some things that the Lord has shown me regarding that same issue.

The Lord has dealt with me for many years concerning the self-righteousness of the Church. It is indeed a grievous thing to Him as we stunt our personal growth and inhibit our relationship with Him as a result. Further, it is a deadly symptom of the religious spirit.

Recently, I was ministering in the Rocky Mountains. As it happened, I found myself ministering to a group of people who had fallen in love with the Old Testament and were diligently studying it. Since I myself love the Old Testament I thought that was great. However, I found something else had begun to take place as well. They had unwittingly fallen into the trap of legalism. I knew that I needed to converse with the leaders about this and was in my room praying when suddenly I was lifted up in the spirit as John the revelator was 2000 years ago and found myself face to face with Moses of the Old Testament. He was standing with the two tablets of the Law behind him. Each tablet was greater in size than a man, so they extended from him to some degree. In the backdrop I could see something that looked like the temple. Perhaps even the temple that Solomon built. I don't know. Seeing me, he lifted up his hands toward heaven, and in wrath cried out. "The Law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ." For those of you who know your Bible you will recognize that from the Scripture and is found in John 1:17. I don't know if he would have spoken anything more to me. The terror of the Lord gripped me so quickly that in fear I pulled out of the trance. (Acts 10:10) When I later tried to tell my friends the Danowits about what had happened I wept and trembled trying to get the message out. I remained under the fear of the Lord the rest of the day as many things began to unfold which ultimately broke the yoke of legalism the group had fallen into. I will forever cherish the leadership, as they were patient and deeply concerned in restoring the right foundation to their Bible studies.

Legalism is simply another form of self-righteousness. And, I would dare say that every Christian including the great apostle Paul falls into this trap at some point in their Christian walk. The sin begins when we are made aware of it and don't repent. Yeshua (Jesus) showed me what the garment of self-righteousness looks like. It is a dull murky gray, transparent garment that is full of holes that are caused from the worms of self-righteousness that are slowly ingesting it. Further, it is a garment of shame for it exposes our nudity. I wept and wept when I saw it. But, in His great mercy, Yeshua also showed me the garment of true righteousness that comes only from God. As Katherine already explained, it is breathtakingly beautiful.

Self-righteousness can be recognized in many different ways. When we hear sermons and attribute what we hear to everyone else and forget that we too are sinners. When we shun brothers or sisters in the Lord because we think they are not as spiritual as we are, or are below our notice or income bracket, we are serving self-righteousness. If we are strangers to a regular and systematic life of repentance before God for our own sins, trespasses and offenses before Him, I can promise you, we have more self-righteousness than we would ever want to see.

If we have a difficult time with correction, we are in need of God's grace to free us of this deadly enemy. It may show its face in many different ways that we don't have space to mention. The important thing is that a person, who is blinded by this deadly sin, has little understanding of the grace that comes by Yeshua. Further, they have little patience or mercy for others who are trapped by one sin or another. To know Yeshua in a personal way is to despise ones own righteousness, and to love and cherish His grace, and to cling to His righteousness.

As we begin to repent of our self-righteousness and seek the Lord that He might impart His own righteousness, it can thrust us into some pretty painful self-revelations. However, the fruit of the journey if not abandon is rich and wonderful. It is a road that is well worth the time and pain it may take to travel.

Ministers who propagate a Gospel of grace without responsibility, and rewards without cost are in danger in the days ahead. These people need lots of prayer lest Yeshua send judgment upon their ministries.

On the other hand, ministers that spend a great deal of time in the Lord's presence will always teach the Church to count the cost of discipleship, and by the grace of Yahveh embrace it. Conversely, those individuals who are hearing the voice of the spirit today are not seeking the dainty morsels of yesteryear. They want to hear the truth about God and about themselves.

The reason the Lord gave this profound experience to Katherine is because He is getting ready to deal very strongly in the area of our self-righteousness and He wants us to be ready. Moreover, He wants His ministers to be ready that they not end up a casualty. Seek the Lord's face my dear brothers and sisters. In your seeking invite Him to do a deep work in your heart, as He promises us that if we will judge ourselves, He will not have to judge us. Henceforth, we might be found approved in the day of His visitation. .

Africa

I recently wrote in a previous newsletter that I had a vision of Africa, in which I saw hundreds albeit thousands of Africans laying dead on the ground as though killed in war. I felt a great burden to pray and was immediately thrust into travail.

I have by now received a memo about this matter by a man by the name of Avi Lipkin. (Incidentally, he is a Jew who is not yet born again, we might pray for him.). He is traveling around the country speaking in Churches and anywhere quite frankly that he can, alerting the Christian that among other things, those who are spearheading the One World Government are planning a systematic genocide of the Africans in Sudan. The goal is to purge 8 to 10 million Africans from the land. According to Avi, they have already killed 2 million through chemical warfare. The purpose for this activity is that these Africans are sitting on the worlds richest oil supply. Those who are responsible for this genocide apparently feel they want this oil reserve, and think the end justifies the means. The only way we can stop this atrocity is to pray for God's intervention. So, we are putting out a call to intercessors all over the world to unite with us and pray for revival for the African people and intervention against these evil plans.

The Lord has spoken to me for years about a great revival spreading across Africa. They are even now seeing pockets of revival fire spreading. Things such as villages of people who have accepted the Lord yet being without food, will sit around the table get out the Bible and pray over it as though they were going to eat literal food, but instead read the Word. When they are finished they rise up from their meal on the Word as full and satisfied as though they had dine on temporal food. They may live as many as 20 days on the Lord's food never touching temporal food, yet never lack or go hungry. Translation experiences are already becoming common place. Many other such miracles will be recorded to occur before it is finished.

South East Asia

South East Asia including India, East Pakistan, Burma, Thailand, S. E. China, S.E.. Camdodia, N.E. Borneo, Malayia, Sumatra, and Singapore, is going to experience cataclysmic earthquakes, both economically and in natural disasters. I see a dramatic overturning of what freedom there is by tyrannical forces, and/or war. I also see floods do to hurricanes and interior flooding do to sudden torrential rains, and famine in many critical areas of food production. I also see many new believers springing up throughout this region. Even as I write this I can hear a beautiful song of the spirit spreading throughout the area. God will be a refuge for His people. They will spread the Gospel with a new boldness even through much persecution. God in His great love and mercy will be sending many angelic visitations to members of the body of Christ during the difficult times. I see people being translated from place to place to spread the Gospel through great opposition. And finally, I see men of nobility, of the category of the mighty men of valor coming out of this area.

Switzerland

I see an unprecedented activity of volcanic action in this country. I also see floods of a peculiar nature. These floods will occur in the least likely places, and will be flash floods causing much damage and loss of life. Further I see high winds coming suddenly, swiftly, and again, to the loss of lives and causing much damage, and earthquakes.

However on a brighter note, although there is currently a general prevailing hardness to the Gospel, I see a softening and opening of hearts to the good news coming very soon. I might in fact add that I see not only the fire of judgment coming, but also the fire of revival sweeping across the country. It will be particularly strong in the east. There is already beginning, but will escalate considerably a wave of the fire of holiness. It will be a profound move that will touch the greater Christian community. In fact God has some very powerful intercessors in this country and He will be producing many mighty men of valor through this wave of intervention in Switzerland.

Scotland

Since we have an article in this addition by a prophet from Scotland, I thought it would be a good time to share some prophetic future regarding Scotland.

There has been much bloodshed in Scotland. Many Christians have poured out their blood in martyrdom, but not without a cause. They have paved the way for the great move of God, which will bring in the greatest harvest of souls ever to sweep across the nation.

I see governmental changes that may be surprising to some. God is going to deal in a strong way with the indifference of the Church, with natural calamities and money market failure. Further, He is going to send fire into the hearts of His people during which there will be translation experiences, great miracles and soldiers of the cross upon which will rest great authority. Even so, persecution is coming once again to the elect.

Unseen

Ephraim Frank

Dear Messianic Israelite,

As the first day of January rolled around many people felt used and abused. They had spent thousands of dollars on emergency related items, canceled holiday plans, and prepared for the worst etc. Others breathed a sigh of relief and released their pent up anxiety by an extra exuberant burst of joyous celebration. Many spent hours glued to the television to see if anything would happen in countries that came first into the 21st century. As each hour ticked off, a grateful groan was sounded, especially in the western world. The ones that really made out were those who had the foresight to make money off the ignorance and fear of people caught in the “matrix”. If you haven’t seen the movie after this title, it may be worth seeing. Although the movie's imagery is highly exaggerated, one cannot help but sense that our lives indeed are subjected to an imprisoning system.

Being born in this matrix, “womb” of a world of sin and death, we have fallen asleep and our dream world has become our reality. Periodically we are stirred from this state of slumber, but are so drowsy that we fall back into unreality. Howbeit, the prophets of old, because of their giftings, were able to get glimpses of the unseen realms. Elisha, for example, was praying to YHWH to open the eyes of his servant who was at that moment 'stressed out' by an Aramean army surrounding his village. Apparently the young servant had gone out early in the morning and lo and behold, much to his dismay, here was this enemy poised to greet him. “Alas, my Master!” he exclaimed: “What shall we do?” “Do? What shall we do?” The first recommendation that this old seer gave him was: “you want to do something? Then DO NOT FEAR!” Elisha’s answer was not based on imagination but on an undeniable fact: “Those who are with us are more than with them.” I can just hear the thoughts of the helper: ‘Yea, sure! I count two of us and a multitude of them. Where in the world did you go to school Elisha? Look, get your laptop out and come up with some practical ideas on how we deal with this predicament; such as trading in some land for peace maybe?’ The prophet’s reality was hidden from the young man. So Elisha prayed to the One who could open blind eyes, and said, “YHWH, I pray, open his eyes that he may see.’ Then YHWH opened the eyes of the young man, and he saw. And behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire all around Elisha” (2 Kings 6:15-17).

Although the two of them were standing in the same place, each was experiencing a different reality. Many years later, Paul an apostle, in writing to the believers, exhorted them to “set their mind on things above, not on the things that are on the earth...and not to look at the things that are seen, but at the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal” (Col.3:22; 2 Cor. 4:18). To be in this world but not of it, presents to us a unique but strange challenge. How do we do that, when it is our eyes, ears, nose, tongue and skin which are dictating to our soul what is real? We all have had many experiences in this earthly journey, which have been a part of creating our “matrix”. However, along this journey we have also come into the reality of another world, the world of faith. Faith as defined by the Word is, “the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. By faith we understand that the ages were prepared by the word of God, so that the things which are seen were not made of things which are visible” (Heb. 11:1-3).

The Word of God is not seen, yet it is revealed to those who believe. “For since the creation of the world His invisible nature is clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even His eternal power and Godhead, so that they are without excuse” (Rom. 1:20). Faith in His Word transfers the believer into another “matrix”. Even though standing in the same place as a non-believer, our reality will be different. For example, some may read Ezekiel 37 and the prophecies pertaining to Israel and Judah's restoration, but be totally blind to their reality. God is fulfilling His Word right before our very eyes, but if His grace has not opened the "eyes of our understanding", we will not see His invisible Word as it comes to pass in and through a people. The scriptures ask us to examine ourselves to see if we are in the faith; for do we not know this about ourselves, that Yeshua the Messiah is in us (ref. 2 Cor. 13:5)?

This lack of awareness may also pertain to other areas of our life. For instance, having been nurtured in this world under the power of the evil one who is a liar and the father of lies, we most likely have swallowed his non-truths, thus interpreting our life and identity through a grid of lies. To use a borrowed example: Anyone who is regularly degraded and told how stupid and incompetent he is, will gradually embrace this, believing it to be true. Once that is done, this person's interpretation of life will reinforce his belief, with his own affirmations. Others' reactions and behavior toward him will seem to be connected to this self-perceived condition of seeming stupidity. Over a period of time such a person will have build walls that only God Himself is able to penetrate and tear down.

Perhaps this is why the scriptures exhort us to "speak the truth in love." That is if we know the truth! Let us pray the prayers of Elisha and Paul, that YHWH will open the eyes of our understanding that we may see what is truly real and eternal, right here in the reality of our God-given experiences. We may hear of wars and rumors of wars, earthquakes, pestilence, and computer breakdowns that could cause a domino effect on the world economy, but what is God's answer to all of these seeming realities and possible scenarios? "Fear not, for I am with you; be not dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you, yes, I will help you, I will uphold you with My righteous right hand. (Isaiah 41:10). "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give to you" (John 14:27). "Be strong and of good courage, do not fear nor be afraid of them; for YHWH your God, He is the One who goes with you. He will not leave you nor forsake you" (Deuteronomy 31:6). We may also enquire, as did king David: "Where can I go from Your Spirit? Or where can I flee from Your presence? If I ascend into heaven, You are there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, You are there. If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, even there Your hand shall lead me, and Your right hand shall hold me." Yes, the realities of His hidden presence within us, the revelation of His invisible prophetic word coming to pass in our lives personally and corporately as a united house of Israel, can only be seen through the eyes of "the faith".

The Unveiling of the Apostolic Priesthood

Michael Quinn

The Unveiling of The Apostolic Priesthood A great end-time army of apostolic priests like unto our Lord (Hebrews 3:1) , after the order of Melchisedek , are about to be unveiled and will come forth with great power . I have given them My authority to manifest My Resurrection Life as they have come into total death to self-life. The bondages over creation will be broken as they call forth the New Creation by My Eternal Spirit of Sonship .

Hidden Vessels Ready To Be Revealed

These are the golden vessels that have been refined in the fire through many trials and tribulations . These are they who have been hidden away in Me . But the hour has come for the bringing forth of this glorious priesthood and all of creation is waiting . They are continually in My Presence and minister unto Me . They have come out of Babylon and will lead My people out of Adam into My Son

Earthly Foundations Will Be Shaken !

True apostolic prayer and intercession shall arise unto heaven and be felt on the earth .

The floodgates of the heavens will be opened and the foundations of the earth will shake and shall you not know it ? (Isaiah 24:18) They will come as lambs , but fire will come out of their mouths as the roaring of a lion out of Zion .

From Babylon to Jerusalem

I will now stir up again the mighty spirit of Cyrus and all the apostolic/priestly vessels that have been taken from My house into Babylon will be brought forth and restored to the rightful place , in Jerusalem. (Ezra 1:7-11 ) Know also I have determined that I will build My House and bring forth My anointed Cyrus Shepherds to accomplish this purpose in this hour . (Isaiah 44:28)

Yes , as surely as I live I will do all these things . And shall you not know it ?

Under the Wings

Gloria Shepherd

Under the Comforting Wings of My Presence

June 4, 2000:

My little one, don't you know that I have watched you from birth, and I have protected your every step from the moment you were birthed in your mother's womb, even unto this day. For even when the enemy tried so hard to kill you, I was there, protecting you and watching over your every step. I am the protection that you have not even seen in times past. All those near miss things that almost killed you, did you not know that I was there and thwarted every move the enemy used and trick to try to kill you in times past. Do you think that I would do anything less for you today?

I am taking you into places where you have never been, nor have even thought to go. Do not be afraid, but I am expanding your wings to fly beyond that which you have considered safe to fly. Trust me dear child, for you know that I have not allowed you to go where it is not safe in times past, would I do anything less for you today then before? I would have you know this day that I watch over you still like a brooding hen watches over her chicks, to make sure they do not stray to far in to danger, and I am watching every step you take, as I take you to places unknown to you in times past, but into the places where I want you to go so that you can grow and expand your faith in walking on water with me and for me. Do you think that if you play it safe, you will be able to lead the people that I will bring you in times ahead to safety in the times of great peril that still lie ahead. I am preparing you for a mission of great danger and of great importance for this time in history of the world. I have been making you reach further and further beyond what you have accepted as truth thus far for a reason, for there are some things that will appear bizarre to you and out in left field and not of me; yet, I would not bring you there if there were not a purpose in all of the things that I have brought you into thus far. For what lies ahead, only I know what things you will have to endure for me, and what mission impossible I will be sending you on. These are the training times for the perilous times that lie ahead for the special forces. Trust me to carry you through even these times; there is a purpose in all that I bring you into, to expand you beyond your boundaries and the confines which have held your mind in religious chains so far. These are days of learning for the special troops. I have chosen many of you for these mission. So fear not, but let me lead you into uncharted waters. I am with you and will never leave you nor forsake you. Trust me with all your hearts in these days to come.

Upgrading Your PC

Ray Hughes

As a preface to sharing this dream, it is important to know that during the month of May, there were several storms throughout Tennessee, many of which caused blackouts and power shortages. On one occasion, the lightning struck close and caused my personal computer to freeze up. Lightning means intercession, so I took note even then at what the Lord was saying.

A few nights later, as I was going to sleep, I was caught in the place between wondering if I was dreaming or if I was awake. The Lord began to speak to me and gave me a dream that lasted all night, which is not common for me. When I awoke the next morning, I was still in the same dream and realized I had spent the night with the Lord speaking to me.

I feel the dream is significant for this time, not only because of the modern technological jargon the Lord used (which, believe me, I have little understanding of), but also because everywhere I've shared this word it's had a timely impact on the people.

In the dream I was standing on a platform looking out on a large congregation. I saw the Lord passing up and down the aisles, handing out new computers for everybody. Everyone was excited because they were receiving a gift directly from the Lord. As He came to me and gave me my own personal computer, I was excited to boot it up and turn it on. At this point, I was sitting at a computer desk and the Lord was looking over my shoulder as if He were just as excited with me about my new computer.

I asked him what kind of computer it was, and without a word He pointed to the upper left-hand corner of the screen. I saw it had the letters "PC."

"PC is prophetic commission," He said. I realized He was handing out a new prophetic commission to the church. "Well, let's get started!" I said in my excitement. However, when I looked down at the keyboard, I noticed that one of the keys had a cap over it. When I pushed it, it didn't work. I punched it again and again, but nothing happened. Then the Lord reached over and punched the same button and it suddenly worked.

"That's the control button," He said. "I'm the only one that can touch that. Down here is the button you need to spend your time on." I looked and noticed it was the delete button. "How will I know what to delete?" I asked him.

"As soon as it appears on the screen," He said, "you'll know whether or not it's to be deleted, because with this computer comes a whole new level of discernment." A certain program appeared on the screen and, as instructed, I hit delete. Another one popped up, and again I hit delete. This process went on over several programs, as there was a whole series of things to delete.

In the midst of this, He turned to me and said, "Much has to be deleted out of what you've understood to be the prophetic as it relates to the church's mindset over the last decade." As I was deleting these things when they would appear on the screen, the program Word Perfect appeared before me. "Should I keep this one?" I asked. "After all, I will definitely need a word processor." He reached over and hit the delete button. He then downloaded a new program, this one called Perfect Word.

Several other programs were deleted and new ones re-installed throughout the dream, but the Lord has not given me insight into much of the rest of what went on. However, I remember that at the end of the dream, I noticed one of the buttons on the keyboard was blank. There were no letters or symbols on this key.

"Lord, why is this button blank?" I asked. "That's the escape button," He said. "There is no escape."

I feel there are certain points to this dream which need emphasis, the first being the Lord's sole operation of the control button. As much as I tried and as hard as I pressed this button, it would only work upon the Lord's touch. I realize through this that the entire system - this entire "gifting" that we are all so excited about - can only be controlled by Him. It works upon no one else's beckon or command but the Lord's.

In the strange process of deleting programs, I feel the Lord has much to say about what we have saved and valued on our personal systems. Our "hard drives" have been filled with a lot of impure prophecy because the prophets have come through such a hard drive. It's been such a hard drive to get the church to accept what the Lord is doing prophetically. The prophetic has even become a part of the many entertainment-oriented programs that we (the church) have bought and installed into our thinking. We've become fragmented and it's bogged the church down. We cannot run to our full capacity. Therefore, much has to be deleted so our hard drives can function properly. All of the bells, whistles and cool programs have to go.

It doesn't take a genius to see the Lord has much to say about the transformation from Word Perfect to Perfect Word. Word Perfect is a man-created word processing system that has enabled us to communicate man to man and system to system. However, it's useless for the days ahead. What we must have now is purer communication and the perfect word of the Lord for the season ahead. The season ahead will require true discernment, true prophetic word, minus the hoopla of the programs and entertainment-oriented concepts of prophecy. In this information age, the Lord says He is sending a pure word, not to bring us information, but to establish us in formation. He is formatting us to become in formation and not just for information.

When you format a disk on a computer, the process starts with a clean, completely blank disk. There is no pre-set information stored away. The actual formatting simply prepares the disk to be used. It doesn't store anything on the disk but the parameters on which it can be used under the appropriate operating system. You format a disk to bring it into the correct format or formation so it can be used to store whatever you want on it. Likewise, the Lord is deleting the old programs and formatting us not so much for the purpose of prophetic information as much as getting us into a new, useable formation.

Unleash the Dragon

Chris Vick.

There is a pop song which is due to be released in the UK secular singles music chart this month, which is called "Unleash the Dragon". The singer is called Sisqo.

This song is prophetic.

(I do not know whether the singer or writer are Christians or not, but I know that God can prophesy through whatever means He chooses).

I have not got a copy of the full lyrics of the song, but I recommend that the reader listens to the song. However, here are a few lines from the song, (these are recalled from memory, and so are not exact):

* "Unleash the dragon. Unleash the dragon.

I know that you don't really want me to unleash the dragon".

(This line is in the chorus of the song); *

"... I'm about to shoot the whole land up shortly"; *

" If you're with me, put your hands in the air".

My interpretation of this prophecy is as follows: The dragon in the song refers to the dragon which is mentioned in Revelation 12, which is thrown down from heaven to earth.

This is a prophecy to all the earth, that God is about to unleash this dragon, i.e. the dragon mentioned in Revelation 12 is about to be thrown down to earth by God. The line which tells about God shooting the whole land up refers to what this dragon will do: it will cause destruction on the earth through whatever means God allows it to (i.e. economic depression, wars, famine, floods, earthquakes, etc). The line which refers to putting your hands up if you're with me, is a call from God to stand up in His name/worship Him.

Vessels For My Use

Stephen Hanson

Sept. 23, 00

3 So I went down to the potter's house, and I saw him working at the wheel.

4 But the pot he was shaping from the clay was marred in his hands; so the potter formed it into another pot, shaping it as seemed best to him.

5 Then the word of the LORD came to me: Jeremiah 18

21 Does not the potter have the right to make out of the same lump of clay some pottery for noble purposes and some for common use? Romans 9

2 Timothy 2:20 In a large house there are articles not only of gold and silver, but also of wood and clay; some are for noble purposes and some for ignoble.

(The Lord showed me a clay pot which was in process of being made. The edges were being laid out with coils and the walls of it were being formed by hand. Water was being sponged on the edges to keep it moist and pliable. As I continued looking at this pot, the scene changed, and it was finished, beautiful in appearance. It appeared as a complete large bowl.)

(Then the Lord showed me a water container of some sort that had been finished. It was of the type that would be used on a journey of some sort. It was somewhat tapered with a handle. It had a very rugged appearance, but was sturdy and useful.) (Then again the Lord showed me a scene of several clay pots. They were all lined up as in storage in a room, ready for the next process. There were about 4-5 shelves that all of these various vessels or pots, were sitting on. The scene changed then again, and I watched as the kiln was made ready and the temperature was very hot. Some of these clay pots then were placed in the kiln ready to be fired. I was in the kiln with these pots and noticed that they were making it through the firing process. They came out and this part of the process was finished. However, I noticed that some of them didn't make it through this part of the process. One in particular, had broken up into several pieces and had exploded in the firing process. It however, was gathered up into several pieces and was laid upon the shelf. Also, another one was laying on its side broken. It was a vessel that had a handle on it and was used for pouring with. The person who had taken these pots out of the kiln, carefully laid them down on their sides on the shelves.)

(The next process began with glazes and paint being applied to some of the clay pots. The glaze was carefully applied in various ways to each of them with a brush. Each pot had a different design and coloring. These were then brought into the kiln area and were set into the kiln for the final firing. I watched as they came out.....beautiful in appearance with a radiant and yet hard surface. )

The Lord then said: "My process needs to be carried out through each step. Some have gone through a great "firing" and have made it through out onto the other side. There are various types of clay vessels, and each is suitable for my use. I AM the Potter and you are the clay. Let Me determine the shape that you will take. Some of you have attempted to go through things without going through my complete process. Thus, some of you have "exploded" in my fire. Some of you have been waiting upon the shelf for a long time. But do not be discouraged, for you will not be there much longer. I have a glaze that is designed for each of you. I also have a temperature that is suited for each of you. It is all a part of my design and plan. If you allow Me to work with you then you will be a vessel that is suitable for the Master's use. Each step is important, as I have said. You cannot rush ahead into the fire without being finished first. You are ALL important to Me, each in your own way. Some are for noble purposes and some are for ignoble. Know where you are to be. Then you will go and do the work that I've called each of you to do."

THE TRUE MEANING OF SUCCESS

Stephen Hanson

Sept. 30, 00

12 May the LORD give you discretion and understanding when he puts you in command over Israel, so that you may keep the law of the LORD your God. 13 Then you will have success if you are careful to observe the decrees and laws that the LORD gave Moses for Israel. Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or discouraged. 14 "I have taken great pains to provide for the temple of the LORD a hundred thousand talents of gold, a million talents of silver, quantities of bronze and iron too great to be weighed, and wood and stone. And you may add to them. 1 Chronicles 22

2 Chronicles 26: 4 He did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, just as his father Amaziah had done. 5 He sought God during the days of Zechariah, who instructed him in the fear of God. As long as he sought the LORD, God gave him success. 6 He went to war against the Philistines and broke down the walls of Gath, Jabneh and Ashdod. He then rebuilt towns near Ashdod and elsewhere among the Philistines.

"What is the measure of a man?"

"How would you measure a man's success? Is it financial? Is it some other form of promotion? I tell you that these are earthly standards. These are the ways that man would measure success. But look beyond the framework of this earth. There are things that I have instilled in the heart of man. He would find these things if he would search for them. "

"A man's success in my eyes, is a relationship which is built upon love and trust. It is a relationship where his Spirit is joined with mine. It is a home that is filled full of love. It is a place where children can play without fear or retaliation. It is a place where my word is spoken. It is a place where forgiveness is given and received. It is a place where the young and the old embrace the arms of the aged. It is a place where those who are weak can become strong in ME. It is a place where all who come to Me are accepted and received. "

"Your success must be measured by my standards. These are my standards. You cannot serve two masters. You cannot follow the course of the spirit of this age and also follow my Spirit. You will become a divided house. My Spirit will cause you to see what the measure of success is. You will go out in peace and be led there. The mountains and the hills will break forth into singing before you. Seek first my kingdom and my righteousness and then you will know the true meaning of success."

Be Willing To Die For Me

Stephen Hanson

Sept. 10, 00

7. He was oppressed and afflicted, yet he did not open his mouth; he was led like a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is silent, so he did not open his mouth.

8. By oppression and judgment he was taken away. And who can speak of his descendants? For he was cut off from the land of the living; for the transgression of my people he was stricken.

9. He was assigned a grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, though he had done no violence, nor was any deceit in his mouth. Is. 53

"I was led like a sheep to the slaughter. I was assigned a grave and condemned to die. I gave up my life as a ransom for many. I was mocked and ridiculed by many before my death on the cross. I rose from the dead and am now giving new life unto many. "

"Just as I was led to the slaughter, so will many of you be. It may not be the slaughter of a physical death, but it will be the slaughter and the death of your own fleshly desires. It will be the death of your own ambitions. It will be the death of your own lives that are apart from Me. I have asked you to die in order that you might live. I died and was given new life. The life that I lived was given up for all of you. I AM asking that you give up your lives for Me. Unless a seed falls to the ground it cannot produce fruit. So it must be with you as well. Give-up your lives for your friends. Give-up your lives for your families. Be willing to pay the price for a servant. Be willing to be mocked, and be willing to be ridiculed. Be willing to suffer at the hands of those around you who do not understand you. If they did the same to Me, why should you expect anything different?"

"Sorrow will be turned into gladness. For afterwards, these things will birth a new thing. Travail in prayer, and travail in laying down your lives for the brethren. The furnace of affliction will produce the multitude of fruitfulness. Let my furnace burn away the dross and the impurities. Let my cross have its perfect work in you. Let my death be identified with your own. Then you will come out of the graves with new life. Then you will be assigned a portion with the great. Then you will be my vessels upon this earth. Then you will go onto those things that I have assigned you to. "

Vessels Of Light

Bob Jones And Keith Davis

Beginning on this past Day of Atonement, the Lord began to release revelation concerning both the "Eye of God" and "the eye of man". Since that time we have received additional revelations and understanding emphasizing the importance of the spiritual "eye" of man in this preparatory season that we are continuing. Through these revelations, the Holy Spirit has emphasized the great importance of allowing Him to identify and correct any distortions and hindrances that would effect our spiritual eye and inhibit our perfect view of Him and the revelation of kingdom purposes to be released in this generation. The following is a prophetic teaching that has resulted from these experiences.

THE EXAMPLE OF NATHANIEL

Philip found Nathaniel and said to him, "We have found Him of whom Moses in the Law and also the Prophets wrote -- Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph." Nathaniel said to him, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" Philip said to him, "Come and see." Jesus saw Nathaniel coming to Him, and said of him, "Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom there is no deceit (no guile)!" Nathaniel said to Him, "How do You know me?" Jesus answered and said to him, "Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you. Nathaniel answered Him, "Rabbi, You are the Son of God; You are the King of Israel. Jesus answered and said to him, "Because I said to you that I saw you under the fig tree, do you believe? You will see greater things than these. And He said to him, "Truly, truly, I say to you, you will see the heavens opened and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man." (John 1:45-51)

The Bible depicts Nathaniel as a man of great character and noble integrity. To be described as having "no guile" refers to one who is without deceit, fraud or hypocrisy. Such a description applies to one serving God in reverential fear with a sincere and upright heart. This would be considered a most honorable testimony as one walking in the light that is made available for that generation.

Nathaniel was a man who studied the scriptures and emulated his life accordingly. He was a man who pursued God and desired truth. The Lord's description of him conveys this certainty. In him dwelt the earnest desire to behold the promised Messiah foretold in the scriptures.

The Lord captured Nathaniel's attention by acknowledging that He saw Nathaniel under the fig tree even before Phillip approached him. The Lord knew Nathaniel even before he was conceived in his mother's womb. This one expression of the Messianic sign sparked life within Nathaniel, bringing to life the Divine seed of life that dwelt in him before the foundation of the world. Nathaniel recognized the sign that had been conveyed to him and ignited the faith of God.

The integrity of Nathaniel's heart allowed his spiritual eyes to easily recognize the Light that had come into the world. Because Nathaniel had emulated his life according to the scriptures, his conscience was clear and his eyes open to the revelation of Light now being displayed to him. This is the example that we also must follow.

Hebrews 4:12 tells us that the Word of God is alive and active and sharper than any two-edged sword, discerning the very thoughts and intents of the heart. This sign given to Nathaniel was the Messianic sign revealing the Word becoming flesh and the promised Prophet, dwelling among the people. There is no creature hidden from His sight and all things are open and laid bare to the eyes of Him with whom we have to do. He is none other than our Great High Priest, Jesus, the son of God.

I pray that the eyes of your heart may be enlightened, so that you will know what is the hope of His calling, what are the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints, and what is the surpassing greatness of His power toward us who believe. These are in accordance with the working of the strength of His might (Eph 1:18-20)

The eyes of our heart must be enlightened to fully recognize the revelation of the Word. To be enlightened expresses "to be given light or shining illumination". It is used metaphorically of spiritual revelation with understanding and enlightenment. It literally means to be "full of light". Jesus was the manifestation of the Word incarnate in flesh and Nathaniel recognized it because of the integrity of his heart and the clarity of his spiritual vision. In other words, the eyes of his heart were enlightened to the Truth. Every obstacle must be removed from our vision if we are to fully recognize the manifestation of the Word in our generation.

ANGELS ASCENDING AND DESCENDING

John records the beautiful picture of angels ascending and descending upon the Son of Man. This description not only applies to the Lord Himself but also to His body...the believers who would be joined with Him as one Spirit doing the same works through the Holy Spirit that He did while residing on the earth in human form. (John 14:12) It will be the fully functional, anointed body of Christ promised in scripture. When Jacob saw this image in Genesis 28, he described it as " the House of God" and the "Gate to heaven". It is the open heaven from which the Holy Spirit descends to rest upon the son of man imparting the divine nature and Holy character of God doing the deeds of the Father.

What a notable and wonderful promise made to Nathaniel and the disciples! It would be their privilege to witness many supernatural occurrences as followers of Christ as they observed the example provided to them by the Lord during His earthly ministry. These promises are to the ones in whom there is no guile. Those who have allowed the complete sanctifying work of the Holy Spirit in their spirit, soul, and body according to I Thessalonians 5:23. Now may the God of peace Himself sanctify you entirely; and may your spirit and soul and body be preserved complete, without blame at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

OUR LAMP

"No one, after lighting a lamp, puts it away in a cellar nor under a basket, but on the lampstand, so that those who enter may see the light. The eye is the lamp of your body; when your eye is clear, your whole body also is full of light; but when it is bad, your body also is full of darkness. Then watch out that the light in you is not darkness. If therefore your whole body is full of light, with no dark part in it, it will be wholly illumined, as when the lamp illumines you with its rays." (Luke 11:33-36)

The Bible tells us that the "eye" is the lamp of our body. The "eye" is a figurative expression denoting the heart, conscience or mind of man. Clearly, the "eye" may be either enlightened or darkened based upon actions and decisions that we make. The clarity of our "eye" determines the amount of light or darkness that we behold. It is imperative in this hour that we fully understand the significance of this spiritual truth. When our eye or our conscience is sound and spiritually healthy, then our entire body will be full of light. Yet, according to the scriptures, when it is not sound, our body is full of darkness. Let us draw near with a sincere heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled clean from an evil conscience and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:22)

If there is no "guile" in our conscience, the scriptures promise that the Lord will be a light unto our feet directing our paths and establishing our steps. When our conscience/heart is illuminated we are able to walk the " straight and narrow path". We are washed by the Water of the Word.

LIGHT VS. DARKNESS

This is the judgment, that the Light has come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the Light, for their deeds were evil. For everyone who does evil hates the Light, and does not come to the Light for fear that his deeds will be exposed. But he who practices the truth comes to the Light, so that his deeds may be manifested as having been wrought in God." (John 3:19-21)

What is it that brings darkness into our "eye" and defiles our conscience, inhibiting the Light of God? Fear, rejection, condemnation, resentment and un-forgiveness are major obstacles obstructing the flow of light to us. The church is being positioned to enter a season of divinely granted repentance unlike anything we have known in this generation. Through repentance we will then initiate the process of cleansing our spiritual eye and conscience so that we can co-exist with the light of God that will shine in the midst of great darkness. The first phase is to bring our own deficiencies, failures and sin into the "Light" through repentance so they can be confronted through the blood of Christ, thus preparing our hearts for His divine release. "But he who practices the truth comes to the Light, so that his deeds may be manifested as having been wrought in God."

The Lord is seeking those who will love the Light more than darkness. If our hearts truly desire truth, we will willingly come into the light that our deeds may be exposed allowing the Holy Spirit to extract the seeds of corruption abiding in us. Though initially painful, the end result is bountiful fruits of righteousness and intimate fellowship with our Savior. The benefits far exceed the cost. Going as far back as Genesis Chapter 1, God has been separating light from darkness. God saw that the light was good; and God separated the light from the darkness. (Gen 1:4)

This spiritual process continues as the Lord earnestly desires to separate light from darkness within us. In Him was life, and that life was the light of men. The light shines in the darkness, but the darkness has not understood it. (John 1:4-5)

If we continue to allow our spiritual eyes to be darkened then we are actually residing in the domain of Satan rather than God. We must allow our consciences to be cleansed that the Light of God may flow freely in us and through us. To open their eyes so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the dominion of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and an inheritance among those who have been sanctified by faith in Me.' (Acts 28:18)

THUNDER AND LIGHTENING

The LORD also thundered in the heavens, And the Most High uttered His voice, Hailstones and coals of fire. He sent out His arrows, and scattered them, And lightning flashes in abundance, and routed them. Then the channels of water appeared, And the foundations of the world were laid bare At Your rebuke, O LORD, At the blast of the breath of Your nostrils. (Psalms 18:13-15)

The thunder from heaven represents the voice of God and His Spirit speaking through His church resounding throughout the earth. Lightning is symbolic of His power. The Lord is preparing to release in this generation great thunder and lightning through the "overcomers" being prepared for this demonstration. The "overcomers" will be those who no longer have a defiled conscience but whose eye has been cleansed by the blood of Christ prepared and sanctified for the indwelling Presence, thus bringing great illumination to them personally and to the corporate body.

The LORD has rewarded me according to my righteousness; According to the cleanness of my hands He has recompensed me. For I have kept the ways of the LORD, And have not wickedly departed from my God. For all His ordinances were before me, And I did not put away His statutes from me. I was also blameless with Him, And I kept myself from my iniquity. Therefore the LORD has recompensed me according to my righteousness, According to the cleanness of my hands in His eyes. (Ps 18:20-24)

Righteousness is established in us as we are cleansed from the defilement and corruption of this world and the carnal nature. The Bible admonishes the wicked to forsake their ways and the unrighteous their thoughts. This admonition prepares the way for the purification from the corruption of our conscience allowing the unreserved flow of light to us. The Lord's statutes are the principles of conduct established for us as Christians and perpetuated in us by the empowering Presence of the Holy Spirit. All of His principles of conduct can be identified in one word-- LOVE. (Romans 13:10)

Sin is the defilement of our conscience. The longer we harbor sin in our lives the more misrepresented our light becomes and the more difficult it is to be extracted from us, thus making it much more difficult to recognize the sin that would so easily entangle us. Sin functions as a filter distorting the light of God intended to illumine our way. The path that we are to walk is straight and narrow requiring complete illumination to remain on the path. Any sin that would mask or distract from this light causes us to stray from the path leading to cul-de-sacs, detours, and dead ends.

The greatest promises of scripture are to those walking in maturity and established in righteousness. If we are to become the prophesied generation of the righteous, we must allow the Holy Spirit to illumine our path fully so that we do not embrace deception and deceit. The spiritual climate of this hour requires that we walk in great discernment distinguishing between Godly light and counterfeit light that will permeate this end-time age.

FREEDOM FROM HINDRANCES

In order to flow in the light of God, divine forgiveness must be allowed to reside in us.

One of the greatest tests of charity results when we are sinned against and must forgive and embrace those who have offended and wounded us. Deep seeded resentment is another great distraction leading away from the light of God. Even though we may forgive others for their actions against us, we must also be willing to embrace them in Godly love despite their offense. Extending forgiveness alone is not always sufficient. To walk in the character of Christ we must also embrace those who have sinned against us even as He embraces us at the Cross.

If we knowingly harbor resentment in our hearts for circumstances and actions that have taken place in our lives, we will then be providing the enemy with the ammunition to distract from God's perfect way. The Bible declares that the Lord has plans for us that are filled with divine welfare, not calamity. (Jeremiah 29:11) However, to enter those plans we must do so according to His prescribed way. His ways and paths are made clear by allowing the Holy Spirit to establish in us the attributes of Christ. Tests, failures and difficult circumstances are very often allowed to establish Godly character, preparing the way for the fulfillment of His plans.

For the joy set before Him, the Lord embraced the Cross although He despised its shame. We must do likewise. Although we despise the shame of past failures, difficulties and "desert experiences", we must embrace the benefits derived in them to allow the maturity in us that will prepare this generation for its high calling. The Lord despised the shame of the Cross but He did not resent going to the Cross for the benefits it would provide. The spotless Son of God endured the shame of the Cross, the most despised form of death known to man; we should be able to get beyond our shame to serve Him in bold confident assurance.

Guilt is another great hindrance to the flow of light from above. The "overcomer" will be willing to embrace divine mercy extended through faithful repentance with the understanding that our sins are no longer recorded in heaven once heart-felt repentance has brought the issue to the Cross. To continue in guilt over our transgressions will only inhibit our ability to function with an undefiled conscience and flow in His divine Light. When He promises to pardon our iniquity, it becomes sin to continue to harbor guilt over the very things He has promised to forgive. The greatest price imaginable was paid for our sins, transgressions, and iniquity. To continue in guilt over those failures would only detract from the great sacrifice provided by the Savior.

The Lord provided in the Apostle Paul a sterling example of His great grace extended to man. One of the greatest persecutors of the church became its greatest Apostle. If such forgiveness can be extended to him so also can it to us.

When our eye or conscience is clear, we will begin to see the revelation of heaven equally as clear. Any defilement of our conscience serves as a distortion of the vision of heaven and the clarity of God's purposes in the earth. If our heart is pure then the Lord will show Himself as pure. If our hearts are darkened then our perception of the character and plans of God will be correspondingly perverted. To the faithful you show yourself faithful, to the blameless you show yourself blameless, to the pure you show yourself pure, but to the crooked you show yourself shrewd. (Ps 18:25-26)

The Lord rewards us according to the cleanness of our hands. The scriptures direct us to come before the Lord with clean hands and a pure heart if we intend to ascend into the hill of the Lord. We must embrace the ways of the Lord and depart from our own ways as they distort and pervert our vision of Him. What the Lord did on the Cross is sufficient for all our sin and iniquity. To harbor guilt, resentment and self-abasement serves only as a distortion of the Light. None of the good and precious promises of scripture will be withheld from us when we become vessels of Light.

ATTRIBUTES OF A GOOD EYE

Of the sons of Issachar, men who understood the times, with knowledge of what Israel should do, their chiefs were two hundred; and all their kinsmen were at their command. (1 Chronicles 12: 32)

Understanding is released when we have an undefiled conscious. Perilous times are eminently approaching and great darkness will soon cover the earth. However, for the consecrated and sanctified overcomer, it will be a time of tremendous Light and illumination. Revelation of the times and seasons will be imparted to those thus prepared.

"The eye is the lamp of the body; so then if your eye is clear, your whole body will be full of light. But if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light that is in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!" "No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and wealth. (Matthew 6:22-24)

The scriptures make it clear that we cannot serve two Masters. If we are to boldly come before the Lord in confident assurance, we must do so having no other God before Him. We cannot allow financial provision to take a position of preeminence in our hearts. It is the issues of the heart that are most important. There is nothing wrong with people having financial wealth as long as it does not supersede their love and commitment to the Lord. In fact, many will be raised up in this generation with tremendous resources to be used for Kingdom purposes. However, this one issue serves as a great stumbling stone defiling many with the love of the world and the things of the world.

He who is generous will be blessed, For he gives some of his food to the poor. (Proverbs 22:9)

"Beware that there is no base thought in your heart, saying, 'The seventh year, the year of remission, is near,' and your eye is hostile toward your poor brother, and you give him nothing; then he may cry to the LORD against you, and it will be a sin in you. You shall generously give to him, and your heart shall not be grieved when you give to him, because for this thing the LORD your God will bless you in all your work and in all your undertakings. For the poor will never cease to be in the land; therefore I command you, saying, "You shall freely open your hand to your brother, to your needy and poor in your land." (Deut 15:9-12)

Extravagant giving will also accompany those who have allowed this work of the Spirit. A "good eye" is generous; a "defiled eye" is greedy. A "defiled eye" harbors the love of money: a "good eye" shares with the needy. A thorough understanding of these principles is essential if we are to emulate the apostolic church revealed to us in the book of Acts.

For God, who said, "Light shall shine out of darkness," is the One who has shone in our hearts to give the Light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ. (2 Cor. 4:6)

The greatest benefit of a cleansed and sanctified conscience is to begin to behold Him with an unveiled face being transformed into His very image. As we behold the glory of God in the face of Christ, we will begin to take upon ourselves the nature and character of the One we are beholding. Out of this transformation comes the intimate fellowship we so earnestly desire. Our ministry then results from an overflow of close encounters with the One we are serving. We will then be the Lord's representative on the earth doing the same works through the Holy Spirit that He did while on the earth in human form.

The very God who first commanded the light to shine in Genesis will also once again command great Light to shine in this generation. If we are to behold that Light in its pure form, spiritual preparation must precede its release so that it does not become distorted nor lost. Light is here identified as an emblem of spiritual knowledge, purity and truth emanating in the midst of darkness-- spiritual error, deception, sin, and wretchedness.

To the pure, all things are pure; but to those who are defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure, but both their mind and their conscience are defiled. (Titus 1:15)

End Time Prophetic Vision

Vision Of The Enemy's Battle Plan

Hollie L. Moody

hlmoody61@aol.com

As I was praying on April 25th, 2000, I began to see in my mind a picture of the Lord. He was sitting on a rock and groups of people of all ages were gathered around Him. They all seemed to be laughing and talking together. I felt joy and peace and happiness as I viewed this scene. At times, the Lord would reach down and bring a child onto His lap. Or, He would reach out and a baby would be placed into His arms. He would then gaze down into the face of the baby and speak softly and tenderly to the baby. At other times, someone would draw close to His side, and He would place His arm around them, and draw them closer to Him.

An angel approached the Lord. The crowd before the Lord parted to allow the angel to draw near to the Lord. A silence fell over the laughing, joyous crowd as the angel stopped before the Lord and began to speak. From the way this angel was dressed, I sensed immediately that this was a warring angel. Being a warring angel and well aware of the coming battle plan of the enemy, he spoke with a strong sense of urgency and even perplexity in his voice. He was very concerned.

"There is work to be done," the angel said to the Lord. "Why do the people only sit here idly? These are dangerous times. The people should be doing battle in prayer and in the spirit. Instead, they sit here at Your feet, laughing. They are completely unaware of what is even now transpiring in the courts of hell." With great concern in his voice, the angel asked, "Why are You allowing this?"

[Before continuing the vision, as a side bar to that conversation, I had the impression the angel and the Lord had been in each other's presence numerous times and had many conversations with one another. What the angel said did not sound disrespectful or challenging at all. I could feel how he was feeling, and it was a genuine question in the midst of such perplexing opposition to come.]

The Lord gazed with love at the angel before Him. "Before I answer your questions," the Lord replied, "take this child of Mine and show them what is being planned by the enemy."

Both the angel and the Lord then turned their heads and stared at me. "This will be too much for her," the angel protested.

"Take her, and show her," the Lord repeated. (The angel bowed his head to the Lord, then turned towards me.)

I began to back nervously away as the angel approached me. "Where are you taking me?" I asked the angel.

"To the enemy's camp," the angel replied.

"Go with him," the Lord instructed me. I felt very nervous and afraid, but allowed the angel to touch me. As soon as the angel touched me, we were in darkness. I felt fear engulf me.

"Fear not," the angel said to me, and instantly, the fear vanished.

The darkness seemed to dissipate, and I discovered that the angel and I were in what appeared to be a great court. A man was sitting on a large throne, and before him were gathered all types of creatures and men. (This "court" had the appearance of a cave. When I first viewed this scene, I felt stunned. I'm not sure why. It was like something "rebelled" in me at what I was seeing.)

"Who is that man on the throne?" I asked the angel. "And who are the creatures and men gathered before him?"

"That is the accuser of the brethren and his armies," the angel replied.

I then realized that I was in the presence of satan. (When the angel informed me that this man was satan, the fact that he was sitting on a throne amazed me. Later, when I prayed about this aspect of the vision, I felt that the Lord said that satan was trying to copy everything that was God's in heaven, for himself.)

Satan was speaking, and I heard him say, "This will be our strategy." He then got up from his throne and went to stand in front of a large map on the wall behind him. As I stared at the map, I became aware that it was a map of the entire world. (It is very hard to describe this "map." The map wasn't actually "pinned" or "hanging" on the wall, but it was in front of the wall. But, it was like I could see it from all angles. And also, I could see like "air waves," "wind currents," the tides of the seas, etc. I could also see the hemisphere around the world ~ moons, stars, planets, etc. I really have no words or way to correctly put down the appearance of this "map.")

Satan began to divide the world into sections. Then, he called out some names. I saw the creatures and the men gathered before satan part, and very large and strong looking angelic beings approached satan. (I saw four of these mighty looking angelic beings.) I could sense the power of these beings, and sensed the evil and wickedness of that power. A hush had fallen over the crowd.

"Who are these beings?" I whispered to the angel who I was with.

The angel I was with seemed concerned. "They are satan's princes."

Satan began speaking again, and he was assigning sections of the world to each of these "princes."

"You will need your armies," satan said to them. "Choose whoever you will. All is at your disposal."

The large beings then began to pick and choose who would be in their particular army. (This was by no means "orderly." There was a great deal of arguing, bickering, etc.) When they were finished, they all turned back to satan and stared at him.

"Each prince will teach you our strategy to deceive and to destroy and to slay mankind," satan said. "Go with them."

The princes and their armies began to exit from the presence of satan. The angel and I began to follow one of the groups. They went into what appeared to be a school room. The prince went to the front of the room and began to instruct his army on how to deceive, destroy and slay the people in their particular section of the world that had been allocated to them. The angel and I then went to each "classroom." The same plans and strategies were being "taught" in each "classroom." (By the "same" plans, I don't mean each class was teaching the exact same thing. What I mean, is that each class was very thorough in what it was teaching, and on how to apply what was being taught.)

In some of the classrooms, they were studying political leaders. Their families, homes, lifestyles, etc., were being closely scrutinized. I felt very frightened and helpless, very overwhelmed, as I saw and heard how very thorough these "lessons," for lack of a better word, were. Nothing was left to chance. Every area of these political leaders' lives was being dissected and investigated and studied. Demons were being assigned on how to "attack" and influence and "control" each of these political leaders, their families, and even their friends and co-workers. Nothing was left to chance. Nothing was overlooked. The books they read, the radio stations they listened to, etc., everything, everything was being discussed. The enormity of all of this was absolutely mind boggling to me. This also occurred with the religious leaders.

It was the "religion" classes that frightened and shocked me the most. In these classes, religions of the nations were being studied and discussed. Even New Age and occult, wicca, tarot, etc., were being discussed. Buddhism, Hinduism, etc., were being discussed. The bibles and books and other writings for all of these religions were being read and studied. Each denomination of Christianity was being studied. The Bible being studied was the major source of information for these "lessons." This was truly horrifying and shocking to me that demons were reading and studying the Bible. And, it was all for the intent to twist what was written, and to seek ways to misinterpret, misrepresent, etc., it to Christians. The demons were discussing ways to "dilute" the Gospel. They were discussing ways to "incorporate" major beliefs from all the religions into one big acceptable "gospel for humankind."

Some of the demons in these religion classes were ordered to "infiltrate" churches, were being taken into actual churches, and were watching how the people prayed, worshipped, sang, etc. They were studying how messages were being delivered to the congregations in numerous churches. They were studying the individuals who were used in the operation of the gifts of the Spirit. These individuals were followed around constantly by assigned demons, who watched and listened to everything these people said and did. The friends and family members of these individuals were also studied. The demons discussed ways to drive wedges, etc., between those people who were truly being used of God, and the people they went to church with, and even how to cause these peoples' own pastors and spiritual leaders to lose faith and confidence in these people who were used in the gifts of the Spirit. I felt so angry and frustrated and helpless as I saw and heard how this was to be accomplished, and how it had already been initiated in many, many congregations, and how it was largely succeeding.

Many of these "religious" demons, for lack of a better word, were being taught how to sing in churches, how to dance in the Spirit, how to pray and teach. I felt at times as if I were going to vomit as I witnessed many demons in these classrooms "practicing" how to worship the Lord, and how to be a Christian. Seeing a demon "dancing before the Lord" is so awful, and so sickening, that there are just no words to describe it adequately.

Some of these more "major" demons, could also work "signs, and wonders, and even miracles." Some of these demons, were also being taught how to be "Christ." This was being done, by actually studying the scriptures. Seeing some of these demons acting and speaking like Christ, shocked me speechless. Seeing them reading the Bible, was like an abomination to me.

In some of these classes, even UFO's and aliens were being discussed, and how to deceive people through these phenomenon. There were classrooms where food and dress and slang words - yes, slang words(!) were being studied. Crops were being studied and discussed. All of this was just so vast, it overwhelmed me.

Suddenly, the "classes" began to leave the rooms. The angel and I followed them. They congregated back in front of satan.

"Report," satan said. "How will we deceive, destroy and slay mankind?"

One of the princes came forward and began to outline their plans and strategies to satan.

"The people want signs and wonders and miracles from their religious leaders," the prince said. "We know that our enemy will be, and has begun already, to grant this unto his children. We will slip in with a counterfeit move, and deceive many. We have taught our armies how to mimic worship, praise, and looking and acting like a true believer. We will give unto our armies the ability to work signs, wonders and even miracles. But while all become focused upon these outward manifestations, others of us will begin behind the scenes to dilute the message of the gospel. We will accomplish this partly through speaking to the people about God's 'true' nature. We will allow the people to create God into what and who they want Him to be."

"Good," satan said. "Very good."

The prince began to speak once again. "When the people have created their own version of God, then, we will give them OUR god."

The crowd before satan began to cheer wildly.

"We must depart !" the angel urged me.

Suddenly, we were back before the Lord. He was still in the midst of His children; laughing with them, talking to them, touching them.

A silence fell over the group once again as the angel I was with once more approached the Lord. The angel reported to the Lord all we had heard and seen in hell.

The angel was very concerned and distressed, asking, "Why are You just sitting here with the people? Why haven't they been sent to begin battle? How will they be able to discern this coming great deception if they aren't even aware that one is coming?"

The Lord became grave. His face as He looked at His children was alight with His great love for them. I noticed tears in His eyes. Then, He turned His head and looked at the angel speaking with Him.

"My children will know the false, by knowing the true," the Lord said. "The longer they spend in My Presence, the more they will know My voice when they hear it. A voice of a stranger, they will not follow."

"But the enemy has those who have been taught to speak just as You do," the angel protested. "They sound almost just like You."

"Almost," the Lord replied gently. "Almost they sound like Me. Only My sheep who have lingered long in My Presence will know the voice of their true Shepherd. And this is why I spend so much time with My children. I spend as much time with them as they allow Me to. I know very well what the enemy is planning. My plans are plans of love and fellowship."

The angel and the Lord both fell silent as they gazed at the crowd before the Lord. "Love them well!" the angel replied.

"Yes, a battle is coming," the Lord sighed, and I saw tears in His eyes. "Great wickedness and persecution upon My children; My true children who know My voice. A time of wickedness and persecution such as has never been seen or experienced. Yet in the midst of it all, I will move, I will bless, I will speak, I will love. I will win. There are those of My children who sense much of this. They are the ones who will never stop praying and interceding; not even in times of seeming peace."

"What about me, Lord?" I asked.

The angel and the Lord looked at me. "Pray," the Lord replied. "Tell the prayer warriors to strengthen themselves and their brothers and sisters in the times of peace. I will be pouring out of My Spirit upon all nations and peoples. It will spread to even the most unlikely of places~~ television, magazines, newspapers, radios, even the Internet. And it will be here that the battle will truly begin, and the deception begin."

The Lord stood up.

"It is time?" the angel asked Him.

"It is time," the Lord replied.

Then, I was no longer with the Lord or the angel, but praying once again.

John 10 is in my mind; especially verse 14 ~ "I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine."

The Visitor

Ephraim Frank

Dear Messianic Israelite,

Last Sunday I met in Jerusalem with a pastor friend who is from a community in upstate New York, and took him to Samaria. As we rode along he expressed his frustration that when he brings the folks from his community over to Israel, the tours never seem to connect with the heartbeat of what God is doing in the land. A couple of years ago they came over and joined another ministry group, whose intent was to minister a prophetic word to the Messianic leaders. He and his group however, were grief stricken over the kind of spirit that was manifesting through this make-a-name-for-yourself ministry. He told me that all he and his companions wanted to do then, was to rent their garments. This time they planned to come on a regular tour, in hope of a different experience. And a different experience is what they had! They ended up with a New Age guide who introduced them to another one of Israel's deceptions. Again, although they thought it beneficial to become aware of the strong influence that the New Age has on the life here in the land, they felt that they had still missed the essence of the Holy Spirit's purpose and direction for Israel.

Both my wife and I were impressed by the testimony of true humility and love that the members of this group demonstrated. There was no sign of pride or selfish ambition; they were genuinely seeking after the Father's heart towards the land and the remnant, so that once home they could intercede more effectively. The Divine appointment for this Sunday morning was obviously arranged for the pastor, who had to remain behind after the rest of the group, had returned home the night before.

We left Jerusalem on the northern bypass highway and then turned down a small windy road toward the settlement of Ma'ale Ephraim. There was nothing much for me to do or say, as almost immediately the Holy Spirit and this man's sensitive spirit began a heavenly dialogue. The pastor knew he had just entered into God's purpose for his community, as he watched the mountains, hills, ravines and valleys pass by. His Israelite soul began to respond to the ancient Abrahamic call. His knowledge of the scriptures was transformed into an actual experience that greatly impacted him, as we continued on the journey to the settlement of Har Bracha and the Mount of Blessing. On our way through the settlement we passed a vineyard. I mentioned to him that for well over two thousand years no vineyards have grown in Samaria, as none of the previous occupiers of the land gave the matter any thought. As we sat, staring at the rows of winter-dormant vines, I read from Jeremiah 31: "Again I will build you, and you shall be rebuilt, O virgin of Israel! Again you shall take up your tambourines, and go forth to the dances of the merrymakers. Again you shall plant vineyards on the hills of Samaria; the planters shall plant and shall enjoy them, and there shall be a day when watchmen on the hills of Ephraim shall call: 'Arise and let us go up to Zion, to the Lord our God'." To read these scriptures and to stand in the territory of Ephraim, especially on the Mount of Blessing where you can catch sight of Ephraim's ancient inheritance from every direction was, needless to say, inspirational!

Our friend from the settlement drove up to greet us, and before I had a chance to introduce him to the visitor, he took one look at this man's humble and glowing face and said, "you are bringing sunlight to this place". The conversation that ensued was wrapped in 'Divine ointment'. The pastor had found what he and his community had been praying for and sensing in their hearts, but was sorry that the others were not there to experience this special time. We left the settlement and drove over to Elon Moreh to experience more of the same. From Mount Kebir on the settlement of Elon Moreh we looked down on the valley of Tirtza, and with a slight stroke of imagination we could see Avraham and Sarah making their way up the valley to Elon Moreh – Shechem, and then Ya'acov with his family coming from Haran right behind. Following them we could envision Yehoshua, as he led our ancestors by the millions through the same valley to the two magnificent mountains of the blessing and the curse, now shrouded in a veil of mist and clouds. Looking down at their base we could 'watch' Yehoshua dividing the tribes who congregated in front of the two prophetic rises. With the help of binoculars we saw the altar he erected on the northeastern side of the Mount of Curse. Thousands of years of Biblical history were staring back at us, as if to say, "you were here in the loins of your forefathers, their experiences were yours as well". Deep was calling unto deep, as we experienced the love that the Elohim of Israel has for our forefathers Avraham, Yitzhak and Ya'acov and their inheritance.

As we looked south from Har Kabir, we noticed a small knoll in the valley just below us, east of Shechem, which is called the belly button of Israel or the umbilical cord. This area constitutes the center of the land of Israel. The Mount of Blessing sits in the territory of Ephraim, and the Mount of Curse is in Menashe, with Shechem being the border between the two. It is quite significant to note the fact that YHVH had Yehoshua build the altar on the Mount of Curse in the territory of Menashe. For only through blood sacrifice can the curse of sin be broken. Menashe's name means forgetfulness. Forgetfulness, loss of identity and dispersion were a curse Israel had incurred for its sin. But through the sacrifice of the Lamb of YHVH, that curse has been broken and we can now pass over to the Mount of Blessing and receive our Ephraimite double portion of the inheritance, and the restoration of our true identity.

On our way back we traveled on the outskirts of the city of Shechem. It was quite a shock to see mountains of garbage on both sides of the road. The stench was putrefying, but served as a reminder of the spirit which permeates the area. Traveling by this city also brought to mind the fact that the breach between the two brothers took place nearby, by Divine decree. One could not help but think that we may be living in the time when this breach, between the two families of Judah and Joseph (Ephraim), is to be mended. Is it now the time in which the watchmen on the hills of Ephraim are calling out to the Melo Hagoim ("fullness of the gentiles"): "Arise let us go up to Zion to the Lord our God"? Let us, (Ephraim and Judah) return and walk together in His sacrificial love, for "behold how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to dwell together in unity". Is this what my friend's heart was yearning for?

This unity is not one of merely a like-minded doctrine of religious affiliation. This is a unity that results from a life-love that was poured out upon the administration of mockery, flogging, whipping, beating, stoning, feet and hand piercing, ripping by thorns, and piercing by a sword. Even in the final moments of the Messiah's life, as He hung on the tree of execution, He breathed out His dying words, "It has been paid in full" - "nishlam"*. We, as a redeemed remnant, claim to have this very life in us; the Love of the Father that has been poured out in our hearts through Rauch ha- Kodesh (Holy Spirit). May the words of the Messiah always ring true in our spiritual ears: "love one another even as I have loved you" (with no hidden agendas).

Shabbat Shalom,

Shevet Achim

"In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together from the north to the land that I have given as an inheritance to your fathers" (Jer. 3:18).

* Nishlam from the root. sh.l.m.: payment in full, wholeness, peace and completion.

Visions From The Lord

Stephen Hanson

May 18-19, 00

PART I

There is a verse in Habakkuk 2 which says: "Then the LORD replied: "Write down the revelation and make it plain on tablets so that a herald may run with it. 3. For the revelation awaits an appointed time; it speaks of the end and will not prove false. Though it linger, wait for it; it will certainly come and will not delay. "

I believe this to be true, but the vision, or visions, must be something which are truly from the Lord. This teaching or article, concerns itself primarily with the visions that many prophets and prophetic people experience in their times of worship with the Lord. Oftentimes, visions are accompanied by prophetic words. I find personally, that the Lord will begin speaking to me, and then He oftentimes, will show me something which goes along with the words that He is speaking to me. The vision in this case, is an expansion, or an unveiling of what the prophecy is about, and perhaps helps clarify it or broadens it. We are told that a "picture is worth a thousand words," and yes, this is true, if indeed, the "picture" paints accurately what the words had left out, or had not been completely said.

There are at least three different types of visions that someone may experience during these times. These would then fit into these categories:

"Seeing something with the eyes of one's heart--" I pray also that the eyes of your heart may be enlightened in order that you may know the hope to which he has called you, the riches of his glorious inheritance in the saints, Eph. 1:18. I believe perhaps, that some of what we hear in the form of prophetic words occurs in this form. The Lord will "impress something on the heart of the person." The next level may well be "seeing a picture or a scene, which the Lord "shows" us as we are listening to Him speak. We would be experiencing a conscious presence of the Lord, and His anointing would be very much present in what we are experiencing. I would coin the next level of revelation, one of "open visions." This would be when what we experience or see, would be one of an external vision, and is very much like viewing a movie screen. Now, to be sure, we could probably pull ourselves away from the scene or vision, which we are experiencing, but it is something "right in front of us," and it captivates the viewer's attention to such a degree, that it is predominant over anything else at the time. The last level of revelation would come forth in the form of a trance. Trances would be like dreaming when you are really awake. They may range from the very mild to those where you feel or sense, that you are actually there. Ezekiel experienced much of this type of vision or trance, as did John in the book of Revelation.

Ezekiel describes one such vision in Ezekiel 1: 4, and begins by stating this first:

1. In the thirtieth year, in the fourth month on the fifth day, while I was among the exiles by the Kebar River, the heavens were opened and I saw (visions of God. )

I looked, and I saw a windstorm coming out of the north--an immense cloud with flashing lightning and surrounded by brilliant light. The center of the fire looked like glowing metal, 5. and in the fire was what looked like four living creatures. In appearance their form was that of a man, 6. but each of them had four faces and four wings. 7. Their legs were straight; their feet were like those of a calf and gleamed like burnished bronze. 8. Under their wings on their four sides they had the hands of a man. All four of them had faces and wings, 9. and their wings touched one another. Each one went straight ahead; they did not turn as they moved. 10. Their faces looked like this: Each of the four had the face of a man, and on the right side each had the face of a lion, and on the left the face of an ox; each also had the face of an eagle. 11. Such were their faces. Their wings were spread out upward; each had two wings, one touching the wing of another creature on either side, and two wings covering its body.

He goes on to describe in great detail, about the wheel, the wings of each of the four creatures, and how they moved. So, in essence here, he is describing and "open vision," in which it is external to himself, and something which he is very much a part of.

We have some guidelines for judging prophetic words which are found in I Co. 14 :29: Two or three prophets should speak, and the others should weigh carefully what is said. Should there not be some form of judging visions as well, and then, how might this be done? Obviously, this becomes more difficult, because these visions are something which the individual person experiences personally. But I believe, that the same form of criteria which is used for discerning prophecy should and could be used in evaluating a vision. This is why then, discerning of spirits becomes an equally important gift for the body of Christ today. And I must say, that any vision, impression, or trance, should be able to be substantiated by the word of God, and by those who "hear" what is being said.

In Acts 10, we have an account of Peter who experiences perhaps a trance:

Peter went up on the roof to pray. 10. He became hungry and wanted something to eat, and while the meal was being prepared, he fell into a trance. 11. He saw heaven opened and something like a large sheet being let down to earth by its four corners. 12. It contained all kinds of four-footed animals, as well as reptiles of the earth and birds of the air. 13. Then a voice told him, "Get up, Peter. Kill and eat." 14. "Surely not, Lord!" Peter replied. "I have never eaten anything impure or unclean." 15. The voice spoke to him a second time, "Do not call anything impure that God has made clean." 16. This happened three times, and immediately the sheet was taken back to heaven. 17. While Peter was wondering about the meaning of the vision, the men sent by Cornelius found out where Simon's house was and stopped at the gate.

Here we find that Peter was wondering what the vision meant, and later was given revelation concerning it. This is important to note, because we must ask and not merely "assume" that we know what something means to us at the time. Indeed, He will reveal to us oftentimes, in the midst of the vision, what it means, or we may have an "impression" as to what it might mean. Here is where our asking of Him, and in our search for truth and answers in His word will prove to help substantiate what we have seen, and then to verify this with the scriptures.

I know that there are many forms of visions which the prophetic community has experienced, and will continue to experience in their times with the Lord. My intention is not one of criticism here, for I am one who sees visions on a regular basis, as I know that there are others out there as well. I just have not heard or seen any articles on this sort of thing, and thought that it might prove to be of importance to us as a prophetic and apostolic community.

Perhaps there are very few who have abused this gift or ability from the Lord. I just don't want us to accept blindly every thing we hear or see. It can be very easy to become deceived, and what we may well consider to be a vision from the Lord, may well be something which was manufactured by our own selfish desires or a mind given to fantasies.

Jer. 23

25. "I have heard what the prophets say who prophesy lies in my name. They say, 'I had a dream! I had a dream!'
26. How long will this continue in the hearts of these lying prophets, who prophesy the delusions of their own minds?
27. They think the dreams they tell one another will make my people forget my name, just as their fathers forgot my name through Baal worship.
28. Let the prophet who has a dream tell his dream, but let the one who has my word speak it faithfully. For what has straw to do with grain?" declares the LORD.

We do have a promise though of what the Spirit of God will do, and has been doing now for some time as seen in Joel 2:

28. 'And afterward, I will pour out my Spirit on all people. Your sons and daughters will prophesy, your old men will dream dreams, your young men will see visions. 29. Even on my servants, both men and women, I will pour out my Spirit in those days.

May we as a the body of Christ come to a place where we truly do see what He is showing us, and then share it in a way that builds-up the body unto maturity. May they not be the delusions of our own minds or hearts, but truly be things we have seen and heard from the Spirit of God.

VISIONS FROM THE LORD"--PART II.

I have included a few visions below which are included for the purposes of this teaching. One will notice that these would appear to be incomplete, largely in part because they DO NOT include any part of the prophetic word which accompanied them. There are also not any scriptures accompanying these either. I left them out and included just the vision part. I also included them because much of what we see and read about includes visions, and prophetic words. Oftentimes, as stated earlier, we seemingly accept EVERYTHING we read as TRUTH, even when it is in the form of a vision. My purposes again are not to discredit what is seen below, but merely to use this as an example or teaching, concerning our discernment and how visions are perhaps experienced.

"I have said that I will expose the works of the enemy. I will show many of you a way into his camp."

(The Lord showed me a scene of a feast. There was a long table, and at one end was a royal chair, and sitting on this chair was Satan himself. As I looked at his chair, I noticed that he appeared very much like what death might look like. There was a gray veil over everything in the room. He was passing around various plates of food of all sorts of things to those who were sitting around this table. There was something served, and then something else would be passed around to those sitting. I then asked the Lord what they were doing, and He said: "They are feasting on the deeds of darkness.")

I was sitting and not thinking about anything particular with my eyes closed, when the Lord showed me a locust. This locust was in mid-air flying. Its wings were in motion, and it was hideous to look at. It was of a greenish-brown with areas of gold and black in it. As I continued to watch this, it seemed to open-up in the middle, and things were being dropped to the land below. I couldn't quite distinguish what it was, and asked, "Lord what was that that was dropped below"? He then replied, "Those are the seeds of the locust being dropped on the land."

(The Lord showed me a man in armor who was sitting on a horse. He was dressed very much like one would be during the time of the Middle Ages. He appeared to be equipped and ready. His horse also was large and appeared to be strong and ready. He had a lance and was ready for battle. As I continued to watch this, thinking that he would move into battle, he climbed down from his horse, and found a place on a ground. Here a blanket was spread out and he laid down to rest.)

(The Lord showed me a pathway which was bordered with stones on either side, and it stretched out before me. It was one which might be traveled on a mountain path. I also noticed a man who held a compass or an instrument in his hand, and this seemed to be for checking barometric pressure. I then saw an eagle which was soaring above, and as I observed this, it became dark and the eagle continued to fly, but seemingly not knowing where he was going. I saw someone who was holding a song book in his hand and the song, "Shall we gather at the river," was being sung. With this song then, the eagle turned his course around, and began flying in the other direction. )(The Lord showed me a scene in which I saw the profile of himself, like a giant King, and He was looking down upon His children. There were a few standing in front of Him, waiting for His orders. As I watched then, the Lord gathered up a bowl of water and poured it forth upon these men. As I continued to watch the water, it changed, and there seemed to be many things going on in the water. It began to boil and rise to the surface, and there appeared to be various things in the water. Then out of the water, came other figures, who were garbed in kingly and various robes. I watched these figures, and as they walked, they moved their hands and motioned and spoke.)

(Again, the Lord began to show me some things and here I saw a huge pair of hands motioning to me to come over here and sit down. He then said, "Come and sit down, for many of you have been trained in my Spirit, but it is now time, to begin training others. For school has begun and it is time to get into your seats. )

(Here as I watched in the Spirit, He showed me a person's body, and inside was a stream or river which flowed, and seemed to fill the body. Then, I saw the profile of a person's head, and watched as water was being spewed out of their mouth. It came in bursts and there were all kinds of debris and various things which came out of the mouth with this water.)

(Again, this time the Lord showed me a person's tongue and as I looked at it, it had various sores and places where the surface had become changed from the things which had "spewed-out" of the mouth. It was not a pleasant sight. As strange as it may sound, then, a wheelbarrow was taking and dropping a load of garbage which had collected down below, and was then in the mouth. This was then being dropped outside of the mouth, as to get rid of it. Lastly, I saw a bucket of water which was being raised from above, and this was being used to "wash" the mouth and so, to get rid of the filth.)

The Lord said to me: "Study to show yourself approved. In a house there are many books, and not all of them are good. "

(I saw a young man who was reaching for a book in a bookshelf, and he took one of these books out of the bookcase and looked at it. It had a very ornate cover of gold flourishing and designs, and was seemingly very beautiful. He then placed the book back on the shelf where he had found it.)

(I saw a man who had a shovel, and he was clearing the way for a pathway to walk upon. As he dug into the ground, a tree was pushed to the side. He placed his shovel into the ground and lifted up a huge rock which had blocked his path. Various things were dug and lifted out of the way so that he could walk on this pathway.)

Below is included a portion of a prophetic word which goes with the vision directly below it. Without the prophetic word, the vision is incomplete.

"Behold, there is a way that is being prepared for my servants to walk upon. It is a way that has been cut within the ground and the rock. It is a way that has been prepared for each of you. It is a way that only you can travel. This way may appear to be arduous and difficult, but it is necessary, for in it, there are many things necessary for your lives. "

(The Lord showed me a mountain which was looming in the distance, and as I looked at this mountain, I noticed a pathway which encircled around the mountain all the way to its top. There were a few people, very much like pioneers, who were traversing the mountain. As I continued to look at this scene, there were then clouds which were in front of the mountain, and I began to look below at the valley and area at the base of this mountain. At first it appeared to be beautiful and lush, but there was a figure who was dressed in jewels who was dancing. [The Lord then said: "This is the state of many of my people down below, for there is dancing and revelry."]

(The Lord showed me a horn which would be used to blow with, very much like a shofar, and it was being used to blow into a person's ear. I was looking at the outside of this ear, and then as the horn was continuing to blow, I watched and I was going inside the various layers of the ear, traveling inward, as the sound of this shofar continued to blow its message or sound. There then appeared to be some things obstructing the passageways, like small branches.)

(Then I saw a mass of small weeds and vines which were entangled within this ear, and they had thistle-like tops to them)

I saw a river which was raging, and a man was in this river. As I watched, this man was caught-up in the current, with his hand and head just above the water, traveling down the current. Then this scene changed, and I watched a single leaf which was traveling down the stream, and it flowed with the stream, and it was on top of it, through various currents, up and down waterfalls, and continued down this river. There then was seen a blossom on top of this leaf, like a water lily.

Another scene was shown to me, but this time I was looking at a cityscape with skyscrapers in the distance. A river flowed next to this city, and as I watched, the river's force tore-up a bridge and it collapsed. Then I saw cars on a highway, and they seemed to be racing, as if to leave this scene and get away from the deluge.)

(The Lord showed me a container which was laid-open on the floor, and it opened-up from either side. At first I thought that it was a casket, but it wasn't. As I looked at it, it was beautifully wrought, and was laid with jewels and gold, and it opened from two sides with a hinge on either side; so there were three sides in this container. As it laid there before me opened, it then appeared to be a bible. He told me: "My word is an ark of safety, for those who would come into it.")

(The Lord showed me an army dressed in various garb. As they were moving forward, I noticed that an entire regiment or section of them, decided that that was not the way to go. Instead of moving forward, they then, made a complete turn-around, and someone motioned for them to go this way. They in turn, then, began marching in that direction, while the first part of the army, continued to move forward. As this happened, I then noticed a bank of water, very much like what the Red Sea would have looked like when the Israelites were to cross it, while being pursued by the Egyptians. Here the banks of the water rose up on either side to allow the army to cross. However, those who had decided to march in a different direction, had not been allowed to cross. Then again, the Lord said to me, "Those that are camped at the base of the Red Sea, see their brothers and sisters on the other side. "

(Again I saw this scene, and there were various tents set-up as camps before the Red Sea, and then the Lord said: )

Below is a portion of a vision from Rick Joyner's book, "The Call, pp. 137-138:

..."Suddenly, I was standing on a high mountain overlooking a great plain. Before me, there was an army marching on a wide front. There were 12 divisions in the vanguard that stood out sharply from the great multitude of soldiers who followed behind them. These divisions were further divided into what I assumed to be regiments, battalions, companies and squads. The divisions were distinguished by their banners, and the regiments were distinguished by their different colored uniforms. Battalions, companies and squads were distinguished by such things as sashes or epaulets that each different group wore. All wore armor that was polished silver, shields that appeared to be pure gold, and weapons that were both silver and gold. The banners were huge, 30 to 40 feet long. As the soldiers marched, their armor and weapons flashed in the sun like lightening, and the flapping of the banners and the tread of their feet sounded like rolling thunder. I did not think that the earth had ever witnessed anything like this before. Then I was close enough to see their faces--male and female, old and young from every race. There was a fierce resolution on their faces, yet they did not seem tense. War was in the air, but in the ranks I could sense such a profound peace that I knew that not a single one feared the battle to which they were marching. The spiritual atmosphere that I felt when close to them was as awesome as their appearance. I looked at their uniforms. The colors were brilliant. Every soldier also wore rank insignias and medals. The generals and other higher ranking officers marched in the ranks with the others. Although it was obvious that those with higher rank were in charge, no one seemed overly sensitive to their rank. From the highest ranking officer to the lowest, they all seemed to be close friends. It was an army of what seemed to be unprecedented discipline, yet it also seemed to be just one big family. "

Joyner's visions express great detail and are witness to one who is seeing a panoramic vision. There are also several times when the Lord in the form of wisdom, or judgment, speaks to him, and these words along with the visions, give us great clarity in both word and in "sight."

I could go on and on talking about all of this, but I believe I have perhaps gone into quite enough detail and examples. In conclusion then, when one hears or reads, or experiences visions from the Lord, let them "house" them with God's foundational truths which are found in His word, and also, make certain that they are not being manufactured by their own minds and fantasies.

I welcome others to respond or correspond with me concerning these things which I have attempted to illustrate and expound upon.

Vision of Trees

Todd Davis

Vision received by Todd Davis <todderindavis@juno.com> on September 10, 2000 in Morning Star Church at the beginning of worship.

I saw a person standing in a field. I felt this represented me personally, but also represented people in the Body of Christ both individually and corporately.

The person felt at peace and had a measure of joy in the field. However, trees began growing all around the person, which made him feel a bit anxious about what was happening.

The trees continued to grow and became a forest around him. At this point, the person cried out in agony, fear, and aloneness. He interrogated God with questions of "Why?" and his deep seated unbelief was exposed to its core.

At this point of utter darkness, Jesus appeared. He came as a woodsman and He began cutting down the trees surrounding the person. As he was cutting, he turned to address the person. He spoke with a non-condemning boldness that only His faithfulness can convey.

He said, "My child, have faith in my faithfulness to you, have faith in my character, have faith in my goodness. I am well aware of the trees that have grown high in your life that now seem to surround you. I have come to use them to build you a house, a shelter from the storms to come . . . a refuge . . . a place of comfort."

The entire house, from the floor beams to the rafters to the finish carpentry was a memento of God's faithfulness and goodness . . . it shown with the character, wisdom, and maturity of God. It was breathtaking and full of His Glory.

I sensed that some could and indeed did cut down these growing trees prematurely. In doing so, they forfeited a strong shelter for upcoming storms. Those that allowed the trees to grow around them and those that seemed to have no control over the trees growing around them, will be shown the greatness of God's faithfulness and goodness that can only be appreciated and accomplished through suffering, through the wilderness, through darkness.

God is desiring a deeper measure of belief in His faithfulness and goodness towards us. He wants His Word and His Spirit to reside inside of us, "If God be for us, who can be against us? . . . For He knows the plans He has for us, plans to give us a hope and future. . . Those that wait upon the Lord will renew their strength . . ."

Vision of the New Breed of Warriors

Gloria Shepherd

June 20, 2000:

I saw in the spirit today, a great band of Elijah warriors going forth in great numbers over the earth; they were in the spiritual realm, speaking forth with faith the words that He gave them, as He commanded them to speak, so did they speak, not before, not out of sync or timing but always following his command, they spoke forth what He commanded them to speak. They were not as any I had seen before, they were mighty in war, and fierce in battle against the enemy yet, and they walked in the mighty fire of Elijah, walking in the fire of heaven on earth, calling down the fire, as He said call it down, and speaking forth fiery words of heaven as they were given this new fire to walk in, to speak forth on earth.

In their words were commandments of the Head which was Christ being spoken forth. They spoke not of themselves, or to puff up their own selves, but they spoke with the authority of the Head of this band of warriors, with the greatest authority did they speak forth into the spiritual world, with commandments which were spoken forth from heaven with great power and authority. They had the mantles of the king and of the priestly anointing. And they walked as a band of Elijah's going forth over the earth. They were like Elijah speaking forth the words of the King with his authority did they wield the spiritual sword of authority, with fire did they speak, I saw fire come forth from their mouths, and they were not like any others before them. They spoke with no fear in their mouths, but with fire from heaven and with power that yielded immediate results in the earthly realm as they spoke -- shortly there after did I see it come to pass in the earthly realm. In my spirit, I knew time was accelerating at a rapid rate, and that which was being done in the spiritual realm, was quickly coming to pass in the earthly realm. I saw many miracles take place as the spirit of Elijah's came forth over the earth, and I knew that the time was getting even nearer yet for the great harvest to take place. I saw the men raise up out of hospital beds, the dead rise up out of their death beds, and many things that had not been believed to be possible begin to take place as everyday occurrences here on earth. This is the day of the beginning of the Elijah's as they go forth as mighty bands across the earth, in fire and power and glory called down from heaven do they speak forth, with authority that the earth has not known before, and in such great numbers before they moved as one unit, as one mighty band, with the head being Christ.

Then the Lord said this is only the beginning of the great miracles that will begin to occur across the earth, as my power is given forth, as my warriors come to take their swords of power to quench the enemy in his tracks, there will be even greater miracles begin to take place on earth, for the enemy will be stopped with the multitude that is going to about to be unleashed upon this earth in the days to come. What is about to be unleashed will be like a great explosion of my power and glory--covering all the earth with my presence. The enemy will run when he sees the power that will come forth from what is about to be unleashed upon the earth as one unit is unleashed across the earth. No more will he be allowed to hurl stumbling blocks in front of those who I have called for this great mission, for their power will be unleashed like a mighty explosive power across the earth, and together, it shall be so strong, that he will not be able to stand in the power that will be unleashed against him. This is only the beginning of this which is going to cover the earth, my glory and power shall be as a great nuclear explosion covering the earth in the days to come.

Calling Forth This New Breed of Elijah's

These words He spoke to me after these visions: This day am I bringing forth a new breed of warriors as you have not seen before this day. They shall walk in the exploits of Elijah and no fear will have hold of their hearts captive. For they will know me in this new dimension of warring and intercession.

I say unto you Elijahs, how will arms grow- the dead arise unless my Elijah's be birthed forth this day. They shall walk in the mighty king priest mantle that I have laid on them this day and hour. Call forth the fire from heaven and I will bring to pass great and precious promises to my people. You are a band of mighty ones chosen before this day and hour, no demon in hell shall prevail against you for you shall be FUSED TO ME AS YOUR HEAD, and power and mighty I shall infuse you with as you go forth in me as I have called you forth in this day and hour.

CONFIRMING OF THE PROPHETS WORDS

Speak forth with the fire I have placed within your mouth this day. Be not afraid. Keeping your eyes transfixed on me without wavering, I will lead you forth into the uncharted waters. Be not afraid to speak. But know that I fuel your tongue and lips and you are mighty band of fiery prophets sent forth in this day. Have I not confirmed your words as words of a prophet, so far, so why do you doubt what I am doing now? I will confirm these things also which I will speak from your lips in these days to come. I will not withhold my hand from you, but I will confirm the words that you speak for me, as my prophet. For you are my mouthpieces. I will confirm your words that you speak for me, so do not fear, but in the fire that I have placed within you to speak, go forth in this fiery Elijah spirit, and walk in the fire and speak forth in the fire which I placed within your mouth.

Vessels On The Shelf

river_of_life@netzero.net

September 15, 2000:

I saw a shelf with many dusty vessels. They were not much to look at. They looked as if they had been sitting there for years. If you were to look inside them, you could see that they were all filled to various levels with costly oil. They appeared to be made of a porous, yet absorbent material. They were then taken off of the shelf, polished, and broken, and then the costly oil was released.

This is the word that I received with this:

I see, My children, that you are waiting. You are waiting to release what I have placed within you. There is costly oil within you. It cost My Son everything. There are people who need what I have placed within you. Some of you are going through a breaking so that I can release what is inside of you, for there are people who need what is inside of you.

You must fall upon the Rock and be broken, or the Rock will fall upon you.

There is coming a day when I will use ordinary vessels in extra-ordinary ways. I am about to take you "off of the shelf". First, I will repair your brokenness. You must bring your brokenness to Me. I am looking for vessels of humility who are not seeking to make a name for themselves, but who are seeking to worship My name. I am seeking faceless vessels who desire to seek My face.

I have called you to release the Fragrance of God wherever you are: in Church, at home, at your places of work, and in your neighborhoods. I have created you for such a time as this. You are not in the place where you are by accident. I have a plan and you are in it.

I will anoint your eyes so that you will see what I have placed in others, so that it can be released. I will anoint your eyes so that you will see those who need what I have placed within you. I will teach you to see the emptiness in people, so that I can fill them through you.

I have called you to a place of extravagant brokenness in your worship. My desire is that My presence would linger over you, but you must be broken. I have called you to a place of sacrifice. Come to the Throne, and we will make the exchange: everything in Me for everything in you. Be warned: it will cost you your friends, your time, your energy, your desires, and your very life. Have I not written that those who lose their lives will find them? Your sacrifice will be ridiculed by some, but it is pleasing to Me.

I have called you to a place of purity before Me. I have called you to be pure in heart. Bring before Me your motives, your thoughts, your desires, and your aspirations, and I will put them through the Fire. I will burn out the dross. I will separate the wheat from the chaff, and you will be like gold refined by fire.

Do not break My heart. Let your heart be broken. Keep yourselves clothed in humility. Do not become bound by pride, for my desire is to have pure Bride, without spot, wrinkle, or blemish.

I have called you to a place of unity. Do not fight amongst yourselves. In times of frustration - PRAY. I am looking for a unified Body. I am seeking a pure Bride, and not a wrinkled harem. When you are tempted to criticize - PRAY. I have called you to be on your knees, not up in arms. I have called you to be one unified Body, not dismembered Body parts.

Keep asking. Keep seeking. Keep knocking. For I am about to release what I have placed within you, My Church.

Vision For The Warriors

Kim Clement

THE VISION FOR THE WARRIORS OF THE NEW MILLENNIUM

The vision is Jesus - obsessively, dangerously, undeniably Jesus. The vision is an army of young people. You see bones? I see an army. They could eat caviar on Monday and bread crusts on Tuesday. They wouldn't even notice. They are mobile, like the wind; they belong to the Nations. They are free, yet they are slaves of the hurting and dirty and dying.

WHAT IS THE VISION?

The vision is holiness that hurts the eyes. It makes children laugh and adults angry. It gave up the game of minimum integrity long ago to reach for the stars. It SCORNS the good and STRIVES for the best. It is dangerously pure. LIGHT flickers from every secret motive, every private conversation. It loves people away from their suicide leaps. This is an army that will lay down its life for the cause. A million times a day, its soldiers choose to lose that they might one-day win the great "Well Done, faithful sons and daughters!" Such heroes are as radical on Monday morning as Sunday night.

THEY DON'T NEED FAME FROM NAMES.

Instead, they grin quietly upwards and hear the crowds chanting again and again, "COME ON!" And the army is disciplined. Young people who beat their bodies into submission. Every soldier would take a bullet for his comrade at arms. The tattoo on their backs boasts "For me to live is Christ, to die is gain". Sacrifice fuels the fire of victory in their upward eyes. WINNERS. MARTYRS. WHO CAN STOP THEM? Can hormones hold them back? Can failure succeed? Can fear scare them or death kill them? And the generation prays like a dying man with groans beyond talking, with WARRIOR CRIES, sulfuric tears and with great loads of laughter. Whatever it takes, they will give. Breaking the rules. Shaking the mediocrity from its cozy little hide. Laying down their rights and their precious little wrongs, laughing at labels, fasting essentials. The advertisers cannot mold them. Hollywood cannot mold them. Peer pressure is powerless to shake their resolve at late night parties. They are incredibly cool, dangerously attractive inside. On the outside? They hardly care. They wear clothes like a costume to communicate and celebrate, but NEVER TO HIDE. Would they surrender their image or popularity? They would lay down their very lives - swap seats with the 'guilty-as-hell' man on death row - a throne for an electric chair. With blood and sweat and many tears, with sleepless nights and fruitless days, they pray as if it all depends on God and live as if it all depends on them.

Their DNA chooses Jesus. He breathes out, they breathe in. Their subconscious sings. They had a blood transfusion with Jesus. Their words make the demons scream in shopping centers. Don't you hear them coming? Herald the weirdo's! Summon the losers and the freaks. Here comes the frightened and forgotten with fire in their eyes. They walk tall and trees applaud, skyscrapers bow, mountains are dwarfed by these children of another dimension. Their prayers summon the hounds of heaven and invoke the ancient dream of Eden.

AND THIS VISION WILL BE. IT WILL COME TO PASS; IT WILL COME EASILY; IT WILL COME SOON. How do I know? Because this is the LONGING OF CREATION ITSELF, THE GROANING OF THE SPIRIT, THE VERY DREAM OF GOD. Tomorrow is HIS today. My distant hope is His 3D. My feeble whispered faithless prayer invokes a thunderous, resounding, bone-shaking "AMEN!" from countless angels, from heroes of the faith and from Christ Himself. HE is the original Dreamer, the ULTIMATE WINNER and the LEADER of the WARRIORS OF THE NEW MILLENNIUM - GUARANTEED!

Vision With Song

Bob Neumann

Well, you should have been there. I was just being still and enjoying "THE PRESENCE". Now don't that sound all spiritual and uplifting. basically I was lying on the sofa thinking about GOD ....Then I wasn't. I was standing on a bleak place, dark and dreary. to my immediate right stood THE KING in traveling robe with hood drawn over HIS HEAD. I could see there were a group of others around me. all standing and waiting and watching. Now what took place came without WORDS. I had no set "written instructions" except what has now been burned in my heart. So I will now share what I saw and let you play with it.....and then I will play.

We stood on this place...why on I did not understand at first but it is correct. there are 36 figures standing quietly all grouped around the KING. it was dark and still. and without warning THE KING walked a brief distance and stopped. HE was looking out, out into nothing as far as I could see. And suddenly the robe was gone and HE WAS TRANSFIGURED. HE STOOD GLORIOUS AND FULL. And I dropped to my knees at HIS SIDE. as I watched HIS GLORY ESCALATED/INCREASED and I became aware of THE ECHAD....THE ONENESS....and there was THE THRONE and MY ABBA unlike I had ever seen HIM. All I could do was weep as I gazed and I understood. This is who Daniel saw....THE ANCIENT OF DAYS....

On one side of THE THRONE stood THE SPIRIT. THE BREATH of THE LIVING GOD. And on the other side was MY CAPTAIN unlike I had ever seen HIM. HIS FACE was cold and severe. THE FIRE AND THUNDER were still there....but focused and concentrated. but I was neither afraid or bothered. in fact I wanted to shout. because THIS IS MY KING....nothing held back....

And as we waited it seemed the whole universe slowly lit up and filled with HIS GLORY. For some reason I had the feeling we were looking "down" upon the earth. and I slowly realized I was hearing a familiar sound. the slow, controlled, gleeful, sound of laughter. And I watched THE KING step onto 'air' a few feet in front of THE THRONE. In my spirit I heard the sweet and gentle VOICE begin to sing.

BEHOLD THE CHILD THAT WAS BORN

IS THE SON WHO WAS GIVEN

HE WAS THE SERVANT THAT SUFFERED

HE WAS THE LAMB THAT WAS SLAIN

HE WAS THE BURNING BUSH IN THE DESERT

HE WAS THE PILLAR OF CLOUD BY DAY

HE WAS THE PILLAR OF FIRE BY NIGHT

HE WAS THE ROCK THAT GAVE WATER TO THE THIRSTY

HE WAS THE DAILY BREAD GIVEN IN THE WILDERNESS

NOW BEHOLD THE LION OF JUDAH

THE KING OVER ALL THE EARTH
THE ALL CONSUMING FIRE
THE ALEPH AND THE TAV
WHO WAS WHO IS WHO WILL ALWAYS BE
THE GREAT AND TERRIBLE GOD
THE LAMB WHO ALONE IS WORTHY
THE LAMB WHO TREADS THE WINEPRESS OF THE WRATH OF A HOLY GOD.
NOW BEHOLD THE LAMB, THE SON, THE KING
THE DESTROYER OF KINGDOMS AND PRINCES
THE DREADFULL AND AWEFULL WHIRLEWIND
THE SHAKER AND THE WINNOWER
THE RIGHT ARM OF THE FATHER.

And I knelt there with tears running down my face. each word of the song burned in me. and I just waited. it seemed like forever, and it was just a moment. suddenly I felt a gentle HAND on my shoulder and I turned to look into ABBA'S FACE. HE SMILED AND WIPED AWAY SOME TEARS. and said something very interesting.

"YOU ARE HERE BECAUSE YOU CHOSE TO SERVE. YOU GOT HERE BECAUSE YOU FOLLOWED AND LISTENED AND OBEYED. YOU ARE MY PRECIOUS AND MY SPECIAL TREASURES. NOW I GIVE YOU TO MY SON IN WHOM I AM WELL PLEASED. YOU ARE THE FATHER'S GIFT. NOW I RELEASE YOU TO FOLLOW AND SERVE YOUR BELOVED. TO RUN DOWN HIS ENEMIES AND TO EXALT HIM OVER ALL THE EARTH".

with that HE clasped something around my neck and gently closed the visor to the ARMOR OF GOD. once again I was encased in the ARMOR and I stood and stepped onto the air with the others all in LIVING ARMOR OF LIGHT. THE KING stood there and nodded to each one of us. as we all stood and received HIS NOD I began to hear the roaring sound of THUNDER AND WIND. SLOWLY HE CLOSED HIS VISOR AND THE DARKNESS RETURNED. as one we dropped to the earth below and I suddenly understood exactly what frightened those who would not repent. Isaiah 2 and Rev 6 speak of it, but who took it seriously?

Great And Mighty Things!

Penny Johnson

Over the last several months the Lord has been dropping several key issues into my spirit. The following is

How it began to come together and I was urged by the Holy Spirit to write them down.

On December 26, 1999 at almost 5 pm the Lord dropped the word "Salem" into my spirit to search the scriptures for it's meaning. I discovered that Salem means peace in the dessert and that Salem was the original name of Jerusalem.

Monday December 27, 1999 8 AM

"It is time to go!" says the Lord. "Intercede deeply, it is Salem coming down for God's people but Jerusalem is lost. Search the scriptures to hear My voice and know My plan" (Then I was referred to Revelation 2:20 to be warned of the false prophetess).

In Matthew 23:37-39 Christ laments for Jerusalem. Verse 38 describes how they who rejected Him will be left to themselves. Verse 39 tells us He will only return to them who say "Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord!"

In Luke 19: 41-44 Jesus weeps for the city and says "If you had known, even you, especially in this your day, the things that make for your peace! But now they are hidden from your eyes." Then Jesus prophecies of the destruction of the City- 'because you did not know the time of your visitation'. "This is the time of my visitation" says God. "Listen!"

I believe the Holy Spirit is warning that those who continually reject Him and His teachings face the danger of being destroyed with the wicked and peace (Salem) will remain only for His true followers. Jeru (meaning the city who rejected Him) will be destroyed. Salem (God's people and peaceful city in the dessert) will remain.

December 27, 1999 4-6 PM

All day I had been summoned to go to the Church to get alone with God and wait on Him. I came with willingness but with great distress in the Spirit within me. I feel the weeping of the Spirit of Jesus. I am sure it is only a fraction of what He felt when weeping for Jerusalem. At the same time there is elation and expectancy of the coming of great works of God in the year 2000. The spirit within me knows, but my mind can not describe it.

As I was praying this afternoon the Holy Spirit urged me to pray for self-cleansing (Psalm 51:2) and I felt crushed for the iniquity of others (Psalm 56:7) and to pray for the peace of God's people (Isaiah 57:19) as well as was reminded of NO peace for the wicked (v. 20-21).

I was led to Obadiah 9 that tells of the "mighty men" (v. 8 says "wise men") will be dismayed at what God is doing. This is already happening. The wise men of today are being faced with things they can not understand or explain.

December 28, 1999 AM

"Lamps will burn longer on the oil in them expected. Candles will burn brighter than usual. This will be a sign to you of the Holy Ghost working mightier through you." "Do not fear or wonder why because I have told you. Do not dread running out if you stay in obedience to Me. Look at the Virgins, look at the widow's pot of oil. Let it be a sign and a wonder to you to trust Me. This is not a suggestion! Listen for My directions! Study the scriptures to find My pattern for living a Godly life. The earthly comforts are temporary but the comfort of My Holy Spirit is eternal. Abide in Me and I will abide in you. Sit upon My lap and lean your ear to My heart. Great Great and mighty things will I show you, but you will miss your cue if you are not listening to My voice and Mine alone. You are My brood. I am gathering you under My wings. Do not resist Me no matter the cost. It may cost you much in the flesh but the spiritual payment is matchless! Give testimony! Overcome! Overcome! Overcome! Put no value on earthly goods. There is no time to store up earthly treasures. Cast them aside and search for Me with ALL your heart. Fine tune your spiritual life. Forgive, forget, forbear! Walk in the spirit not after the flesh. What is the flesh? What is the Spirit? Ask Me! Live by every word that comes from My mouth. It is My word. I am My word. Be My word in operation.”

“Have I called you to a ministry but your monetary desires have a greater pull? Look at the examples in My word. Didn’t I say ‘give up all you have and follow Me’? “

December 29, 1999

“Enter the Kingdom by faith, peace will be yours. You reject the Kingdom by pride. Pride of possessions, pride of self, pride of achievements . Pride is falling! Self exaltation will keep you out of the Kingdom.”

“You say all the right phrases but they come from your head not your heart. Cast down everything that exalts you! Memorizing words does not save you. Memorizing words does not heal you. Pray for My wisdom. Pray for My revelation knowledge. Obadiah 2-4 says “Behold, I will make you small among nations (peoples). You shall be greatly despised. The pride of your heart had deceived you, you will dwell in the clefts of the rock whose habitation is high: You who say in your heart, ‘Who will bring me down to the ground?’ Though you ascend as high as the eagle, and though you set your nest among the stars, from there I will bring you down!” says the Lord. “Pride is fatal! Give it up now! You can deflate your self or I can burst your bubble for you with much anguish. Humble yourselves before Me. Give Me your achievements that I may be exalted through them— not you.” says the Lord.

December 30, 1999 PM

“Obadiah’s cry for Edom is as much for today’s world as it was in 586 B.C. It is the day of the Lord beginning!” says God.

Intercessors all over the world are weeping for the return of God’s people to Him. HE IS RETURNING FOR PEOPLE OF PEACE AND PEOPLE OF FAITH! Let us not be found a people huddled in a mass of fear, doubt and unbelief.

December 31, 1999 AM

“My peace will rest upon you like a heavy dew. Not a hair will be harmed or a thread of clothing be lost as long as you remain in Me. Wait, listen, pray, watch, obey. A supernatural calm will come. A wisdom beyond your understanding will take place in your lives— as long as you remain in My shadow.

EXPOSING THE ENEMY

There is an attack that has started to be launched out against the people of God. This will come in a very similar manner to the attack against Elijah from Jezebel after the Mount Carmel victory. (1 King 19:2-3)

Many of God's people has passed through many spiritual battles covering all fronts and at this point, God has given us an assurance of His victory in our heart and spirit. Yet many of His people are still waiting for the physical manifestation of these promises.

As His people continue to press in to the promises of the Lord and as we prepare to map and claim the inheritance and promise of God by ACTS OF OBEDIENCE. It will be at this point in time that the attack will be launched.

THE FORM THAT IT WILL TAKE

This attack will come as thought patterns questioning our integrity or motives. The enemy would throw questions to us with the intention of causing us to focus on our areas of weakness. The enemy would even use words by our love ones and twist it and add sarcastic meaning and colors to them with the intent of making us feel "unappreciated, unloved, unimportant."

The enemy wants to confuse the issue at hand. He is trying to jump ahead of the Holy Spirit after each of these spiritual victories and intends to steal the peace in our hearts and instead is trying to plant fear and discouragement by making us feel and think that "every act of obedience we have just done were not of God but were just the product of our own imagination."

THE WEAPONS OF WARFARE

The Lord is reminding us about what Jesus did when He was tempted in the wilderness. He used the Word of God to silence the voices of the enemy.

We are therefore to dig deep into our hearts and maybe even notes and journals and to retrieve and keep handy every prophetic words and impressions that we have received from the Lord and from others and further fortified these with the different Rhema promises from the Bible that the Lord has given to us to claim.

And like Jesus we are to use these as our weapons of warfare and speak these words back to the enemy to silence him.

THE PAST JOURNEY

The Lord has seen all the battles that His people have been through in the past. Those were the seasons of breaking, molding, changing and growing.

THE PRESENT POSITIONING

Like the children of Israel, we have come out of our desert and God has allowed us to stand and see our inheritance from a distance. It is within our reach and this season He has already started to lead many to step forward in boldness to start claiming these inheritance.

Some have been called to give up old established ministries and to moved forward to plant and start new ministries by faith. Some have been called to move and transfer and effect changes in many areas which includes work and to some even actual changing of residences. Some have been called to exercise physical prophetic actions similar to what the prophets in the Old Testament were led to do. Jeremiah was ask to buy a land at the very time when the people are about to be led away into captivity (Jeremiah 32:7).

Many of these actions may even look foolish and impractical outwardly but have great spiritual significance and meaning.

All these are part of God's positioning us to enter and claim the inheritance that He has prepared for us. Every one of these action and decision takes a lot of spiritual exercises of faith and trust in the Lord. And Like Elijah after Mount Carmel, this is where we are most vulnerable.

THE PROMISE OF GOD

The Lord is saying to those who are finding themselves facing these attacks to stand firm in Him.

FOR WE ARE ACCEPTED IN THE BELOVED.

And His recompense and reward is with Him being readied to honor His obedient children. He is preparing a banqueting table in the presence of our enemies. And His anointing oil is ready to be pour down and we will soon begin to see our cups overflows. Surely the goodness and love of the Lord will follow us all the remaining days of our lives and we will be dwelling in the Presence of the Lord forever. (Psalm 23:5-6)

He is delighted with the obedience of His people. He will not allow any of His faithful children to lose or to miss their inheritance and their blessings. He will make sure that all that He has promised to us will be fulfilled.

PRAYER OF FAITH

" Father, we thank you for your word to us this day. And we stand in these promises because we know that they will never fail. Cover your people with a blanket called Perfect Love today and hide us from the attacks of the enemy. Amen!"

In His Service,

Warfare Beyond

Deborah Kerekes

A WARFARE THAT MUST GO BEYOND "FORGIVENESS" AND BLESSING YOUR ENEMIES

A WARFARE THAT DOESN'T MEAN DEFEAT

Around the first of the year the Lord began speaking to some intercessors about a greater warfare being released against the church. He showed us that our warfare would have to go beyond forgiving those that have sinned against us, and even beyond blessing those that curse us and praying for those that use or hurt us. He is bringing us into an understanding of Matt.5:23-24; leaving our gift at the altar when it comes to our attention that someone has something against US, making it right with that person, and THEN moving on with God.

OBEDIENCE IN HUMILITY-A POWERFUL WEAPON

In the last year, so many people have clung to their own "rightness", and not taken that extra step of humility. Much victory and grace has lifted from people and they don't even know why. People that should be walking in great Kingdom authority right now are eating crumbs from His table because they won't suffer this humiliation. (This does NOT entail going back to people who have abused you with control, manipulation and false guilt.) It is a greater warfare that can only be won by a greater authority. This authority can only be gained through obedience, and a deeper humility. God has been sending us the precious gifts of Offences, Misunderstandings, False accusations, Insufficiency for our tasks, and of being Overlooked. He has been sending these wonderful gifts of "humiliations" to help us walk in the grace of Humility, and we haven't been receiving them very well.

HE HIMSELF IS COMING TO THE CHURCH

Now, He Himself is coming to the Church to offend us. He is bringing us into the valley of John 6:47-71. Jesus told the Jews that unless they ate His flesh and drank His blood they would have no part of Him. He knew just what to say to tear their heart with offence, and He didn't bother explaining Himself. He deliberately assaulted their area of confidence and strength. The result was that, "At this point many of His disciples turned away and deserted Him." Many people have already passed through this valley in defeat or in victory. Many more are in it right now, and still more have yet to enter. Preachers' words dropping dead from their lips, Teachers with no one to teach, Worship leaders with no one to lead, Prophets with no one to believe them. He is offending us, striking at the one thing we think we know, the one thing we "can do". We will either leave that place of offence, or like peter, we will stay because, "Lord, where else would we go? You alone have the words of eternal life." This is not a time to judge or point the finger at those we simply disagree with; And it is a dangerous time to get defensive toward those that judge US. We must not be caught distaining the very hand of God in our lives. We must pass through this valley in order to be prepared for how God would like to use us in the future; But more importantly we must pass through, because that is where He is.

Wales

ONE MILLION HOURS OF PRAYER FOR WALES

Several months ago the Lord laid on the heart of a young man in Wales, (Carl Brettle) a burden to enlist an army of prayer warriors around the world. The purpose was to get one MILLION hours of prayer covering for Wales! Supernaturally God caused this to happen in an amazingly short period of time. In fact the word got around so quickly and people responded so readily that when Carl began the count in the beginning of February, he already had reports of prayer totaling over 780,000 hours!

WHITE HORSE VISIONS HAPPENING ALL OVER THE WORLD

The one million hours was passed on the 8th February - the same day, when I was in Scotland, the second White Horse vision released. I saw the Jesus on the White Horse burst through the gates in the heavenlies (last year many people around the world saw the vision of Jesus on the White Horse BEHIND the gates) When I returned to the U.S. the following week I discovered that many people had also had the same vision on the same day. A prayer group in Boston - a group in Australia, Ray Hughes, and other have since told me they had this same vision around the same time.

<http://www.elijahlist.com/horse021800.htm>)

PASTORS PRAYING WHERE EVAN ROBERTS BEGAN HIS REVIVAL MEETINGS

Next "coincidence" - 12th February, because of the burden for prayer for Wales, around 120 Pastors gathered for prayer at Moriah Chapel ( the chapel where Evan Roberts began his revival meetings in 1904). I did not know this at the time but that same night was when I had the dream and word for Wales, of Wales rising again in the Spirit.

There were seven prophetic words given for Wales and the people who had those words will all be together at a big meeting (Catherine Brown- Scotland, Kathie Walters- US, Martin Scott - England, Willie Soans - India and others). This meeting will take place on 1st July. There is still a prayer shield covering Wales and if you would like to be a part of that E-mail me.

MILLENNIUM STADIUM, AUGUST 2000

During the meeting at Moriah, the Lord gave direction to hold a prayer/praise meeting at the Millennium Stadium in Cardiff in August, 2000. The stadium holds about 75,000

A prophetic word about the stadium meeting given in 1989 by Paul Cain concerning the coming revival in Wales.

PAUL CAIN - THE STADIUM WILL BE TURNED

At a meeting in Wales in 1989, Paul Cain prophesied and said that: 1) some of the people present at that meeting would be used in the revival. 2) A huge meetings at the Millennium Stadium would precede the revival in Wales. 3) The Stadium would look very different and it would be turned in another direction???. Since then the Rugby Union had the stadium renovated at an enormous cost and is turned 90 degrees in another direction!!!! While in a some meetings in N Dakota recently I felt as if I was lifted up in the air and was looking down upon a huge stadium. When I returned home I called Carl and described the stadium I saw in the Spirit - he sent me a picture via E-mail and it was the same view that I saw and the same stadium!!

THAT WHICH UNLOCKS IS UNITY

The key is unity - the scripture the Lord gave for Wales before the ONE MILLION hours of prayer was Hosea 10 v 12 "Sow to yourselves righteousness, reap in mercy, break up your fallow ground, for it is time to seek the Lord, "til He come and rains righteousness upon you."

Blessings, Kathie Walters -

The Intimacy of Love

My beloved, how I yearn for the intimacy of our love that we once shared together. I call unto you, my beloved, and you do not answer me, or if you do, you say it a little while, I am too busy now. I yearn to hear the panting of your heart for me, as you yearned for our times together in the garden of our love. I desire to feel that yearning from your heart once again, as it was in the beginning when we first met, in that secret place of our love. You looked for me because you desired me with all your heart, soul, mind and strength, as a love that was passionate and love that was not able to be quenched until we were together in that place. How I long for that passion again from you. Your love has waxed cold, and you no longer desire me as you once had. I cry like one who has lost their first love they once knew, and has lost them now. My heart breaks when I call unto you to come, and you say to me, not now, I have things to do. Your love has turned cold, and you no longer desire me with that passionate fire that we once had together in that place of intimacy of my love for you. I cry for you, every time you say to me, not now, have to do this and that first. When we first met, your love for me was like an unquenchable fire that burned with the passion of a love that could not be quenched. Your only desire was to be with me all your waking days and night, for our love was like a passionate fire that could not be put out. It burned with a consuming fire, and you could not wait to be with me, to spend time with your first love. Now, your love has become cold, and your heart no longer is like that consuming fire of passion, but the fires of our love have been quenched. You have drifted away from your first love, and the things of the earth have quenched the fires of that love we once shared.

I want to re ignite those fires tonight, if you will come to the place where we once shared, if you will say, Yes, I run to you, my beloved when I call to you again. I will ignite those fires of passion once again in you that we once shared, if you will run to me, when I call to you tonight.

I am calling out to my first love to come into the gardens we once shared long ago. Come unto me, when I call, run to me, as a bride runs to her groom, wanted to be with him in the intimacy of that love they share. I long for you with that same love. I long to be with my beloved tonight. Do you desire to be with me tonight, to once again share that love that we shared together, that consumed us with the passionate fires of love? I will light that fire again in your heart, if you will set down all that has hindered you in these past days, all that has stood in the place that we once shared together. If you will lay down all that has been in that place of love that we once shared, as a sacrifice of your love to me, I will once again light that fire in your heart that we once shared..

I want you to know me intimately in the place of intimacy in the bedchambers of my love once again. That is my hearts cry to my beloved tonight. Will you answer me when I call you tonight to lay down all that has stood in that place we once shared tonight? Do you desire it with all your heart? Does your heart still pant for me as one who longs to be with their beloved once again? Or have your hearts waxed so cold, you do not remember that place we once shared together, so long ago in the garden of my love?

I call unto you my beloved as one who has lost his first love, I call to you to once again answer me, when I call, and run to me with the desires of a passionate love we once shared together.

I call out with the love of the bridegroom calling out for his bride who is lost. I cry out with all the passionate love we once shared together in the intimacy of our love together. I long to hold you and you love you with that love we once shared. I long to ignite that fire once again in your heart that we once knew together. I long for that passion to consume your heart as it once did when I was all you desired, and your love for me knew no limit, and you yearned for me with all your heart and your soul and your passion was a consuming fire for me. I long for that love again to be in you, my beloved, for I have lost my beloved, you I yearn for with that same love.

How my heart calls to you from the deeps of my heart of love for you. I have lost my beloved, and cry out with the cries of a bridegroom who has lost his only love. He has lost the only one He has ever loved, and He cries out for her to answer Him when he calls for her. How I long to be with you, my beloved, in the secret place we once shared together. I yearn for that love we once shared in the intimacy of our love together. I long for your passionate love for me, to be as that fire that once consumed your heart in our times of intimacy together once again. I yearn for that love again we once shared in the intimacy we once shared together. I yearn for those times of passionate love to be ignited once again in your heart beloved. That yearn for those times we once shared together in passionate love for each other, desiring nothing else, but to be together in that place of intimacy that we shared in the burning chambers of love that we shared together. I yearn for you to return to that place once again, where nothing else mattered but that we be together in the burning compassion of our love together. You could not wait to run to me, and to be with me with that burning passion of our love together. My heart cries as the love of my life has run away from me, and is lost. I cry out for my love to return to me, to run to me, when she hears my heart, for she only desires to be with me. My heart is like a lover looking for his first love and she is lost, and who has run away from him, and now is lost. I only want to find you my beloved. Hear my cries, my beloved, as I cry for you to return to me, I long to hold you with that love that we once shared together.. Come my precious one, I want to wash you, and cleanse you in the waters of my waters, and wash you. Come to me, I do not care where you have been before, I still love you, and I will forgive you if you will only come when I call to you. I love you so. I want to wash you, to love you with the tenderness of my love once again. I want to give you clean garments, my love, garments of my love.

I desire a passionate love from my beloved. Come, for I am calling my beloved to meet me in the coolness of the garden of our place we once shared. My blanket of love is spread over the lush green grass, waiting for you this night. I want to feed you, and give you some new wine to quench your thirst. I want to refresh you in that place tonight.

Come and know my love for you my beloved, come to that place that I have for you to refresh your heart once again. I want to show you my love, as a lover spreads out a love feast for his beloved on the lush green grass, I have spread out a love feast for you to taste of, you will come and let me refresh you tonight in that place. I want to wine and dine you with the fresh fruits of my love for you. I want you to taste of this new wine I have for you my beloved, for I have pressed it from the finest grapes of the vineyard, and it has been allowed to age, and turn into the finest wine you will ever taste, for it is the new wine which I have made for you my beloved, come and drink of it, and taste of the first fruits that I have picked myself for you to taste my beloved, for it is a time of celebration, and of rejoicing, for I have found you my love, for you have been missing for so long, and when you finally heard my cries for you, you cried out for me, and I came and found you, and brought you to the place we once had so long ago.

My beloved, my love for you is passionate, and I desire you with that same passion that we once shared. I don't care where you have been, I just want you to be with me again, to know that passion we once shared, I want you to desire me like you once did when we first met.

What good is it for a woman to say I will spend time with my husband a few times a week because it is my duty as a wife? That is not love. That is empty acts, and that is not what I desire of you. I desire your passion once again, I desire that passion we once shared together, so long ago, in the bed chambers of our love. Does the bride say she does not desire her bridegroom? NO, she desires him with all the passion of her love and heart, and can't wait to be with him, day and night. Her heart, her body, her soul yearns for him with the passion of all her consuming love for him.. she longs to be with him in the place of intimacy where there love burns with consuming fire, that is what I desire of you my beloved, once again. I desire that place we once shared together in the heart of the passionate love we once knew together. I long for that time with you that we once shared so long ago.

I call to you beloved, and your love has waxed cold. You no longer run to me with that passion of love we once shared, but now you say, soon, or, in a minute, then you come as a wife who comes begrudgingly with the heart of duty, instead of the heart of love for me. I do not want your duty, nor do I want a heart that comes out of anything less than pure passionate love. For if your heart will not love me with that passionate love we once shared, then I will not desire you with that same love. For your love, ignited the passions in me, and ignited that love for you my beloved. Now, you say to me, I will come because it is my duty as a wife, and I say to you, I do not need a heart whose love has grown cold for me, I desire the passion of the love we once shared together. If your heart does not desire that love that we once shared, then I do not desire, your sacrifice from your begrudging heart that is born out of a duty and the flesh of your heart. If you do not desire me with the heart of that passionate fire, then how can I love you again with the passion we once knew. Your heart is cold and no longer desires me, I can only love you my beloved, if you desire me with all the passion we once knew.

A heart that says, I will give my love because it is my duty as a wife, gives from the wrong attitude of the heart, and I will not accept that offering of your heart my beloved, for it is birthed out a heart of your flesh, and you do it begrudgingly as a duty, instead of out of the right attitude of the heart, which is because you love me, and want to do it, more than you want to do anything else on this earth.. because you desire me more than anything else on earth. That is the sacrifice of love, that is done not because you have to do, but because you desire it, and you want to do it, and you yearn for me more than anything in this earth, and you desire to throw yourself on the bed, we once shared, to give whole self to me in the passionate fires of the bed we once shared together. That is what I long for from you my beloved. I want to ignite that fire, we once knew together. I want to set your heart afire with the passion of love we once shared together. That is what I long for from you, my beloved. When I call to you to come unto me, that you would run with that first love we once shared, my beloved. Your love has waxed so cold for me, and you no longer desire me as you once did. That is why my heart cries out to you, so, day after day, night after night. I want you so. Yet, you no longer yearn for me like you once did when we shared that passionate love for each other, when our hearts beat together as one heart in the love we once shared.

I long for your passionate love like that again. Remember the love we once shared, remember the passion we once shared when I was your first love. That is what I long for, what I cry out for. For you to answer my call, and let me ignite the fires we once knew in that place again. That is my hearts cry to you, beloved. I call to you, will you answer my calls, will you run to me, this night, as the bride runs to her beloved when she hears him call unto her. My heart is breaking for you do not desire me with the passionate love of a bride for her bridegroom in the intimacy of that place of our first love that we once shared together.

My precious beloved I call to you this night with that passion of my heart with the heart of that love we once shared. Come to me, run to me, my beloved, I desire you, I want to be with you once again, as it once was. Will you desire me once again with the burning passionate love of that first love we once shared? Many of you have been as the harlot, who has gone a whoring after those who have lured you away with shining gifts? You have been lured away as a harlot is lured away with many gifts to buy her love, the enemy has purchased your love with a few gifts. I thought our love could not be bought, yet, you have been bought like a harlot's love if bought with the few trinkets she is give to those who call her to their beds.. You have bought with a few trinkets, and your love has been bought, like the harlot's love. My heart calls to you, for I thought our love could not be purchased, yet, your love was bought by a few trinkets from the world, and you have defiled the bed we once shared together. I forgive you my beloved, I call to you, my beloved, I ask for your love to return once again to me.

If you will, I will once again set your heart ablaze with that passionate love we once knew together. I will set your heart with the consuming fire of my love once again, if you will come to me tonight into that place that we once shared together long ago. I want you to know the passionate fires of my love for you once more. Will you yearn for me as you once did my beloved? Come to me, for I yearn for your love once again as it was in the beginning when we first met, my beloved.

Warfare Of Intimacy

Rance Ramsey

June 13, 2000 In April I submitted a word to the Elijah List entitled "Spying on the Enemies War Room."
<http://www.elijahlist.com/spying042700.htm>

In that word I felt that the Lord was going to reveal schemes and tactics of the enemy to the intercessors. The Lord has revealed several things to our intercessors through our obedience to "plant listening devices" [through our prayers and intercessions] in the enemy's war room. I want to share one thing in particular at this time. This revelation unfolded over a period of a couple of months through a series of visions.

HAND-TO-HAND COMBAT

In the vision, initially I saw Satan and myself in hand-to-hand combat. We were face to face circling one another like boxers in a boxing ring. We were engulfed in a cloud of dark smoke and fog. We were not touching one another, yet there was a battle taking place. The smoke was so thick that I could hardly keep a visual on him, so most of my concentration and focus was set on keeping him in my sights. As this was happening, I felt like the Lord showed me that this is one of the enemy's most effective strategies waged against the intercessor, the warrior, the church. If he can keep you in a "cloud of confusion,"-- if he can keep your focus on trying to find him, if he can keep you in hand-to-hand combat, then he can keep control of you.

"COME UP HIGHER, THE LORD SAID." ----"INTERCESSION AND WARFARE AS YOU HAVE KNOWN IT IS CHANGING."

Then I heard the Lord say, "Come up higher." I found myself leaving the confusion of battle and entering into the presence of the Lord. As this happened I looked down and I could see Satan searching aimlessly in the smoke and fog for his opponent. The Lord then said to me, "Intercession and warfare, as you have known it, is changing. There is a warfare that I am calling My intercessors, warriors and worshipers to. It is the Warfare of Intimacy. This Warfare of Intimacy takes place at a much higher level than the warfare that has been waged in the second heaven."

HAND-TO-HAND WAS NECESSARY BUT THE GROUNDWORK IS LAID

The hand-to-hand combat has been necessary to battle through the dark places in order to enter the next realm with the Lord. Now, however, because of the groundwork that has been laid, the Lord is extending an invitation for His bride to come up into this place of the Warfare of Intimacy.

I saw Jesus, the intercessor, according to Scripture, sitting at the throne of God offering intercession on our behalf. (Romans 8:34)

It was out of relationship and love that His intercession was released, and it was with such tenderness, peace and gentleness. Totally different than any intercession or warfare I had ever been involved with or even seen before.

BEYOND THE CLAMOR

As we move beyond the clamor and clatter of the hand-to-hand battles-- As we move out of the smoke and dark clouds--- as we move into His Presence and into His courts of intimacy, then He says that confusion will be sent to the enemy's camp because the battle will be His!

UNITY

Then I began to see intercessors and worshippers together around the throne of God. Intercessors were interceding and worshipers were worshipping with tremendous unity. In so much unity in fact that intercessors became worshipers and worshipers became intercessors. All that I beheld in this place of worship was characterized by an incredible intimacy with the Father.

A BRAIDING TAKING PLACE

The Lord then said that He is braiding together the intercessor, the worshiper and the prophetic. That He is weaving them into one single fabric. They will be different yet the same. The worshiper will still have the characteristics of a worshiper, and the intercessor will still have the characteristics of an intercessor, yet as they come together under a greater prophetic anointing, they will compliment one another's strong points and flow together in an unique unity.

INTIMACY BRINGS CONFUSION TO THE ENEMY

As praise teams and intercessors come together and yield to the Spirit of the Lord, they will find a greater prophetic release and a stronger sense of God's presence upon their churches and services. The intimacy between the Bride and the Bridegroom will increase and as the enemy searches through the smoke for someone to fight, the Father will continue to send more and more confusion into his camp!

THREE ASPECTS COMING TOGETHER, WORSHIPPER, INTERCESSOR, AND THE PROPHETIC

Finally, the Lord showed me that since the time Lucifer,(the worship leader of heaven), the one that was created specifically for worship, was cast down--- The Father has been without the "fullness" of that part of His creation. Even though we worship in spirit and truth, even though we come boldly before His throne, that position has never been re-filled! It has been left vacant for ages. But the Lord says "Not any longer! It has been reserved for a time, for a season and for a people such as this! It's not because there haven't been worshipers or there haven't been intercessors or there haven't been people after God's own heart. It's because these three ingredients have had to come together. Time, season and people. Worshiper, intercessor and the prophetic. They are all coming together for the glory of God.

The Lord is saying that He is now filling that forfeited position that Satan once held, with you, the intimate worshiper and the intimate intercessor, and the prophetic. And in doing this, the Lord is going to use the very thing Satan was created for and the position he once held, to defeat him. The Lord is saying that it is time for the church to have home court advantage. Don't get me wrong, there will be times of hand-to-hand warfare and just scrapping it out with the enemy, but now it will be done on our terms, not his. Glory be to God!

Warning To A Prideful Nation

Mark Moyers

I was in a chatroom nearly a week ago while we were praying for Israel and the USS Cole incident, when God opened my eyes to what He was doing with this situation.

I believe it is God's warning to the United States. A sign of what The Lord can do, or may do. (I am still unsure if this is what God IS going to do, or what God will do if things don't change within our borders.)

Let me paint the picture as I saw it.

The USS Cole. A very fine, and powerful war ship. Strong, and confident in it's own strength. Well equipped to defend itself. Having many weapons, and thick armor plating.

A small two manned boat. Nothing special. Nothing fancy.

I saw the USS Cole, representing America. Prideful, and dependent on it's own strength. Arrogant in believing that it can stand on it's own. Yet a small, two manned boat; A rogue nation; The Rod in God's Hand was nearly able to take this large war ship down. Incomparable in size and grandeur, surely this boat seemed to be as nothing to the USS Cole. Yet it has dealt it more damage than anything else ever has. They recently found out that the damage to the Cole was more extensive than they originally thought. It has taken on water on a couple different occasions. And lost power on a couple different occasions. Yet still manages to remain afloat.

I believe this is God's warning to a prideful nation. (Be it avoidable, or unavoidable.) That which we think cannot harm us, will in an instant, nearly take us down. I don't believe we will be utterly destroyed. But I believe we will be (may be) severely damaged, and brought low.

So I ask everyone...

#1- Repent. And truly be the salt of this nation, to make it more palatable to The Lord. So that maybe this can be avoided, or at least lessened.

#2- Pray for the peace of Jerusalem. It's God's will. (Isaiah 60:12 [NIV] - For the nation or kingdom that will not serve you will perish; it will be utterly ruined.) And pray that the United States is ACTUALLY NEGOTIATING PEACE! Rather than being self-serving. (This is IMPORTANT!)

#3- Pray even more earnestly that the people of the United States will turn to the one and only God of Creation. Our Lord and Savior, Jesus The Christ. I believe this nation will wake up, and turn to God someday. But the more who do so now, the less the blow will be.

On a side note. I would encourage everyone to seek God and ask Him to reveal the true intentions (and nature) of the United States governing authorities. As well as that of other nations. I have asked God to do so for myself, and He has. This world is definitely not as it seems to be.

War Over Florida And The Nation

Martha Lucia

Martha's email: mlucia@cimn.net Thu, 09 Nov 2000

As I have sought the Lord as to why the battle ground is once again in Florida, I believe he gave me the reason. I will try and piece it together in order for us to see the purpose behind what appears to be a war over who will be President of this Nation. If you believe the prophetic Word of the Lord is actually from the Lord, then we can grab the heart of God for this time and season.

FLORIDA, THE ORIGINAL GATES OF ENTRANCE

As many of you know for several years there has been a thrust into Tallahassee, Florida, the Capital City. This thrust has been due to God revealing that Florida is the foundation of this Nation. The original gates of entrance to this Nation are here, between St. Augustine and Pensacola. Tallahassee became the "High Place of the Nation." In April this year, we had a "High Place of the Nation" conference in Tallahassee concluding the meeting on the steps of the old capital building with the high praises of God in our mouth and a two-edged sword in our hand to execute the judgment written against the powers, etc. that had laid the wrong foundation stone. We feel God led us to do this and it was accomplished. We had Chuck Pierce, Bishop Bill Hamon, Tom and Jane Hamon, myself and leaders from Tallahassee, representing the Prophetic Apostolic foundation along with pastors, intercessors etc. for that city present.

Many prophetic words have come forth about God coming into Florida. I will just touch on a few.

Gwen Shaw - End-Time handmaidens magazine: "My mast is down and I'm coming into port in Florida".

THE PROPHETIC WIND COMING UPON THE FLORIDA PANHANDLE

Another word which I will shorten, but try and get the part we need in order to piece this together. It is a dream the Lord gave Ray Hughes:

"In June, the Lord gave me a dream about the prophetic wind coming upon the Florida Panhandle cities, but also gave visual grit and reality to the aggressive nature the Lord is desiring for His church. The days of passive resistance to the enemies' attacks are over, for God, whether we are with Him or not, will restore the warrior spirit to His bride. In the dream I saw a fleet of warships coming in from the Atlantic Ocean, into the Florida panhandle. The ships were rugged, as if they had each been through too many battles to remember.

NOT PRETTY BY ANYONE'S DEFINITION

What I noticed more, however, were the men inside the ships. These were huge, Viking-like warriors. They were not pretty by anyone's definition, but were as ugly and rugged as a man can come. As they approached I heard a sound coming from these warriors, something like a war cry. The warriors didn't look or sound like anything we've seen before. Their sound was nothing like what has become palatable in our charismatic worship services or anything that has been accepted as Christian music, for that matter. Their sound was rugged and raw - a sound of violence. It was a sound of warriors determined to take the land by force."

Their shouts, cheers and claps were far more aggressive than anything I've ever heard at any praise and worship conference. It truly had the sound of the roar of a lion. Because of the aggressive nature of the sound, it was obvious that some choices had to be made whether or not this would become something welcomed into our "culture"-- whether or not people would accept these warriors once they reached land.

WILL WE REJECT IT AT THE CITY GATES?

One of the choices will be, will we embrace the new thing God is doing or will we reject it at the city gates? I believe the Lord is coming through the gates, one way or another. Either He will come through by the authority of His judgment coming and tearing down the gates-- or the gatekeepers will willingly let Him in.

The same picture was created in Ps. 24, the song which was sung on the way from moving the Ark of the Lord's presence. The last four verses describe the conversation between the carriers of the Ark and the gatekeepers of the city. For generations, the Lord had been known as the King of Glory, which is expressed in each of these verses. Yet this passage displays the two dimensions of His character: One of Glory and one of Terror. "Who is this King of Glory?" the gatekeepers asked twice.

THE LORD, MIGHTY IN BATTLE!

The first response they got from the Ark carriers was describing a Lord, mighty in battle. This apparently did not suffice for the gatekeepers, who were again petitioned by the carriers to "Life up you heads, O you gates!" after asking again, "Who is this King of Glory?"

The following response silenced all:

The Lord of Hosts.---If we don't let the King of Glory in, the Lord of Hosts will come in. And He will come in with judgment. In my dream, the warriors on these ships were shouting the same thing as in Ps. 24: "Lift up your heads, O you gates!" I take that as a sign. The sound blowing in from these ships will require some legitimate choices. Will we open the gates for the Lord of Glory before we are forced to meet the Lord of Hosts?

ANCIENT DOORS THROUGH WHICH THE GLORY DISAPPEARED

The scripture calls them Everlasting Doors - this means what is hidden or concealed - i.e. to the vanishing point - time past - antiquity - from the most ancient times. These are the ancient doors thru which the glory of God disappeared, and must be re-opened in order for the Glory of God to come in once again.

BISHOP HAMAN

In the Word of the Lord spoken over Tallahassee by Bishop Hamon: "Tallahassee is the gateway into the Nation, so these ancient gates must be opened."

CLARICE FLUITT:

I am quoting this from memory, so forgive me if I don't quote it just right. She saw an emerald green river coming from the throne of God which carried healing and miracles in it. And it would begin in Florida. Where we live is known as the "Emerald Coast and the highway as the "Miracle Strip." But the implication is once again FLORIDA.

CHUCK PIERCE

At the Apostles/Prophets conference at Christian International, he said,

"You must take out the Jebusites - Why the Jebusites?

"Jebus was the name of Jerusalem when David went to take the city. The Jebusites said "You shall not come in here"! 1 Ch. 11:5

- If they could keep David out, the Ark of the Covenant couldn't get in. The Glory of the Lord couldn't enter in. The Tabernacle of David could not be built, the City of David could not be built. The Temple of God could not be built. The place where God chose to put His name, and the glory to reside could not be established. (David bought the site of the temple from a Jebusite).

Well the price of redemption has been paid! A quick review of the Jebusite: (11 Sam. 5)

"THESE SPIRITS ARE PRESENT TODAY AT THE GATE OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA!" --Chuck Pierce

"They were lame (skip over, hesitate) and blind (to be bare, naked, to have a film over the eyes). Joshua 18 shows the tribe of Benjamin included the Jebusites. We know what they were accounted for doing. Judges 19 - they were homosexuals, rapist, murderers. David said, "I hate these spirits." It is time to hate what God hates, and execute judgment against these spirits.

"These spirits are present today at the gate of the State of Florida - saying "you shall not come in here." This is the ancient gate where the King of Glory wants to come into this Nation, but the ancient spirits are howling, protesting the very Presence of the King of Glory. We must execute the judgment ALREADY WRITTEN to see the ancient gates open for the King of Glory to come in!"

Another Word spoken by Chuck Pierce:

" Nine months of testing will now be upon my prophets - do not despise this testing, for this testing will produce an enlargement - it will also bring to birth that which I want to present to this world for the future.

It will be a year of travail, that travail will give you the great strength to confront that which is going to try to steal my purposes in the future. Where the enemy has been in place for the last 50 years in this nation, I would say to you the enemy will be dethroned.

JUDGMENT EVIDENT IN THIS LAND BY FEB, 2002

Chuck Pierce: [The Lord says] "I have keys in my hand. I'm reviewing authority from city to city, state to state, and region to region. I am setting my course for judgment upon the states of this land. I will be judging the states of this land and judgment will be evident by Feb. 2002."

JUDGMENT BASED ON THE CHURCHES COMPLACENCY

Chuck: "Judgment will come based upon the complacency of the church from state to state. For you have thought judgment would come based upon the civil government that is in place, but I would say to you that judgment will come because of the complacency of My people.-----This will be a time of determining the authority at the gates of your cities and states. The rulership of the gates is being determined NOW.---over the next 18 months a war of great spiritual magnitude.

The war will be over the boundaries of the future---for the enemy has shifted boundaries. There is a war over the justice of this land. I will establish justice in the midst of my people therefore there will be war over the laws that have been established wrongly."

THE NEXT PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

Martha Lucia:

I feel the reason the time is so crucial now is the next president of the United States will either tap into the Spirit of the Lord, or into these ancient spirits that are at the gate of this Nation. This is the reason they have converged on Florida - to say - "You will not enter here" The King of Glory will come in one way or another. We must remove these Jebusites in order for America to come into the Purpose she was born for. I believe the Lord has shown me that America is the place in the wilderness He has prepared to preserve the Church during time, time and half time. Help us war the warfare necessary to see the gates open to the King of Glory for this Nation - NOW!

Isa 28:5-6 - "In that day shall the Lord of Hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, unto the residue of his people, and for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and for strength to them that turn the battle to the gate".

Ps 149:6-9 - "Let the high praises of God be in your mouth, and a two-edged sword in their hand; to execute vengeance upon the heathen and punishment upon the people; to bind their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron; to execute upon them the judgment written: this honor have all his saints".

SPYING ON THE ENEMY'S WAR ROOM A Word to intercessors

THE ENEMY'S PLAY BOOK

Our intercessors began to receive direction from the Lord this week through dreams and visions that I feel is a directive for intercessors worldwide. One lady saw a black book that was opened to her and she understood that it was the enemy's play book. She had full access to the book and could go through it as she willed. Another lady had a dream in which she was instructed to plant listening devices into the enemy's camp.

PROPHETICALLY ENTERING THE ENEMY'S WAR ROOM

We began to seek the Lord on what He was saying and what we were to do with this information. He instructed us to symbolically and prophetically go into the enemy's war room and plant listening, seeing and other spying devices. The Lord told us that the room was empty and led us inside. The atmosphere was very calm. We were able to do what He told us to do and get out again simply and without danger or complication.

NECESSARY TO KNOW THE ENEMY'S STRATEGIES

We felt like the Lord was saying that just as Gen. Schwartzkopf of Desert Storm knew the strategies of the enemy, their placement, their weapons, their strongholds, etc., it is necessary that we know the same things about our enemy. As we were obedient to symbolically place the devices into the enemy's war room, we understood that the Lord would begin to show us the very plans and strategies of the enemy against His Bride, the church.

PRAY TO SEE THE EMEMY'S PLANS--AND MORE DETAIL THAN EVER BEFORE

Intercessors will begin to strategically see by the Spirit with pinpoint accuracy the exact plans of the enemy against the move of God, the revelation of God, against youth and old alike, against the local church and against the church universal. The plans will be revealed in a depth of detail that He has never released before. As the plans are revealed to the intercessors, the church is going to be enabled to launch an offensive against the enemy and take new ground and territory with speed and accuracy. New understanding of the structure, rank and formation of the kingdom of darkness will be laid out for us with names, maps, etc. Great advancements for the Kingdom of God are eminent.

PLANT LISTENING DEVICES

I feel like the Lord is saying that intercessors should "plant listening devices" in the enemies camp and be ready when his "play book of schemes" are revealed. The Lord is going to give us keys to avert the enemy's attempts at personal, corporate, national, and worldwide destruction.

Prayerfully,

End Time Prophetic Vision

May I Wash Your Feet ?

Hollie Moody

I had this vision for my pastor. I feel that maybe it may touch and speak to other men and women of God, and to those who are called to minister to those who are wounded and hurting.

In this vision, I was in church. The man of God was behind his pulpit, preaching. As the man of God looked out over the congregation, he saw how healthy and content the people appeared; and he rejoiced in his spirit.

Then, the man of God looked down and saw the Lord at the bottom of the pulpit stairs. The Lord beckoned to him. Puzzled, the man of God stepped out from behind his pulpit, went down the stairs, and joined the Lord. The Lord pointed down at the floor. The man of God glanced down at the floor. There, on the floor, was a basin of water. A towel was neatly folded next to it.

Then the Lord pointed to a woman in the congregation. "Go and wash her feet," the Lord told the man of God.

The man of God, still puzzled, obeyed the Lord. He picked up the basin of water and the towel and walked over to the woman in his congregation. Every eye in the church was focused upon the man of God. The man of God leaned over to the woman and whispered to her, "May I wash your feet?"

The woman drew back in horror and shock from the man of God, and began to refuse to allow him to wash her feet.

"The Lord told me to," the man of God said to her. "But you have to allow me to."

The woman began to weep, and wordlessly nodded her head; granting the man of God permission to wash her feet. The man of God knelt down at the woman's feet, set the towel and basin of water down to the side, and began to remove the woman's shoes.

As the man of God began to remove the woman's shoes, he recoiled in shock and horror. The woman's feet were a mangled, bloody mass of sores. The man of God gently held the woman's feet in his hands. Weeping, he looked up at the woman.

"Why didn't you tell me?" he asked the woman.

"I was afraid," she replied. "I didn't feel that you really cared."

"I care," he replied.

Still weeping, the man of God began to wash this woman's feet. As he did, the Lord drew near to the man of God and to the woman. The Lord spoke to the man of God, and said, "This is my bride. I sent you to be her servant. Serve her well."

As the Lord spoke to the man of God, the man of God kept his head down, washing the woman's feet and weeping over her feet. "How many more are there like her, Lord?" the man of God asked.

"Very many," the Lord replied. "They will not come to you because of fear. You must go to them. I will lead you to them."

Interpretation

Within hours of having this vision, I began to get phone calls, e-mails, visits, from church people who were hurting, weeping. They were afraid to go to the man of God. They didn't think he truly cared for them. They didn't feel they could trust him. Some spoke of leaving the church. Others spoke of coming to church and smiling, smiling, smiling on the outside, but feeling like they were dying on the inside. But they were too afraid and embarrassed and ashamed to allow anyone to see their pain and misery.

As I prayed and sought the Lord about this vision, I felt He spoke these words to me. (I ask that any who read this, pray about it and discern within their spirit if they feel it is from the Lord or not; and to either accept it or reject it.)

"If My shepherds are to effectively minister to My children, to their hurts and wounds, they cannot do so solely from the safety and distance of a pulpit. I am their example. I came down. I came down from heaven. I came down and removed My kingly robes garments, and took upon Myself the garments of a servant. I came down to your level, to where you are at. I knelt down before you, at your feet. Even when my efforts were resisted, I gently reached out and ministered to you anyway.

"Just as not everyone I ministered to responded with love and acceptance, so will it be with you at times. It was immediately after being ministered to that Judas went out and betrayed Me. Your efforts at ministering to others will not always be met with success. But I have called you to minister. I have called you to serve. You are My servants, to be the servants to My hurting children. You cannot touch people from a distance. As you minister to them, you also will get the blood from their wounds upon you. It is draining to serve others.

"There are times when you may become weary in your mind and in your heart. Their wounds will become your wounds. As you minister to others, I will give unto you someone to minister in return unto you. As you strengthen others, and encourage and comfort others, even so will I supply the same strength and encouragement and comfort to you.

"Do not be fearful to get down where the hurting people are, and minister to them where they are at, as well as from behind the pulpit or in the safety of your congregation.

"Go to My wounded and hurting children. Go to them, and wash their feet !! "

Watchman Alert

Ros Henderson-Hobson

I feel like the prophet of doom and gloom, yet I know the Lord is wanting me to reach out and warn the body of Christ to prepare themselves. It gives me no personal pleasure to tell what I see or hear. I am a watchman called and confirmed by his word. I will tell you, that we are in perilous times and I already know that many will not heed the warnings, or consider my path. The Lord tells me to fear not, only to be strong alert and courageous and to speak his word boldly. So here is the vision I had from the Lord last night.

Last night as I pondered over the Lord, and what he would say to me, I was suddenly lifted into the realm of the spirit. At First I was having trouble seeing the vision that lay in front of me. Then the Lord said open your eyes and look! What do you see ? As the vision became clear I saw a vast field and in the distance I looked at the mountain range, and upon the mountain range I saw an army marching side by side coming towards me.

At once my heart became overwhelmed with grief, I fell down on my face and cried to the Lord. This army is the horde of evil, they are coming to destroy us Lord, the battle ground is in front of me! Where is the army of the Lord, I cried out!

And the Lord spoke to me once again. They are not prepared, they are not ready to face the enemy! Only a few of my believers are dressed and ready to meet the army, that comes to devour.

I cried out Lord, they are like locusts, they consume everything in their path! They land is devoured behind them! Call out sound the alarm! For the battle draws near! So I cried out the words the Lord gave me to speak. Awake O sleeper! come out of your rest! prepare yourselves people of the Lord, for the enemy draws near! Yet only a few stood up and heeded my call ! with great tears and affliction I fell on my face once again and cried out Lord Why wont they listen!

And the Lord replied, my people have become complacent, they listen more to the scoffers and deriders than to my word. They enjoy listening to the mockers, who mock my return! My heart became filled with bitter grief.

How far to the battle Lord, I asked, Whilst I thought to my self in my doubt he wont tell me! Look again Ros, how far can you see ? I said to the horizon Lord, from this standing point I can see this horrible army! The battle is not far away then is it! This battle is not for the future, for it is coming soon! The enemy marches quickly!

so I stopped and stood upon my observation post and watched once more. Where are the soldiers dressed for battle Lord, I cried out as my body began to shake with grief! Look down on the battle field Ros what do you see ?

I saw a few soldiers lined up ready and prepared to face the enemy, the rest had deserted the camp. Then I saw the evil horde draw close, upon the few soldiers of the Lord. The soldiers managed to penetrate the front lines. Gaps started to break up the front lines, splitting the rows of evil asunder. But it was not enough to stop the evil army they kept marching on.

I awoke out of my vision and lay upon my bed, grief stricken and overwhelmed, by the vision I had before the Lord. Sickened and weary in my heart, I feel a dreadful grief overwhelm my mind and soul. Where are the watchman, calling out warning the body of Christ to prepare! Who will heed the warning! Who will awaken the sleeper! The time draws near!

I will stand upon my observation post, and wait upon the Lord!

Waves

Wayne Barto

Waves Pounding An Island And Dew Formed Is Watering The Dry Island But A Large Storm Is About To Strike.
Dream for your interpretation by Wayne Barto.

I was on an island that was surrounded by a beautiful blue sea (like the Caribbean or a tropical area). The waves began to increase and pound on the shore. Every so often a really big wave would crest on the horizon and really thunder in to the shore. The waves began to increase in size, frequency and intensity. Some of the waves would crash on the sand but others would smash onto a rocky portions of the coast. Those that hit the rocks would create a huge mist that would settle like dew onto the land surface of the island. Because the waves were pounding the island from all sides, the mist and dew was gradually soaking the soil and watering the island. This was much needed as the soil was very dry and had been for some time.

Although the people were frightened by the waves and the intensity of it, they also began to realize the beneficial aspect of the waves hitting the shore and creating the mist and dew. Some were both scared and excited at the same time. All the while this was happening the island was bathed in glorious sunshine so it was not obvious that a large storm was about to strike. (Hmm?) Some were able to surf these waves in to the shore but they had to catch the wave at just the correct time or they would be buffeted about. I even saw someone who had (and this is really weird) caught the wave at just the right time with his car and had surfed into the shore with 3 to 4 people in the car without suffering the slightest upset or damage. They were whooping it up as the car came to a rest on the shore! End of dream.

Words from Bill and Marsha Burns

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

February 28, 2000:

Haven't you cried out to Me to bring you higher? Haven't you desired to see more of Me? You can never arrive at a new destination without making the journey. You have asked Me to remove pride from you, but there is no way to bring you through that process without debasing you. So, I say to you, rejoice that your prayers are answered. Be exceedingly glad in the opportunities that have been afforded you in accomplishing your goal. I say to you, love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who spitefully use you and persecute you, for they are instruments used to perfect you. Again, I say, rejoice and be exceedingly glad.

Isaiah 54:16-17 "Behold, I have created the blacksmith Who blows the coals in the fire, Who brings forth an instrument for his work; and I have created the spoiler to destroy. No weapon formed against you shall prosper, and every tongue which rises against you in judgment You shall condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, And their righteousness is from Me." Says the LORD.

February 29, 2000:

The storm has blown through and left havoc and destruction in its wake. Those things that could be shaken have been shaken, and much of what needed to be removed with the debris has been removed. Now it is time to leave those things behind and move ahead with great diligence, strengthening those things that remain. You are now more able than ever to accomplish what I have set you to do, for you have been set free from things that have encumbered you spiritually. I say to you, now is the time to regroup and refocus on what I have set before you.

March 3, 2000:

Rise up. I say, rise up! You have been pecking around in your chicken-pen existence long enough, pecking around in the dirt, scratching around in your earth-bound reality with a near-sighted view of life. I have not called you to cackle and peck at one another. I call you to be eagles who will soar high above the earth into the realms of glory. I call you to rise above the petty issues, offenses, and reactions that keep you bound to the earth. Leave behind your selfish interests and motivations, jealousy, envy, strife, contention, division and worry. Rise up and seek My face where vision is clear and the air is pure. Isaiah 40:31, "But those who wait on the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint."

March 4, 2000:

Be alert, beloved. Sharpen your discernment, for the enemy will try to draw you into places that are ungodly, unholy and defiling. There will be people who wear the Christian label who will try to solicit your agreement and alliance. But, their lives are laced with deception, worldliness, and debauchery. I caution you--do not become unequally yoked together with unbelievers, for how can two walk together unless they be agreed? Your covenant is with Me and with those who are Mine.

2 Corinthians 6:16-7:1, "And what agreement has the temple of God with idols? For you are the temple of the living God. As God has said: I will dwell in them And walk among them. I will be their God, And they shall be My people. Therefore Come out from among them And be separate, says the Lord. Do not touch what is unclean, And I will receive you. I will be a Father to you, And you shall be My sons and daughters, Says the LORD Almighty.

Therefore, having these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God."

Prophetic Utterance through Bill Burns:

March 5, 2000:

Indeed I have spoken that a new day is coming...even the eighth day of glory in eternity. It is My desire that all of My children rise up now in a position of faith and prepare themselves according to the leading of the Spirit to the ends of the world, for I desire that you have eternal vision and not temporal vision. I desire that you look through the eyes of the Spirit to worship in truth so that you may be found in the Church of the Firstborn, a church living in the fullness of My faith, a church that has moved out of the outer court, has moved from the holy place into the Holy of Holies where the light of God, the mercy of God, and the glory of God have overshadowed you. I say unto you, remove your focus from your circumstances that bind you to outer-court works, and move your eyes upon the King of kings and Lord of lords. Move your eyes to see the God who dwells between the cherubim, where the glory is manifest, the place of His presence, where mercies are new every morning. Move to this position and receive all of the goodness that the Father has for you, for it is His desire to give you the Kingdom.

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

March 6, 2000:

Do you feel me drawing you to Myself? Come into My rest. Some of you have gotten into an almost frantic pace, trying to go several directions at once. While others are frantically trying to go somewhere, but seem to be standing still. I say to you, stop striving and rest in Me. I sit above the circle of the earth; I am the Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I see all things as they are by eternal perspective because I am not bound by time. And, I say, all of these things that you are striving over will be brought to completion. I will indeed perfect those things that concern you. All of these things are working together for your good and will come to maturity. In the midst of this process you can either strive or be at peace. Either way, it will come to pass. This current position will not last forever. My desire for you is that you go through these circumstances and tests resting in Me, with your soul quietly trusting Me for guidance and wisdom. For, I will certainly lead you and direct your every step. Be still and know that I am God!

March 7, 2000:

Today, I call you warriors! I have given you power and authority to take possession of spiritual ground that you have not yet moved into. And, it is fruitful land. But, you must thrust out the enemy. This ground that I speak to you about is first in your own soul, and you must begin with driving out lies that the enemy is too big for you to defeat. Then, you must cast out fear and rebellion. Remove pride and lust, and tear down the idols that have been erected in your own heart. I say, it is time to take the land, for victory is assured if you will only go and fight. It is My pleasure to give you the kingdom. But, I say to you that you will in no way be successful in tearing down the strongholds of your city if you have not first possessed your own soul.

1 Thessalonians 4:4-7, "Each of you should know how to possess his own vessel in sanctification and honor, not in passion of lust, like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one should take advantage of and defraud his brother in this matter, because the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also forewarned you and testified. For God did not call us to uncleanness, but in holiness."

March 8, 2000:

You have been washed by the cleansing power of My blood. Old things have passed away and you have become as newborn babes. Yet, many of you hide from Me as though you were lepers hiding in caves, and you have separated yourselves from the rest of My body not willing to touch or be touched. You have become isolated as though you were unclean, and the enemy has made you feel dirty and unworthy. You wear condemnation as a garment. But, I say to you, throw off that old, dirty garment of heaviness, rejection, and self-pity. Let me clothe you with love and joy; let me clothe you in a garment of praise. There is no need that you bathe again in the blood of redemption, but you must allow your feet to be washed that your walk before Me is clean and pure.

John 13:10 Jesus said to him, "He who is bathed needs only to wash his feet, but is completely clean; and you are clean, but not all of you."

March 10, 2000:

These are the days of My power when you will see more of My glory than you could ever imagine. But, it is My power and it is My glory which I will only manifest through those who are totally yielded and submitted to Me. I will not manifest through your works, no matter how noble. For, you must cease from your own labor and come into My rest. You cannot work up power and glory through doing enough good works in the kingdom; it will not come as a result of good doctrinal teaching or fiery preaching; it will not come because of your charitable deeds. My glory will only manifest when you bow low in worship, in total submission, your hearts yielded completely to My will. And, when you see My glory, you will only be able to cry, "Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, who was and is and is to come."

March 11, 2000:

I remind you that the weapons of your warfare are not carnal but mighty in God for pulling down strongholds, casting down arguments and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God, bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ. I say, again, this is your weapon to be used against the enemy of your soul to bring down his strongholds. And, I want to bring to your attention a very subtle stronghold that he reinforces daily. Upon awakening, at the beginning of each new day, he will re-establish the thread of worry, so that you will take up where you left off yesterday with those things that you were concerned about. But, I say to you, do not take up this burden every morning; do not carry this weight of anxiety. Drop these burdens at My feet and trust Me to perfect and bring to a conclusion those things that concern you. Let Me direct your steps and lead you in the way you should go. Worry is a crippling thing and causes you to walk with an unsteady and halting gait; it is a hindering force that keeps you from moving ahead with assurance and faith.

Matthew 6:27-33 "Which of you by worrying can add one cubit to his stature? So why do you worry about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin; and yet I say to you that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. Now if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will He not much more clothe you, O you of little faith? Therefore do not worry, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What shall we wear?' For after all these things the Gentiles seek. For your heavenly Father knows that you need all these things. But seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you."

March 12, 2000:

The Lord says that some of you have endured a great persecution. Some have been wandering like sheep in the desert. Some of have pursued Him with all of your heart, and yet there has been failure in the acquisition, the pursuit of God has not come to the fullness of that which you have desired. But, the Holy One encourages you today: I had to lead you on these wanderings that you would learn to pursue Me with faithfulness, but now comes the Third Day. Now comes the opportunity for each of you to step into the Holy Place and step, therefore, into the fullness of My desire for you. My desire for you to enter this dimension is even greater than your desire to enter into that realm. Surely, the Spirit of the Lord comes upon you today. There is a nurturing and a healing of old wounds that now you can come into the fullness of the word of God revealed by the light of God. Then, you shall go forth from the stalls as calves healed by the hands of the Lord, proclaiming the word of God in His glory and in His anointing. Therefore, there shall flow from you the living water, the anointing of the Lamb of God. It shall go forth and bring the harvest that I have spoken of in My word. Surely, there comes a harvest. Surely, there comes an increase of My power. Is this not the latter temple that I have spoken of whose glory shall be greater than that of the small beginnings of the days when I poured out of My Spirit on the 120 in the Upper Room? Has there not been a multiplication of that? Now, My house is about to be complete, for I will establish My divine government in My house. Upon the heads of the kings and priests that I am calling, I will pour out the oil of gladness and the balm of Gilead, and I shall anoint you as the oil flows from your heads and down over your bodies to encapsulate that which I am doing within you. Then, behold, you will go bound in the glory and My purposes for you shall be fulfilled. My glory shall cover the whole earth. Be glad and rejoice in the revelation of this day that you may embrace it and move forward with all haste and stand before Me, and say here I am, Lord, send me.

When Will My Body Be United In Me?'

Who Do You Say That I Am?

Stephen Hanson

WHEN WILL MY BODY BE UNITED IN ME?'

Stephen Hanson

Jan. 10, evening, 2000

Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and there was no longer any sea. I saw the Holy City, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride beautifully dressed for her husband. Revelation 21:1-2

"The time is coming," declares the LORD, "when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah. It will not be like the covenant I made with their forefathers when I took them by the hand to lead them out of Egypt, because they broke my covenant, though I was a husband to them, " declares the LORD. "This is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel after that time," declares the LORD. "I will put my law in their minds and write it on their hearts. I will be their God, and they will be my people. Jer. 31:31-33

"The heart is something beautiful I have made in each and every servant of mine. With this heart, you can move mountains or cast them into the sea. For in a "fleshly" heart these things cannot be done. But in the heart that I have made, these things can be done. This heart has been circumcised. It has been "remade." It has been "purged." Let Me renew your hearts. Present your hearts at my table and I will give you "new hearts." You will be given "new hearts," and with these new hearts you will see new things. You will see the things that I have in store for you. Gone will be the days of regret. Instead of ashes, I will give you the "new rain." But you must leave the past behind. Everyone who is mature must be like-minded. "

"The days are racing forward to my soon return. These are the days that many have longed for. They are days when night will be dark, and evil will be ever rampant. But the new day will dawn. (I saw the sun coming up as in a beautiful sunrise on the horizon.) For that light will be manifested in my sons and daughters. A bright vision will be given to my body. It will be the vision of the New Jerusalem. Truly, that city will come. This city, the New Jerusalem, adorned by my own hands, will outshine the radiance of anything you have ever seen. But just as a new city is coming down from heaven, there will be new things here on earth while you are waiting. I AM building new things in the midst of my people. Just as there are new hearts being built, so there are new alliances being made--covenant alliances and covenant relationships. For it is time for the forming of and uniting of various ministries and churches. "

(I saw the construction of a partially assembled structure which was in metal or wire. This was in the shape of a human figure. I watched and looked at this structure and saw where the feet and legs and torso were. Everything was "in process," along with the arms which were outstretched, as if beckoning. While at the top of this figure, was the head of Christ. However, the Head, which seemed to be fully complete and finished, wasn't. It was as if you were looking at a head which was complete on one side, but in "places," particularly at the bottom of it, there was still the wire structure showing through. Otherwise, where the Head appeared to be finished, it seemed to glow and have a radiance about it, and was golden in appearance. The rest of the structure had the "shape" of the figure, but it was unfinished and not complete or alive compared to the Head.)

"Everything needs to be with "prime importance" being given to the Head. Many are trying to build this body without the proper attachment. Surely, this structure, my body, will be "life-less" without the blood and life-giving Head of my Son. It needs to be an organism and not an organization. When will my body be united in Me?"

Who Do You Say That I Am?

Stephen Hanson

Jan. 15, 2000

"When Jesus came to the region of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, "Who do people say the Son of Man is?" They replied, "Some say John the Baptist; others say Elijah; and still others, Jeremiah or one of the prophets." "But what about you?" he asked. "Who do you say I am?" Simon Peter answered, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." Jesus replied, "Blessed are you, Simon son of Jonah, for this was not revealed to you by man, but by my Father in heaven." Matt. 16:13-17

"Here I am! I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in and eat with him, and he with me." Rev. 3:20

"I want to know Christ and the power of his resurrection and the fellowship of sharing in his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, and so, somehow, to attain to the resurrection from the dead. " Phil. 3:10-11

"I AM the rock upon which everyone should build. I AM the "Living Stone...." I AM the Door which men can open-up.....I AM the "First and the Last," the "Alpha and the Omega", the "Soon and Returning King." I AM the "Living Bread which came down from heaven."

"There are many names which I have been called. I asked Peter who I was....and he told Me that I was the Christ, the Son of the living God, and he was able to say this because of the Holy Spirit. Many of my sons and daughters know about Me but they don't really know Me. They may know Me as someone who can answer their prayers. They may know Me as someone they can present their requests to. They may know Me as "Commander and Chief." They may know Me as the "Vine Dresser."

"Truly, I AM these things and more."

(The Lord showed me a Bible and it was small and black in appearance. Someone was flipping through the pages of this Bible as if to learn more about God and His Son. As they were leafing through the pages, I noticed that there was a larger Bible behind or superimposed alongside the smaller one. As I noticed this, the print on the smaller one was much smaller, and the larger Bible had larger print in it.)

"When you read about Me, you just "read about Me," but when you know Me, you know Me in the depths of who

I AM. I AM asking those who want to know Me to pull-up a seat next to Me, and sit down next to Me. To come and sup with Me. "

(Here the Lord showed me a book again, very much like the Bible in appearance, but the words were a song, as if written by a composer for someone to sing or to learn the music therein.)

"Then the word which you read will become a song, a beautiful song. For it will spring to life. Then the very words you read will become "rhema" to your soul. But I AM asking you to even go beyond this. I AM asking that you not only know Me in this way, but that you identify with Me and become like Me. "

(Here I saw a burial place where someone had been and it was a large area of ground which was cut seemingly square and clean in appearance. As I watched, this, I followed and went below the ground as if following the Lord, and noticed that there were flames. However, as I followed, then I noticed that I was with the Spirit and the Son, and they went up into the sky and then the Son was seated at the right of God. Then after this, I saw a scene of Christ with his head bowed to the ground on the cross.)

"Many people still live their lives as if I was still on the cross. They do not fully realize the impact of Me being raised from the dead. They do not know all the promises I can give them. Intellectually they may know about these things; but to truly be "alive to these things", you need to know Me. "

"I say come...and the Spirit says come....Come to know Me as I truly am. Don't know Me as others have said I AM. Everyone must work out their own salvation with fear and trembling. When these things begin to happen, then my church will be ready for my return. "

Which Fire Do You Choose?

Hollie Moody

Not too long ago, the Lord showed me in a vision men of God (pastors, preachers, priests, rabbis, etc.) coming from behind their podiums and walking down from their platforms, and falling on their faces. These men of God began to weep and to groan in their spirits. I heard only the words, "Father, forgive us !!!"

As the men of God continued to weep on their faces before the Lord, I watched and saw as their tears began to flow towards an altar. As the tears continued to flow towards an altar, their tears became as small flames of fire. When the small flames of fire touched the altar, smoke began to ascend from the altar. At first, the smoke was very thick. It was as if I could actually smell the smoke, and was inhaling it, and was being suffocated by it.

Then, I noticed as flames began to shoot up from the altar, and the smoke began to lessen. The brighter and fiercer the fire began to burn, the more the smoke diminished. Finally, there was a strong fire burning on this altar.

The men of God continued to weep. Their tears continued to flow unto the altar, and change into small flames of fire. As I continued to watch this scene, the tears seemed to overflow the altar, and flow outwards into the churches and beyond. As these tears flowed through the churches, and beyond the doors of the churches, they touched upon people. These people also fell on their faces, and began to weep before the Lord. The same thing began to happen to their tears also ~ becoming small flames of fire, and overflowing the altar and sweeping outwards and beyond the doors of the churches.

For days, I thought upon this short vision and tried to understand its significance.

I began to read and receive prophecies of judgment against America, against churches, against people. And I was troubled by this. I felt a confirmation of all these things in my spirit, but still I was troubled. For I didn't desire to see God's judgment, but His mercy, fall.

"What will with hold Your judgment, Lord?" I prayed.

"Repentance," the Lord replied. "When the tears of true repentance are wept from a heart that is broken before Me, only then will the fires of revival begin to burn. And only then will the fierceness of My wrath be averted. This repentance must begin in My house, with the spiritual leaders. When the leaders are right before Me, the people will be."

*****

I don't believe prophecies of coming doom and judgment have to come to pass.

Jeremiah 18:7-8 says, "At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up, and to pull down, and to destroy it; If that nation, against whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them."

The story of Jonah preaching judgment to the city of Nineveh is also another good example. (Jonah 3:10 ~ "And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil, that he had said that he would do unto them; and he did it not.")

This act of mercy on the Lord's part towards Nineveh was extremely displeasing to Jonah. Maybe he felt that since he had preached judgment, and it didn't come to pass, this made him appear to be a false prophet.

There are those right now prophesying judgment. I don't doubt for a moment that they are hearing from the Lord. But instead of praying for this judgment to come to pass, I myself am praying the Lord for mercy, and for a spirit of repentance to come upon His men of God, and upon His people. I am praying for intercessors to stand in the gap between those who need to repent and between the Lord's wrath falling upon them. And when / if this mercy is extended, these prophets should not be accused of being false prophets. They indeed heard from the Lord, and delivered His warning. It was the heeding of the warning by those who heard and listened and obeyed that averted God's judgment from falling.

Between the tears and the fire, there is first a smoke. The smoke can appear very threatening at first. It is attesting to the fact that something is being changed, and change is always traumatic. If we can endure through the tears becoming smoke, we will see the smoke as it becomes fire.

Please consider prayerfully the following verses of scripture. The responsibility they convey to intercessors is heavy on my heart.

Ezekiel 22:30-31 ~ "And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it : but I found none. Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord God."

There will indeed be a fire. The fire of God's wrath, or the fire of revival fueled by the tears of repentance. I think we will all choose which fire that may be.

If we secretly desire God's judgment to fall, we will forbear standing in the gap. If, however, it is God's mercy we desire to see fall, we will weep tears of repentance before Him, and stand in the gap for those against whom He has pronounced His coming judgment.

Will you stand in the gap for repentance and revival, or will you stand aside to silently allow God's judgment and the fire of His wrath to fall? As I look into my own heart and examine my own motives and intents, I have to ask myself the question, "How am I standing?"

In Him, ~ Hollie L. Moody

Weeping for the Eagle

Catherine Brown

"My dear children, for whom I again in the pains of childbirth until Christ is formed in you." Gal 4:19

WEEPING FOR THE EAGLE

I saw a vision of a double-headed eagle surrounded by a group of men and women. The eagle was evidently full of pride and as it raised itself up, the Lord's people came around the bird with a sword and began to hack the eagle to death. As it lay dying, the double headed eagle's appearance changed to that of a young eaglet (with only one head). The people of God began to weep and mourn for the loss of the young eaglet, as they watched its chameleon-like transformation.

IT'S TRUE IDENTITY HIDDEN

I discerned that the double-headed eagle was a symbol of rebellion, particularly in the younger generation and that the men and women in the vision represent the older generations. The true appearance of the young eagle had been hidden from them because of the rebellious attitude of his heart. He had appeared a threat to the kingdom of God, but on closer inspection he was not a threat, but simply a child of God that required discipline and wise counsel.

THE FATHER'S MERCY, EVEN TO THE REBELLIOUS

I was reminded of king David and his son Absalom, and how Absalom became proud and rebellious, to the extent that he attempted to usurp his father's kingdom through a coup. Absalom won the hearts of the men of Israel. He was attractive and wily. He offered false justice to those who were seeking wise counsel from the king. Absalom was eventually killed by Joab (the king's army commander), despite king David's instruction to spare his life. Rebellion is as the sin of divination, yet the Father's mercy extends even to the rebellious if they will humble themselves and repent under His mighty hand.

I WEPT AT THE ENEMY'S STRATEGY

I wept as I saw a possible strategy of the enemy unfold in this vision. I believe that Satan desires to continue to splinter relationships, especially between the older and the younger generations. Each generation may fall prey to pride, but I sense that the younger generations may be more vulnerable at this time. I cried to the Lord, and asked Him "How do we deal with rebellion?". His response was "Come in the opposite spirit", and with these words, the second part of the vision began to unfold.

INSTEAD . . . THEY FORMED A CIRCLE OF PROTECTION

I was shown the double-headed eagle once more surrounded by a group of men and women. The eagle behaved in exactly the same manner as before, demonstrating a proud and rebellious attitude. This time, however, the men and women did not take up the sword against the eagle. Instead, they formed a circle of protection around the eagle. The bird attempted to force its way through the circle, by ramming the walls, but was unable to go beyond its boundaries. The young bird then attempted to take its own life, by throwing itself from a great height, expecting to be dashed to pieces on the ground. There were some in the circle who lay down on the ground, to prevent the young bird from destroying itself. This action spoke of sacrifice and a willingness to protect the young eaglet at any cost. Eventually the young eaglet became still and a deep peace and humility pervaded the heart of the bird. At this moment, the bird transformed from a double headed eagle, to a young eagle (with one head). The transformation had taken place without the loss of life.

The vision continued and I watched the young eagle grow and become strong, staying within the boundaries that God had placed around it. The vision finished with the young eagle flying off into the horizon, soaring under the wing of a mature eagle. They flew together, with a unity that was glorious to behold.

ABSALOM OR SOLOMON?

The Spirit impressed a question to my mind, which I believe is for the body of Christ. "Will you have a son like Absalom who will die by the sword, or will you have a son like Solomon who will prosper My kingdom and usher in My Glory"?

There is a choice before the church at this moment in time. Which shall she choose? As the priesthood is restored, the church will begin to walk in the kingly anointing through her sanctification. With the outpouring of the kingly anointing, I believe the enemy will also pour out a counterfeit kingly anointing. One of his strategies in the past was to destroy the relationship between David and Absalom (father and son) through the sin of rebellion. As the next generation of radical young believers is released to the body of Christ, we (the older generations) are required to instruct them in the way of Grace, guarding our own hearts from rebellion and pride, and putting protective boundaries of Godly wisdom and discernment in place around them. Just like the young eaglet in the vision, the outward appearance of some of these young people may seem rebellious. It is our job as elders in the church, to nurture them to maturity, encouraging complete faithfulness to God and to His eternal covenants.

YOUNG EAGLE AND MATURE EAGLE, FLYING TOGETHER INTO THE HIGHER PURPOSES

The vision ended with a young eagle and a mature adult eagle flying together, entering into the higher purposes and callings of God together. The call to spiritual parenting is before us. May we bring Jesus great glory as we model the qualities of Christ in our own lives and see them replicated in the lives of young men and women that the Lord entrust to our care.

David and his son Solomon worked together to usher in the Glory of God. David recognized his young son lacked experience and he did everything within his power to assist Solomon to walk in the calling set before him.

"Command and teach these things. Don't let anyone look down on you because you are young, but set an example for the believers in speech, in life, in love, in faith and in purity. Until I come, devote yourself to the public reading of Scripture, to preaching and to teaching. Do not neglect your gift, which was given you through a prophetic message, when the body of elders laid their hands on you.

Be diligent in these matters; give yourself wholly to them, so that every one may see your progress. Watch your life and doctrine closely. Persevere in them, because if you do, you will save both yourself and your hearers." 1 Tim 4:11-16

ADDENDUM TO THE VISION 13.6.00

As I prepare to post this vision I have just been shown a continuation of the 2nd vision. The 2nd vision ended with the young eagle flying under the wing of the adult eagle. The two were flying in tandem. This morning I have been shown the young eagle flying for a time with the adult eagle, but then it flew off into the horizon on its own. I believe the two birds flying in unison speaks of a season of interdependence, as the apostolic and prophetic foundations are laid for the next generation, and the mentoring process is set in place. The young eagle reaches adulthood and is able to function independently through the maturation process brought on through Godly mentoring. This is confirmed when the young eagle flies of on its own. The youngster has reached maturity and is able to function independently ( I am not advocating separation between the generations, rather a co-operative working together towards unity, whilst recognizing that young people have their own unique identity, calling and expression of fulfillment of the Great Commission within the Body of Christ).

Where Eagles Gather

Ching Co

January 13, 2000:

To the Living Church of God,

Many have been perceiving this year to be a year of change. While standing in my watchtower, I began seeking to understand how these changes will come. During these past days, I began to discern one area of change which will be significant to many of God's children. This understanding come to me in the form of a vision.

THE VISION: I saw a great number of people both men and women and a tag was attached to them. I saw the words pastors, evangelists, teachers, prophets, apostles, singers, ministry heads, etc all basically identifying them as servants of the Most High. Then the Lord explain to me that the group I saw are His children, both active and those waiting to be released. While watching them, I notice that the clothes that they were wearing were being changed from regular dress to working clothes. And I saw many of them put on various clothes that reflects their specific works. I saw some putting on aprons and the dress of a chef, I saw some putting on carpenter's over-all. I saw some putting on blue over-alls. I saw some putting on suits like those worn by businessman and lawyers and others working in office. I saw yet others putting on office uniforms. As I watch them, I notice that most of them were getting ready for work. At this point, I was puzzled because I have expected them to be standing before men preaching, teaching and doing the things which are directly identified with Christian service. But instead many of them were getting ready to do work which I considered as "secular" in nature. At this point, the Lord bring me back to the time of King Josiah and also of Nehemiah. And the Lord began to instruct me to take note of the events taking place at that time. And He asked me if I notice what most people were doing then. These two verses from 2 Chronicles 34:12 - 13 light up before me. " The Levites - all who were skilled in playing musical instruments - had charge of the laborers and supervised all the workers from job to job. Some of the Levites were secretaries, scribes and doorkeepers." At this point, I began to felt the Holy Spirit explaining to me in more details about the meaning of the vision I saw.

THE INTERPRETATION As the wind of the Holy Spirit began to blow, the manifestation of this blowing will affect many children of God. One of the change that we will see will be in the area of WORK. Many are waiting for God to open wide the door of ministry to them this year, but instead of that door, we will find another door being opened to us. This door will come in the way that we are not prepared for or have perceive to be, for it will come in the form of opportunities that will involved working in secular jobs. The enemy's tactic is to discouraged us from taking on these jobs and will be presenting them as obstacles, distractions and hindrances to our call. But God never intent for it to be that way. Instead, many of these opportunities are the road that will lead to the destiny that the Lord has for us. He then reminded me about Moses, that before He send him to stand before Pharoah, he has to work as a farmer. Also, Joseph that before he walked into the fullness of his destiny, has to serve in prison and do other service. Furthermore, if we observe the time of King Josiah, many of the Levites were called to work as secretaries, scribes and doorkeepers (2 Chronicles 34:12-13)

OUR RESPONSIBILITY Our job at this point is to be vigilant and prayerful. We must never judge by outward appearance, and we have to remember that God's way are not the same as men's way. Also, never measure the anointing of God with the level of work presented before you. The lower the position that these works will get in the world, the higher will be the importance that God give to them. For the lower the position, the more humility it will require.

GOD'S WORD " My children, keep your eyes upon me. For the changes that will come will astound many. Those who are not seeking me continually and are watching with the world's eyes will miss my way. But be like Elijah who listen to that still small voice for I will not be in the wind, I will not be in the earthquake, I will not be in the fire, but I will come as a gentle whisper. Do not be deceived by the commotions taking place in the mountains. For if you are not careful, these things can led your away from me. Cling on to me, hold on to me. . . seek me daily for I am with you always. Great works have been accomplished in your lives and I am accomplishing more. Watch and be alert." This is the word of the Father to us this season.

PRAYER: "Father, open our eyes to see your glory more and more. Stilled our hearts that we will hear you clearly. Thank you for your hands that is continually guiding us day by day. Set a fire of wall of protection over your people this day that no presumption, deception, and confusion will be able to penetrate that wall around us. We praise you and we come to you in your Son JESUS most sweet and powerful name. Amen!!!" May the Lord bless each one to whom this message is intended. Blessings and Shalom,

What Do You Seek?

William Hawkins

In This day and this hour men seek me to Bless the work's of their hand's, their mind's, their program's, their idea's, and their ideal's.

I can and I will Bless them, but only so far as they seek to bring in the LOST, Feed the hungry and clothe the poor.

I search by the hour from one end of heaven to another for those who do my bidding so that I may Bless their labors.

But; Alas, I find so very few that I can bless.

I told you in my word that those that Love me, follow my commands. Few spend enough time with me to know my commands.

Oh, Yes, you search my word and follow what you see. You seek to find the blessings without the responsibility of following my commands.

You seek only the written word and have forgotten the Living word.

I did not leave you alone!

I sent my own Spirit to guide you and to direct you into all truth.

Without his guidance you follow dead words, without life.

Did I not tell you the letter brings death; it is the Spirit that brings Life, He and He alone.

You must come to me to Love me!

You must listen to me!

You must obey what you hear!

Stop seeking my hand and seek my face.

Do you not understand that many have sought my hand for blessings and power and anointing and one day I shall have to say to them, Depart from me for I never knew you.

IF, you will seek my face, My plan, My direction and simply love me for who I am, All these other things will be added to you and in even greater measure than you can even imagine.

In your heart you say--NO! -It can not be that simple!

HEAR ME!

YES<> It is that simple...

Love me for who I Am.

We are Betrothed one to another.

You have been Sanctified and set apart for ME.

Separate yourselves from the lure and the lust of the world and prepare as any Loving Bride must.

Wash yourselves in the water of my word, allowing My Spirit to make it Living Water, cleansing you and making you ready for the marriage ceremony.

For, indeed I shall come for MY Bride at the Midnight hour while others sleep.

I shall come with the sound of the Shofar and a shout of The Bridegroom comes for His Bride and take you to the place I have prepared for you and we shall be joined as ONE, forever and for ever.

Rejoice and rejoice, for the day and the hour is at hand.

All things that the Prophets have spoken about the Kingdom shall soon be accomplished.

Gird the loins of your mind with the Living Word, walk in the path that My Spirit leads you on, looking neither to the right nor the left, but, focus your eyes and your hearts upon Me.

Your love for me and My love for you shall conquer all things.

Pray in my most Holy Spirit

Walk on the path of Love I have made for you.

Seek not your own understanding with your mind, but, seek only to love with your heart.

Amen

What A Time To Be Living In!!!

Rose Everett

10/16/2000 I tell you now, that things are changing. Things in the natural world and things in the spiritual world are rapidly changing! Things are changing in my Body, and in each individual member of My Body. This is a time like no other time in the history of mankind.

Satan and his hordes are fighting mad...as you can see, if you just look around you. His time is short, and even though he knows he is defeated, he has pulled out all the stops. The big guns are being brought out for the battle of the ages! His desire is to destroy My Body here on earth, and to destroy the world and take as many souls with him into outer darkness.

The time is short, My Friends! There is much left to do, and not much time to do it in. If you are going to do something for MY Kingdom, do it now!

I see some of you looking at the situations around you, and wondering what is happening...and wondering if you ever heard right in the first place. You are wondering if what you are doing now is of ME, or just from your desires.

All that you have endured in the past has been a time of preparation for the present time. Your faith has been exercised, as you have trusted ME for your lives in the past, so that you can stand now in the hell coming upon the earth.

Yes, I said "Hell!" It will be a hell like no other for those who do not wish to follow ME, but unto you, who cling to me, it will be a time of peace and safety in the midst of the storm.

No, little ones do not look at your present circumstances. For if you do, Satan will have an opening in which to bring fear into your heart. Look to Me. Look straight ahead...into My Face! Do not look to the right; do not look to the left, do not look behind you! Come under the shelter of MY Wing and be safe from the calamities coming upon mankind.

Look with interest to Jerusalem...with one eye on ME, and one eye on Your Bible. Watch now, Children, and behold the physical manifestation of what I have written in My Holy Word. Watch now, and behold how all things come together just as I said they would!

You are most blessed to be living in this period of human history, because you are chosen to see the coming of MY SON from the Heavenlies! You have been chosen to rise in the air to meet MY SON in the clouds! What a time to be living! Fear not, MY Beloved...draw close to ME and let ME carry you through this time!

I AM your ABBA!

Scripture of the Week

A Psalm of David.

Plead my cause, O LORD, with them that strive with me: fight against them that fight against me.
Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for mine help.
Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that persecute me: say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.

Let them be confounded and put to shame that seek after my soul: let them be turned back and brought to confusion that devise my hurt.

Let them be as chaff before the wind: and let the angel of the LORD chase them.
Let their way be dark and slippery: and let the angel of the LORD persecute them.
For without cause have they hid for me their net in a pit, which without cause they have digged for my soul.

Let destruction come upon him at unawares; and let his net that he hath hid catch himself: into that very destruction let him fall.

And my soul shall be joyful in the LORD: it shall rejoice in his salvation.

All my bones shall say, LORD, who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him, yea, the poor and the needy from him that spoileth him?

False witnesses did rise up; they laid to my charge things that I knew not.
They rewarded me evil for good to the spoiling of my soul.

But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth: I humbled my soul with fasting; and my prayer returned into mine own bosom.

I behaved myself as though he had been my friend or brother: I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

But in mine adversity they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together: yea, the abjects gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not; they did tear me, and ceased not:

With hypocritical mockers in feasts, they gnashed upon me with their teeth.

Lord, how long wilt thou look on? rescue my soul from their destructions, my darling from the lions.

I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

Let not them that are mine enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: neither let them wink with the eye that hate me without a cause.

For they speak not peace: but they devise deceitful matters against them that are quiet in the land.

Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me, and said, Aha, aha, our eye hath seen it.

This thou hast seen, O LORD: keep not silence: O LORD, be not far from me.

Stir up thyself, and awake to my judgment, even unto my cause, my God and my Lord.

Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy righteousness; and let them not rejoice over me.

Let them not say in their hearts, Ah, so would we have it: let them not say, We have swallowed him up.

Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion together that rejoice at mine hurt: let them be clothed with shame and dishonour that magnify themselves against me.

Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that favour my righteous cause: yea, let them say continually, Let the LORD be magnified, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.

And my tongue shall speak of thy righteousness and of thy praise all the day long.   Psalms 35

Quote of the Week

Almighty God: We make our earnest prayer that thou wilt keep the United States [or wherever you live] in Thy holy protection; that Thou wilt incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government; and entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another and for their fellow-citizens of the United States at large.

And finally that Thou wilt most graciously be pleased to do justice, to love mercy, and to demean ourselves with that charity, humanity, and public temper of mind which were the characteristics of the Divine Author of our blessed religion and without a humble imitation of whose example in these things we can never hope to be a happy nation.

Grant our supplications, we beseech Thee, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

John Relyea

Here is a morning vision given on November 2, 1999 at about 6:00 am.

It started out with a folded paper boat on a little stream. Then I noticed people around the paper boat talking about what they could do with it. Looking around, I saw I was on an island mountain; there were other streams that had rafts and small boats at their head waters. The different streams fed into a river which emptied into a harbor. One group didn't have any sort of raft built at all, but they were debating vigorously about whether it was even proper to build a raft. Other groups had rafts of bamboo crudely lashed together; others had canoe-like boats, none could carry very many people. Some of the streams petered out entirely or were so shallow that there was no way to get to the river on the rafts or boats. Spies from some groups were sent out to see what other groups were building and secretly "borrow" ideas from each other. Quite a few people, seeing what was going on, were disgusted with the situation and singularly or in small groups made their way down the mountain. Some people were for a time lost or disoriented in the jungle as they headed to the river. Some saw there was no direct way to the river from where they were and headed for the harbor instead. Quite a few people were struggling to come off the mountain.

Down in the harbor there was a large number of ships (warships- worship) of many different types and sizes in various stages of construction. I knew that they had been "Christened" with names like "Unity", "Brotherhood", "Sure Foundation", and "The Bright and Morning Star." One ship had a flag flying the star of David on it and was named "The Consolation of Israel." It was surrounded by other ships with names like "One Body", "One Faith", "One Hope", "One New Man", and "In Christ". "The Consolation of Israel" was presently a large (though nearly empty) troop carrier; but I understood it would be filled.

There was a huge amount of building going on! Ships that were nearly completed shared builders, crews and even some of their own parts to help other ships get finished. Everyone contributed and it was understood that they were working against a dead line, and toward an appointed time. In the midst of all the building there was a lot of clapping, singing, celebrating, praying and dancing, and worshipping which, along with the building, went on around the clock. There was no sense of competition, only a good-natured and brotherly teasing for each one to do their part and their best. The ships were awesome and arrayed with weapons and tools which were never seen before; each ship was distinctive but necessary, and contributed to the whole fleet. And all of them were ready for some part of a great battle.

The captains knew and trusted one another and I understood that each one would gladly burst his heart helping other captains. Together they were given tactics and strategies which no one knew existed before.

When it was time, they sailed off into the red sky of the early morning. After leaving the harbor, there was an great earthquake and the island broke apart and sank into the sea. It was destroyed with only debris left floating on the ocean. A voice then said, "I am moving on. Follow me!" Then the vision ended

I think its worth pointing out for your prayerful reflection some the following points:

- 1.) The Arising of the Apostolic is building real substance into the Body of Christ that will get people where they need to go. That is in contrast to rickety vessels of Bamboo and wood or the theoretical efforts of the paper boat group-some of those approaches which won't get us to the River! The "bursting heart" reminds us of the Lords great and willing sacrifice on the cross for others. Such "cross-linking" of the Body through the apostolic heart is creating new dynamics and elements of spiritual formation within the Body of Christ.
- 2.) Get TO the River and get IN the River but remember: the River is not mainly about you! The River is going somewhere-to the harbor where the ships are. Find your ship! If you are disoriented or feeling isolated keep pressing into God and going for the Kingdom! Don't stop where you are! Enough said.
- 3.) The Scope of what the Lord is building- It is HUGE! No single leader, group or movement will be able to capture or encompass all that the Lord is building; but they had better learn to recognize, respect, bless and enjoy what God is doing in other parts of the Bride of Christ since they have been "Christened" launched by Christ. There was no "turf protecting" or critical spirit or empire-building on the part of leaders. The leaders seemed to know that such unwarranted activities and judgements could jeopardize themselves and many of their followers if not disqualify them entirely.
- 4.) There is going to be a full "Consolation of Israel!" The Body of Christ will be greatly strengthened as many Jewish people are joined to Messiah and in turn, greatly bless the Body of Christ. Their meeting Messiah is a large part of the reason for the storm ("red sky in morning.")
- 5.) Worship/prayer/sharing/praising/dancing is pulling the Body together and giving it strength, flexibility, grace and a compelling beauty and joy! It is part of the bride preparing herself for the wedding!
- 6.) Island breaking apart and sinking-This part troubled me. The Lord will preserve the Church but destroy Christendom (those religious practices and ideas that are or were not of Him). He will destroy Christendom in order to build His Kingdom. The "red sky in morning" suggests this too may be done in the context of (spiritual) storm since the fleet sailed off in the early morning and then the island sunk. In contrast to the "united diversity" of the fleet as the pressure of war drew near Christendom was torn apart by those same pressures.

Scripture of the Week

I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and the Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire.

A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened.    (Dan 7:9-10 KJV)

I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.
And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.    (Dan 7:13-14 KJV)

Quote of the Week

The Father stands at the threshold of judgment. What we [Americans] do, here and now, beginning at the [Republican] Convention [and continuing through the November elections] will determine the severity of that judgment."

When Kings Go To War

Pat Cocking

Pat's email: cocking@telus.net

<http://www.patcocking.bc.ca/>

September 2000

I saw in a spiritual vision, a group of people who represented believers inside a building symbolizing our modern day church structure. The atmosphere was charged with activity and everyone was hustling and bustling about. Furniture was being rearranged, chairs were being stacked, new pictures replaced old ones on the wall, new carpets were being laid and fresh paint with splashes of bright color garmented the building with an updated look. Many had a sense of excitement and anticipation as though some great event were about to happen while others seemed weary from the past season of activity and battle. Some appeared to be insecure about the change that was taking place. There seemed to be a measure of conflict in the midst of the activity and yet the plans for the transformation of the building continued to go forward without retreat.

THEN I SAW THE LORD

I then saw the Lord ride up to the building on a large majestic white horse. He sat on the beast as a Warrior King. There were others riding with Him and although I did not see them clearly I had the impression that they were heavenly hosts.

On approach of the building, double doors swung open and He entered the sanctuary in awesome divine authority. Many stood in awe as they beheld His Presence in this majestic and authoritative form while others seemed to be oblivious to the fact that He had entered.

THE TIME TO FIGHT IS NOW!

He pulled His sword from it's sheath -- it was shining and glistening, radiating a heavenly, pulsating, glory. He looked around the room intently at each one looking for hearts who were turned towards Him (an impartation of divine strength was infused into each one who was acknowledging His presence). He then raised His sword, pointing it upward in a swift motion. With clear, precise words He declared, "Come, follow Me to battle....the time to fight is now!" "All authority in heaven and in earth has been given unto Me...let us go now and make disciples of the nations." "There are battles to be won.....in righteousness and in justice we will war." Some seemed to hear the command very clearly and were eager to follow, others heard but did not want to leave the setting they were in, some were too tired and weary to go, and yet others appeared to be deaf to His voice.

Only a few left with Him....only a trickle responded to His voice.....would they follow later?

A GREAT AND MIGHTY ARMY

.....I then saw what looked like a multitude on war horses. They were riding on in battle fully arrayed in heavenly armour, glistening in the same way as I had seen the Lord's sword. They were riding in rank, as one soldier, a great and mighty army....ferocious in authority....it was the army of the Lord.

They were going to war..... warring against injustice.....warring against poverty, sickness, disease, death.....warring against oppression of every kind....yes...in the authority of the Lord.....they were going to war.

END OF VISION

INTERPRETATION: 1. The changes being made to the building is symbolic of a season of transition that the Body of Christ has entered into in order to prepare for the coming move and visitation of the Lord. There is a sense of change in the Body and things are being re-arranged and re-structured as the transition is discerned. Some will be flexible and eager to facilitate change while others might resist and be uncomfortable with it. Some are weary from a past season of warfare and activity. Rest in the Lord must be taken in order to be ready for the next visitation of the Lord to His church. "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." At times conflict and opposition will be evident although the transitional changes will still progress.

APPEARANCE OF CHRIST

2. The appearance of Christ as a Warrior King indicates the coming of the Lord to His church in the manifestation of His awesome authority. The vision indicates that the Lord will "suddenly" come to His temple. "Lift up your heads, O gates; and be lifted up ye ancient doors; that the King of glory may come in." (Ps 24:7) It is an hour to prepare for Him. In the vision not everyone discerned Him. This speaks to me that faith is required to see Him in this coming move. The absorption in daily affairs and church activity seemed to dull the spiritual senses of some. The deafness indicates an inability to hear His voice or to acknowledge Him due to unbelief.

ANGELIC HOSTS

3. The angelic hosts that accompanied Him speaks of angelic visitations in this next move which will aid the Body of Christ in being released into battle. I had a sense that these particular angels that accompanied Christ were warrior angels. They will minister to the saints as we follow the Lord into battle.

THE AUTHORITATIVE POWER OF THE WORD

4. The focus on the sword in the vision indicates the exaltation of the authoritative power of the Word of God in this coming move. The Word of God is going to be wielded with a heavenly and divine reverence. The authority of the Word (Jesus) will be imputed to those who stand in His Presence and to those who discern the hour of His visitation. This part of the vision speaks of the potential empowerment that the Body of Christ will receive in order to work glorious miracles, signs and wonders in the days of harvest.

A CORPORATE GLOBAL CALL

5. The call to the Body to go to war speaks of a corporate, global call to go forth in authority to war against injustice, poverty, sickness, disease, death, etc. It speaks of a season of mobilization that will be under the direction of the Warrior King Himself.

WHAT THE BODY WILL BECOME

6. There was only a small response to the command and yet in the latter part of the vision there was a multitude following Him in one accord. This speaks of a small group who will respond initially but an increase of involvement as the move progresses and becomes discerned. The Body will become a mobilized united army which will manifest the glory of the Lord's might, power and authority in the earth. I believe that this army will minister mercy to the oppressed and hope to the hopeless. The gospel will be proclaimed in it's purest form with accompanying signs and wonders by a united, bonded Body of believers who have become an "exceeding great army".

KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS

"And I saw heaven opened; and behold, a white horse, and He who sat upon it is called Faithful and True; and in righteousness He judges and wages war.....and from His mouth comes a sharp sword, so that with it He may smite the nations.....and on His robe and on His thigh He has a name written; KING OF KINGS and LORD OF LORDS." Rev 19:11 -- 16

When You See With My Eyes

Mary (Koons) Wattenford

Now when you begin to see with My eyes, and those things that are displeasing to Me, you'll see them the way I SEE THEM.. and those things that ARE PLEASING to Me... you will ALSO see - and you will feel My favor, My approval on that person, or in that situation. Discernment begins with hearing My voice, clarity comes by walking in My fullness. With discernment you must have wisdom... if the wisdom is lacking - if "My thoughts are not your thoughts.. then you can wound and maim, and speak out of turn and cause hurt to My Body.

Being right is NOT as important as having "LOVE!"

As My thoughts becomes your thoughts and My ways become your ways - you will take on My Person. My LOVE will flow through you and My characteristics will become evident to all who "see." For those things that WERE - are about to be "no more," and the things that "are to come," will change life as you know it. It is My purpose, it is My intent that change take place, for ALL nature cries out for the manifestation of the sons of glory. My Body weeps and intercedes and cries before Me daily saying, "Where is the promise of your coming Lord?"

I do not look to elevate one over the other - I do not seek for you to put "your best foot forward," but for YOU to put "MY FOOT FORWARD!" That you begin to walk in the realm of the supernatural, with signs and wonders following. In the days to come My children as the latter rains fall and replenish what the centuries, man and the enemy have stolen from you, you will begin to perceive ME in a "new and exciting way!" And the "stale" will be no more! And the "stuff," all of the baggage that you have brought along with you, MUST be left outside the door. For you can only come into My presence, naked - with no covering, For I am your covering! I AM IS YOUR COVERING! You can only be before the Father through the veil of My blood, for HE IS A HOLY AND RIGHTEOUS GOD - there is NO OTHER. But He looks "to the heart," so if your heart is "perfect" before Him - then you have NOTHING TO FEAR. If you have given up "ALL" to learn MY ways, to preach MY gospel, then I will not leave you and not carry out the desire that I, Myself, have put into your heart!

A Father knows and appreciates his children better than they even know themselves. For a child does not "perceive" why he may react to any given situation the way that he does. But your Heavenly Father knows "why" you do! And He, in His infinite wisdom, takes you through tests and trials to bring you to a place where the enemy can find nothing left to accuse you of, to injure you with... or cause you to turn from the path the Father has set before you. Satan is the enemy of your soul and his mission is to get your eyes off of the cross and your need for a savior!

The Father's mission is for YOU to "pick up YOUR CROSS" and "follow after HIS BELOVED SON" who has ALREADY walked the path ahead of you.

Who Is Building The House?

Mike Forest

Only that which the Lord Jesus Christ is doing through the Holy Spirit in the church today is of any spiritual value. Jesus said that "Upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it" (Matt.16:18).

It is possible for man to build a massive edifice that we call a church. He can even name his ministry after himself. He can organize and if he has the co-operation of the people, he can be very successful and make a name for himself or his denomination that everyone is proud of. Yes, man can do all this without God being in it in the slightest way. We are talking about using the methods of the world to build something that is of man, after man, and for man. And the result of this is that man will get the glory. As long as there is co-operation from the people, everyone playing his part in the organization, and the finances are coming in, then all is well. But if there is a breakdown in part of this man made machine then all will come to a screeching halt.

"Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it." (Psalm 127:1). When the Holy Spirit was poured out on the day of Pentecost the church began to explode. The Holy Spirit was the one that was in control, and the Holy Spirit always lifts up Jesus. He always reveals Jesus to the people. The leaders of the church gave themselves to prayer and fasting. They moved in the power of the Holy Ghost doing many signs and wonders. The believers had all things in common, and there was no one that lacked, because no one considered his possessions to be his own. They were of one mind, and of one heart, and were in the joy of the Holy Ghost, and the Word says that "the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." (Acts 2:47). The church grew because the Lord was adding to the church. Jesus has given the great commission to the church. The Lord has commanded the church to "go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believes and is baptized shall be saved. He that believes not shall be damned." (Matt. 16:15, 16). The only way that the church can fulfill the great commission is through the power of the Holy Spirit. It is only by doing things God's way that we will see true spiritual results within the church. God's way is still the way of the cross.

The wisdom of man within the church is foolishness to God and it is a hindrance to the plan and purposes of God. The steady diet from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil has left many in the church with overdeveloped minds but malnourished hearts. Only those saints that are feeding off of the tree of Life, which is the Lord Jesus Christ Himself, are those that are bearing spiritual fruit in the kingdom of God.

Only the Holy Spirit can draw men to the Lord Jesus Christ. Only through prayer and intercession are the powers of darkness broken off of men's lives so that they can be saved. It is only that which the Lord is building that is of any spiritual value. Jesus said that "Without me you can do nothing." Yet there are many things that are being done in the church without the Lord, and they appear to be working because of an apparent outward growth. This is why the ultimate test of any work of God as to how much of God is in it is the measure of Christ that you find there. Most churches today are teaching the gospel message, and most pastors are doing the best that they can, but most are caught up in a system that is built more upon organization and the planning of man than on the leadership of the Holy Spirit and sound biblical principles from the Word of God.

I am thankful that a great shaking will take place in which every thing that is not of God is going to come down, and every thing that is built on the solid foundation of the Lord Jesus Christ is going to be established.

May the Lord help us to have the eyes of our understanding illuminated so that we will see clearly what God is building, which is gold, silver, and precious stones, the nature of Jesus within His church. May we not be deceived by a substitute of man made religion which appeals to the flesh, looks good on the outside, but is full of death from within.

In His Love,
Mike

Who Comes Disguised?

Mary (Koons) Wattenford

For [you seem readily to endure it] if a man comes and preaches another Jesus than the One we preached, or if you receive a different spirit from the [Spirit] you [once] received, or a different gospel from the one you [then] received and welcomed. You tolerate [all that] well enough!

For such men are false apostles - spurious, counterfeits, deceitful workmen, masquerading as apostles (special messengers) of Christ, the Messiah.

And it is no wonder, for satan himself masquerades as an angel of light.

(2 Corinthians 11: 4, 13-14)

Last night while someone praying I saw several bright, orange pumpkins. I was then shown the pumpkins being "carved"... some with grotesquely shaped mouths - others minus eyes, and still yet others with no noses.

The Lord asked me "what" was used to illuminate these various shapes so that others could see it? I replied, "light - like a candle."

Small, lit white candles were then placed in each of the pumpkins. The Jack-o-lantern designs than begin to glow through the holes in the pumpkins.

The Lord then asked me, "Who comes disguised as an angel of light?"

As I looked closely at the pumpkins - I suddenly saw clearly what the LORD was showing me. The shapes represented "different individuals," that had been used by the enemy to attempt to hinder HIS work. Those with the grotesque large mouths represented those who "boasted of great things!" The lanterns without eyes represented those who "didn't have eyes to see," and those without the typical triangle nose represented those who had little, if any, prayer life (prayer being the incense of the saints - a pleasing savor to God), and therefore, little, if any, relationship with the Lord.

Later, I was shown the pulp along with the pumpkin seeds being pulled out of pumpkins in preparation for "other pumpkins" to begin to be carved. The seeds that were being pulled out of them represented "some type" of wound or injury out of an individuals past that would become an effective weapon for the enemy. For instance, an individual I had "just" been praying for was revealed to me to have been abused as a child - and had also been surrounded by mean-spirited, hard-hearted individuals; therefore, the "seed" of spite and malice which so characterized this persons responses to others NOW could be found to have its roots from his early childhood, and the enemy was preparing to "carve his lantern" with a shape that would reflect this persons present day character, which would THEN be used against the Lord's children.

SUDDENLY, and without warning the pumpkins EXPLODED from the inside - outward. The force of their destruction was so powerful that they were ALL obliterated in an instant!

And the Lord said:

And "such" will I do to those who are opposing ME - who are hindering MY work, who are attempting to thwart, delay, alter, reprobate, and replace what I AM is doing. The enemy will NOT succeed - no matter how many he uses to come against MY CHOSEN ONES! Have I NOT said that I will never, no NEVER leave you or forsake you?

Destruction is determined! SUDDENLY, and without warning - those who have allowed themselves to be so used, who have remained willful blind or spread the cold embers of their own bitterness to others, will find themselves destroyed by My Hand. The day of My wrath is at hand - and who can stand? He who has a clean heart! It is NOT my desire for ANY to come to such an end, NO! It is My desire that "ALL" come to know ME - even the very least of them; but many, will "nurse their wounds," and blindly fall in with the enemy's schemes and evil devices.

Where are they looking? WHO IS THEIR GOD? It is not "I AM!" They would scoff and jeer at you now; but soon will be begging for YOUR GOD to protect them from what is happening to "their" world! For EVERYTHING that "CAN BE SHAKEN!" WILL BE SHAKEN, until "ONLY" that which is of ME - is left.

Those who call upon My Name, but have NOT laid down EVERYTHING before ME at the altar, "WILL!" have shaken from them those things that are displeasing to Me. They will be bereft of that "one thing!" that seemed so little to them; yet caused many a millstone to be hung from their own necks as well as the necks of those around them! Jealousy - spite, verbal assaults against their brother or sister, a "tender spark" that ignites a FOREST FIRE! Blatant "favoritism," fundamentalism, any "ism" that defines itself as "ALWAYS RIGHT AND FREE OF ERROR!" is suspect, for are "ANY" free of error? Are there ANY who do right - always? Who NEVER sin? Who NEVER fall short? Who NEVER slip? Who WILL cast their stone because they are "WITHOUT" sin? Are "ANY" so filled with My Light that I could scour them and not find even the smallest speck of darkness within their heart? Is there ANY among you who has brought your minds "completely!" captive to My will and thoughts? Have "ANY" of you reached such perfection?

The cut out faces of the pumpkins represent those who have allowed their own wounds to harm others. Because often they do not even RECOGNIZE the reasons for their actions, they are "easy fodder*" in the enemy's hand.

Then, for the second time tonight - I saw in the Spirit this:

W.A.R.

Without Any Remorse

Without Any Revelation

Without Any Resource

Without Any Recourse

Without Any Representation

Without A Redeemer!

I was told that W.A.R. was an acronym**, and represented any of the above. It also represents "WAR" itself. I was not given any additional details.

*fod·der n. 1. Feed for livestock, especially coarsely chopped hay or straw. 2. Raw material, as for artistic creation. 3. A consumable, often inferior item or resource that is in demand and usually abundant supply

**ac·ro·nym n. A word formed from the initial letters of a name, such as WAC for Women's Army Corps, or by combining initial letters or parts of a series of words, such as radar for radio detecting and ranging.

Who do YOU say that I AM?

Mary (Koons) Wattenford

But who do YOU say that I am? What does your heart say unto you? Does your heart “sing” with Praises to your Savior – your Redeemer? Does it look in compassion at those who are lost, forlorn, forgotten, downtrodden, broken, tender shoots that have been broken by the hand of man and false shepherds? Does it rejoice when a brother or sister does well? Or does your heart become jealous and critical?

Who do YOU say that I am? What does your spirit say unto you? Do you hear My still, small voice? Do you seek My face continually? Have you idols that have come between us? Does My Father seek to draw you closer unto Himself or must He turn away – because your heart and spirit are far from Him?

Who do YOU say that I am? Do you call Me “Lord!” Or do you mouth the words but have no “inner understanding or witness,” within yourself as to who I AM? Do you seek to bring others to a “saving knowledge” of He who died for them? Or do you turn your head and look the other way? Do you have “JOY” in My presence or do others who DO - make you uncomfortable? Are you striving for perfection THROUGH ME – or through YOURSELF?

Who do YOU say that I am? Are you looking to draw closer to the Throne Room? Are you seeking MY GLORY – OR YOUR OWN? Do you seek to be glorified by man or bring glory to the Father?

Who do YOU say that I am? Do you try to follow the “pack?” Or – do you try to DAILY PICK UP YOUR CROSS AND FOLLOW ME?

Who do YOU say that I am? What matters the MOST to you – MY WILL – or your will? Do you want HIS WILL done on “earth” as it IS IN HEAVEN? OR – are you looking at the situations and circumstances around you – rather than telling that “mountain,” to MOVE in My Name?

Who do YOU say that I am? Do you say that I “look” at male or female or the color of skin and judge that persons worth by such? Do YOU? Are you “puffed up” by your own sense of importance – or by those who have built impressive buildings in My Name? By those who have amassed fortunes and say it is for My Kingdom – but have really raised a Kingdom for themselves?

Who do YOU say that I am? Does your speech reflect faith or doubt? Do you “speak it forth,” but then “call it back,” when it does not manifest - when or as - YOU think it should? Do you seek to call others “prideful or slothful,” but yourself vacillate between ignoring your fellow man because you consider yourself BETTER than they - or lying abed and expecting someone ELSE to take your place? What is “lack” to you? Is it not having ENOUGH – or not having ANYTHING?

Who do YOU say that I am? Have you been persecuted because you choose the “narrow road,” or praised because you choose the wide path that will lead to your OWN destruction? Have you suffered for My Namesake? Or to uphold a “set” position of pride and not of humility?

Who do YOU say that I am? Do you say that I AM LOVE? Do you seek to share My Love flowing through you to others? Or do you hold onto it for yourself? Does My mercy have a place within you? Do you show My grace and forgiveness to others? Or do you hold onto grudges and bitterness and conveniently forget the bigger debt the Father has forgiven you?

Who do YOU say that I am? Are you busy in service – or are you a servant, doing no more than you ought?

WHO DO YOU SAY THAT I AM? A teacher, a prophet, a sage? OR KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS? Who do you call upon in a time of trouble? Whose Name has the authority to bring you forth in His Glory – or leave you in the pit of your own iniquities? Whose righteousness do you seek? Mine - or your own?

If you call upon ME – with ALL YOUR HEART – I will hear from Heaven and I will come unto you and sup with you. I will put a new heart within you – I will ignite your spirit and fill your cup with springs and rivers of living water! I will go before you and light your path with truth. I will break those bonds of injustice for I came to set the captives free! I will lift you up into the Holy of Holies and show you the wonders of the universe I created. YOU WILL KNOW ME – EVEN AS YOU ARE KNOWN, and NO ONE will snatch you out of My hand!

Who do YOU say that I AM? FOR I AM the GOD of GODS, the KING of KINGS, the LORD of LORDS. He who died - arose – and lives forevermore. I AM the Bright and Morning Star, the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last.

Who do YOU say that I AM?

White Horse

Geri McCann

White Horse & Wall of Fire 9-24-00

By Geri McCann

The Lord showed me a white horse with a rider on it coming in the heavenlies. He then showed me that in front of the white horse was a wide river flooding and preparing the way before him. Behind the horse & horseman was a wall of fire consuming everything in its path.

The Lord spoke to me about the latter rain that is to be poured out before his coming and the scripture that says in the end days God will pour out His Spirit on all flesh, and your sons and daughters will prophesy and your old men will dream dreams, and your young men see visions. He spoke to me about the purpose of that out pouring to prepare the way for the coming of the Lord. It is also to prepare the people to protect them from the fire of judgment and burning which will come to burn up every thing that is not holy, that is not covered and submerged under the water. He spoke to me about baptism, it 's meaning from the word "baptismo" which is to fully immerse ones self into something. He spoke to me about the requirement for God's people to be fully immersed or baptized not only into the waters of repentance unto salvation for salvation. But the requirement for the bride to be pure and holy with out spot or blemish that the church is to surrender all to the Lord to be fully immersed in the out pouring of the holy spirit which is being poured out. The church is to fully absorb the water like a sponge with every nook and cranny absorbing the water. That we are to be immersed in this water/ out pouring of the holy spirit which is being poured out.

He spoke to me that it is vital. It is not just an added blessing, an option, a benefit. Yet it rather is a requirement to be in the bride. The five foolish virgins did not have the oil and were shut out. Those who do not receive and fill their lamps full will not be ready and prepared for the coming of the Lord the bridegroom.

Those who hold back areas of their lives and do not immerse all of their lives into the waters/Holy Spirit will have blemishes on their garments and will not be found worthy to be in the bride or partake of the wedding feast. That the ones who did not prepare, and take advantage of the cleansing and preparation time which is now, will not be ready and will miss out on being in the bride.

Not only that, they will not be protected from he fire of judgment which will come upon the earth. The water/ anointing of the holy spirit is also given as a protection from the fire of judgment. Like unto the blood upon the door posts for the children of Israel when the death swept through Egypt. This anointing will cover us and prevent us from being consumed by the fire.

The areas of our lives that are not fully immersed/baptized into the holy spirit will keep us out of the bride and will be burned up with fire. For the Lord will send the fire to purge and to burn all that is left unholy. These people will not be in the bride yet will still be saved and go to heaven but are referred to in the word as those whose lives were saved but all else was burned up in their lives, just the foundation. These will be those saved by fire, the door keepers etc.

The Lord is coming for a holy church a holy bride with out spot wrinkle of blemish. Those who buy from me gold tried by fire those who yield their lives to me totally will be spared form the judgment which is to come upon the earth to purge the earth from all unholyness and sin. This judgment is coming and you must be prepared you must be ready. Do ;not be like those who said my lord delays his coming and not be found ready. The Lord is seeking out a holy spotless blameless bride. you may all be in this bride but it is with a price. The price of your very lives to be fully mine fully immersed into my spirit. I will not be joined with a harlot which has mingle herself with the god of this world. I will look for and come for a bride who is wholly mine, holy unto me. I am her sole beloved, she is the apple of my eye, and I am enthralled with her beauty and splendor.

I am garmenting this bride, I am preparing this bride, I am filling this bride with my spirit my self, and my name will be upon her head. I will know her when I come for she will be like me with my name, spirit, and garments on her. She will be mine, waiting anxiously for me with here eyes lifted up to me gazing into my face. I will know her and she will know me.

Choose which god you will be of. Choose which lord you will be of. You cannot drink the cup of the blessing and the curse and be found holy and ready on that day. Know that what you partake of that is what you will be like. Know that what is allowed in and to remain will be found on that day. For nothing will be hid from his sight and he will know who are his.

The Lord would warn you, the Lord would guard you from the times to come. It is his will to prepare you, to protect you from times to come. It is his heart and will to deliver you from the wrath to come.

Know that this out pouring this anointing is vital to the preparation and protection for times to come. The anointing will release your spiritual man to be under the control of the Holy Spirit, and walk in the Spirit. The anointing will protect from the judgment of God.

Sound of a Roar 10-3-00

I saw the mountain tops with the heavens over the top and sound waves resounding over the mountain tops through to the valley and plains beneath.

The Lord would say that the sound of my roar is coming through out the earth. From the high places to the low. This sound will stun and cause dread upon my enemies. It will be the sound of judgment to my enemies, and they will know their end is near. Like unto the natural, when a lions roar stuns his prey and they know they will soon be devoured by their most powerful enemy.

This sound will not be so to my beloved who waits earnestly for me. It will be the roar and sound of their deliverer, for their deliverance and they will respond with a sound of joy and jubilee in the streets. This sound of jubilee the Lion will respond to with joy, for it will mark his people who wait for Him. He will know them by the sound of their rejoicing in the distance..

The Lord would say to make yourself ready for that day. For the day is approaching where I will no longer delay my coming. I will no longer wink my eye and over look the sin in the land. For the Lamb will become a Lion. The Savior will become the one who slays in the streets.

The opportunity will pass for those who stand against me to be granted repentance for the hardness of their heart will wax harder.

The Lord would say that I am coming . I am marching with my army mounted on a white horse. Hear the sound of the thunder of the hoofs of the horseman. Hear the sound of the footmen. Hear the sound of the trumpet & the battle cry. Hear the sound in the heaven's for this day draws nigh. Hear and respond and know that your deliverance is near, and nothing will stop Him, nothing can hinder Him.

Shout it on the house tops that your Lord has delayed His coming for a season, but now He is at hand, He is at the door, poised and ready for His return.

Let the house tops resound with praise and singing in response to His call. Let the mountain tops shake at the day of the Lord.

Let the whole earth reel and quake at the great terrible day of the Lord.

For the earth is the Lords and all it's fullness. It is totally his, and he is coming not only to claim his own, but to reclaim the earth.

The earth responds to his coming. The earth knows it's creator and master.

The mountains will be laid low and the valleys rise up and the seas will crash with waves.

For the Lord does come with the sound of a resounding roar, with the voice of the trumpets and the archangel, with the horsemen and the footmen, with the great army of the Lord of hosts. For He is the Lord of hosts, he is the King

Who or What

Linda D Harrington

April 20, 2000

The law of the Lord is perfect, restoring the soul; the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. The precepts of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart. The commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes. The fear of the Lord is clean enduring forever; the judgments of the Lord are pure; they are righteous altogether. They are more desirable than gold, yes than much fine gold; sweeter also than honey and the drippings of the honeycomb. Psalms 19:7-10

It is the Lord's ways that are perfect and are the producers of wisdom and restoration in our life. It is in this process that rejoicing takes place in our heart as He opens our eyes and allows us to see that it is Him that is doing the work. In our ongoing relationship with Him we see Him more and more as who He says He is and our eyes are opened to new levels of righteousness. It is during this process that we begin to have understanding of how important it is that He open our eyes. It is His opening of our eyes that we have vision.

He is our vision; when He opens our eyes we will see. It can be too easy to focus our eyes on His vision for our life, our purpose, our calling and miss seeing him who is the vision. It is possible to miss the vision no matter how much we may see.

In the year of King Uzziah's death I saw the Lord sitting on a throne, lofty and exalted, with the train of His robe filling the temple. Isaiah 6:1

Uzziah's name means my strength is Jehovah. It was in a time of death that the Lord was seen high and lifted up. We come to a time when even knowing the Lord as our strength seems to die. It is in that place that He opens our eyes and we see him for who He really is but not only do we have our eyes opened to Him there is a opening of our eyes to our own condition and to the condition of those around us. It is in this vision that we come to know Him and to be known by Him and are willing to go and do what He wills.

The Lord is always speaking in His still small voice; He always brings us back to Himself. Within the Lord's ways for our life there is reward but our focus is not on the reward but on the Lord himself, our vision. We do not see ourselves as the Lord sees us consequently we presume and many times miss the way of the Lord for the time and season. It is only by allowing the Lord, Himself, not His vision to be Lord that will we be blameless before Him as it is the Lord, Himself that makes a way for us to be blameless in His sight.

As the Lord is the center of our life the focus of our eye is centered on Him He is our vision. When He is our vision, our words and that which is within our heart will be acceptable to Him. When the vision He has given us becomes the center of our focus we become driven and ruled by things or the ways we think are right. He as our vision and as we see Him high and lifted up it is that is when we become one who is willing to go where He leads.

Where there is no vision the people are unrestrained, but happy is he who keeps the law. Prov. 29:18 (ASV)

Where there is no vision, the people perish, but he that keepeth the law, happy is he.

Prov. 29: 18(KJV)

It is this vision of the Lord Himself that restrains us or keeps us from perishing. The revelation of who He is brings us to the place where we are willing to walk in a way with Him that keeps His ways thereby being one who demonstrates the Lord to those around them. It is this demonstration of who He is that lifts Him as Lord and will draw men unto Him. We have tried to tell people of the vision He has given us but we have not walked in a way that has demonstrated that He is who He says He is. It is by the demonstration of His power in being high and lifted up that all men will be drawn to Him.

If we do not have a clear picture of who He is or see Him high and exalted it can become easy to live a life style of unrestraint or perish (come to nothing, destroyed, ruined or passed away) in the days ahead. Walking in such a way that demonstrates that we are practicing or following the divine instruction and the revealed will (law) of the Lord is what will bring the blessings of the Lord into our everyday lives. It is in the everyday and the ordinary that people will seek Him. The world will be drawn to those who are not perishing the days ahead for they will be seeking life. It is in the Life of Christ that there is happiness or blessing that the world will be seeking.

Without vision the people perish. He is our vision, that which we see, our guiding light, the revelation of the Father in Him and not something He has revealed a specific purpose or plan for us to follow that will keep us from perishing. Following "a" vision will cause us to become so focused that we may not see the Lord Himself in our day to day situations and circumstances. Everything we are, we do, and we say is to be weighed by the Lord Himself because if so measured by "a" vision there can be a way opened that seems right but will eventually lead to destruction. Our God is not a god of destruction but a God of restoration, continuously restoring us to Himself as He is our vision, the revelation of the Father, the one who is high and lifted up. A vision may be noble, good and a blessing but if we allow it to become high and lifted up we are serving an idol, that which is the created rather than the creator.

The Lord is calling us unto Himself and to know His ways. He himself has declared that He is a jealous God and that we are to have no other before us. It is time to see Him high and lifted up, exalted and to know and be known by Him. It is a season of no longer being enough to be called and to know the Lord, but it is our destiny to be known by Him.

Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity. Matt 7:22-23 (KJV)

Why This Waste?

Michael Clark

In the early 70's when I first started following Jesus in earnest, I was given a book written by Watchman Nee titled, "Sit Walk Stand." As I read it I was impressed with the call to the crucified life. I later read another book by Nee called "The Normal Christian Life." The last chapter in it, "The Goal of the Gospel," touched me like no other book I have read besides the Bible itself. It set me on a course that eventually has led me into this fellowship with Jesus that I share with you all today.

"The Normal Christian Life" is a Bible study the book of Romans but the last chapter centers on an incident that is recorded in Mark chapter fourteen.

1 After two days it was the Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread. And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take Him by trickery and put Him to death. 2 But they said, "Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar of the people." 3 And being in Bethany at the house of Simon the leper, as HE SAT AT THE TABLE, A WOMAN CAME HAVING AN ALABASTER FLASK OF VERY COSTLY OIL OF SPIKENARD. THEN SHE BROKE THE FLASK AND POURED IT ON HIS HEAD. 4 BUT THERE WERE SOME WHO WERE INDIGNANT AMONG THEMSELVES, AND SAID, "WHY WAS THIS FRAGRANT OIL WASTED? 5 "For it might have been sold for more than three hundred denarii and given to the poor." AND THEY CRITICIZED HER SHARPLY. 6 But Jesus said, "LET HER ALONE. WHY DO YOU TROUBLE HER? SHE HAS DONE A GOOD WORK FOR ME. 7 "For you have the poor with you always, and whenever you wish you may do them good; but Me you do not have always. 8 "SHE HAS DONE WHAT SHE COULD. SHE HAS COME BEFOREHAND TO ANOINT MY BODY FOR BURIAL. 9 "Assuredly, I say to you, WHEREVER THIS GOSPEL IS PREACHED IN THE WHOLE WORLD, WHAT THIS WOMAN HAS DONE WILL ALSO BE TOLD AS A MEMORIAL TO HER." 10 THEN JUDAS ISCARIOT, ONE OF THE TWELVE, WENT TO THE CHIEF PRIESTS TO BETRAY HIM TO THEM. (Mark 14:1-10, NKJV).

Can you feel it? Can you feel the intensity of her love for Him in this story? Wow! When I first read this, how I wanted to be love Jesus like this woman, also! Nee wrote: "'Wherever the gospel is preached... what this woman has done will also be told...' that which Mary has done should always be coupled with what Jesus has done." You see THIS is the effect of the true gospel, a heart in love with Jesus! ( Nee here presumes because of the parallel accounts of this story in the Gospels ( See John 12:1-8), that this took place in the house of Lazarus, Martha and Mary, Simon being a relative of theirs.)

As he pointed out the house of Lazarus must have been the house of a poor family, for the daughters were expected to do the work of servants. Mary was so taken up with the presence of the Lord that she failed to wait tables and caught the ire of her sister Martha. The point being here is that Mary had this treasure in her possession that was very costly. It was probably all she owned that was at all significant and she poured it ALL out on Jesus.

Many of those who "serve Jesus" today don't see the totality of His love for them and so they are content to give lots of service FOR what He has done, but little of themselves TO Him for who He is. Mary saw the love of Jesus and had to give her all, the most precious thing she had, as a symbol of the love that she felt in return for Him.

Oh, beloved, speak to me of His love. Take my mind away from the hate of the chief priest and the scribes, away from HAVING TO serve Him for what He has done, away from the dissenters who chide me for wasting my life seeking Him out in the low places, among the humble and the rejected ones who do the same. Let me be so broken like that alabaster box, so that the sweet smell of His internal presence absolutely fills the whole house wherever I go. Let me hear my Lord say of me, "He has done what he could."

There is a similar story along this line, about the return of Jacob from his father-in-law's house to go back and face his brother, Esau, whom he cheated out of his birth right. (See Genesis ch. 27-33). What caught my attention at first was that all the way through the story Jacob refers to Esau as "My Lord Esau." As Jacob is returning he gets word that Esau was coming toward him with a band of armed men. Jacob feared the worst and started plotting (as was his nature) on how to appease his brother. He first sent ahead of him the worst of his possessions (10%), but Esau kept coming. Then he sent the best of his possessions (the other 90%), but Esau kept coming. So he sent ahead the least favored wife and her kids to no avail. Finally out of desperation He calls out to God like I once did, "God what is it with you! I have given you my very best and you still are satisfied!" (Actually when I got to this point in my life, these were MY words.) It is then that the angel of the Lord "blessed him" and made him a cripple the rest of his life. Now He had to trust in God to keep him. Then and only then does Jacob cross over the brook Jabbok to meet his "lord" with his favorite wife and child behind him. What happens next is one of the most precious scenes in the Bible.

3 Then he crossed over before them and bowed himself to the ground seven times, until he came near to his brother. 4 BUT ESAU RAN TO MEET HIM, AND EMBRACED HIM, AND FELL ON HIS NECK AND KISSED HIM, AND THEY WEPT. 5 And he lifted his eyes and saw the women and children, and said, "Who are these with you?" So he said, "The children whom God has graciously given your servant." 6 Then the maidservants came near, they and their children, and bowed down. 7 And Leah also came near with her children, and they bowed down. Afterward Joseph and Rachel came near, and they bowed down. 8 THEN ESAU SAID, "WHAT DO YOU MEAN BY ALL THIS COMPANY WHICH I MET?" AND HE SAID, "THESE ARE TO FIND FAVOR IN THE SIGHT OF MY LORD." 9 BUT ESAU SAID, "I HAVE ENOUGH, MY BROTHER; KEEP WHAT YOU HAVE FOR YOURSELF." 10 And Jacob said, "No, please, if I have now found favor in your sight, then receive my present from my hand, inasmuch as I have seen your face as though I had seen the face of God, and you were pleased with me. (Genesis 33:3-10, NKJV).

All that time as Jacob plotted to appease his "lord Esau," all Esau wanted was to once again embrace his brother and love on him. All debts were forgiven, except the debt of love. Do you see it? God doesn't want our substitutional gifts. He wants us. He wants us to know the love of the Son as He does. Isaiah wrote of Gods place of rest:

1 Thus says the LORD: "Heaven is My throne, And earth is My footstool. Where is the house that you will build Me? And where is the place of My rest? 2 FOR ALL THOSE THINGS MY HAND HAS MADE, AND ALL THOSE THINGS EXIST," SAYS THE LORD. "BUT ON THIS ONE WILL I LOOK: ON HIM WHO IS POOR AND OF A CONTRITE SPIRIT, AND WHO TREMBLES AT MY WORD. 3 "He who kills a bull is as if he slays a man; He who sacrifices a lamb, as if he breaks a dog's neck; He who offers a grain offering, as if he offers swine's blood; He who burns incense, as if he blesses an idol. Just as they have chosen their own ways, And their soul delights in their abominations, 4 So will I choose their delusions, And bring their fears on them; Because, when I called, no one answered, When I spoke they did not hear; But they did evil before My eyes, And chose that in which I do not delight." (Isaiah 66:1-4, NKJV).

Did you know that the meaning of Jabbock in the Hebrew is "poured out!" He wants our very hearts poured out on Him in love. No substitutes, nothing less than ALL of our hearts. We must be broken and poured out on His precious head and as we do we will flow down over His beard to the very hem of his garments. Ever going down as the anointing oil that was poured out upon Aaron. Herein God commands a blessing! Here and only here can brethren dwell together in unity (Psalm 133). Unity is always to be found in our being broken and poured out, always seeking the lowest place among out brethren for this is where Jesus is.

So be wasted on Jesus! Don't stop loving him until you are totally poured out on Him. Out of it will come such sweet unity with the poured out ones as we together anoint His lovely feet. Always lower, but always increasing in love for Him and one another. Then and only then are our possessions of any value to Him. He will accept no substitution for our hearts filled with His love.

(Note: The use of all caps was added by me for emphasis.)

Blessings on you all as you pursue Jesus,

Walking in God's Love and Power

Roseanne Harney

Vision: I am seeing a man's hand and sand is pouring through his fingers, he manages to save some of the sand cupped in the middle of his palm. Then I am shown an hourglass filled with sand and the sand is running down to the bottom of the glass.

Word from the Holy Spirit

The hour is at hand when my people will go forth in the power and strength of their King. Doing miraculous signs and wonders, for they are my servants of great faith and believe...

It is My life, which runs through them, My power that raises the dead and heals the sick.

They will walk strong. Having counted the cost of the anointing, which I have placed on their lives to do My Will. Understanding will come forth as they discern the times in which they live. Direction will flow as they obey My Spirit and yield their lives unto Me. Laying down all that they have and taking up My cross to carry My Banner of love, will produce an outpouring of My Glory to be seen to a lost and dying world.

A Holy boldness to witness and preach the Good News for they are sealed with My mark to be sent out as My Messengers. To be propelled into the farthest parts of the world to preach the Good News to mankind.

(Acts 4:29) NIV, Now, Lord, consider their threats and enable your servants to speak your word with great boldness. Stretch out your hand to heal and perform miraculous signs and wonders through the name of your holy servant Jesus."

Cherish the special moments in each day and don't let them slip through your hands. As God leads you in your prayer time give Him your deepest desires of your heart. As His dreams are revealed and deposited in your Spirit for your life and for others, you should nurture them. Protect the treasures He has entrusted you to hold in your hands and ponder them in your heart. Glorify and praise God for all the things you have heard and seen for they are His will, for the Kingdom of God to come on earth as it is in heaven.

Blessings,

While It Is Yet Day

Deborah Voetberg

4-14-00

There is coming a tidal wave of change. Portions have already spilt over the edge of the dyke. Those now experiencing the effects of this change will have wisdom received from Me during this time to minister My wisdom and peace when all is released.

My church is tending to the changing of diapers. Murmuring and strife have entered her doors in the process of dealing with the defilement of flesh. She has been called to raise up those in her charge and together be speaking to the principalities and powers declaring My manifold wisdom.

Those of My children who have found comfort in lukewarm water; what is on its way, and will not be turned back, will cause them to be either cold or hot. Honor and respect for My ways will be established and holiness will be found within those called by My name. No man will stand and say it is because of him that I have moved. The strength of My hand will be felt and the glory will be Mine alone.

For My names sake and for the love and compassion that for eternities I have held in My heart for my children, I will do this and My children will call Me by My name.

Seek Me while it is yet still day and I may be found. Work the works of your Father. And above all these things, put on love, which is the bond of perfection.

His servant and handmaiden,

Psalms 139:1-6,14 (Amplified Bible)

O Lord, you have searched me [ thoroughly] and have known me. You know my downsitting and my uprising; You understand my thoughts afar off. You sift and search out my path and my lying down, and You are acquainted with all my ways. For there is not a word in my tongue [still unuttered ] , but, behold, O Lord, You know it altogether. You have beset me and shut me in - behind and before, and You have laid Your hand upon me. Your [infinite] knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high above me, I cannot reach it. I will confess and praise You for You are fearful and wonderful and for the awful wonder of my birth! Wonderful are Your works, and that my inner self knows right well.

QUIETNESS--EVEN OF OUR MOUTHS . . . A GENERAL WORD TO THE BODY

Many of God's wonderful saints this season whether at work or at rest are feeling the greater drawing of the Holy Spirit to a season of quietness of mind, soul, and yes, even our mouth. Even in the midst of people , there is like an oasis that the Holy Spirit is building within us where the river of His refreshment is available IMMEDIATELY.

There is a new calmness that is beginning to descend and rest upon God's people. This is not resignation or giving up, but a rising up to a new level of faith and trust that GOD IS TOTALLY IN CONTROL OF OUR CIRCUMSTANCES AND SITUATIONS EVEN WHEN WE ARE DOING NOTHING AT ALL ABOUT THEM.

For truly God is preparing the way for His people. As we rest, He is at work.

SPECIAL WORD FOR THOSE WORKING AND LABORING IN THE WILDERNESS

God has placed a very special group of His chosen ones in My heart. These are people who have labored on the frontline like missionaries or full time workers-- and even those involved in church planting works. Some of you are not in ministry related works, yet the nature of your work is still sowing and preparing for the kingdom of God where you are.

What has set you apart is that your work is not seen by men but only very few of your acquaintances are aware of your work and labor. You have been supported by close family members and friends , and many times your support comes from your own.

Your strength lies in the knowledge firmly planted in your heart that GOD HAS CALLED YOU TO LABOR IN THAT PLACE and this is what matters most to you. You have given up your all in response to the call of the Bridegroom.

GOD'S MESSAGE TO YOU, LABORERS IN THE WILDERNESS

"My people, My children, My beloved, My partners. . . . I know you by name. You are mine. As you have given me your all, So am I preparing to pour out My all to you. Wait, Watch and Be amazed"

"As the potter fashions clay, so have I fashioned you into vessels worthy of honor. One that the Master delights to use for special occasions and events of great magnitude. You look at yourselves and you see nothing-- but I look at you and I see jewels and gems fit for the King to wear."

"I will be wearing you as My Jewels and I will be showing you before My court. People will come and they will begin to see you as I know you and see you already. For I have fashioned you by hand, and you are mine. . . . A special treasure hidden in the secret place of My chest."

"The season of your unveiling is near. You will not have to strive for this. Many of you will not even notice this. But it will come , not gently or slowly but like the RUSHING SOUND OF GREAT WATERS or the blowing wind of the storms. It will be winds of blessings, sounds of rejoicing that will be heard in your camp."

Again I say to you all " I know you by name and your are mine."

PRAYER TO OUR GREAT AND LOVING GOD, "YOU SPOKE AND IT WAS DONE!"

"Father, your words declare 'For the word of the Lord is right; and all His work is done in faithfulness. For He spoke, and it was done; He commanded , and it stood fast. (Psalm 33:4,9)

Our prayer today. . . let everything be done according to Your words for us. Fill us with Your awesome Presence day by day and moment by moment, for in Your Presence, words will not be necessary. We thank you and praise you for everything that You have done, are doing and will do on our behalf. All these praises we lift up to you in our Savior Jesus Christ's most wonderful name . Amen!"

Blessings abundantly,

Will You Ride With Me?

Russell Walden

A Dispatch from the Cloud of Glory Zech. 10:1

Fireman & Rainman

God has already loved the world.... in John 3:16 that is recorded. Over the centuries as God's plan unfolded, each generation was challenged to tap into the fulness of that attribute of God that was being unveiled in that day. Now in the first century he came as a Suffering Saviour. And those who rejected him as such were rejected and ultimately destroyed. Subsequently in the intervening centuries between the cross and the throne, he has served as Constant Intercessor. In this THIRD DAY from the CROSS, the SEVENTH from ADAM we find he is not coming as a Suffering, Loving Saviour but rather as a Reaving Warrior:

Reve 19:11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him [was] called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.

Why would he NOW leave off his former estate in the "AGE OF GRACE" and come now as RIGHTEOUS JUDGE? Because the Seventh Day is the DAY of GOD's Rest. What rest is that? The rest spoken of in Isaiah.

Isai 1:24 (KJS) Therefore saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, the mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies:

The father has looked over at the son and said "Son, Its time to relax...." to ease himself of his adversaries.

So, He's not coming as a loving Shepherd, but as a Returning Conqueror, with a vesture dipped in blood, and a weapon of slaughter in his hand. This is the verse that is on bumper stickers all over the states: "Will you ride with me?" You will either be on his heels or under his hooves.

The message of the birth of the Church was "Grace, Grace unto it." The message for the Culmination of the Church Age is the battle cry of GLORY and FIRE. In John 17:21-24 we find that he is not giving us LOVE to culminate his purpose, but rather GLORY. GLORY is the spoil of WAR. We seek his GLORY because WHEN we do so successfully, the GLORY manifests. The GLORY is its own reward. Because through the GLORY that comes in our ONES with each other, we become immersed into the I AM, into ONES with the Father and the Son. Why? So we can all go to heaven and eat take out? NO!!! So we can muster to the battle, a GREAT, well trained army:

Joel 2:8 Neither shall one thrust another; they shall walk every one in his path: and [when] they fall upon the sword, they shall not be wounded.

Why do these soldiers gather in such coordination and discipline? Because they were all warm and fuzzy about each other? Because they went to sensitivity classes? No!!! Because they were little cream puffs for Jesus??? (get back on your mat, Neo) No!!!! Because they were MUSTERING TO THE SPOIL, UNDER THEIR COMMANDER!!!! They were MARCHING to attain the GLORY!!!!

Read the following about the Judgement of God and the Reward to the Righteous:

Roma 2:5 But after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God; 6 Who will render to every man according to his deeds: 7 To them who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and immortality, eternal life:

We are not contending for the LOVE of God. We are contending for the GLORY ... and THAT IS ONLY THE FIRST OF MANY REALMS. AFTER THAT COMES "HONOUR", THEN "IMMORTALITY", THEN "ETERNAL LIFE" These are conquests that will come in eternity future that the scriptures don't even speak of. (That which the extant 6th man ministries wrote of). We can't even attain to the glory without the bleeding hearts condemning the pursuit. In YOUR PURSUIT OF THE GLORY you will leave broken lives, broken hearts, broken relationships, and dead bodies. You better resign yourself to it now. Or did our commander lie to us when he said:

Matt 10:34 (KJS) Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword. 35 For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law. 36 And a man's foes [shall be] they of his own household.

The trumpet is sounding brethren and sisters. The day of CLOUDS (the first of Glory the second Glory AND FIRE). Yes, a day of darkness for the ignorant and those who refuse to understand. But a day as the "morning spread on the mountains" for that GREAT PEOPLE and STRONG, before whom the FIRE DEVOURS the chaff of this time worn realm to clear way for the pristine newness of the eternal NOW that will swallow up what we call SPACE & TIME.

Joel 2:1 Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the LORD cometh, for [it is] nigh at hand; 2 A day of darkness and of gloominess, a day of clouds and of thick darkness, as the morning spread upon the mountains: a great people and a strong; there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after it, [even] to the years of many generations. 3 A fire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: the land [is] as the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness; yea, and nothing shall escape them. 4 The appearance of them [is] as the appearance of horses; and as horsemen, so shall they run. 5 Like the noise of chariots on the tops of mountains shall they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a strong people set in battle array. 6 Before their face the people shall be much pained: all faces shall gather blackness. 7 They shall run like mighty men; they shall climb the wall like men of war; and they shall march every one on his ways, and they shall not break their ranks

As Solomon said: There is a time to love and a time to hate, a time of war and a time of peace (Ec. 3:8) This is a time to hate with a perfect hatred. The spewing forth of the Lukewarm is underway, NOW. Will we love the vile sputum of corruption wrapped up in our flesh or someone elses? This is the SPIRIT and POWER of ELIJAH which was prophesied to come before that great and dreadful day of the Lord.

We have cried for a word, "Oh to Hear from God!!!!" The Lord says I have a word for you:

Reve 3:15 I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. 16 So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth. 17 Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked: 18 I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and [that] the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

This is also a time of counsel. It's not too late to buy of our Commander, GOLD (sound familiar) TRIED IN THE FIRE, not sprinkled on the whore to make her more attractive to her suitors. Where is the LOVE? Vipers! Snakes! Serpent wisdom asks such a question. And the answer is:

19 As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. 20 Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

What meaneth this "I stand at the DOOR?" I thought Jesus WAS THE DOOR? HE IS!! But the Suffering Saviour and Intercessor of the TIME of GRACE is about to shed his DOOR PERSONA as a garment and EMERGE as the ONE WHOSE EYES ARE A FLAMING FIRE, so all the faithful can MERCIFULLY fall at his feet as dead, and ARISE EZEKIEL'S Great ARMY, The Dry BONES THAT NOT ONLY CAN LIVE, but can smote hip and thigh and take the conquest at the behest of their commander in Chief. WILL YOU RIDE WITH ME?

21 To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

SELAH

Wind, Earthquake, and Fire

Robert Burgess

"And he said, Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the LORD. And, behold, the LORD passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the LORD; but the LORD was not in the wind: and after the wind an earthquake; but the LORD was not in the earthquake: And after the earthquake a fire; but the LORD was not in the fire: and after the fire a still small voice (1 Ki 19:11-12)."

Recently the Lord showed me through Dreams and Revelations, that certain things which surrounded the life of Elijah were signs of things that would happen when the Spirit of Elijah was sent forth at the end of the Age. First Kings 19:11-12 gives us insight into a time when Elijah experienced:

1. A Great Wind.
2. A Great Earthquake.
3. A Great Fire.

I want to share the following because, in addition to being a Teacher of the Word, I am a "Seer;" a Dreamer of Dreams, and of Visions. Just recently I published on our Prophecy Page of the GreatEagle Web Site, a Prophetic Dream which I was given way back in January of 1986 of Brother Jimmy Swaggart coming out of the A.G. Church. This Prophetic Dream took place Months before, Jim and Tammy Baker's problems surfaced, and nearly Two Years before Jimmy Swaggart was found out.

In this Dream, I was up on a mountain top when all at once a great wind came up which was literally tearing at the Mountain and throwing Rocks and debris of all kinds into the atmosphere. I remember thinking, "I have never seen anything like this before."

Right in the middle of all this, I suddenly heard the voice of Bro. David Terrell (Who I don't know at all) Prophesying with all his might; I turned to see, and he was prophesying toward a little building which looked like an old Trapper's cabin, or a Miners shack (which the, Lord showed me later, represented the Old Order of the Assemblies of God).

There was a huge tree (The PTL Club) which had fallen on it, and broken it down in the middle; and the shingles (Spiritual Coverings) were being ripped off the roof. The windows (Visionaries, or Seer's) were nearly all broken out, and the door (Ministry) was hanging on one hinge. But then a remarkable, thing happened: Who should appear at the door but Brother Jimmy Swaggart! And was he ever mad! I watched and listened while the prophet prophesied, and stubbornness and anger gradually gave way to the Anointed Word, and Brother Jimmy came out, not willingly, but out of desperation.

Needless to say, I really caught flack when I began to prophesy that Brother Jimmy was going to come out of the A.G. under very strong judgments from the LORD. Some said it was because I "Had it in for Brother Jimmy," others said it was just a "Bean Dream," and "Would NEVER HAPPEN.." But I noticed that when the "Great Wind of Judgment" came to pass about two years later, that none of them even wanted to mention it to me. In fact, some of those who had scorned the vision, began to shy away from me altogether after that. I felt very bad about it, but the Lord showed me it was because they were worried that I would discern some besetting sin in their lives. I believe very strongly that a prophesy concerning this very Judgment upon the above mentioned Ministries (See also "The Butler and the Baker" Spring, 1993) is recorded in 1 Ki. 19:11.. Here is how it reads:

"And he said, Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the LORD. And, behold, the LORD passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the, LORD; but the LORD was not in the wind:

This describes exactly the dream which the LORD gave me in 1986, which came to pass exactly as it was shown to me. It is now twelve years since the 1988 "Wind" of judgment come upon the Church world, and recently I have had yet other Dreams and visions which I believe detail a Great Shaking which will soon come to completely dismantle (as in MANTLES) ALL the Man-Made Programs within the Church of the Living God. I am compelled to believe that in the very near future there will be a Great Shaking in the Body of Christ..

1 Ki 19:11 records that immediately after the Great Wind of Judgment was passed that there was an Earthquake; I believe that a great "Shaking" is the next thing on God's agenda:

"And after the Wind, an Earthquake - but the LORD was not in the earthquake: Given that the sequence of these events would seem to be unfolding to us in a Scriptural order, I believe that the Fire will come sometime shortly after the shaking.

The Fire is totally different from the Wind, or the Shaking. I believe that this Fire represents the final PURGING of the Saints by way of a Mighty Outpouring of the Spirit of God in Revival before they are finally WRAPPED in THE MANTLE of ELIJAH, (See 1 Ki 19:13 & 2 Ki 2:14), and taken into the MOST HOLY PLACE (The Feast of Tabernacles). Many teach that we are there already, and in some sense, this may be true; but I have noticed that most of them are not yet as Holy as HE is HOLY, so I have to wonder..

A Most unusual Earthquake

Recently, I dreamed that my wife and I had been given the run of a huge mansion. The people who owned it told us to just make ourselves at home and stay as long as we wanted. Every room was magnificent, and furnished with the most beautiful and expensive furnishings. The only thing that seemed strange was the fact that each room was fitted with different kinds of Exercise equipment. There were exercise Bikes, Treadmills, Weights, Pulleys... The whole "Nine yards!!"

About that time, My wife said she was tired, and went to the bedroom to take a little nap, so I settled back in a plush chair to watch some Christian n Television. I was watching the 700 Club or something like it, when all at once I noticed that the exercise equipment started moving, shaking around; and the strangest thing of all was that it wasn't falling over, it was falling APART. It was like the nuts and bolts were suddenly being loosened up and everything just started to come unglued. I jumped up to protect the Television from a handlebar or something from hitting it on it's way down when I suddenly realized that it was an Earthquake that was causing all this to happen. It was like being on a trampoline, up and down, up and down.

I ran over to the window to look outside, and saw in the field across the road a herd of cattle (and a few deer which had been grazing in the field), they were stampeding around in circles trying desperately to escape the awful calamity. The ground was swelling up and down like huge waves of the sea. The interesting thing was that after surveying all the damages, the House itself had suffered NO DAMAGE at all, there were no cracks in the walls or even a broken window; nothing was touched except for the exercise equipment.

This is the Interpretation I feel the Lord has shown;

"The House (Mansion) thoroughly furnished," Represents the Church of Jesus Christ; The exercise equipment in all the rooms (or Offices) represent all the Man-Made Programs (Spiritual Treadmills) which take us NOWHERE, but only serve to exercise, edify, and Beautify the "Flesh." The dream definitely Prophesies of a Great Shaking to take place in the land, which will cause all the programs of men to become totally dysfunctional!!

I feel that this will happen just prior to the calling out and the Anointing of an Elisha Company (Double Portion Ministry) of Apostles and Prophets.. I believe this to be in the very near future. Get ready Saints, get prepared, because the Lord is preparing to shake everything that can be shaken so that ONLY those things which are founded upon the Solid Rock will remain (See Heb 12:26-27).

The fact that we are being dealt with more and more as "Sons" seems to pervade our thinking in this hour. The revelation of Sonship, carries with it the knowledge that God never withholds any good thing from them that Love Him, and that the Chastening of the Almighty is something to be looked forward to, not something to run from (See Job 5: 17, Heb 12:5). Therefore, the shaking might be scary, and even make the beast of the field run for cover; but it will work in us, for whom it is intended, a "More ETERNAL WEIGHT of GLORY (See 2Cor 4:17)."

Wind Of Doctrine

Stephen Hanson

This Is The Time When Every "Wind Of Doctrine Can Easily Mislead My Church Stephen Hanson June 24, 00

3. For such men are false apostles, deceitful workmen, masquerading as apostles of Christ.

14. And no wonder, for Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light.

15. It is not surprising, then, if his servants masquerade as servants of righteousness. Their end will be what their actions deserve. II Co. 11

14. Then we will no longer be infants, tossed back and forth by the waves, and blown here and there by every wind of teaching and by the cunning and craftiness of men in their deceitful scheming. Eph. 4

(The Lord showed me an ear, and at first it appeared to be normal, but as I continued to watch, there were things which seemed to obstruct or prevent this ear from functioning properly, or "hearing." The ear itself, was "peeled-back," as if to show what was inside of it. I noticed several small balls, or egg-shape items lined-up around the perimeters of the inside passage of this ear, and wondered at this. I noticed that as I continued to see this ear, there were pockets, as it were, that had begun to develop within the inside of this ear, and over time, had virtually filled-up the inside passage. This obviously would cause someone to not be able to hear properly, or "at all." Then the Lord told me--"See what I will do." Then a dove began to fly within the ear, and it "ate away" these areas which had caused pockets to grow and spread throughout the ear. A small bucket of what seemed to be water at first, was poured into this ear. However, as I watched, it proved to be some type of ointment or oil. Then the ear's shape changed, and tissue began to rebuild itself, and become healthy again.)

The Lord then said:

"There are things blocking the passage-ways of many of the ears. Many are not able to "hear well" from Me because of these things. An ear has the potential of being a very useful instrument. Those who know of its importance use it well, but many cannot hear my voice. This is where it becomes very important for hearing Me "rightly." Many have "preconceived" ideas of what I AM saying. They say in their heart, 'This is the way He has always spoken.' To say this, is to be prevented from hearing Me. It is SO important to know my voice. It is something which will guard you and protect you. "

"To be able to "see" is indeed, very important. But without your ears, you cannot hear about what you "see." Much of what prevents many from hearing Me well is from the many voices of this world. There are "voices" from the television. There are "voices" from the radio. There are "voices" all around you. To be able to hear Me, you need to be able to find that place, that quiet sanctuary, where I can speak to you. It is not something which happens right away, but over time, you can develop your ears. How else will you know what I have for you?"

(Here the Lord showed me someone who had begun to walk or step in a certain direction, and seemed to be undecided as to which way to go. They started to move their feet, but were uncertain.)

"Otherwise you will begin to walk in a direction which you do not know. Then you will know the path that I have laid out for you. You will hear my voice saying, 'This is the way to go.'

"So I AM saying that it is so important how you hear...Then you will not be easily deceived, or misled. It is becoming more and more important how you "discern" the voices around you. Do not easily believe everything you hear about. Remember that satan comes as an angel of light. There are already many of your brothers and sisters who have been misled by his devices. There are many "strange and unusual" teachings which are abounding. Do not get "caught-up" in these things. Do not adhere to the teachings of angels. Worship the Lord your God and Him only. Many have been deceived by "ministering spirits," and to be true, they are fallen angels. Seek Me and you will find Me. Surely, this is the time when every "wind of doctrine" can easily mislead my church. "

Oh Taste And See That The Lord Is Good
Stephen Hanson

June 15 evening, 00

19. The creation waits in eager expectation for the sons of God to be revealed.
20. For the creation was subjected to frustration, not by its own choice, but by the will of the one who subjected it, in hope
21. that the creation itself will be liberated from its bondage to decay and brought into the glorious freedom of the children of God.
22. We know that the whole creation has been groaning as in the pains of childbirth right up to the present time.
23. Not only so, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for our adoption as sons, the redemption of our bodies. Rom 8

19. I will rejoice over Jerusalem and take delight in my people; the sound of weeping and of crying will be heard in it no more.
20. "Never again will there be in it an infant who lives but a few days, or an old man who does not live out his years; he who dies at a hundred will be thought a mere youth; he who fails to reach a hundred will be considered accursed.
21. They will build houses and dwell in them; they will plant vineyards and eat their fruit.
22. No longer will they build houses and others live in them, or plant and others eat. For as the days of a tree, so will be the days of my people; my chosen ones will long enjoy the works of their hands.
23. They will not toil in vain or bear children doomed to misfortune; for they will be a people blessed by the LORD, they and their descendants with them. Isaiah 65

The Lord began speaking this to me Thursday evening:

"The time is coming for the Son of Man to be made known unto all flesh. I want to make myself known to the many who do not know Me. Many have heard about Me, and many have heard stories about Me; but I long in my heart for ALL to come to know Me. "

"This generation will come to know Me in a different way than any have ever known Me before. Those who know Me intimately will help others to know Me in this way. All day long I hear the cries of a lonely people. They seek to find life's answers in things other than myself. Why must they seek these things other than Me? Why do they look for their answers elsewhere? Because many of them have not been told about the riches that I can give them. For there are riches that far exceed the riches of this world. To be sure, I have come to give life and that more abundantly-- and I intend to give my abundance to all who would come unto Me. To pour out my blessings, and to extend my lovingkindness, is what I desire. I long to give my love to this world. I long to manifest my glory in my sons and daughters. I long to create a heavenly temple in each of you. I long to see a kingdom of priests; where the earth will reign with Me and I will with them. "

"Surely it is time for the sons of glory to be manifested upon the earth. All creation has been groaning and waiting for that hour. For the chains will be broken. The lame will walk again. The deaf will hear. The blind will see. Surely I will manifest myself upon my sons and daughters. In times past, men would come to see the wisdom of Solomon. But surely, I would tell you that a much greater thing is here at hand. For my glory will be extended from all corners of the earth. A child will live out his days. Old men and women will enjoy the fruit of their hands and their labor. Surely, that day will dawn. But even now there is a mighty wind of my glory to come. It will come like the torrents of the rain. It will burst upon the scene. Surely, the rivers will flow with my glory. It will flow from the young unto the old. Grab a hold of my garments and you will come with Me into glory. Surely I will cause a royal feast in my name. I have spread out a banqueting table. I offer the choicest meats and foods. Oh, taste and see that the Lord is good!"

Do Not Turn The Knob On By Yourselves

Stephen Hanson

June 22, 00

12. We have not received the spirit of the world but the Spirit who is from God, that we may understand what God has freely given us.

13. This is what we speak, not in words taught us by human wisdom but in words taught by the Spirit, expressing spiritual truths in spiritual words.

14. The man without the Spirit does not accept the things that come from the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness to him, and he cannot understand them, because they are spiritually discerned. I Co. 2

10. As the rain and the snow come down from heaven, and do not return to it without watering the earth and making it bud and flourish, so that it yields seed for the sower and bread for the eater,

11. so is my word that goes out from my mouth: It will not return to me empty, but will accomplish what I desire and achieve the purpose for which I sent it. Is. 55

"I have some important things to say to the body of Christ:"

'It is important to know that ALL have fallen short of my glory, would say the Lord. From the least of you unto the greatest, this is true. It isn't anything that any of have done, but it is the working of my Spirit in you. If you have been given a gift, or gifts, it is not yours alone, but it is for the benefit of the body. There are many of you who still hold on to the idea that it belongs to you. You are merely vessels. You are my instruments. "

"Consider how water flows from a facet: It does not flow of its own accord. It needs someone to turn the knob. Once I turn on the knob then the water will "flow." Once I turn the knob off, the water "stops." You cannot do this, but only I can. Many attempt to say things in My Name without first having the water "turned on." There is no "life" in these words then. I will turn the water on though, and it will "flow." It will flow from the mountains and the streams; it will water the land below. It will bring forth "new life." Instead of the thistle and the barren ground, the myrtle and other trees will flourish."

"So I say, do not do these things of your own accord. Come into my presence. Come to those "living waters" which ONLY I can give. They are Spirit and Life. They are not found in the frame of man. They are not found in your own abilities. For we do not speak from "human wisdom," but in words taught by the Spirit. Imparting these truths by My Spirit, would say the Lord. This is the secret which the world does not know. This is the "mystery" of Christ. It is that He is in you. So without Him in you, then you are nothing. So, come to those "living waters"---come to them. Do nothing from the pretence that "you alone" are the one doing it. Otherwise, it will be "dead" and without "life."

"If you do these things then you will come to the mountain. You will see the need for a lost and dying world. You will look upon the land below and see that it needs to be "watered." Then my word will accomplish that for which I desired. "

In Him, Stephen Hanson

Wind Of Repentance

Bill Hernandez

I am always near and never let it be said that I abandon My own. I am coming with the wind - a wind of repentance and a great sword of power to vanquish all My enemies. And when the playing field is running with the blood of My enemies, a great army will rise and take the land that I have prepared for them. Great changes are at hand and a movement of people throughout the land is coming and homes will be uprooted and comfort zones will be annihilated. What was once sure will become unsteady. What was once calm will become a storm. What was predictable will become chaos because I am overturning the status quo. And I am ruining what was thought to be perfect. Don't fear in the day of My wrath against structures not Mine. Don't fear that the world seems to totter on the brink of disaster because I am bringing a new order, an order you can count on and live by. And when you get up in the morning, you'll know what the day will bring. You'll know what to expect. You'll rise to My work and My way. You'll rise to do My bidding and when the day is done, you'll recount the days activities and say, "I've done the Lords work today. It is well."

A host of angels like the clouds are coming - a mighty army with authority to change everything and upturn all things not decreed by Me. And they will equip and strengthen them that hear Me and do as I decree. And those that don't listen will be pushed aside because the King is coming and the road must be cleared. All those who have stood in the authority of their own will and way will be pushed aside and ignored. And many will walk away and find distraction elsewhere. But what remains, the gathering of My army on earth, will swell in great ranks and overwhelm in great numbers and push aside by their great numbers them that thought they stood and knew. and them that thought they were the bulwarks of society because really they are obstructions, dams and walls. And they will be knocked down by the great tide of My beloved and those that hear Me and really know Me.

A terrible cry will come forth, but I won't hear and I won't obey it. It's the cry of dead things dying more. And I won't pay attention and in time they will fade away. "I'm coming....," says the Lord, "...with vengeance. I'm on My way."

Psalm 127:1-2 Unless the Lord builds the house, they labor in vain who build it; Unless the Lord guards the city, the watchman keeps awake in vain. It is vain for you to rise up early, to retire late, to eat the bread of painful labors; For He gives to His beloved even in his sleep.

Walk Into The Fire

Judith Grobelny

Last night as we responded at the altar to yield back to God all He has given us in order to move forward in His plans, He showed me the following.

We have been as children playing in the small waves of His Spirit and His River, but He has been teaching us to swim in deeper waters. Now He is calling us forward into a place He has been preparing us for. He is calling us to 'walk into the fire'. He says "when you walk through the fire you will NOT be burned (Is.43 and the whole chapter is applicable to what He is talking about.)

It is time to begin to look seriously at the new thing He is doing. To those who are faithful and whose hearts are truly His, this is blessing.

I saw the white-hot heat of the furnace and the three men, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, who walked there. The Lord said they did not find Him before the furnace, or outside the furnace, they met Him in the fire!

It will appear that such a fire will consume all that we are and have, but the Lord reminds us again "When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned or scorched, nor will the flame kindle upon you" (Amp. Is.43) And again I see the white-hot heart of the furnace. Did not John the Baptist say "He will baptise you with the Holy Spirit AND WITH FIRE."

Matt.3:11,12,13 ..... "He will baptise you with the Holy Spirit and with fire. His winnowing fork is in His hand, and He will clear His threshing floor, gathering His wheat into the barn and burning up the chaff with unquenchable fire." Then Jesus came..... I felt the Lord drawing my attention to the sentences either side of verse 12!

Smith Wigglesworth often quoted Heb.1:7 He makes His angels winds, His servants flames of fire. I believe we, who are His servants, are being called to walk into the fire.

Note: It is worth considering that already the enemy has counterfeited this, in the Fiji Islands there are men who walk through fire, and also various Indian sects who do that and who carry their children through!

Shalom and blessings,

Judith Grobelny

The Wind, The Water and The Rain

Mark Wattenford

The Lord is saying that My Words are coming forth in strength - in power and in clarity, in pureness and in fullness. To the prophets that have been waiting - no longer will it be a word of looking through the glass darkly - but it will be a word of crystal clarity, sharpness - cutting to the quick of the situation - cutting to the quick of any heart, any false motives. It will be a word that with its coming will bring the power to break chains and bondages that have not been able to be broken in the past. The word the Lord is sending - is one of POWER - not just a word for edification or prophecy, but it will come with the Presence and the mightiness - of HIS MIGHTY ARM! The portion that has been promised and looked for is coming forth upon the prophets. They will not stand any longer in weakness and in tarrying - and in hoping and in the places where their hearts have become faint, they will rise up with HIS resurrection life - and stand up with full power and in full glory and in full presence of My Spirit - sayeth the Lord. From their hands will come the destruction of the enemy, will come the resurrection of the rest of My saints, will come the healing of the nations and will come the reaping of the harvest!

It is not far off - it is not FAR OFF! I speak to encourage - says the Lord. Though your time is not My time - it is STILL not far off that you should faint, or be fainting. Focus - and keep your eyes upon My Promise, My coming forth - the words that I have spoken that I have told you that I have called you into - Step into those promises - Step into that work I have assigned to you. Though you may start with just a "little power," the FULL POWER - is not far off...and will fully - FULLY take over your entire being. This power will encompass EVERYTHING you do! Your walk every minute will be unto My Words - with praise you will stand before Me and offer up what IS acceptable worship! Your tongues will no longer praise Me in vanity, your tongues will praise ME IN TRUTH... and will give glory to the Father - in Truth and in Spirit - that IS DUE HIM. The angels are sent forth in a mightier way, to tear down, to war, to protect, to hedge in...and those that have been through the purification will be hedged in with protection so that the fires and the trials of the past no longer come in - will no longer be allowed. My sons ARE rising up - those that I SAY are "My Sons..." Beware of those who SAY they are "My sons," but speak of themselves and raise up ideas and opinions that are NOT freeing those that are oppressed. Beware of those who speak a word - but their words oppress and bring MORE BONDAGE. Be clear of mind to know that when I AM speaks a word of freedom - IT TRULY FREES, and does not further bind - or add more weight where there is already a weight. YOU WILL KNOW WHO I WILL FREE - FOR THEY WILL BE FREE - and they will sing and dance and REJOICE! They will not walk away with a countenance that is further thrown down.

That which is Mine - I AM is beginning to possess. I bring forth the wind of My Spirit - that has been My Promise - and it IS beginning to blow with breezes that will increase in strength and bring forth the rivers of healing - the clear waters of My Word, NOT the polluted waters of the past that was mixed with the doctrines of men and demons. The pure water of My Word is coming forth through My apostles and My prophets to establish My Temple and My people and to be able to feed My people with the true, TRUE WORD - that proceeds from My Father - not with the muddy waters that has been drunk in the past.

You are established on the ROCK! Those whom I have called and chosen ARE established upon Me. NONE can be taken from My hand!

LOOK, LISTEN and listen for the sound of the wind - and the water and the rain...

IT IS COMING! - it is rising up within you and it is also coming without to meet that rising up!

There SHALL BE a meeting of My Spirit descending and your spirit ascending up to Me.

Wizard of Oz

Mark Kaphaem

There is a form of "Wizard Of Oz" mentality that has crept into the body of Christ. Many of us are aware of the mentality and battle it on a daily basis. We need to continue in our battle as this mentality is a major stumbling block in the plans the Lord has for us.

This mentality comes into play when church leaders try to meet too high of expectations placed on them by the body. There is a trap that many leaders can fall into. Church leaders do not have all the answers, they can not fix all of the problems, they do not have a special phone with a hotline to God in there office. Every time a leader acts as though they have special abilities to intervene that are not available to every common believer they fall into this trap. Like the "wizard" in the "wizard of oz" they hide their real selves behind a curtain and project a false image on a large screen for all to see. Warning to church leaders! This is Idolatry! You do not want to cause worship of a false image of yourself. This is a trap that is easy to fall into.

How do we avoid this mentality in the body of Christ? First of all, we do not go off seeking wizards. We do not place the expectation of all knowing and all powerful on a fellow believer. Yes, the Father does give supernatural giftings to His body to minister to one another. He also places believers in special offices to equip the body. But Jesus Christ alone is to be the mediator between God and His children. When ever we place a fellow believer in a position of mediator between ourselves and God we have created a Idol. We seek wisdom from fellow believers. We ask for prayer and seek God to move through fellow believers to minister to us. But it is never a one way street. When we create one way streets we create Idols.

We need leaders who are not hidden behind curtains. Transparent leaders who admit their limits and weaknesses. Leaders who do not place themselves above but along side. Leaders who seek to lift up and not hold down. When a leader is hidden behind the curtain he models this to the body. Soon those who share their problems and weaknesses are look down upon as less spiritual. This is totally opposite of the Kingdom of God. This model creates hypocrites and isolates believers from one another.

The Father is coming to sniff out those who are hiding behind curtains. They will be exposed. Now is the time to step out from behind the curtain on your own. It is important as believers that we allow our leaders room to do this. It is important as fellow believers that we allow our brothers and sisters room to do this. It is dark and lonely hiding behind a curtain. Jesus came to rip this curtain in two that we could all enter in to the fellowship of His Love and Mercy.

Winning Nuclear War

Why The Soviet Union Thinks It Could Fight And Win A Nuclear War

By Richard Pipes
Baird Professor of History, Harvard University

A Summary of the Argument

American and Soviet nuclear doctrines are diametrically opposed. They are products of totally different historical experiences and political and socioeconomic systems. The apparent contradictions in Soviet nuclear doctrine and the dangers of U. S. unilateral adherence to a strategy of mutual deterrence are best understood when put in historical perspective.

The American view of war has been conditioned by the ideas characteristic of a Western commercial society. Underlying it is the notion that human conflict results from misunderstandings that can be resolved by negotiation. Marxism, on the other hand, holds conflict to be normal (and desirable) so long as opposed economic classes exist. The Soviets see military forces as a political tool and a part of grand strategy. Americans generally regard war as an abnormal situation and want to end it rapidly through technological superiority and with the least possible loss of friendly (but not necessarily enemy) lives. Large peacetime forces are an unwelcome expense.

These contrary views of war were affected differently by the coming of nuclear weapons. In the U. S., atomic and thermonuclear bombs were considered "absolute" weapons, capable of destroying a society or even a civilization, and against which there was no defense. Thus, Clausewitz's dictum that war is an extension of politics was considered dead. Since nuclear war could serve no rational political purpose, the function of strategic forces should be to avert war. Because of the vast destructiveness of nuclear weapons, a "sufficiency" of weapons to retaliate was believed to be enough. Numerical superiority was thought to have little meaning. To ensure a stable balance, in which conflicts could be resolved by negotiation, the USSR should even have the ability to do unacceptable second strike damage to the U. S. This concept of mutual deterrence, or mutual assured destruction, became U. S. policy and, as nuclear delivery capabilities improved, remained the foundation of a somewhat more flexible policy.

These U. S. strategic theories were developed largely by civilian scientists and "accountants," with little contribution from military professionals. The theorists were guided significantly by fiscal imperatives the desire to reduce the defense budget while retaining a capacity to deter Soviet threats to U. S. interests. The theories were formulated without reference to their Soviet counterparts, and in the belief that we can "educate" the Soviets to adopt our views.

In the USSR, where strategy is considered a science and the special province of the military, nuclear weapons were not held to be "absolute," except perhaps briefly after Stalin's death. The idea of mutual deterrence was never accepted. Soviet theorists rejected the idea that technology determines strategy. They adapted nuclear weapons to their traditional Clausewitzian view of war as an extension of politics.

The Communist revolution eliminated that segment of Russian society that was most Westernized, and put the peasant class in power. History had taught the Russian peasant that cunning and coercion assured survival; cunning when weak; cunning and coercion when strong. "Not to use force when one had it indicated some inner weakness." That concept of the use of power and the fact that, since 1914, the USSR has lost up to 60,000,000 citizens through war, famine, and purges and survived has no doubt conditioned the development of Soviet nuclear strategy.

By the mid1960's, Soviet theorists had articulated a war fighting, war winning doctrine. Inherent in it is the capability to not only defeat, but to destroy an enemy, and the resolve, based on World War II experience, never again to be surprised. Nuclear weapons thus make strategy more important than ever in Soviet eyes, while it has become less important to U. S. architects of nuclear deterrence.

Soviet nuclear doctrine, expounded in a wide range of Russian defense literature, has five related elements:

- * Preemption (first strike).
- * Quantitative superiority (a requisite for preemption and because the war may last for some time, even though the initial hours are decisive).
- * Counterforce targeting.
- * Combined arms operations to supplement nuclear strikes.
- * Defense, which has been almost totally neglected by the U. S. under its concept of mutual deterrence.

Soviet doctrine is both a continuation and an extension of the Soviet belief that all military forces nuclear and conventional serve a political purpose as guarantor of internal control and an instrument for territorial expansion. Thus, large military forces are accepted in the Soviet Union as a rational capital investment, regardless of their impact on social programs.

Soviet writing on nuclear strategy has been largely ignored, or has been ridiculed in this country because of its jingoism and crudity, and the obscurity of Communist semantics. It is a strategy of "compellance," in contrast to the U. S. doctrine of deterrence.

But, "... the relationship of Soviet doctrine and Soviet deployments (is) sufficiently close to suggest that ignoring or not taking seriously Soviet military doctrine may have very detrimental effects on U. S. security."

Finally, "... as long as the Soviets persist in adhering to the Clausewitzian maxim on the function of war, mutual deterrence does not really exist. And unilateral deterrence is feasible only if we understand the Soviet war winning strategy and make it impossible for them to succeed."

The Complete Article

Why The Soviet Union Thinks It Could Fight And Win A Nuclear War

By Richard Pipes

[All notes will be found at the end of this article.]

In a recent interview with the New Republic, Paul Warnke, the newly appointed head of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, responded as follows to the question of how the United States ought to react to indications that the Soviet leadership thinks it possible to fight and win a nuclear war. "In my view," he replied, "this kind of thinking is on a level of abstraction which is unrealistic. It seems to me that instead of talking in those terms, which would indulge what I regard as the primitive aspects of Soviet nuclear doctrine, we ought to be trying to educate them into the real world of strategic nuclear weapons, which is that nobody could possibly win." [1]

Even after allowance has been made for Mr. Warnke's notoriously careless syntax, puzzling questions remain. On what grounds does he, a Washington lawyer, presume to "educate" the Soviet general staff composed of professional soldiers who thirty years ago defeated the Wehrmacht and, of all things, about the "real world of strategic nuclear weapons" of which they happen to possess a considerably larger arsenal than we? Why does he consider them children who ought not to be "indulged"? And why does he chastise for what he regards as a "primitive" and unrealistic strategic doctrine not those who hold it, namely the Soviet military, but Americans who worry about their holding it?

Be all that as it may, even if Mr. Warnke refuses to take Soviet strategic doctrine seriously, it behooves us to take

Mr. Warnke's views of Soviet doctrine seriously. He not only will head our SALT II team; his thinking as articulated in the above statement and on other occasions reflects all the conventional wisdom of the school of strategic theory dominant in the United States, one of whose leading characteristics is scorn for Soviet views on nuclear warfare.

American and Soviet nuclear doctrines, it needs stating at the outset, are starkly at odds. The prevalent US doctrine holds that an all-out war between countries in possession of sizable nuclear arsenals would be so destructive as to leave no winner, thus, resort to arms has ceased to represent a rational policy option for the leaders of such countries vis-à-vis one another. The classic dictum of Clausewitz, that war is politics pursued by other means, is widely believed in the United States to have lost its validity after Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Soviet doctrine, by contrast, emphatically asserts that while an all-out nuclear war would indeed prove extremely destructive to both panics, its outcome would not be mutual suicide: The country better prepared for it and in possession of a superior strategy could win and emerge a viable society. "There is profound erroneousness and harm in the disorienting claims of bourgeois ideologies that there will be no victor in a thermonuclear world war," thunders an authoritative Soviet publication.[2] The theme is mandatory in the current Soviet military literature. Clausewitz, buried in the United States, seems to be alive and prospering in the Soviet Union.

The predisposition of the American strategic community is to shrug off this fundamental doctrinal discrepancy. American doctrine has been and continues to be formulated and implemented by and large without reference to its Soviet counterpart. It is assumed here that there exists one and only one "rational" strategy appropriate to the age of thermonuclear weapons, and that this strategy rests on the principle of "mutual deterrence" developed in the United States some two decades ago. Evidence that the Russians do not share this doctrine, which, as its name indicates, postulates reciprocal attitudes, is usually dismissed with the explanation that they are clearly lagging behind us: Given time and patient "education," they will surely come around.

It is my contention that this attitude rests on a combination of arrogance and ignorance; that it is dangerous; and that it is high time to start paying heed to Soviet strategic doctrine, lest we end up deterring no one but ourselves. There is ample evidence that the Soviet military say what they mean, and usually mean what they say. When the recently deceased Soviet Minister of Defense, Marshal Grechko, assures us: " We have never concealed, and do not conceal, the fundamental, principal tenets of our military doctrine,"[3] he deserves a hearing. This is especially true in view of the fact that Soviet military deployments over the past twenty years make far better sense in the light of Soviet doctrine, "primitive" and "unrealistic" as the latter may appear, than when reflected in the mirror of our own doctrinal assumptions.

Mistrust of the military professional, combined with a pervasive conviction, typical of commercial societies, that human conflicts are at bottom caused by misunderstanding and ought to be resolved by negotiations rather than force, has worked against serious attention to military strategy by the United States. We have no general staff; we grant no higher degrees in "military science". and, except for Admiral Mahan, we have produced no strategist of international repute. America has tended to rely on its insularity to protect it from aggressors, and on its, unique industrial capacity to help crush its enemies once war was under way. The United States is accustomed to waging wars of its own choosing and on its own terms. It lacks an ingrained strategic tradition. In the words of one historian, Americans tend to view both military strategy and the armed forces as something to be "employed intermittently to destroy occasional and intermittent threats posed by hostile powers." [4]

This approach to warfare has had a number of consequences. The United States wants to win its wars quickly and with the smallest losses in American lives. It is disinclined, therefore, to act on protracted and indirect strategies, or to engage in limited wars and wars of attrition. Once it resorts to arms, it prefers to mobilize the great might of its industrial plant to produce vast quantities of the means of destruction with which in the shortest possible time to undermine the enemy's will and ability to continue the struggle. Extreme reliance on technological superiority, characteristic of US warfare, is the obverse side of America's extreme sensitivity to its own casualties; so is indifference to the casualties inflicted on the enemy. The strategic bombing campaigns waged by the US Air Force and the RAF against Germany and Japan in World War II excellently implemented this general attitude. Paradoxically, America's dread of war and casualties pushes it to adopt some of the most brutal forms of warfare, involving the indiscriminate destruction of the enemy's homeland with massive civilian deaths.

These facts must be borne in mind to understand the way the United States reacted to the advent of the nuclear bomb. The traditional military services the Army and the Navy whose future seemed threatened by the invention of a weapon widely believed to have revolutionized warfare and rendered conventional forces obsolete, resisted extreme claims made on behalf of the bomb. But they were unable to hold out for very long. An alliance of politicians and scientists, backed by the Air Force, soon overwhelmed them. "Victory through Airpower," a slogan eminently suited to the American way of war, carried all before it once bombs could be devised whose explosive power was measured in kilotons and megatons.

The US Army tried to argue after Hiroshima and Nagasaki that the new weapons represented no fundamental breakthrough. No revolution in warfare had occurred, its spokesman claimed: Atomic bombs were merely a more efficient species of the aerial bombs used in World War II, and in themselves no more able to ensure victory than the earlier bombs had been. As evidence, they could point to the comprehensive US Strategic Bombing Surveys carried out after the war to assess the effects of the bombing campaigns. These had demonstrated that saturation raids against German and Japanese cities had neither broken the enemy's morale nor paralyzed his armaments industry, indeed, German productivity kept on rising in the face of intensified Allied bombing, attaining its peak in the fall of 1944, on the eve of capitulation.

And when it came to horror, atomic bombs had nothing over conventional ones: As against the 72,000 casualties caused by the atomic bomb in Hiroshima, conventional raids carried out against Tokyo and Dresden in 1945 had caused 84,000 and 135,000 fatalities, respectively. Furthermore, those who sought to minimize the impact of the new weapon argued, atomic weapons in no sense obviated the need for sizable land and sea forces. For example, General Ridgway, as Chief of Staff in the early 1950s, maintained that war waged with tactical nuclear weapons would demand larger rather than smaller field armies since these weapons were more complicated, since they would produce greater casualties, and since the dispersal of troops required by nuclear tactics called for increasing the depth of the combat zone. [5]

As we shall note below, similar arguments disputing the revolutionary character of the nuclear weapon surfaced in the Soviet Union, and there promptly came to dominate strategic theory. In the United States, they were just as promptly silenced by a coalition of groups, each of which it suited, for its own reasons, to depict the atomic bomb as the "absolute weapon" that had, in large measure, rendered traditional military establishments redundant and traditional strategic thinking obsolete.

Once World War II was over, the United States was most eager to demobilize its armed forces. Between June 1945 and June 1946, the US Army reduced its strength from 8,300,000 to 1,900,000 men; comparable manpower cuts were achieved in the Navy and Air Force. Little more than a year after Germany's surrender, the military forces of the United States, which at their peak had stood at 12,300,000 men, were cut down to 3,000,000; two years later they declined below 2,000,000. The demobilization proceeded at a pace (if not in a manner) reminiscent of the dissolution of the Russian army in the revolutionary year of 1917. Nothing could have stopped this mass of humanity streaming homeward. To most Americans peacetime conditions meant reversion to a skeletal armed force,

Yet, at the same time, growing strains in the wartime alliance with the Soviet Union, and mounting evidence that Stalin was determined to exploit the chaotic conditions brought about by the collapse of the Axis powers to expand his domain, called for an effective military force able to deter the Soviets. The United States could not fulfill its role as leader of the Western coalition without an ability to project its military power globally.

In this situation, the nuclear weapon seemed to offer an ideal solution: The atomic bomb could hardly have come at a better time from the point of view of US international commitments. Here was a device so frighteningly destructive, it was believed, that the mere threat of its employment would serve to dissuade would be aggressor, from carrying out their designs. Once the Air Force received the B36, the world's first intercontinental bomber, the United States acquired the ability to threaten the Soviet Union with devastating punishment without, at the same time, being compelled to maintain a large and costly standing army.

Reliance on the nuclear deterrent became more imperative than ever after the conclusion of the Korean War, in the course of which US defense expenditures had been sharply driven up. President Eisenhower had committed himself to a policy of fiscal restraint. He wanted to cut the defense budget appreciably, and yet he had to do so without jeopardizing either America's territorial security or its worldwide commitments. In an effort to reconcile these contradictory desires, the President and his Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, . enunciated in the winter of 1953-54 a strategic doctrine which to an unprecedented degree based the country's security on a single weapon, the nuclear deterrent. In an address to the United Nations in December 1953. Eisenhower argued that since there was no defense against nuclear weapons (i.e., thermonuclear or hydrogen bombs, which both countries were then beginning to produce), war between the two "atomic colossi" would leave no victor, and probably cause the demise of civilization. A month later, Dulles enunciated what came to be known as the doctrine of "massive retaliation." The United States, he declared, had decided "to depend primarily upon a great capacity to retaliate, instantly, by means and at places of our choosing." Throughout his address. Dulles emphasized the fiscal benefits of such a strategy. "more basic security at less cost."

The Eisenhower Dulles formula represented a neat compromise between America's desires to reduce the defense budget and simultaneously to retain the capacity to respond to Soviet threats. The driving force was not, however, military but budgetary: behind "massive retaliation" (as well as its offspring, "mutual deterrence") lay fiscal imperatives. In the nuclear deterrent, the United States found a perfect resolution of the conflicting demands of domestic and foreign responsibilities. For this reason alone its adoption was a foregone conclusion: The alternatives were either a vast standing army or forfeiture of status as a leading world power. The Air Force enthusiastically backed the doctrine of massive retaliation. As custodian of the atomic bomb, it had a vested interest in a defense posture of which that weapon was the linchpin. And since in the first postwar decade the intercontinental bomber was the only available vehicle for delivering the bomb against an enemy like the Soviet Union, the Air Force could claim a goodly share of the defense budget built around the retaliation idea.

Although the Soviet Union exploded a fission bomb in 1949 and announced the acquisition of a fusion (or hydrogen) bomb four years later, the United States still continued for a while longer to enjoy an effective monopoly on nuclear retaliation, since the Soviet Union lacked the means of delivering quantifies of such bombs against US territory. That situation changed dramatically in 1957 when the Soviets launched the Sputnik. This event, which their propaganda hailed as a great contribution to the advancement of science (and ours as proof of the failures of the American educational system!), represented in fact a significant military demonstration, namely, the ability of the Russians to deliver nuclear warheads against the United States homeland, until then immune from direct enemy threats. At this point, massive retaliation ceased to make much sense and before long yielded to the doctrine of "mutual deterrence." The new doctrine postulated that inasmuch as both the Soviet Union and the United States possessed (or would soon possess) the means of destroying each other, neither country could rationally contemplate resort to war. The nuclear stockpiles of each were an effective deterrent that ensured that they would not be tempted to launch an attack.

This doctrine was worked out in great and sophisticated detail by a bevy of civilian experts employed by various government and private organizations. These physicists, chemists, mathematicians, economists, and political scientists came to the support of the government's fiscally driven imperatives with scientific demonstrations in favor of the nuclear deterrent. Current US strategic theory was thus born of a marriage between the scientist and the accountant. The professional soldier was jilted.

A large part of the US scientific community had been convinced as soon as the first atomic bomb was exploded that the nuclear weapon, which that community had conceived and helped to develop, had accomplished a complete revolution in warfare. This conclusion was reached without much reference to the analysis of the effects of atomic weapons carried out by the military, and indeed without consideration of the traditional principles of warfare. It represented, rather, an act of faith on the part of an intellectual community that held strong pacifist convictions and felt deep guilt at having participated in the creation of a weapon of such destructive power. As early as 1946, in an influential book sponsored by the Yale Institute of International Affairs, under the title The Absolute Weapon, a group of civilian strategic theorists enunciated the principles of the mutual deterrence theory which subsequently became the official US strategic doctrine. The principal points made in this work may be summarized as follows:

1. Nuclear weapons are "absolute weapons" in the sense that they can cause unacceptable destruction. but also and above all because there exists against them no possible defense. When the aggressor is certain to suffer the same punishment as his victim, aggression ceases to make sense. Hence, war is no longer a rational policy option, as it had been throughout human history. In the words of Bernard Brodie, the book's editor: "Thus far the chief purpose of our military establishment had been to win wars. From now on its chief purpose must be to avert them. It can have almost no other useful purpose" (p. 76).
- 2 Given the fact that the adjective "absolute" means, by definition, incapable of being exceeded or surpassed, in the nuclear age military superiority has become meaningless. As another contributor to the book, William T. R. Fox, expressed it: "When dealing with the absolute weapon, arguments based on relative advantage lose their point" (p. 181). From which it follows that the objective of modern defense policy should be not superiority in weapons, traditionally sought by the military, but "sufficiency"; just enough nuclear weapons to be able to threaten a potential aggressor with unacceptable retaliation in other words, an "adequate" deterrent, no more, no less.
3. Nuclear deterrence can become effective only if restrains mutually i.e., if the United States and the Soviet Union each can deter the other from aggression. An American monopoly on nuclear weapons would be inherently destabilizing, both because it could encourage the United States to launch a nuclear attack, and, at the same time, by making the Russians feel insecure, cause them to act aggressively. "Neither we nor the Russians can expect to feel even reasonably safe unless an atomic attack by one were certain to unleash a devastating atomic counterattack by the other, Arnold Wolfers; maintained (p. 135). In other words, to feel secure the United States actually required the Soviet Union to have the capacity to destroy it.

Barely one year after Hiroshima and three years before the Soviets were to acquire a nuclear bomb. The Absolute Weapon articulated the philosophical premises underlying the mutual deterrence doctrine that today dominates US strategic thinking. Modern strategy, in the opinion of its contributors, involved preventing wars rather than winning them, securing sufficiency in decisive weapons rather than superiority, and even ensuring the potential enemy's ability to strike back. Needless to elaborate, these principles ran contrary to all the tenets of traditional military theory, which had always called for superiority in forces and viewed the objective of war to be victory. But then, if one had decided that the new weapons marked a qualitative break with all the weapons ever used in combat, one could reasonably argue that past military experience, and the theory based on it, had lost relevance. Implicit in these assumptions was the belief that Clausewitz and his celebrated formula proclaiming war an extension of politics were dead. Henry Kissinger, who can always be counted upon to utter commonplaces in the tone of prophetic revelation, announced Clausewitz's obituary nearly twenty years after The Absolute Weapon had made the point, in these words: "The traditional mode of military analysis which saw in war a continuation of politics but with its own appropriate means is no longer applicable." [6]

American civilian strategists holding such views gained the dominant voice in the formulation of US strategic doctrine with the arrival in Washington in 1961 of Robert S. McNamara as President Kennedy's Secretary of Defense. A prominent business executive specializing in finance and accounting, McNamara applied to the perennial problem of American strategy how to maintain a credible global military posture without a large and costly military establishment the methods of cost analysis. These had first been applied by the British during World War II under the name "operations research" and subsequently came to be adopted here as "systems analysis." Weapons' procurement was to be tested and decided by the same methods used to evaluate returns on investment in ordinary business enterprises. Mutual deterrence was taken for granted: The question of strategic posture reduced itself to the issue of which weapons systems would provide the United States with effective deterrence at the least expense. Under McNamara the procurement of weapons, decided on the basis of cost effectiveness, came in effect to direct strategy, rather than the other way around, as had been the case through most of military history. It is at this point that applied science in partnership with budgetary accountancy, a partnership which had developed US strategic theory, also took charge of US defense policy.

As Worked Out in the 1960s, and still in effect today, American nuclear theory rests on these propositions: All-out nuclear war is not a rational policy option, since no winner could possibly emerge from such a war. Should the Soviet Union nevertheless launch a surprise attack on the United States, the latter would emerge with enough of a deterrent to devastate the Soviet Union in a ,second strike. Since such a retaliatory attack would cost the Soviet Union millions of casualties and the destruction of all its major cities, a Soviet first strike is most unlikely. Meaningful defenses against a nuclear attack are technically impossible and psychologically counterproductive; nuclear superiority is meaningless.

In accord with these assumptions, the United States in the mid 1960s unilaterally froze its force of ICBMs at 1,054 and dismantled nearly all its defenses against enemy bombers. Civil defense was all but abandoned, as was in time the attempt to create an ABM system that held out the possibility of protecting American missile sites against a surprise enemy attack. The Russians were watched benignly as they moved toward parity with the United States in the number of intercontinental launchers, and then proceeded to attain numerical superiority. The expectation was that as soon as the Russians felt themselves equal to the United States in terms of effective deterrence, they would stop further deployments. The frenetic pace of the Soviet nuclear buildup was explained first on the ground that the Russians had a lot of catching up to do, then that they had to consider the Chinese threat, and finally on the grounds that they are inherently a very insecure people and should be allowed an edge in deterrent capability.

Whether mutual deterrence deserves the name of a strategy at all is a real question. As one student of the subject puts it:

Although commonly called a "strategy," "assured destruction" was by itself an antithesis of strategy. Unlike any strategy that ever preceded it throughout the history of armed conflict, it ceased to be useful precisely where military strategy is supposed to come into effect: at the edge of war. It posited that the principal mission of the U.S. military under conditions of ongoing nuclear operations against [the continental United States] was to shut its eyes, grit its teeth, and reflexively unleash an indiscriminate and simultaneous reprisal against all Soviet aim points on a preestablished target list. Rather than deal in a considered way with the particular attack on hand so as to minimize further damage to the United States and maximize the possibility of an early settlement on reasonably acceptable terms, it had the simple goal of inflicting punishment for the Soviet transgression. Not only did this reflect an implicit repudiation of political responsibility, it also risked provoking just the sort of counter reprisal against the United States that a rational wartime strategy should attempt to prevent. [7]

I cite this passage merely to indicate that the basic postulates of US nuclear strategy are not as self evident and irrefutable as its proponents seem to believe, and that, therefore, their rejection by the Soviet military is not, in and of itself, proof that Soviet thinking is "primitive" and devoid of a sense of realism

The principal differences between American and Soviet strategies are traceable to different conceptions of the role of conflict and its inevitable concomitant, violence, in human relations; and secondly, to different functions which the military establishment performs in the two societies.

In the United States, the consensus of the educated and affluent holds all recourse to force to be the result of an inability or an unwillingness to apply rational analysis and patient negotiation to disagreements: The use of force is prima facie evidence of failure. Some segments of this class not only refuse to acknowledge the existence of violence as a fact of life, they have even come to regard fear the organism's biological reaction to the threat of violence as inadmissible. "The notion of being threatened has acquired an almost class connotation," Daniel P. Moynihan notes in connection with the refusal of America's "sophisticated" elite to accept the reality of a Soviet threat. "if you're not very educated, you're easily frightened. And not being ever frightened can be a formula for self destruction." [8]

Now this entire middleclass, commercial, essentially Protestant ethos is absent from Soviet culture, whose roots feed on another kind of soil, and which has had for centuries to weather rougher political climes. The Communist revolution of 1917, by removing from positions of influence what there was of a Russian bourgeoisie (a class Lenin was prone to define as much by cultural as by socioeconomic criteria), in effect installed in power the muzhik, the Russian peasant. And the muzhik had been taught by long historical experience that cunning and coercion alone ensured survival: One employed cunning when weak, and cunning coupled with coercion when strong. Not to use force when one had it indicated some inner weakness. Marxism, with its stress on class war as a natural condition of mankind so long as the means of production were privately owned, has merely served to reinforce these ingrained convictions. The result is an extreme Social Darwinist outlook on life, which today permeates the Russian elite as well as the Russian masses, and which only the democratic intelligentsia and the religious dissenters oppose to any significant extent.

The Soviet ruling elite regards conflict and violence as natural regulators of all human affairs: Wars between nations, in its view, represent only a variant of wars between classes, recourse to the one or the other being dependent on circumstances. A conflict less world will come into being only when the socialist (i.e., Communist) mode of production spreads across the face of the earth.

The Soviet view of armed conflict can be illustrated with another citation from the writings of the late Marshal Grechko, one of the most influential Soviet military figures of the post World War II era. In his principal treatise, Grechko refers to the classification of wars formulated in 1972 by his US counterpart, Melvin Laird. Laird divided wars according to engineering criteria in terms of weapons employed and the scope of the theater of operations, to come up with four principal types of wars: strategic nuclear, theater nuclear, theater conventional, and local conventional. Dismissing this classification as inadequate, Grechko applies quite different standards to come up with his own typology;

Proceeding from the fundamental contradictions of the contemporary era, one can distinguish, according to sociopolitical criteria, the following types of wars: (1) wars between states (coalitions) of two contrary social systems, capitalist and socialist; (2) civil wars between the proletariat and the bourgeoisie. or between the popular masses and the forces of the extreme reaction supported by the imperialists of other countries; (3) wars between imperialist states and the peoples of colonial and dependent states fighting for their freedom and independence: and (4) wars among capitalist states. [9]

This passage contains many interesting implications. For instance. it makes no allowance for war between two Communist countries, like the Soviet Union and China, though such a war seems greatly to preoccupy the Soviet leadership. Nor does it provide for war pitting a coalition of capitalist and Communist states against another capitalist state, such as actually occurred during World War II when the United States and the Soviet Union joined forces against Germany. But for our purposes, the most noteworthy aspect of Grechko's system of classification is the notion that social and national conflicts within the capitalist camp (that is, in all countries not under Communist control) are nothing more than a particular mode of class conflict of which all-out nuclear war between the superpowers is a conceivable variant. In terms of this typology, an industrial strike in the United States, the explosion of a terrorist bomb in Belfast or Jerusalem, the massacre by Rhodesian guerrillas of a black village or a white farmstead, differ from nuclear war between the Soviet Union and the United States only in degree, not in kind. All such conflicts are calibrations on the extensive scale by which to measure the historic conflict which pits communism against capitalism and imperialism. Such conflicts are inherent in the stage of human development that precedes the final abolition of classes.

Middleclass American intellectuals simply cannot assimilate this mentality, so alien is it to their experience and view of human nature. Confronted with the evidence that the most influential elements in the Soviet Union do indeed hold such views, they prefer to dismiss the evidence as empty rhetoric, and to regard with deep suspicion the motives of anyone who insists on taking it seriously. Like some ancient Oriental despots, they vent their wrath on the bearers of bad news. How ironic that the very people who have failed so dismally to persuade American television networks to eliminate violence from their programs, nevertheless feel confident that they can talk the Soviet leadership into eliminating violence from its political arsenal!

Solzhenitsyn grasped the issue more profoundly as well as more realistically when he defined the antithesis of war not as the absence of armed conflict between nations i.e., "peace" in the conventional meaning of the term, but as the absence of all violence, internal as well as external. His comprehensive definition, drawn from his Soviet experience, obversely matches the comprehensive Soviet definition of warfare.

We know surprisingly little about the individuals and institutions whose responsibility it is to formulate Soviet military doctrine. The matter is handled with the utmost secrecy, which conceals from the eyes of outsiders the controversies that undoubtedly surround it. Two assertions, however, can be made with confidence.

Because of Soviet adherence to the Clausewitzian principle that warfare is always an extension of politics, i.e., subordinate to overall political objectives (about which more below) Soviet military planning is carried out under the close supervision of the country's highest political body, the Politburo. Thus, military policy is regarded as an intrinsic element of "grand strategy," whose arsenal also includes a variety of nonmilitary instrumentalities.

Secondly, the Russians regard warfare as a science (nauka, in the German sense of Wissenschaft). Instruction in the subject is offered at a number of university level institutions, and several hundred specialists, most of them officers on active duty, have been accorded the Soviet equivalent of the Ph.D. in military science. This means that Soviet military doctrine is formulated by fulltime specialists: It is as much the exclusive province of the certified military professional as medicine is that of the licensed physician. The civilian strategic theorist who since World War II has played a decisive role in the formulation of US strategic doctrine is not in evidence in the Soviet Union, and probably performs at best a secondary, consultative function.

Its penchant for secrecy notwithstanding, the Soviet military establishment does release a large quantity of unclassified literature in the form of books, specialist journals, and newspapers. Of the books, the single most authoritative work at present is unquestionably the collective study, Military Strategy, edited by the late Marshal V. D. Sokolovskii, which summarizes Soviet warfare doctrine of the nuclear age. [10] Although published fifteen years ago, Sokolovskii's volume remains the only Soviet strategic manual publicly available, a solitary monument confronting a mountain of Western works on strategy. A series called "The Officers Library" brings out important specialized studies. [11] The newspaper Krasnaia zvezda (Red Star) carries important theoretical articles which, however, vie for the reader's attention with heroic pictures of Soviet troops storming unidentified beaches and firing rockets at unnamed foes. The flood of military works has as its purpose: indoctrination, an objective to which the Soviet high command attaches the utmost importance: indoctrination both in the psychological sense, designed to persuade the Soviet armed forces that they are invincible, as well as of a technical kind, to impress upon the officers and ranks the principles of Soviet tactics and the art of operations.

To a Western reader, most of this printed matter is unadulterated rubbish. It not only lacks the sophistication and intellectual elegance which he takes for granted in works on problems of nuclear strategy; it is also filled with a mixture of pseudo Marxist jargon and the crudest kind of Russian jingoism. Which is one of the reasons why it is hardly ever read in the West, even by people whose business it is to devise a national strategy against a possible Soviet threat. By and large the material is ignored. Two examples must suffice. Strategy in the Missile Age, an influential work by Bernard Brodie, one of the pioneers of US nuclear doctrine, which originally came out in 1959, and was republished in 1965, makes only a few offhand allusions to Soviet nuclear strategy. and then either to note with approval that it is developing along lines familiar in the United States" (p. 171), or else. when the Russians prefer to follow their own track, to dismiss it as a "ridiculous and reckless fantasy" (p. 215). Secretary of Defense McNamara perused Sokolovskii and "remained unimpressed," for nowhere in the book did he find a sophisticated analysis of nuclear war. " [12]

The point to bear in mind, however. is that Soviet military literature, like all Soviet literature on Politics broadly defined, is written in an elaborate code language. Its purpose is not to dazzle with originality and sophistication, but to convey to the initiates messages of grave importance. Soviet policy makers may speak to one another plainly in private, but when they take pen in hand they invariably resort to an "Aesopian" language, a habit acquired when the forerunner of today's Communist party had to function in the Czarist underground. Buried in the flood of seemingly meaningless verbiage, nuggets of precious information on Soviet perceptions and intentions can more often than not be unearthed by a trained reader. In 1958-59, two American specialists employed by the Rand Corporation, Raymond L. Garthoff and Herberl S. Dinerstein, by skillfully deciphering Soviet literature on strategic problems and then interpreting this information against the background of the Soviet military tradition, produced a remarkably prescient forecast of actual Soviet military policies of the 1960s and 1970s. [13] Unfortunately, their findings were largely ignored by US strategists from the scientific community who had convinced themselves that there was only one strategic doctrine appropriate to the age of nuclear weapons, and that therefore evidence indicating that the Soviets were adopting a different strategy could be safely disregarded.

This predisposition helps explain why US strategists persistently ignored signs indicating that those who had control of Soviet Russia's nuclear arsenal were not thinking in terms of mutual deterrence. The calculated nonchalance with which Stalin at Potsdam reacted to President Truman's confidences about the American atomic bomb was a foretaste of things to come. Initial Soviet reactions to Hiroshima and Nagasaki were similar in tone: The atomic weapon had not in any significant manner altered the science of warfare or rendered obsolete the principles that had guided the Red Army in its victorious campaigns against the Wehrmacht. These basic laws, known as the five "constant principles" that win wars, had been formulated by Stalin in 1942. They were, in declining order of importance: "stability of the home front," followed by morale of the armed forces, quantity and quality of the divisions, military equipment, and, finally, ability of the commanders." [14] There was no such thing as an "absolute weapon", weapons altogether occupied a subordinate place in warfare; defense against atomic bombs was entirely possible. [15] This was disconcerting, to be sure, but it could be explained away as a case of sour grapes. After all, the Soviet Union had no atomic bomb, and it was not in its interest to seem overly impressed by a weapon on which its rival enjoyed a monopoly. [16]

In September 1949, the Soviet Union exploded a nuclear device. Disconcertingly, its attitude to nuclear weapons did riot change, at any rate not in public. For the remaining four years, until Stalin's death, the Soviet high command continued to deny that nuclear weapons required fundamental revisions of accepted military doctrine. With a bit of good will, this obduracy could still have been rationalized: For although the Soviet Union now had the weapon, it still lacked adequate means of delivering it across continents insofar as it had few intercontinental bombers (intercontinental rockets were regarded in the West as decades away). The United States, by contrast, possessed not only a fleet of strategic bombers but also numerous air bases in countries adjoining Soviet Russia. So once again one could find a persuasive explanation of why the Russians refused to see the light. It seemed reasonable to expect that as soon as they had acquired both a stockpile of atomic bombs and a fleet of strategic bombers, they would adjust their doctrine to conform with the American.

Events which ensued immediately after Stalin's death seemed to lend credence to these expectations. Between 1953 and 1957, a debate took place in the pages of Soviet publications which. for all its textural obscurity, indicated that a new school of Soviet strategic thinkers had arisen to challenge the conventional wisdom. The most articulate spokesman of this new school, General N. Talenskii, argued that the advent of nuclear weapons, especially the hydrogen bomb. which had just appeared on the scene, did fundamentally alter the nature of warfare. The sheer destructiveness of these weapons was such that one could no longer talk of a socialist strategy automatically overcoming the strategy of capitalist countries: The same rules of warfare now applied to both social systems. For the first time doubt was cast on the immutability of Stalin's "five constant principles." In the oblique manner in which Soviet debates on matters of such import am invariably conducted, Talenskii was saying that perhaps, after all, war had ceased to represent a viable policy option. More important yet, speeches delivered by leading Soviet politicians in the winter of 1953-54 seemed to support the thesis advanced by President Eisenhower in his United Nations address of December 1953 that nuclear war could spell the demise of civilization. In an address delivered on March 12, 1954, and reported the following day in Pravda, Stalin's immediate successor, Georgii Malenkov, echoed Eisenhower's sentiments: A new world war would unleash a holocaust that, 'with the present means of warfare, means the destruction of world civilization. [17]

This assault on its traditional thinking and, obliquely, on its traditional role engendered a furious reaction from the Soviet military establishment. The Red Army was not about to let itself be relegated to the status of a militia whose principal task was averting war rather than winning it. Malenkov's unorthodox views on war almost certainly contributed to his downfall; at any rate, his dismissal in February 1955 as party leader was accompanied by a barrage of press denunciations of the notion that war had become unfeasible. Then we strong indications that Malenkov's chief rival, Khrushchev, capitalized on the discontent of the military to form with it an alliance with whose help he eventually rode to power. The successful military counterattack seems to have been led by the World War II hero, Marshal Georgii Zhukov, whom Khrushchev made his Minister of Defense and brought into the Presidium. The guidelines of Soviet nuclear strategy, still in force today, were formulated during the first two years of Khrushchev's tenure (1955-57), under the leadership of Zhukov himself. They resulted in the unequivocal rejection of the notion of the "absolute weapon" and all the theories that US strategists had deduced from it. Stalin's view of the military "constants" was implicitly reaffirmed. Thus the re-Stalinization of Soviet life, so noticeable in recent years, manifested itself first in military doctrine.

To understand this unexpected turn of events, so unexpected that most US military theorists thus far have not been able to come to terms with it, one must take into account the function performed by the military in the Soviet system.

Unlike the United States, the Soviet government needs and wants a large military force. It has many uses for it, at home and abroad. As a regime that rests neither on tradition nor on a popular mandate, it sees in its military the most effective manifestation of government omnipotence, the very presence of which discourages any serious opposition from raising its head in the country as well as in its dependencies. It is, after all, the Red Army that keeps Eastern Europe within the Soviet camp. Furthermore, since the regime is driven by ideology, internal politics, and economic exigencies steadily to expand, it requires an up to date military force capable of seizing opportunities that may present themselves along the Soviet Union's immensely long frontier or even beyond. The armed forces of the Soviet Union thus have much more to do than merely protect the country from potential aggressors: They are the mainstay of the regime's authority and a principal instrumentality of its internal and external policies. Given the shaky status of the Communist regime internally, the declining appeal of its ideology, and the non competitiveness of its goods on world markets, a persuasive case can even be made that, ruble for ruble, expenditures on the military represent for the Soviet leadership an excellent and entirely "rational" capital investment.

For this reason alone (and there were other compelling reasons too. as we shall see), the Soviet leadership could not accept the theory of mutual deterrence. [18] After all, this theory, pushed to its logical conclusion, means that a country can rely for its security on a finite number of nuclear warheads and on an appropriate quantity of delivery vehicles; so that. apart perhaps from some small mobile forces needed for local actions, the large and costly traditional military establishments can be disbanded. Whatever the intrinsic military merits of this doctrine may be, its broader implications are entirely unacceptable to a regime like the Soviet one for whom military power serves not only (or even primarily) to deter external aggressors, but also and above all to ensure internal stability and permit external expansion. Thus, ultimately, it is political rather than strictly strategic or fiscal considerations that may be said to have determined Soviet reactions to nuclear weapons and shaped the content of Soviet nuclear strategy. As a result, Soviet advocates of mutual deterrence like Talenskii were gradually silenced. By the mid1960s the country adopted what in military jargon is referred to as a " war fighting" and "war winning" doctrine.

Given this fundamental consideration, the rest followed with a certain inexorable logic. The formulation of Soviet strategy in the nuclear age was turned over to the military who are in complete control of the Ministry of Defense. (Two American observers describe this institution as a "uniformed empire." [19]) The Soviet General Staff had only recently emerged from winning one of the greatest wars in history. Immensely confident of their own abilities, scornful of what they perceived as the minor contribution of the United States to the Nazi defeat, inured to casualties running into tens of millions, the Soviet generals tackled the task with relish. Like their counterparts in the US Army, they were professionally inclined to denigrate the exorbitant claims made on behalf of the new weapon by strategists drawn from the scientific community, unlike the Americans, however, they did not have to pay much heed to the civilians. In its essentials, Soviet nuclear doctrine as it finally emerged is not all that different from what American doctrine might have been had military and geopolitical rather than fiscal considerations played the decisive role here as they did there.

Soviet military theorists reject the notion that technology (i.e., weapons) decides strategy. They perceive the relationship to be the reverse: strategic objectives determine the procurement and application of weapons. They agree that the introduction of nuclear weapons has profoundly affected warfare, but deny that nuclear weapons have altered its essential quality. The novelty of nuclear weapons consists not in their destructiveness, that is, after all, a matter of degree, and a country like the Soviet Union which, as Soviet generals proudly boast, suffered in World War II the loss of more than 20,000,000 casualties, as well as the destruction of 1,710 towns, over 70,000 villages, and some 32,000 industrial establishments to win the war and emerge as a global power, is not to be intimidated by the prospect of destruction. [20] Rather, the innovation consists of the fact that nuclear weapons, coupled with intercontinental missiles, can by themselves carry out strategic missions that previously were accomplished only by means of prolonged tactical operations:

Nuclear missiles have altered the relationship of tactical, operational, and strategic acts of the armed conflict. If in the past the strategic end result was secured by a succession of sequential, most often long term, efforts [and] comprised the sum of tactical and operational successes, strategy being able to realize its intentions only with the assistance of the art of operations and tactics, then today, by means of powerful nuclear strikes, strategy can attain its objectives directly. [21]

In other words, military strategy, rather than a casualty of technology, has, thanks to technology, become more central than ever. By adopting this view, Soviet theorists believe themselves to have adapted modern technological innovations in weaponry to the traditions of military science.

Implicit in all this is the idea that nuclear war is feasible and that the basic function of warfare, as defined by Clausewitz, remains permanently valid. whatever breakthroughs may occur in technology. "it is well known that the essential nature of war as a continuation of politics does not change with changing technology and armament." [22] This code phrase from Sokolovskii's authoritative manual was certainly hammered out with all the care that in the United States is lavished on an amendment to the Constitution. It spells the rejection of the whole basis on which US strategy has come to rest: Thermonuclear war is not suicidal, it can be fought and won, and thus resort to war must not be ruled out.

In addition (though we have no solid evidence to this effect), it seems likely that Soviet strategists reject the mutual deterrence theory on several technical grounds of a kind that have been advanced by American critics of this theory like Albert Wohlstetter, Herman Kahn, and Paul Nitze.

1. Mutual deterrence postulates a certain finality about weapons technology: It does not allow for further scientific breakthroughs that could result in the deterrent's becoming neutralized. On the offensive side, for example, there is the possibility of significant improvements in the accuracy of ICBMs or striking innovations in antisubmarine warfare; on the defensive, satellites that are essential for early warning of an impending attack could be blinded and lasers could be put to use to destroy incoming missiles.
2. Mutual deterrence constitutes "passive defense," which usually leads to defeat. It threatens punishment to the aggressor after he has struck, which may or may not deter him from striking; it cannot prevent him from carrying out his designs. The latter objective requires the application of active defense, i.e., nuclear preemption.
3. The threat of a second strike, which underpins the mutual deterrence doctrine. may prove ineffectual. The side that has suffered the destruction of the bulk of its nuclear forces in a surprise first strike may find that it has so little of a deterrent left and the enemy so much, that the cost of striking back in retaliation would be exposing its own cities to total destruction by the enemy's third strike. The result could be a paralysis of will, and capitulation instead of a second strike.

Soviet strategists make no secret of the fact that they regard the US doctrine (with which, judging by the references in their literature. they are thoroughly familiar) as second rate. In their view, US strategic doctrine is obsessed with a single weapon. which it "absolutizes" at the expense of everything else that military experience leaches soldiers to take into account. Its philosophical foundations are "idealism" and "metaphysics", i.e., currents that engage in speculative discussions; of objects (in this case. weapons) and of their " intrinsic qualities, rather than relying on pragmatic considerations drawn from experience. [23]

Since the mid 1960s, the proposition that thermonuclear war would be suicidal for both parties has been used by the Russians largely as a commodity for export. Its chief proponents include staff members of the Moscow Institute of the USA and Canada, and Soviet participants at Pugwash, Dartmouth, and similar international conferences, who are assigned the task of strengthening the hand of antimilitary intellectual circles in the West. Inside the Soviet Union, such talk is generally denounced as "bourgeois pacifism." [24]

In the Soviet view, a nuclear war would be total and go beyond formal defeat of one side by the other: "War must not simply be the defeat of the enemy, it must be his destruction. This condition has become the basis of Soviet military strategy, according to the Military Historical Journal. [25] Limited nuclear war, flexible response, escalation, damage limiting, and all the other numerous refinements of US strategic doctrine find no place in its Soviet counterpart (although, of course, they are taken into consideration in Soviet operational planning).

For Soviet generals the decisive influence in the formulation of nuclear doctrine were the lessons of World War II with which, for understandable reasons, they are virtually obsessed. This experience they seem to have supplemented with knowledge gained from professional scrutiny of the record of Nazi and Japanese offensive operations, as well as the balance sheet of British and American strategic bombing campaigns. More recently, the lessons of the Israeli-Arab wars of 1967 and 1973 in which they indirectly participated seem also to have impressed Soviet strategists, reinforcing previously held convictions. They also follow the Western literature, tending to side with the critics of mutual deterrence. The result of all these diverse influences is a nuclear doctrine that assimilates into the main body of the Soviet military tradition the technical implications of nuclear warfare without surrendering any of the fundamentals of this tradition.

The strategic doctrine adopted by the USSR over the past two decades calls for a policy diametrically opposite to that adopted in the United States by the predominant community of civilian strategists; not deterrence but victory, not sufficiency in weapons but superiority, not retaliation but offensive action. The doctrine has five related elements: (1) preemption (first strike), (2) quantitative superiority in arms, (3) counterforce targeting, (4) combined arms operations, and (5) defense. We shall take up each of these elements in turn.

Preemption. The costliest lesson which the Soviet military learned in World War II was the importance of surprise. Because Stalin thought he had an understanding with Hitler, and because he was afraid to provoke his Nazi ally, he forbade the Red Army to mobilize for the German attack of which he had had ample warning. As a result of this strategy of "passive defense," Soviet forces suffered frightful losses and were nearly defeated. This experience etched itself very deeply on the minds of the Soviet commanders: In their theoretical writings, no point is emphasized more consistently than the need never again to allow themselves to be caught in a surprise attack. Nuclear weapons make this requirement especially urgent because, according to Soviet theorists, the decision in a nuclear conflict in all probability will be arrived at in the initial hours. In a nuclear war the Soviet Union, therefore, would not again have at its disposal the time it enjoyed in 1941-42 to mobilize reserves for a victorious counteroffensive after absorbing devastating setbacks.

Given the rapidity of modern warfare (an ICBM can traverse the distance between the USSR and the United States in thirty minutes), not to be surprised by the enemy means, in effect, to inflict surprise on him. Once the latter's ICBMs have left their silos, once his bombers have taken to the air and his submarines to sea, a counterattack is greatly reduced in effectiveness. These considerations call for a preemptive strike. Soviet theorists draw an insistent, though to an outside observer very fuzzy, distinction between "preventive" and "preemptive" attacks. They claim that the Soviet Union will never start a war i.e., it will never launch a preventive attack, but once it had concluded that an attack upon it was imminent, it would not hesitate to preempt. They argue that historical experience indicates outbreaks of hostilities are generally preceded by prolonged diplomatic crises and military preparations which signal to an alert command an imminent threat and the need to act. Though the analogy is not openly drawn, the action which Soviet strategists seem to have in mind is that taken by the Israelis in 1967, a notably successful example of "active defense" involving a well timed preemptive strike. (In 1973, by contrast, the Israelis pursued the strategy of "passive defense," with unhappy consequences.) The Soviet doctrine of nuclear preemption was formulated in the late 1950s, and described at the time by Garthoff and Dinerstein in the volumes referred to above.

A corollary of the preemption strategy holds that a country's armed forces must always be in a state of high combat readiness so as to be able to go over to active operations with the least delay. Nuclear warfare grants no time for mobilization. Stress on the maintenance of a large ready force is one of the constant themes of Soviet military literature. It helps explain the immense land forces that the USSR maintains at all times and equips with the latest weapons as they roll off the assembly lines.

Quantitative superiority. There is no indication that the Soviet military share the view prevalent in the US that in the nuclear age numbers of weapons do not matter once a certain quantity had been attained. They do like to pile up all sorts of weapons, new on top of old, throwing away nothing that might come in handy. This propensity to accumulate hardware is usually dismissed by Western observers with contemptuous references to a Russian habit dating back to Czarist days. It is not, however, as mindless as it may appear. For although Soviet strategists believe that the ultimate outcome in a nuclear war will be decided in the initial hours of the conflict, they also believe that a nuclear war will be of long duration; To consummate victory that is. to destroy the enemy may take months or even longer. Under these conditions, the possession of a large arsenal of nuclear delivery systems, as well as of other types of weapons, may well prove to be of critical importance. Although prohibited by self imposed limitations agreed upon in 1972 at SALT I from exceeding a set number of intercontinental ballistic missile launchers, the Soviet Union is constructing large numbers of so called Intermediate Range Ballistic Missile launchers (i.e., launchers of less than intercontinental range). not covered by SALT. Some of these could be rapidly converted into regular intercontinental launchers, should the need arise. [26]

Reliance on quantity has another cause, namely, the peculiarly destructive capability of modern missiles equipped with Multiple Independently targettable Reentry Vehicles, or MIRVs. The nose cones of MIRVed missiles, which both superpowers possess, when in midcourse, split like a peapod to launch several warheads, each aimed at a separate target. A single missile equipped with three MIRVs of sufficient accuracy, yield, and reliability can destroy up to three of the enemy's missiles, provided, of course, it catches them in their silos, before they have, been fired (which adds another inducement to preemption). Theoretically, assuming high accuracy and reliability, should the entire American force of 1,054 ICBMs be MIRVed (so far only half of them have been MIRVed), it would take only 540 American ICBMs, each with three MIRVs, to attack the entire Soviet force of 1,618 ICBMs. The result would leave the United States with 514 ICBMs and the USSR with few survivors. Unlikely as the possibility of an American preemptive strike may be, Soviet planners apparently prefer to take no chances; they want to be in a position rapidly to replace ICBMs lost to a sudden enemy first strike. Conversely, given its doctrine of preemption, the Soviet Union wants to be in a position to destroy the largest number of American missiles with the smallest number of its own, so as to be able to face down the threat of a US second strike. Its most powerful ICBM, the SS18, is said to have been tested with up to ten MIRVs (compared to three of the Minuteman III, America's only MIRVed ICBM). It has been estimated that 300 of these giant Soviet missiles, authorized under SALT 1, could seriously threaten the American arsenal of ICBMs.

Counterforce. Two terms commonly used in the jargon of modern strategy are "counterforce" and "countervalue." Both terms refer to the nature of the target of a strategic nuclear weapon. Counterforce means that the principal objective of one's nuclear missiles are the enemy's force, i.e., his launchers, as well as the related command and communications facilities. Countervalue means that one's principal targets are objects of national "value," namely the enemy's population and industrial centers.

Given the predominantly defensive (retaliatory) character of current US strategy, it is naturally predisposed to a countervalue targeting policy. The central idea of the US strategy of deterrence holds that should the Soviet Union dare to launch a surprise first strike at the United States, the latter would use its surviving missiles to lay waste Soviet cities. It is taken virtually for granted in this country that no nation would consciously expose itself to the risk of having its urban centers destroyed, an assumption that derives from British military theory of the 1920s and 1930s, and which influenced the RAF to concentrate on strategic bombing raids on German cities in World War II.

The Soviet high command has never been much impressed with the whole philosophy of countervalue strategic bombing, and during World War II resisted the temptation to attack German cities. This negative attitude to bombing of civilians is conditioned not by humanitarian considerations but by cold, professional assessments of the effects of that kind of strategic bombing as revealed by the Allied Strategic Bombing Surveys. The findings of these surveys were largely ignored in the United States, but they seem to have made a strong impression in the USSR. Not being privy to the internal discussions of the Soviet military, we can do no better than consult the writings of an eminent British scientist, P. M. S. Blackett, noted for his pro Soviet sympathies, whose remarkable book Fear, War and The Bomb, published in 1948-49, indicated with great prescience the lines which Soviet strategic thinking were subsequently to take.

Blackett, who won the Nobel Prize for Physics in 1948, had worked during the war in British Operations Research. He concluded that strategic bombing was ineffective, and wrote his book as an impassioned critique of the idea of using atomic weapons as a strategic deterrent. Translating the devastation wrought upon Germany into nuclear terms, he calculated that it represented the equivalent of the destruction that would have been caused by 400 "improved" Hiroshima type atomic bombs. Yet despite such punishment, Nazi Germany did not collapse. Given the much greater territory of the Soviet Union and a much lower population density, he argued, it would require "thousands" of atomic bombs to produce decisive results in a war between America and Russia. [27] Blackett minimized the military effects of the atomic bombing on Japan. He recalled that in Hiroshima trains were operating forty eight hours after the blast ' that industries were left almost un damaged and could have been back in full production within a month; and that if the most elementary civil defense precautions had been observed, civilian casualties would have been substantially reduced. Blackett's book ran so contrary to prevailing opinion and was furthermore so intemperately anti American in tone that its conclusions were rejected out of hand in the West.

Too hastily, it appears in retrospect. For while it is true that the advent of hydrogen bombs a few years later largely invalidated the estimates on which he had relied, Blackett correctly anticipated Soviet reactions. Analyzing the results of Allied saturation bombing of Germany, Soviet generals concluded that it was largely a wasted effort. Sokolovskii cites in his manual the well known figures showing that German military productivity rose throughout the war until the fall of 1944, and concludes: "It was not so much the economic struggle and economic exhaustion (i.e. countervalue bombing) that were the causes for the defeat of Hitler's Germany, but rather the armed conflict and the defeat of its armed forces [i.e.. the counterforce strategy pursued by the Red Army.] [28]

Soviet nuclear strategy is counterforce oriented. It targets for destruction, at any rate, in the initial strike, not the enemy's cities but his military forces and their command and communication facilities. Its primary aim is to destroy not civilians but soldiers and their leaders, and to undermine not so much the will to resist as the capability to do so. In the words of Grechko:

The Strategic Rocket Forces, which constitute the basis of the military might of our armed forces, are designed to annihilate the means of the enemy's nuclear attack, large groupings of his armies, and his military bases; to destroy his military industries; [and] to disorganize the political and military administration of the aggressor as well as his rear and transport. [29]

Any evidence that the United States may contemplate switching to a counterforce strategy, such as occasionally crops up, throws Soviet generals into a tizzy of excitement. It clearly frightens them far more than the threat to Soviet cities posed by the countervalue strategic doctrine.

Combined arms operations. Soviet theorists regard strategic nuclear forces (organized since 1960 into a separate arm, the Strategic Rocket Forces) to be the decisive branch of the armed services, in the sense that the ultimate outcome of modern war would be settled by nuclear exchanges. But since nuclear war, in their view, must lead not only to the enemy's defeat but also to his destruction (i.e., his incapacity to offer further resistance), they consider it necessary to make preparations for the follow up phase, which may entail a prolonged war of attrition. At this stage of the conflict, armies will be needed to occupy the enemy's territory, and navies to interdict his lanes of communications. "in the course of operations [battles], armies will basically complete the final destruction of the enemy brought about by strikes of nuclear rocket weapons. [30] Soviet theoretical writings unequivocally reject reliance on any one strategy (such as the Blitzkrieg) or on any one weapon, to win wars. They believe that a nuclear war will require the employment of all arms to attain final victory.

The large troop concentrations of Warsaw Pact forces in Eastern Europe, well in excess of reasonable defense requirements, make sense if viewed in the light of Soviet combined arms doctrine. They are there not only to have the capacity to launch a surprise land attack against NATO, but also to attack and seize Western Europe with a minimum of damage to its cities and industries after the initial strategic nuclear exchanges have taken place, partly to keep Europe hostage, partly to exploit European productivity as a replacement for that of which the Soviet Union would have been deprived by an American second strike.

As for the oceangoing navy which the Soviet Union has now acquired, it consists primarily of submarines and ground based naval air forces, and apparently would have the task of cleaning the seas of US ships of all types and cutting the sea lanes connecting the United States with allied powers and sources of raw materials.

The notion of an extended nuclear war is deeply embedded in Soviet thinking, despite its being dismissed by Western strategists who think of war as a one-two exchange. As Blackett noted sarcastically already in 1948-49: "Some armchair strategists (including some atomic scientists) tend to ignore the inevitable countermoves of the enemy. More chess playing and less nuclear physics might have instilled a greater sense of the realities. [31] He predicted that a World War III waged with the atomic bombs then available would last longer than either of its predecessors, and require combined arms operations which seems to be the current Soviet view of the matter.

Defense. As noted, the US theory of mutual deterrence postulates that no effective defense can be devised against an all out nuclear attack: It is this postulate that makes such a war appear totally irrational. In order to make this premise valid. American civilian strategists have argued against a civil defense program. against the ABM, and against air defenses.

Nothing illustrates better the fundamental differences between the two strategic doctrines than their attitudes to defense against a nuclear attack. The Russians agreed to certain imprecisely defined limitations on ABM after they had initiated a program in this direction, apparently because they were unable to solve the technical problems involved and feared the United States would forge ahead in this field. However, they then proceeded to build a tight ring of anti-aircraft defenses around the country while also developing a serious program of civil defense.

Before dismissing Soviet civil defense efforts as wishful thinking, as is customary in Western circles, two facts must be emphasized.

One is that the Soviet Union does not regard civil defense to be exclusively for the protection of ordinary civilians. Its chief function seems to be to protect what in Russia are known as the "cadres," that is, the political and military leaders as well as industrial managers and skilled workers, those who could reestablish the political and economic system once the war was over. Judging by Soviet definitions, civil defense has as much to do with the proper functioning of the country during and immediately after the war as with holding down casualties. Its organization, presently under Deputy Minister of Defense, Colonel General A. Altunin, seems to be a kind of shadow government charged with responsibility for administering the country under the extreme stresses of nuclear war and its immediate aftermath .[32]

Secondly, the Soviet Union is inherently less vulnerable than the United States to a countervalue attack. According to the most recent Soviet census (1970), the USSR had only nine cities with a population of one million or more; the aggregate population of these cities was 20,500,000, or 8.5 percent of the country's total. The United States 1970 census showed thirty five metropolitan centers with over one million inhabitants, totaling 84,500,000 people, or 41.5 percent of the country's aggregate. It takes no professional strategist to visualize what these figures mean. In World War II, the Soviet Union lost 20,000,000 inhabitants out of a population of 170,000,000, i.e., twelve percent; yet the country not only survived but emerged stronger politically and militarily than it had ever been. Allowing for the population growth that has occurred since then, this experience suggests that as of today the USSR could absorb the loss of 30,000,000 of its people and be no worse off, in terms of human casualties, than it had been at the conclusion of World War II. In other words, all of the USSR's multimillion cities could be destroyed without trace or survivors, and, provided that its essential cadres had been saved, it would emerge less hurt in terms of casualties than it was in 1945.

Such figures are beyond the comprehension of most Americans. But clearly a country that since 1914 has lost, as a result of two world wars, a civil war, famine, and various "purges," perhaps up to 60,000,000 citizens, must define "unacceptable damage" differently from the United States, which has known no famines or purges, and whose deaths from all the wars waged since 1775 are estimated at 650,000, fewer casualties than Russia suffered in the 900 day siege of Leningrad in World War II alone. Such a country tends also to assess the rewards of defense in much more realistic terms.

How significant are these recondite doctrinal differences? It has been my invariable experience when lecturing on these matters that during the question period someone in the audience will get up and ask: "But is it not true that we and the Russians already possess enough nuclear weapons to destroy each other ten times over" (or fifty, or a hundred the figures vary)? My temptation is to reply: "Certainly. But we also have enough bullets to shoot every man, woman, and child, and enough matches to set the whole world on fire. The point lies not in our ability to wreak total destruction: It lies in intent .

And insofar as military doctrine is indicative of intent, what the Russians think to do with their nuclear arsenal is a matter of utmost importance that calls for close scrutiny.

Enough has already been said to indicate the disparities between American and Soviet strategic doctrines of the nuclear age. These differences may be most pithily summarized by stating that whereas we view nuclear weapons as a deterrent, the Russians see them as a "compellant", with all the consequences that follow. Now it must be granted that the actual, operative differences between the two doctrines may not be quite as sharp as they appear in the public literature: It is true that our deterrence doctrine leaves room for some limited offensive action, just as the Russians include elements of deterrence in their "war fighting" and "war winning" doctrine. Admittedly, too, a country's military doctrine never fully reveals how it would behave under actual combat conditions. And yet the differences here are sharp and fundamental enough, and the relationship of Soviet doctrine to Soviet deployments sufficiently close, to suggest that ignoring or not taking seriously Soviet military doctrine may have very detrimental effects on US security. There is something innately destabilizing in the very fact that we consider nuclear war unfeasible and suicidal for both, and our chief adversary views it as feasible and winnable for himself.

SALT misses the point at issue so long as it addresses itself mainly to the question of numbers of strategic weapons: Equally important are qualitative improvements within the existing quotas, and the size of regular land and sea forces. Above all, however, looms the question of intent: As long as the Soviets persist in adhering to the Clausewitzian maxim on the function of war, mutual deterrence does not really exist. And unilateral deterrence is feasible only if we understand the Soviet war winning strategy and make it impossible for them to succeed.

Women Of Courage Arise

Catherine Brown,

FOR THE WOMEN OF SCOTLAND AND ACROSS THE GLOBE . . .

On Sunday 6th February, the Lord gave me a vision, which I believe was for the women of Scotland, but also for women across the globe.

I saw a small group of women standing in a circle, holding hands. They stood extremely close together and I noticed that they were very different and I understood these women spanned the generations and the denominations. This first circle was a forerunner - a statement of unity in part that will come in full, to the Body of Christ.

The circle enlarged as I watched, and many more women came and joined the original small circle. As the circle of unity was completed, the women held hands and each of them pushed back their heads and began to cry out to the Lord with all that was within them.

A WALL OF FIRE

Immediately, a wall of fire surrounded the women. I heard the Lord say "I, myself, will be a wall of fire around my people." The wall of fire represented the holiness and fear of the Lord.

As I gazed on, the women ascended to heaven, still holding on to each other's hands. An angelic escort received them in the heavenly places, with many angels and chariots surrounding them. The main host was a massive angel, whom I am certain was Michael. The sound of thunder was all around, and this spoke of the coming of the Presence of God. The sound became louder and louder, until it was almost deafening and the fear of God gripped the women.

AN INTIMATE ENCOUNTER WITH JESUS

In a flash, the Lord Himself appeared in the midst of the women. Each woman came before the Lord. Even although there were too many to number, the women had a personal and intimate encounter with Jesus. He cradled each woman's face in His hands and spoke "Well done, good and faithful servant". On each cheek, he planted a tender kiss. The favour of God was spoken forth over everyone. Not one woman was missed by the Saviour; each was called forth and commissioned.

To some women a beautiful garment was given. The garment shone with the Radiance of the Righteousness of Jesus Christ. Each of us receives the imputed Righteousness of Christ Jesus by faith at the moment of salvation, yet as we are conformed and changed into His image, as we walk the path of brokenness and sacrifice, I believe there comes a point when the Garment of Righteousness is imparted experientially to us. This was the garment that I saw. There were some that had walked this path and these women received the garment from the Lord's hand.

WEAPONRY FOR BATTLE

Each woman was equipped for battle. The angels were giving out weaponry. The weaponry spoke of the nature and character of God. The women received fresh revelation of the grace, of the mercy and of the unchanging nature of God; the banner of Righteousness over them was without blemish.

The women were then dispatched to the north, the south, the east and the west. They were equipped to wage war. There was a blinding light, which was the Glory of God; His Shekinah was their hiding place. The women entered the battle from a place of refreshing, hidden in the Glory, equipped with strong armour, with a new revelation of their authority in Christ Jesus. They had been called, commission and sent forth.

THE SOUND OF WAR

I heard the sound of many horses, and the angels were released to fight alongside the women. The sound of war was all around.

WOMEN OF GOD, ARISE!!

"Women of God arise. Women of weeping arise. Women of courage and women of destiny come forth from thy hiding places, see thy hiding place is now in My Shekinah. Your labours of love have not been hidden from My sight. It is time to come out of your prayer closets and to link up and to link arms across this land. Region to region, My Spirit shall bring about divine connections and Holy alliances. Many of you have felt as though My Spirit and My Presence have departed from Your land, but see the season of bareness has come to an end and the wilderness shall come forth from desolation into fruitfulness. The spirit of Hannah shall release Samuel to the nations. The spirit of Miriam shall bring forth the new sound for revival. The spirit of Elizabeth shall birth many apostolic sons and daughters who will prepare a people for the Lord, and the spirit of Mary shall release faith and humble obedience as My Spirit overshadows my children, to bring forth apostolic anointing."

I have not departed from you; I stepped back only in order that you might press in for more of Me. See the wilderness shall bloom and you shall go forth a mighty army in My Name. Women of courage arise, see your Saviour goes before you and the hosts of heaven war on your behalf. Take courage, humble yourself under My mighty hand and press forward in faith for your destinies. Amen

In humility and love Catherine Brown

Woe to Those at Ease in Zion!

Joseph Herrin

(6-17-2000) bherrin@hotmail.com

THEME: The clergy/laity system is a corrupt, unscriptural system. It was created to meet the fleshly desires of both groups, clergy and laity. The clergy, like the Pharisees, love the place of honor that comes from elevating themselves above the mass of professing Christians. The laity, like the children of Israel at Mt. Horeb in the wilderness, do not want the rigors of holiness and true discipleship. They don't want to be personally responsible to God, preferring to be at ease, so they allow themselves to be categorized to a sub-class of Christians whose main responsibility is faithful attendance upon the superior class called clergy. They have found it easier to be the servants of men than the disciples of God.

Amos 6:1 Woe to those who are at ease in Zion...

WOE

An exclamation of sorrow, grief, misery.

EASE

(ez) (sha'anan, shall'anan, chiefly, "at ease"): Used 19 times in the Old Testament and once in the New Testament... in an ethical sense, indicating carelessness or indifference with reference to one's moral or religious interests... (from International Standard Bible Encyclopaedia, Electronic Database Copyright (C) 1996 by Biblesoft)

ZION

Zion, the highest of the seven hills upon which Jerusalem was built. A type of the church of Jesus Christ.

Hebrews 12:22-23 But you have come to Mount Zion and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to myriads of angels, to the general assembly and church of the first-born who are enrolled in heaven... (NAS)

I share these references and scriptures at the beginning of this article to make it clear who is being referred to and what they are being warned against. As the scripture in Hebrews so clearly reveals, Zion refers to "the general assembly and church of the first-born." That is you and I, if you are a believer in the Lord Jesus Christ. Woe, sorrow, grief, misery, is proclaimed to you and I if we are at ease, that is, if we are careless or indifferent regarding our citizenship in this place.

I have previously written and posted the articles, "The Phallic Church", and "Houses of Ill Repute" to proclaim God's displeasure with the Christian Religious System as it stands today. We are told that "Judgment begins at the house of God" and even as Jesus cleansed the temple at His first appearance, He will do so once again as He returns a second time. The temple in this case is built of living stones, you and I.

Even as it could be said "Woe!" to those who met the judgment of Christ at His first appearing; they were driven out of the temple with a whip, and some 40 years later this very temple and the Jewish Religious System it represented was destroyed so that not one stone remained upon another, even so this judgment will be repeated and what has become a den of thieves will once more become a house of prayer.

I have addressed other facets of God's displeasure with the Christian Religious System in previous articles, examining the attraction of ministers to the false system we call Clergy/Laity in the article "The Phallic Church", but this article examines the attraction of those referred to as Laity to this false role they have adopted. It is equally as evil.

The main attraction to remain in this unscriptural role is that it affords a sense of ease and a lessening of the demands of discipleship. The common understanding of clergy and laity is that the clergy are people who have devoted their whole lives to God and to serving Him in whatever capacity they are gifted and called in. The main focus of the minister's efforts correlate to his particular gifting and calling.

If the minister has the call of a pastor, he will be focused on shepherding, nurturing, feeding, and tending to the flock of God entrusted to him. In such a case the laity often become the focus of all ministry in the body. Rather than ministering according to their own callings and giftings they are viewed as subjects to be ministered unto. These often receive years and years of nurturing by their shepherd, but are never brought to maturity nor released into service themselves. They are perpetual children under the care of a benevolent minister who serves as their spiritual father.

If the minister has the calling of a teacher then the laity is often viewed as his students attending his school. Week after week, sometimes two or three times on Sundays, as well as Wednesday nights, and on other occasions, they sit under this teacher's tutelage and are instructed. However, by being viewed as laity, they often remain as students. They are seldom given opportunities to put into practice what they are learning. They are citizens of the world who are majoring in Christian understanding, with a distant minor in actually learning what it is to walk out their own relationship to the Father. Similar to college students, they are given lectures week after week, but there are usually few opportunities to apply what they have learned, except through admonitions to tithe and to be faithful to attend all classes.

If the minister has the calling of an evangelist then the laity either becomes the focus of his evangelistic efforts, or they become extensions of his own calling as he encourages them to evangelize the community they are in. In such a case the body is at least active, sometimes very active, in attempts to reach the lost, but many of the members are operating in callings and giftings that are not their own. Although all saints are told to "be ready always to give an answer to every man that asks you a reason of the hope that is in you..." (I Peter 3:15), not all saints have the gift or calling of an evangelist. They are often pressed and manipulated into roles and activities that are foreign to their personality or equipping.

These three callings seem to be the most predominant among those referred to as clergy. There are also those who have the calling of the prophet or apostle. If these too try to function while maintaining the false division of clergy and laity, similar aberrations will be manifested among those to whom they minister.

In all of these situations the minister's calling becomes the focal point of the body. Those who like teaching will gravitate to the teachers. Those who want the comfort and sense of belonging afforded by a pastor will be attracted to these ministers. Those who desire the appearance of great activity, or who have evangelistic hearts themselves, will often seek out groups headed by ministers who are evangelists.

In everyone of these situations, the minister is the one who does most of the work. The body often becomes an extension of the minister and expands the scope of the minister's work. The minister becomes the choreographer of the life of the church. He recruits different ones to fill slots, or, in larger churches and certain denominations, committees may be formed to handle the work of recruiting and enrolling people in what is deemed to be the mission of that particular fellowship.

What is lacking in this is the maturity that can come to the saints only through hearing from God personally and responding in obedience to His leading. The intimacy of knowing God, hearing His voice, communicating with Him, and responding to His summons in obedience is absent. The laity is trained to be man-led rather than Spirit-led.

This is a much more comfortable pattern for many saints, than discipleship. It is easier to listen to the pastor and respond to his direction than it is to develop a hearing ear before God and become responsible for one's own life and relationship to God. Many pastors don't require anything of those they minister to, other than to attend and pay tithes. This is low-impact Christianity at its peak. The Christian can be assured of an eternity in heaven and live his life with little consideration of what the Lordship of Christ actually entails. It is having your cake and eating it, too. Friendship with the world is not much of an obstacle. All one is really asked to give up is a few hours of his time and some money, and according to all statistics there are few who opt for this low requirement type of faith that give much of either.

However, if the particular pastor at one church teaches greater responsibility before God, and this seems too demanding, or if he exhorts the members to do something they feel uncomfortable in doing, they can simply go from body to body until they find a comfortable match. And sometimes, if the members don't want to do the leaving, they will ask the minister to leave and they will hire or appoint one who is more to their liking.

This option is not available to those who are true disciples and are being led of God's Spirit. If God asks something of His child that is difficult, a decision is mandated. Either obedience or disobedience must be chosen. However, these tough choices and uncomfortable moments can be wholly avoided by choosing to be 'laity' and opting to be led by a clergyman instead of God.

When God led the Israelites out of bondage to Egypt, their first destination was Mt. Horeb where they were to meet with God. It is said that God's presence on the mountain, although clothed in darkness and cloud, was terrifying. The ground quaked, there was lightning and thunder and fire. John Bevere, in a number of his books states that the Israelites chose not to approach God because they knew that he would require holiness of them. They had come out of Egypt, but Egypt was still in them. They therefore entreated Moses to meet with God for them and they would in turn receive God's instructions through him.

Is this not a picture of the clergy/laity system? Believers who are terrified at what a personal relationship to God and true discipleship would cost them, have opted to have a mediator stand between themselves and God. This mediator is the false class called clergy. It is the Pastors, the Priests, the Ministers, the Bishops, etc.. These clergymen are those who are deemed to have dedicated their lives to God and who are satisfied with the requirements of the Lordship of Christ upon them. Let them meet with God and those who are unwilling to make the same commitment can then continue to live much as they please while making a few concessions to the minister who is mediating between themselves and God.

This is a totally unscriptural pattern. Paul told Timothy:

For there is one God, and one mediator also between God and men, the man Christ Jesus... I Timothy 2:5 (NAS)

I would like to interject here that I am in no way speaking against the proper functioning of ministers nor am I belittling their calling. There is a genuine place for ministers among the body of Christ. They have a high calling and a clear commission from our Lord. It is not the existence of ministers that is a problem, it is the false way that many of them are perceived within the majority of the body of Christ that embraces the error of the clergy/laity separation. I have discussed the true calling of ministers in the articles mentioned previously.

It was Jesus who gave ministers to the body of Christ, but these ministers were not to replace Jesus in His role as mediator, they were to point men to Jesus. The ministers were not to be the ones who did the work of service before God. All saints were called to this. This is made clear in the scripture passage that speaks of Christ giving these ministers to the body.

11 And He gave some as apostles, and some as prophets, and some as evangelists, and some as pastors and teachers,

12 for the equipping of the saints for the work of service, to the building up of the body of Christ;

13 until we all attain to the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a mature man, to the measure of the stature which belongs to the fulness of Christ. Ephesians 4:11-13 (NAS)

All saints are called to do the work of service and are called to attain to the knowledge of the Son of God, to come to maturity and to the full stature of Jesus Christ. Yes, this is demanding. It means that the saint must focus on this calling and give up his attachments to the world and the pursuit of the things of the world. It calls for loving God with “all your heart, all your soul, all your mind, all your strength” (Mark 12:30). It is those who are at ease in Zion who have said, “Let the clergy devote their lives to God. We are content to be laity and live for ourselves. Only we will give lip service to God and we will fulfill the few requirements that seem good to us and which the man of God requires of us.”

“Woe to those who are at ease in Zion...” Why? Because “God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh shall from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit shall from the Spirit reap eternal life” (Galatians 6:7-8).

Jesus knows those who have pursued Him unrelentingly and without holding back, and He knows those who have chosen the path of ease. This is why He said, “Behold, I am coming quickly, and My reward is with Me, to render to every man according to what he has done” (Revelation 22:12).

If you would hear God say to you “Well done, good and faithful servant”, then you must do well. Don’t shrink back from God because you are afraid of what His holiness will require of you. Let go of your attachment to the idols of Egypt, then you will be able to approach the Living God. Then you will desire no mediator other than Jesus Christ.

38 But My righteous one shall live by faith; and if he shrinks back, My soul has no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of those who shrink back to destruction, but of those who have faith to the preserving of the soul. Hebrews 10:38-39 (NAS)

Father, Our flesh cries out in terror of the requirements of coming into your presence. We ask for Your grace that the spirit within us might rise up and put the flesh to death. Give us a glimpse of the joy set before us so that we might embrace the way of the cross, the way of discipleship. May we be so enamored of You that all else seems petty and fleeting in comparison. You are the joy set before us. You are the prize we are striving for. You are the object of our faith. May You be glorified as all creation sees your righteous ones passionately pursuing You. Amen

Woe To You, America!

Rose Everett

July 9, 2000

Woe to you, America, for I established you in MY Name and ordained that you walk in MY Ways. You were a country established on MY Principles...a land where all could come for Godly refuge and freedom. You, however, have perverted your ways. You have left off walking in MY Ways, and have become enslaved to the evil ways of this world. Not only that, but you have become an unholy leader, drawing...even demanding that the people within your borders serve you in your wickedness!

Woe to you, America, for you have sacrificed your children to a strange god!

Woe to you, America, for you have removed MY Name and prayer from your government, from your schools, from your holidays, from your media services, and are corrupting MY Churches with your lies and deceit!

Woe to you, America, for you are teaching and leading many of the souls in your nation to hell!

Woe to you, America, for you have sold your country to the evil powers of this world!

Woe to you, America, for you have turned aside to worship and serve Satan. Therefore, I will cease calling you back to walking in MY Ways. I will give you over to whom you serve that you may truly receive all that you deserve. You will call on ME in your torment and I will not hear. Some of you will finally realize the folly of your ways, but it will be too late. I will not strive with you forever!

Look now, America, that which you have sowed, you are about to reap! I have been patient with you for so long, and I have sent MY Prophets to warn you of the dangers in the ways you have chosen to walk...but you have turned a deaf ear to ME. Therefore, in MY wrath and holy indignation, I will turn a deaf ear to you, and you will indeed serve the master whom you have chosen to follow!

You have made your bed, now you must lie in it!

Woe to you, America, because of the wrath which is coming upon you! You are a stench in MY nostrils, and you will come to destruction!

Woe to you, Church of America, for you have sat idly by and allowed your country to become a land of heathens.

Woe to you, Church of America, for you have allowed Satan and his worldly domain to infiltrate the Body of Christ and MY Truth is being slowly perverted.

Woe to you, Church of America, for I have called you to go out and find the lost sheep and bring them home to ME. I have called you to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, heal the sick, and visit those in prison. You however, have sat in the pews of your large buildings...taking for yourselves and blessing each other!

I have these things against you, Church of America, and will not hold you guiltless for the evil things that you have allowed to come to pass in America and within your own four walls!

Look now, Church of America...for I am calling out MY true children from within you, and I will remove MY SPIRIT from you, and leave you to your father, Satan!

2ND POSTING -- PRAYING WITHOUT GIVING UP!!

(First posted October 24--now more applicable than ever!)

This exact posting was first sent October 24 to encourage people to pray to the VERY END without giving up. During this recount, it is imperative that we NOT GIVE UP but continue to ask that the Lord's will prevail. These can easily be times of testing to determine if we will prevail to the end!!

I honestly believe it is no surprise or even to be unexpected that the presidential race is the closest race in years. (My apologies to those overseas that don't much care about the American Presidential election!).

God, while never EVER late, has always been--a last minute God! The reason for this is to stretch us in every way and to test our resolve. The very thing HE wants to do--is the very thing He partners with US to bring to pass through our prayers and intercessions. It's the package deal. It's the way He set it up. And He seems to delight in the last-minute stuff--to test our resolve!!

Eph 6:18

And pray in the Spirit on all occasions with all kinds of prayers and requests. With this in mind, be alert and ALWAYS KEEP ON PRAYING for all the saints.

II Th 3:1-2

Finally, brothers, pray for us that the message of the Lord may spread rapidly and be honored, just as it was with you. And PRAY that we may BE DELIVERED from wicked and evil men, for NOT EVERYONE HAS FAITH.

Now, ---Only God Himself knows the heart of any man on earth. As Believers, we don't even know our own heart, much less the heart of any other man.

But the LORD knows all hearts-- of all men, at all times.

So how are we to pray? and in what manner?

Luke 18:1

Then Jesus told his disciples ... that they should always pray and NOT GIVE UP!

Again . . . ALWAYS PRAY . . . . AND NOT GIVE UP!

So, back to the point. The Lord has taken this election down to the Wire to teach US to pray about everything, all the time, in all ways and NEVER GIVE UP!!

Steve Shultz, THE ELIJAH LIST

WITH THAT IN MIND---BE ENCOURAGED BY THIS OTHER WORD . . .

As I saw us as a people take a step towards praying for our nation, I saw like our foot lifted up and ready to come down into the Promise Land. It was like crossing over a line from the wilderness into that Land of Promise.

As our foot was being raised up I heard giants screaming, yelling and trembling, shouting an alarm of fear throughout the enemy camps, declaring, "The people whose God brought them out of Egypt, through the Red Sea, through the Wilderness, are now coming into our land."

I saw giant-like spiritual walls like Jericho shaking, ready to fall down. I heard a voice, I believe the devil himself, shouting with fear and trembling, declaring, "If they continue to pray, there is no stopping them. We must stop them from praying or they will take the whole Land."

Without A Vision

Lindie Gibson

Awhile back, I received a message from the Lord that I believe is for the whole Body of Christ:

WITHOUT A VISION MY PEOPLE PERISH. The vision I wish My people to see, is not a glimpse into the future as you may think. The vision I long for you to behold and to desire with all your heart is a vision of Me. For when you see Me, you shall be like Me, and when you behold Me in all My fullness, your cup will be more than full; it shall be overflowing. And when your cup overflows, it will be My Spirit that overflows - overflowing into other cups that I have created and ordained to carry New Wine - which is My Spirit. When you began your journey, you saw Me through a glass darkly, for you were not yet containing nor reflecting the image of Me as I am. Yet, I have, by My Spirit, put within your heart a burning desire to see Me face to face. In the past, you have sought to know My ways, but the time has come for you to know Me. Do not look to My hands to see what I will do, but rather, look into My eyes, for in them you will see Perfect Love. When you look into My eyes, you shall know - but not in part - the breadth and length and depth and height of My love for you, and therefore be filled with all the fullness of Me. So open wide the windows of your soul and look.

And when you walk in the fullness of Me, you will not only be partakers of the knowledge of who I am, but you will be the fulfillment of that mystery of which I have spoken to the hearts of men in ages past. That which was hidden will now be revealed, for the time has come for Me to remove the veil.

In the beginning, man was made in the image of Me. I did not call him good, for he was perfect. I walked with man in the garden. After the fall, I came to man in appointed times and places. And since the blood atonement was given, I once again dwell in man, and like Paul, if you will press towards the mark of your high calling, your prize will be that you will be perfect, as I am perfect. All I ask of you is a repentant heart and a yielded will - and the Perfect will come. For I am that which is Perfect and I am that which is come, and I desire to turn all the dry places of your heart into rivers of Living Water, so in turn, you will fill the hearts and lives of all who are hungry and weary and thirsty - with My Spirit. I am your Dayspring and I am the Father of Lights and I am able to fulfill all that I have purposed for your life, and I will bring to perfection and completion all that I have begun.

Just as I raised Lazarus from the dead, I am once more pouring My resurrection power into this world to put life back into that which was once - not dead - but sleeping. Once more, before the curtain falls on this age, I will visit the valley of dry bones and restore the flesh of My Spirit back onto My people. See to it that you do not become a 'Martha' and get ahead of My work and My plans. My name is not 'I am going to be', but I am. Look to Me and only Me as your daily bread, for I am that manna come down from Heaven that will be new to you every morning. See to it that you do not look back on that which has not been accomplished, for in that, you become like Lazarus' Mary. My name is not 'I was going to be...' for I am that I am. When I wept, it was not over Lazarus' death, for I had not yet visited the tomb. Rather, My tears were for Martha and Mary, who because of their unbelief, could not see Me for who I am. So I have been visiting the Houses that are Mine and sweeping them clean of all that is not of Me. When I am allowed to sweep under the rugs and remove all that has been hidden - even from the eyes of men, then those who have chosen to continue with Me, in spite of painful purging and cleaning; these will overflow with the fullness of My power and My Spirit.

See to it that you walk as a House of Prayer every moment of the day. Do not allow thieves and robbers to enter in. Do not allow sin and unbelief to enter into your House. Hold fast to all that I have promised you; not only in My Word, but also that which you carry in the innermost sanctuary of your heart.

Walk close to Me and hear My heartbeat, and walk in that beat. Walk with Me daily in the garden of your heart. And listen to My voice; for there are many voices gone out into the world - all of them with significance. But if you will listen to Me - listen to My voice, you will know My voice and not be led astray; let into that which appears to be right and good, but is not of Me.

Do not lay your hand to those things that I have promised you, and thereby quench and grieve My Spirit. For it is not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit that My resurrection power will flow. Remain a steadfast House of Prayer and you will become My Isaac, and through you I will birth many Isaacs. For you are My chosen seed; the fulfillment of My promise to Abraham.

Just as I wrote My commandments on the tablets I gave to Moses, so have I written My commandments on the tablets of your heart. Just as I led My people out of captivity and through the wilderness, I am once again that pillar of fire by night - your burning flame of hope to lead you through the darkness of this age. Keep your eyes fixed on Me, for I will never leave you nor forsake you, nor lead you astray. Cease your murmurings, that you may enter into My rest and inhabit the land that I have prepared and promised you.

Believe. Believe. Believe all the words that I have given you and cherish them, for it is My Word that will bring forth the glory I desire and the deliverance you seek. Those who trust in Me shall never be confounded. Just as Adam missed the mark and My glory departed, I am that mark, I am the 2nd Adam, and I am the Glory and the Lifter of your head. Let me lift your head now, so that you can look into My eyes.....

Wounded Warrior

Jose Alvarez

4/18/2000

I saw a Native American man severely wounded with a deep gashing spear injury to the right side of his body. I know from the Lord that right side represents the side of action and activity. This I would gather could be a reason why many Native believers still find it difficult to be active in their faith. I then heard the words “the devil” and looked up to see a white man. I realized that to this severely wounded Native man as to probably many others like him, the white man represented “a devil.”

Then I saw that God had placed in front of this man wide open doors for him to go through, yet he was unable to go through them. He would get right up to the doors, but something paralyzed him that simply made him unable to through them. It was the severity of the wound that made it impossible for him to proceed. As he staggered through the roads of life I saw him still captive in his mind and soul to the torturous path of the “Trail of Tears.”

I then saw this Native American regard the white man first through eyes of deep mistrust, then intimidation, afterwards inferiority, and finally as a stern rebuker and corrector of what he the Native American was doing. It made no difference to the Native American man if this white man was a lost sinner or a preacher. The concept was still the same to him. The Word of God was seen in this same light. Even at the appearance of Jesus, through the stain glass windows of these painful bondages, the Native man beheld Him just as he did all the others.

As God showed me all of this, I Jose became increasingly agitated and confused exclaiming, “Lord what is the answer?”

The Lord then said to me, “The white man, the white Christian brethren, the one who caused the pain must now come and take the spear out of his brethren’s side and minister healing to the Native American.

I then saw a white man, whom I believed was a believer come to the right side of this Native man. However, he was hardly visible. His motions were so subtle, his presence was so transparent and almost invisible, that I could hardly discern, feel him, or see him, in the prophecy. As I waited on the Lord, I almost missed this white man ministering to the Native man as he suddenly became healed from the paralyzing wound. The white man finished ministering to the Native man to then vanish out of sight never to be seen again within the prophecy. Suddenly it was as if this Native man wakes up, sees who he is and what he can become. The pain is gone. The prophecy finishes by him gazing at a white preacher and feeling no pain whatsoever by his presence.

The presence of an almost invisible white man that comes by the side of the Native man to minister to him is part of an ongoing message that God has placed in my heart for more than two years.

When we ministered in Tuba City at the heart of the Dine Nation, God’s message to the congregation was one of exhortation to become an active and valuable part of Christ's body fully operating in the gifting and callings of Christ.

When God had us begin a Bible study to the Pueblo Nations of New Mexico, His words to us were "Make this into a Bible study that will raise up ministers amongst the Pueblo people."

This prophecy had the same message. "Let the Native man be ministered to so that he may minister unto Me."

It is time for all Native believers to come into the fullness of their callings and ministries.

Vitally important is the function of the Anglo brethren called to serve the Native believer.

His role is apostolic. He comes not to preach at the Native man. He comes not to take the center stage while the Native believer sits passively by. Those days are over.

The white brother or sister comes by the right side of the Native believer. This is the role of the paracletes or comforter. He comes along side to help. He comes to be reconciled to the Native brethren. He comes to minister to him the healing and ministry that are needed. He must come as a servant; he must come to lay down his life for the Native man or woman.

The Anglo brethren's role is almost invisible, almost insignificant in the eyes of man, though not of God. He comes so that the Native believer can take the center stage. When his ministry is over he steps back so that the Native man can shine and be all that he can for the Lord. His ministry is one so that that Native believer suddenly wakes whole and free and arises to take his rightful place in God's kingdom and destiny.

1999 WEST PALM BEACH PROPHECY THAT THE EYES OF THE WORLD WOULD BE ON "OUR COUNTY" -- Report from Jonathan Benz

From: Emissary International Posted on: south-florida-prayer-news@egroups.com Sent: Friday, November 10, 2000 12:58 PM Subject: South-Florida-Prayer-News Prayer Update From Palm Beach County, Florida

Dear Intercessors and Pray-ers,

Thank you for standing with our city and county during this time. Allow me to update you on the following:

SEPTEMBER 1999 PROPHECY ABOUT WEST PALM BEACH

1. In September 1999 Chuck Pierce prophesied in West Palm Beach that the eyes of the nation and world would be upon our county. Well, that is now happening. At that time, the Holy Spirit also identified perhaps the central principality over the county. Prayer teams have been dealing with that spirit since that time in targeted intercession at various locations throughout the county.

PRAY FOR ALL INVOLVED

2. Yesterday evening, I led teams of intercessors downtown at the site of the protestors. There were strong spirits of witchcraft, deception, strife, division and confusion in operation. The spiritual veil over the eyes of many of the protestors was very obvious. We prayed that the veil be lifted. Jesus loves these people, many of whom are disenfranchised, disillusioned, and hurting.

PRAY FOR TRUTH OVER THE AIRWAVES

As well, prayers were made yesterday evening that truth go out over the airwaves as there are media and television crews from all over the world present. As you pray, bind deception and confusion in the people as well as those demonic spirits being exported from Palm Beach County to the nation. We want demonic gates closed and godly gates opened.

INTENSE STRATEGIC LEVEL WARFARE

3. There is a spiritual sense here locally of intense strategic level warfare. We sensed last night many "national" demonic spirits that have arrived on site locally. The following prayer insights came from a prayer ministry we work closely with in Miami. I believe they are excellent Scriptures to loose over Palm Beach County at this time.

CONFRONTATION SUCH AS ELIJAH AND PROPHETS OF BAAL

"Monday night in our prayer meeting one of the members got Elijah and the confrontation with the prophets of Baal. Then she got Bashan. We were directed to Ps 22:12-13 Many bulls have compassed me: strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round. They gaped upon me with their mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion. (KJV)

"IN RIGHTEOUSNESS SHALT THOU BE ESTABLISHED"

Then this morning, the Lord reminded me that the Torah portion for last weekend was Is 54. Especially v.14-17 In righteousness shalt thou be established: thou shalt be far from oppression; for thou shalt not fear: and from terror; for it shall not come near thee. Behold, they shall surely gather together, but not be me: whosoever shall gather together against thee shall fall for thy sake. Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and that bringeth forth an instrument for his work; and I have created the waster to destroy. No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and their righteousness is of me, saith the Lord. (KJV)"

PRAYER REQUESTED AGAINST RACIAL AND DENOMINATIONAL DIVISIONS

4. Please pray for the Church of Palm Beach County. The political ramifications can cause racial and denominational divisions which we are standing against.

PLEASE FORWARD FOR PRAYER

5. Feel free to forward these updates to praying people and networks all over the world. We need the support here at this time. We are standing on our knees and waging war in the heavenlies against the evil one.

Who will Release My Spirit?

Linda Patterson

Early this morning I experienced a cry from the heart of My Father.

"The Spirit of the Lord wants to be released. Who will release My Spirit? He has been contained in man made boxes, push down and stifled. Allow Me to move in fire and in power. It is the power of My resurrection that will set the captives free and My fiery passion will melt the frozen hearts.

My desire is to have a heart totally submitted to Me. My agenda for this day is signs, miracles and wonders. Who will be a sign and a wonder for me?

My fire and power cannot be found in man made tradition and religion. Fresh fire brings life, creativity and strength. Who will be a fire starter for Me? Who will allow My fresh fire to spread forth to the nations?

Shaking and sifting, wilderness walking, old wineskins to new are all part of the process for the releasers of My fire. Fiery passion can only flow through prepared and yielded vessels.

Road blocks shall be removed. Nothing shall hinder the pathway I have chosen for My fiery messengers of truth. My Spirit groans and cries out for release and so shall it be.

1 Thess. 5:19 Do not put out the Spirit's fire....

Hebrews 12:28-29 Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, let us be thankful, and so worship God acceptably with reverence and awe, for our God is a consuming fire.

Now He who searches the heart knows what the mind of the Spirit is, because He makes intercession for the saints according to the will of God.

We See In A Mirror

John I. Moore

Miles City, Montana jlmoore@mcn.net

"For now we see in a mirror, dimly, but then face to face." 1Cor. 13:12

The Hand of God (Five-Fold Ministry) Beheld in the Mirror March 28, 2000:

Eighteen months ago, while driving a visiting prophet to the airport, the Lord gave me a quick open vision that I perceived as a new wave of evangelism that would sweep the Earth during the final Great Harvest. "This is the Five-Fold office of the evangelist," I heard the Lord say.

And I knew in an instant that much of what I understood about the dispensations of the Five-Fold ministry was incorrect. It was merely a type and shadow.

Recently the Lord began impressing on me the image of a photograph I took years ago for a college photography class. The photograph was of a mirror with the images of sky and corrals on its surface. The image appeared correct, but it was not only a representation. It was also in reverse.

"What is the perceived order of the Five-Fold dispensations?" the Lord asked me.

That's easy, I thought:

1950s - The Evangelist (Oral Roberts and others following the Latter Rain Movement)

1960s - The Pastor (Discipling and Shepherding Movement)

1970s - The Teacher (Charismatic movement and cassette tapes and television shows)

1980s - The Prophet (Kansas City prophets and others established)

1990s - The Apostle (conferences and books on the Apostolic)

"What's wrong with this?" the Lord asked.

It's backward, I thought. The foundation, not the capstone, was to be apostles and prophets. They were to be first, not last.

"However, the spiritual is not first, but the natural, and afterward the spiritual." 1 Cor. 15:46.

Entering Third Day power means turning and looking away from the mirror and toward reality. In the mirror the Apostle is shown last, which is true according to 1 Cor. 4:9 : "For I think God has displayed us, the apostles, last, as men condemned to death."

But these Second Day movements were birthed out of a Babylonian system. In most cases the system rejected them and spew them out of its mouth, but its origin was still Babylon. That is not to say the movements or the leaders were ungodly. They were Godly, but their foundation was the worldly church system.

As we press into the Third Day the Apostles will not be men and women who call themselves apostles and have transformed themselves according to 2 Cor. 11:13-14, but they will be called by God and transformed by the Spirit.

They will lay down a new work and persevere until it is finished. When this foundation is laid, the prophets will be embraced and released to speak without restriction. They will not fear man nor will they promote themselves. They will openly declare that which is "revealed by the Spirit of His holy apostles and prophets." (Ephesians 3:5)

The proclamations issued by the prophets will be a clear heralding to Teachers and these will search the Word and lead others to truth. Both the prophet and the teacher will carry a new imprint of the apostolic on their office and life. Under the old system, Paul noted: "For though you might have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet you do not have many fathers.: (1 Cor. 4:15)

The new teachers will carry the seed of the Father. They will not provoke their children to wrath, nor will they spend their children's inheritance. Instead, they will mentor the son into maturity.

After teachers have laid down the foundation of the Word, the new pastor will be released to shepherd the sheep to green pastures. Sheep cannot be force-fed, they can only be guided to where the Lord's provision is established. The hiring mentality will be purged. The fathering, apostolic spirit will not allow shepherds to seek their own, but will incite them to lay down their lives for the sheep.

Lastly, the heralders of Good News will be birthed and they will go forth as laborers into the fields. These new evangelists will be unlike anything the world has ever seen. Most will be very young in the natural, but they will carry the wisdom of age and they will display that "... the Kingdom. Like oil dripping down from the head, all the other anointings (apostolic, prophetic, teaching and pastoring) will be upon them.

Signs and wonders will follow; fire will come from their mouths; the Word will be revealed in their words; and the lost shall be searched for and found as they dedicate their lives to doing "the work of an evangelist." (2 Timothy 4:5)

Life and Death is being set before us as a doorway has opened in the heavens. We are in a period of painful transition. We can be like Alice and enter the looking glass in search of a Wonderland, or we can turn and receive the reality that has been prepared for us. "Your ears shall hear a word behind you saying, 'This is the Way, walk in it.'"

When The Brook Dries Up

Donna J. Kazenske

1 Kings 17:1-7 – And Elijah the Tishbite, of the inhabitants of Gilead, said to Ahab, “As the Lord God of Israel lives, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, except at my word.” Then the word of the Lord came to him saying, “Get away from here and turn eastward, and hide by the Brook Cherith, which flows into the Jordan. And it shall be that you shall drink from the brook, and I have commanded the ravens to feed you there.” So he went and did according to the word of the Lord, for he went and stayed by the Brook Cherith, which flows into the Jordan. The ravens brought him bread and meat in the morning, and bread and meat in the evening; and he drank from the brook. And it happened after a while that the brook dried up, because there had been no rain in the land.

Elijah seemed to know who he was in Christ Jesus as he spoke very authoritatively to King Ahab. His words were firm, direct, and quite precise. He didn't beat around the bush. He evidently knew something that King Ahab didn't know.

What would make a prophet of God act this way? Why would he command the rain to stop? After all, isn't it true that when most Christians pray, it's a cry for rain, not drought? Why would anyone pray for a closed heaven?

If we take a moment to read the 1 Kings (chapter 16), we find that the king of Israel (Ahab) was not a godly man. In fact, the Scripture declares that he did more evil than all the kings before him. He married Jezebel, the wife of the king of the Sidonians. I'm sure that most of us are very familiar with Jezebel and all of her evil deeds. She was heavily involved in idolatry and witchcraft. Her husband seemed quite content to follow along in her footsteps. Baal worship was one of their favorite past times. Their sins really are too numerous to count.

Israel's sin had become a stench in the nostrils of God, so He decided to do something about it. The Lord's anger began to stir, and He spoke these words to Elijah his prophet: “Get away from here and turn eastward!” He wanted His prophet out of there! We can't play with sin, nor can we have fellowship with it.

Elijah was quick to obey God, and by faith, he moved to the Brook Cherith. Everything seemed to be working out pretty good for Elijah. During his stay at his little hideaway watering hole, he was blessed with his own catering service. The Lord provided bread and meat for him every morning and every evening. What more could a man ask for? He didn't have to cook or go grocery shopping for his next meal. His food was brought directly to him. It was a perfect set up.

The Scripture goes on to say, “After a while the brook dried up, because there had been no rain....”

James 5:17 – “Elijah was a man with a nature like ours, and he prayed earnestly that it would not rain; and it did not rain on the land for three years and six months.”

A drought lasting for three and a half years would have quite a devastating effect upon a nation. I'm sure Elijah's thoughts were going in many different directions as he began to seek the Lord for counsel.

When a spiritual drought comes into our lives, we need to hear what the Lord is saying. We need to find out what's going on and ask ourselves some important questions, such as, “Why did the drought come in the first place? Is there sin in my life? Is God pouring out His wrath upon me for something that I did or didn't do? Or is it just time for me to move on to new pastures and new watering holes?”

Spiritual drought is not always an easy thing to go through, but I believe I can safely say that those dry seasons of life will definitely come our way.

When the Brook Cherith had dried up, Elijah once again heard the voice of the Lord speaking to him. This time, He told Elijah to arise and go to Zarephath. Zarephath is a place of refinement and purification. God still had some work to perform on the inside of Elijah. He wasn't finished with him yet. Elijah still had a few rough edges that needed to be smoothed out by the power of the Holy Spirit. Sound familiar? Elijah probably didn't realize all that would soon be taking place in the city of Zarephath, but He would find out soon enough.

Elijah was sent to a widow in the city of Zarephath. Why God chose this particular widow, we do not know for sure. There were probably many widows within the limits of this city, but God had specifically chosen this widow to be Elijah's subject for this season in his life. She didn't have many resources, nor did she have very much food. I'm sure Elijah was hungry and thirsty after his journey, and we find him asking the widow woman to bring him a drink of water. As she was going to get the water, Elijah petitioned her even further by asking her to bring him a morsel of bread in her hand. She was quite willing to fetch the water. However, when he insisted that she also bring him some bread, she became a little perturbed and proceeded to give Elijah a piece of her mind instead of bread. She made it very clear to him that she didn't have any bread, just a handful of flour in a bin and a little jar of oil.

God has a way of pushing us over the edge. That's exactly what Elijah did to this widow woman. He pushed her over the edge. She found herself in a place of impossibility.

Elijah continued his message, "Do not fear; go and do as you have said, but make me a small cake first, and bring it to me; and afterward make some for yourself and your son." Can you believe this? He was telling this poor widow woman to forget about herself and fix him some food first! Then he began to prophesy to this woman. She had probably never, in all of her life, had a prophetic word spoken to her. She was a Gentile woman. She was not a worshipper of God. This was all new to her. However, she didn't question Elijah this time. The Scripture says, "She went away and did according to the word of Elijah..." Her obedience brought the blessing! Her obedience loosed the hands of God to perform the miraculous in her desperate situation.

When our natural resources run out, the supernatural resources will begin to flow.

The Lord multiplied the small amount of food that the widow had, causing it to feed not only Elijah, but there was also enough for the widow woman and her son to eat until the heavens were once again pouring out the needed rain.

When the brook dries up, don't allow fear to grip your heart and cause you to have a panic attack. The Lord is right there with you in the midst of it all. If you will listen, He will speak, because He has a word in due season for your situation. He will either supernaturally provide for you, or He will move you to another place. Maybe you're getting ready to go to Zarephath, or better yet, maybe you're on your way to the Jordan. Wherever you're going, you must be obedient to do whatever He is telling you to do.

Words In The Toy Box

Judith Grobelny

Tonight I have been reading some excellent posts in various places, as God's people faithfully bring forth what they have heard from Him, may they be blessed, so many voices, so many crying, so many crying out and so few listening!

I feel a deep sadness tonight in my spirit, and it as if I see the people of God playing with prophetic words as children with a box of toys - amused by a toy for a short time and discarding it then looking for the next brightly colored object that would catch their attention.

These are God's words, lightly taken up, flavor of the moment, and quickly discarded when the flavor no longer seems fresh, but the Lord tells us that His words are powerful and effective and do not return to Him void - they are going to accomplish what He has sent them to do, whether we are watching or not!

How many have taken the words He has spoken and faithfully prayed over them, how many are holding them in their hearts before Him waiting for the outworking He has promised will come. How many have looked carefully at the words to see what is required of them in this time, what they can do in obedience to what the Lord is speaking.

Tonight I read "put on the whole armor of God" that carried a cry to battle that is hard to respond to when some of us are still being held by God and not yet fully released into the battle and I asked Him what would we do with this call in such instances.

I felt He pointed out to me again what the words said "put on the whole armor of God" and showed me that this applied equally to those already in the battle and those waiting for release.

He told me many have taken the words in Ephesians as words without the Spirit, something external they can pray on to themselves and walk on to the battle field. I felt at this time He was saying He wanted us to ensure that the belt of truth was not just external it permeated our whole being. The breastplate of righteousness is not just external it is to permeate all that we are. We are to closely examine every part of the armor and see how we can make such an integral part of us that the enemy will find no chink because there is no chink. It cannot be taken off us because it is not on us, but IN us.

For those who know they are currently held in a place of rest and preparation by the Lord, this is their time to ensure that the armor of God is not some clanking external garment that restricts movement, but something so much part of them that it empowers them and protects them as they move into battle.

Lord forgive us, that we do not hold the words you give us as so precious that we examine them to extract from them all the gold they contain and allow them to refine and purify us. Help us to see them with new eyes and open the eyes of our understanding that we may take from you all you are giving us for this time.

Bless those who are willing to risk their reputation, and the repercussions that will come, to faithfully bring forth the words you give them Lord.

When They Reject the Word

Alison Papenfus

When they Reject the Word of the Lord!

At some point the Lord begins speaking to us concerning our local church. For many this is the point at which they come unstuck! The word is delivered - and rejected.

This article originated as a letter to someone who had given his pastor a Word and the Pastor had rejected it - I have taken out the names, but chosen to leave in the personal references; my prayer is that it will help others who are hearing God and want to know what to do about it.

Giving the Word of God to Leaders in the Church

When we are challenged in the church we need to try to look at the situation from the point of view of the "other side" - it helps us to respond correctly rather than react to perceived offence

1. Prophecy will test the relationship between the one who gives it and the one who receives it Any prophetic word given within a church context is spoken into a relationship . No one can assess the state of a relationship at a distance, so the person who gives the word probably needs to be constantly assessing and building their relationships in the church. If a church rejects a word from a member the rejection says more about the state of the relationship than it does about the veracity of the word.

In other words - the relationship you build with people will often pre-determine whether or not they will accept the word of the Lord through you. Remember that other people's understanding of prophecy is likely to be rudimentary, and probably non-experiential. They may well need you to interpret the prophecy - and if they don't have relationship with you they will be reluctant to ask.

I don't like what people like Graham Cooke and Tony Morton are saying about relationship being the foundation of ministry. But whether I like it is not the point - is it the truth? I believe it is. Our relationships are precious in the eyes of the Lord - contend for them, don't ditch them.

2. The release of prophecy is subject to the will of God concerning timing and phrasing We can be absolutely correct in the heart of a word and still release it at the wrong time or in a form that the receiver can not accept. I know at least one Prophet who was put out of ministry - not because the word was WRONG but because the delivery broke the rules.

No matter how we phrase a word it can be misheard! And our timing can be wrong - perhaps we should have sat on it for a bit; perhaps we should have prayed into it - when we do that a situation may well arise into which we can speak the word and it will be received (reluctantly perhaps)

Some time ago I had a vision for our local church. I was taken through a series of rooms in which I saw certain types of evil and sin being performed in the centre of the church. In each room I saw the faces of those performing the evil. I felt physically sick at the end of it. Being very young in these things I shared it with the Pastor - but since one of the people involved in the evil was a prominent leader I chose to withhold the names of all of the people involved in the sin. He rejected the word . Since then every single one of those people has since been revealed as being involved in what I described at the time.

BUT - if I had known then what I know now I would not have told him what I had seen at all. I would have gathered a team of intercessors, shared it with them in confidence, and prayed into it until the stuff was revealed and could be dealt with. So what if no one knows what I saw? The EFFECT of the word more important than the status of the one who delivers it.

One morning in church the Lord opened my eyes and showed me what a man in the congregation was doing in private. In the natural I did not want to believe what I had seen . I shared it with my prayer partner - she didn't believe it either, but agreed to pray it through. Within three weeks his wife "discovered" what had been going on for years. God took a hand, and reconciliation has apparently been achieved. Prayer was enough.

What I am saying you already know - not every word is for sharing. The purpose of the word is to accomplish that for which it was sent. One of the distinguishing features of mature prophetic ministry is this - knowing what to do with a word, and when to do it.

3. The perceptions about the one who brings the word inevitably have a bearing on the attitude to the word. Prophetic people resent this - but it is the truth. We are told to judge people by their fruits - and the church takes that very seriously. They are excellent fruit inspectors - and in their eyes those that cant produce what they are looking for don't have to be listened to.

Now - we have to look at the vessel. Are you a prophet in their eyes? You may have prophetic anointing - you could (in God's processes) become absolutely anything - but do they see you as being there now? If not there are very distinct limits to what they will accept from you - and you need to observe those limits carefully.

Churches have criteria for prophets - and they are very high! They look for stunning revelations that have come to pass and really changed the course of events; they expect signs, wonders, miracles or healings that endorse our spiritual authority. They might inspect track record in another church if you are a visitor. And if we do not have any of this there may be wealth or influence that they dare not offend. It doesn't matter how often we say that the criteria are not correct (and in the last case not even godly!) - those are the things they are looking for. Many people say to me "there is no way I am ever going to live up to those criteria!" Don't be too sure! God has a way of unmistakably endorsing those he has chosen.

Because this is so we all (all the time) need to build relationship and credibility that will be the foundation for the acceptance of the word of the Lord from us. That takes time. It takes risk. It costs. It takes effort. Many prophetic people are so caught up with introspection that they don't take time to do this - and as a result their word is most unlikely to be accepted in their local church. If it is not accepted there it is highly unlikely that it will be accepted anywhere for long.

An international prophet had spoken in a local church three years running. The first two years he spoke to them about the course that God had called them to and they pursued it - the Lord blessed them. Perhaps because of the blessing the Pastor started clearly revealing a heart which wanted to control everything himself. In the third year the same prophet spoke some correction. The pastor had a fit, and refused to invite him again. A month after the prophet left the newspapers got hold of a financial scandal in that church, someone released minutes of elders meetings to them at which the Pastor revealed his control thing clearly! The prophet was vindicated without a doubt. But even he took the time to build the relationship before he spoke correction.

Don't see the rejection of a word you have given as a gulf to be crossed. It is not that. It is relationships to be built. Jeremiah had relationship with five kings of Judah. They hated him; but they knew his word was the truth. It took him time to build to that point! Jesus had relationship with 12 disciples; it took him time to build that, but they followed him and endorsed his ministry with the people because - having built that relationship - they knew he was for real. If the disciples had walked out because Jesus was not living what he preached then miracles or no miracles the credibility of his teaching would have been gone, his word would not have been worth a handful of desert sand.

4. Humility is the only way to go You are going to say "I HAVE humbled myself!" - and for anyone in any depth of prophetic ministry, that's true! But there is no end to the AREAs of humility that God will speak to us about - he is going to strip every area of our pride before he is finished so that his glory will be seen. Don't hang on to "rights" - if we do God will bless us with another trip around Mt Horeb. It's hot, sticky and very dry in the desert - dump the rights and look miserable before him - if there is one thing he cant take it's kids who are humble and obedient but unhappy (Judges 10!) - he will do something for them every time.

5. Steering Clear of the "Three C's"
Condemnation
Control

Criticism These have to stay out of our prophecy. If someone (and particularly someone in authority in the church) hears criticism it doesn't matter that you didn't intend to be critical - he will react to what he hears! When it happens we need to try to talk it through with the person. But if the underlying motive was not pure - if there really was some condemnation, criticism or control in that prophecy - then we can be sure that we will be cornered by the Spirit of God when we try to talk it out.

We need to root out the three c's ruthlessly in our words, in our thought life, in our actions. Don't give them a place. Don't pray them, don't think them, don't speak them. Then they wont get into the prophecy. People say "Hey, you are asking me to throw away my reason! I cant go uncritically through life with blinkers on!" In the natural - that's right. But I want to be consumed by the way God sees things - and that means sacrificing some of my natural rights. It's a choice I make. It demands that I be humbled (present continuous tense) and live without many of my "natural" rights. We can resign from this place anytime. We stay in this place by choice.

6. Did I get it right?

When a word has been rejected it hurts. Our first question is "did I get it right?" We are inclined to become defensive - "I KNOW I got it right!" and tell everyone around how we have been wronged. Is there are way to KNOW if we got it right?

I am going to duck the question in a sense and say this - even if we hear right (and I think that most of the time we do hear right) we can still destroy the effect of the word by wrong delivery - wrong wording or wrong timing. If we do that then the word does not have the effect for which it was intended. If it doesn't have God's intended effect then it is not the word of the Lord. So - a word is only CORRECT when all three come together.

What am I saying? That I can hear right - and still get it wrong. That I can hear right and have the timing right - but if I speak it from my soul or flesh I still don't get it right in the end.

How near to God to prophets have to walk? Right in the FIRE of his presence. If you see singed eyebrows and smell fire - that's quite normal for prophets.

Am I proposing anything? Yes - two things.

I. Build relationships in your local church - with leaders and non-leaders, at the very least with the local Pastor responsible for you in your church

II. Gather a group of intercessors and begin to build relationship with them. So that a word can be prayed through in confidence if necessary. (WARNING: Intercessors have to learn the meaning of "in confidence" [sigh])

In all frankness, if my mentor (which I didn't have) had said all this to me four years ago I would probably have gone off in a huff - so I wont be at all surprised if some who read this article feel that way. But I will be disappointed. Because until prophetic people are in committed relationships within their churches, until we admit that we do make mistakes and need to learn from them, until we confess that we are not perfect and don't walk as close to the Master as we should - until then we are not going to see the power of prophetic ministry released in the local church.

Blessings

While The World Lies Sleeping

Olivia Reitz

In the middle of the night, in the wee hours of the morning, when the world is asleep, I will release My Spirit. Though some will be physically asleep, they will be spiritually alert. My Spirit will fall like a torrential rain fall, it will flood this earth like nothing ever seen before. As in the days of Noah, there will be a flood of My Spirit and it will be as the world sleeps. I am sending forth town criers, state criers, and nation criers....crying "Awake, Awake Oh Children of God...Awake to the pouring out of My Spirit....Awake, Awake Oh Sleepers to the pouring out of My Spirit...and Awake, Awake Oh Earth of the pouring out of My Spirit.

I felt the Awake, Awake, Oh Children of God is the church.

I felt the Awake, Awake, Oh Sleepers is religion and the ones falling away.

I felt the Awake Awake Oh Earth is the lost.

Prepare For The Glory

Olivia Reitz

Prepare yourselves, My children. The restraints are falling off like fetters. The things that have held you back are being removed. Your time is now! From the north, south, east and west, I am gathering My chosen ones. My Glory is coming down, be prepared and be ready.

Don't say this is another word, this is a time to prepare yourself. I AM moving and now is the time.

You have been in a place reserved for MY select people, MY chosen people. During this time I have shown you and given you MY heart, MY love, and My compassion. I have placed you here and now prepare for the Glory, for you have been refined by the refiner's fire and have come out...shining as pure gold. There has been a new birth and this child is coming forth, full of MY Glory.

I AM calling forth a Holy people, Holy and consecrated to Me and you have been called for My purposes. I have consecrated you and pulled you aside for My hand to be upon you for My purposes. I AM sending you forth for My purposes. I AM sending you forth IN MY NAME. I AM going with you, My hand is upon you. Look not to the left or right, but keep your eyes and focus upon Me.

Yes, I have called you for such a time as this. Be prepared to come forth, for it is time. Awaken, shake yourself from your slumber. Rise up! It has begun. Come to Me that I may bless you and anoint you and give to you, your inheritances. Prepare to come into MY inner chambers, reserved for MY chosen ones.

Prepare yourselves to receive like never before. Fear not, for you have been well trained. You will speak forth MY words, pure words, undefiled words. And signs and wonders shall follow as MY words are spoken, for you are My hands extended.

Yes, I AM moving swiftly. I AM calling out My chosen ones. Do not be concerned about circumstances around you, as I have it all under control. This is MY move and MY calling, it is "I" that will accomplish the miraculous.

There is a voice going forth from the wilderness saying "prepare ye the way of the Lord." It is the voice of My chosen ones going forth.

Be prepared to stand in MY GLORY. For MY GLORY to reflect on you. You are the vessels prepared and ready to be filled with the GLORY. Be prepared to walk MY walk and go where I lead. Be Prepared for the GLORY.

Will You Take The Sword?

Anthony Jacob Hulsebus

This is the vision and word of the Lord I received on Wednesday, December 1st 1999 at Living Waters Christian Church, Hopkins, MN

I was looking it seems, from above or at least on a tall ladder or Vantage point, at a very large battle scene. There was an eerie or holy awe or silence about the scene. In front of me I saw a multitude of people that seemed in the hundreds of thousands, all gathered compactly, facing the same direction. They were wearing normal clothes but it was almost dark at this time or what seemed to be around dusk. The air was dark and thick with some type of smoke, but not necessarily a burning, more like a mist or clouds.

As I looked on, in front of this multitude, was a very powerful angel, about 7 1/2 to 8 feet tall. Normally when I have seen angels they were somewhat transparent and only had white outlines to their bodies and features. This angel was solid white in appearance, opaque as it were, unlike any I had seen before. He seemed more humanlike than other angels. The impression was one of a rogue yet seasoned warrior, one who has spent more time with the enemy than at the throne of God from where he received his orders.

He had longer hair than most angels I have seen and some type of a cape on and a belt that seemed to carry some type of authority or designation of his position. The belt had awesome jewels on it that were small but again potent with their purity and color. His belt had a sheath for his sword but it hung empty now.

In his hand was a very powerful sword, teeming with life and energy and power. Almost humming with movement. It was not unusually large or unwieldy, but simply potent. It seemed to me that even he was afraid to hold this sword and that he had extreme reverence for it. Knowing that if he misused it, it would mean instant death and destruction of him and even the remembrance of him.

The awe of this sight still grips my heart as I write this down. He stood at first holding the sword unsheathed and up in front of him, almost like HE was at attention. His face was extremely stern and serious, yet I had a sense that his heart was gentle and full of wisdom. He looked piercingly straight ahead as if awaiting a command and apart from that command nothing whatsoever would make him even so much as flinch.

Then I was allowed to look to the opposite or other side of the peoples gathered together on this battle field, for that is indeed what was before me. Now it was if I was on the people's side, whereas before I was on the opposite side, the enemy's side if you will. As I looked I saw a very blackened earth, full of what looked like large bomb craters. On this side there was absolutely nothing living. Complete bareness and bleakness. Total decimation. As if a nuclear bomb had done such utter destruction that you could yell for miles and there would be nothing but echo and the howling of wind.

After seeing this other side I was again in front of the multitude and I then watched the angel, as if on cue or command, turn around with this sword held in both hands pointing to the sky. He then turned to each individual and looked them in the eye. For a split moment I became one of these people and saw his terrible and awesome countenance and I could barely stand the intensity of his gaze, (now I know why no man can see God and live), and as he looked into each person he pushed the sword out ever so slightly and each one knew he was asking them to take the sword.

He spoke no audible words ever. But you knew he was saying "you, you; are you able to take sword of the Lord? Are you able to take what I am about to give to you -are you willing to go to battle, to the death? Many, many of those there looked at him blankly as if to say, "what is this?" "What do I do with this sword?" They seemed almost to stutter saying "uh, uh, I don't know what to do with this" "what exactly is it you want?" To those the angel quickly passed over.

He then went on, methodically and solemnly, and found those that did take the sword and the commission therewith, and these who took it became solemn and as resolute as the angel himself did. The Spirit of God then sealed them to everlasting life, to overcome even to the end. It was if this was the final calling and sealing of the saints of this generation. Many are called but few are chosen.

The then Lord spoke thus to me saying "today is the day of the sword of the Lord. Today is the day of the sword of the Spirit. Today is the day dividing, of division. From those who take MY sword and those who will not. For as I have said "To him who has will be given more and to him who has not, even what he does have will be taken from him" Luke 19:26. A fulfillment of the principle of the talents (minas). To the one who will not use what he has been given even what he has will be taken away from him.

"I am causing those who use what they have to increase and those do not use what they have to grow poor spiritually."

"So whence this division?" you ask. "Where does it come from and why does it come?"

"Time in the spirit has changed. A line of time and dispensation has been enacted. This is the day of supernatural quickening. Processes are stepped up. Time frames in the spirit are quicker; the manifestations took place in the natural first. Telecommunications, the Internet, generation X doing in ten years what took other generations 20 or 30 years.

Everything is quicker; more intense; God has done this to prepare a generation to be quickened and to quickly grasp His kingdom. That is why what took years now takes months and what took months now takes hours."

"Now I will divide the sheep and the goats - the tares and the wheat. So say now to those in the kingdom: "Grow up or be left behind, equip others or be as one dead and a doorsweep in my kingdom. What I tolerated last year or even yesterday I will call upon you to overcome. For My truth must be fulfilled - My word is quickened now to come to pass. I have set a time and now is the day of calling; a calling of those who were "retired", wounded or put aside, back to service. Those who are young shall mature quickly, those who are old shall speak wisdom and all of that which they know."

Personal to me; not to the body, but I thought this would be very helpful; "And you my son are to be a leader and general. - but one must discipline oneself to prepare for battle. So today is the day of discipline for you. Be sober- for these are sober days - the enemy has stepped up his activity in response to Me. Know that many spiritual tragedies will take place. There will be many spiritual tragedies but you must not be dismayed; only be courageous and fight with My word. For the beginning of the fight starts in your mind, then the enemy will manifest his attack in the natural of what he started in the mind, i.e., fear, fear of disease then symptoms of disease.

Know his devices and war with him with My word. Speak to all situations and draw near in worship and you will prevail. Remember where your strength comes from; prayer, praise and worship.

"Tell others all that I have said, begin now opening your mouth. I have given you a mouth to deliver others. Your eyes see what is truth in the spirit realm. Others don't see it - but you must speak to what you know. I will always back you up. Fear not. I am behind you and your rear guard. I have never failed you not will I ever. For my hand is on you to uphold you. My word will bear witness with those who know Me. I will confirm it with signs and wonders"

This concludes what I heard from the Spirit of Truth. I can only hope that as you and I read and reread this word that we will take up the "sword of the Lord" and be counted among those worthy of His calling, having our robes washed in the precious blood of the Lamb and be willing to be a part of that great company who have loved not their lives even unto the death, who stand before the throne night and day and cry "Worthy are you to take the book and open the seals for you were slain and did purchase for God with your blood men from every tribe and tongue and people and nation. And you have made them to be a kingdom and priests unto our God and they will reign upon the earth"

Grace be upon you all.

Your Destiny

Paul N. Gervais

The Restoration Of Your Destiny

"For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace (plans to prosper you), and not of evil, to give you an expected end (hope and a future)." Jeremiah 29:11

"For surely there is an end; and thine expectation shall not be cut off." Proverbs 23:18

"And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not." Galatians 6:9

"My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him." Psalm 62:5

Without question, this is the most exciting hour to be alive, as God fulfills that earthshaking promise of pouring out His Spirit upon all flesh...the just and unjust alike, facilitating the greatest harvest of souls in humanity's history. And to think, planet earth will be filled with the knowledge of Heaven's Presence, a time when good overcomes evil in a profoundly vital, experiential fashion.

That glorious manifestation of signs, wonders and miracles, a torrential transference of those good and perfect gifts, will become more prolific as the Believer responds to the Revelator's nudgings and promptings. The Church has not always been taught that She was created for fellowship with Him. In fact, Papa's desires are strongest in that direction. He isn't merely an uncaring Leader, sitting on the Throne, thinking of new ways to make us miserable. To the contrary, conveying destiny...a future, hope and blessings, is at the top of His agenda.

A SEASON OF SUDDENLIES IS UPON US!

Listen attentively! We live for Him. But He much more exists for the Believer. You were not your idea, but God's! And don't all good parents establish plans and provision for their offspring?

Along with that, a Season of Suddenlies is upon us, as the gap narrows between the spoken Word and manifestation. This celestial ball is looking for a Jesus with flesh on. Well, you are His Body, Papa's Kid and Ambassador. All creation backs your every move, yearning for that mandated manifestation. Without it, much of the world would be lost. Ready yourself for the best Father has to offer! Freely you have received the Glory. Liberally dispense Heaven's Medicine!

While those stirring facts are being shared, I sense His eagerness to deliver additional mail, as the Spirit of the Lord is afforded free course.

YOU ARE NO ACCIDENT!

"Understand, Anointed Bride, a plan, purpose and design lies behind your existence. As the Chosen, no longer your own, you have been imminently challenged in numerous areas of life and ministry to take inventory, make mid-course corrections, contemplate the costliness, while totally surrendering to the Mind and will of the Creator. Little time is left if the Cloud is to be diligently followed. So much hangs in the balance. In one word, it can only be described as destiny.

Sadly, thousands have journeyed forward and gone Home without ever realizing or fulfilling the blueprint for their lives. The Youngsters aren't present to merely occupy space or make it through, somehow, but are, in reality, walking this land as Living Epistles (Bibles), known and read of all men...lively stones, activated to speak forth the oracles of Dad, work the works, reverse captivity, restore and reconcile all things to Me. However, before advancing, the Soldier has to know who he is in Christ, being adequately acquainted with the Power and authority behind the Name that is above all others. Precious, surrender to this heartcry. In the process of yieldedness, destiny will automatically be unveiled and rediscovered."

ABUNDANCY!

"The thief has robbed Daddy's dream for far too long. What more can you expect from that boy? For he comes to steal, kill and destroy. But the Spirit of your God is present to grant a more abundant (than the world) Life. Let the former days of lack, doubt, sickness, poverty, depression and despair be history. The old has passed away. All has become new! I say this prophetically to you. Satan is to steal no longer. Neither are the Kids to afford him any place. Setting one's face as flint, in the direction of the Throne Room, will result in intimacy with the Father, as well as revelation and subsequent manifestation. If you are going to fall (and that won't happen) do it in the direction of My perfect will!"

AN ATMOSPHERE OF EXPECTANCY!

"An atmosphere of expectancy will always be the breeding ground for Heaven's miraculous. Since the beginning there has not been such Divine electricity in the air...an anticipation of absolute victory."

"The breeze is blowing through the mulberry trees. And My people have never been more hungry, thirsty or ready to be literally and figuratively fed from that Secret Place of the Most High. Satan has taken his best shot. Now, Dad is poised to make His move at that proverbial chessboard and ultimately clean the adversary's clock. How will that occur? The answer can easily be found in the Word...through the Kids, Father's very pride and joy."

"Apple of My Eye, let Me show you great and mighty things. Then go in and possess the land. It's there for the taking!"

A side note: Why do so many perish? I believe the reason for that is a clear-cut lack of vision, relative to destiny and identity...who we are in Christ. For some reason, little by little, the soul's enemy has conditioned the Bride to accept negativity of all forms, while setting aside those marvelous revelations. We have become desensitized to his antics, complacent and occasionally contrary-minded, blaming Papa for evil. Well, change has arrived. It's beginning to rain! This surely is the day of destiny's restoration, a period when the Wind of the Holy Spirit will dust off those promises, while breathing new life into what was uncovered in the Holy Place. Time has been compressed. Behold, He is about to come quickly in many forms!"

DREAMS AND VISIONS--HIS LANGUAGE!

"Hope deferred makes the heart sick. I am implanting a new song, Precious Child, one of joy, articulating the plan. Trust that Voice on the inside. For it is Dad working in you, both to will and do of His good pleasure. Fear not!

A stone will not be offered for a loaf of bread. Feel the Fire in that belly! Go with it! Trust your Unction...that excitement and enthusiasm, since they are from Me. Our dream is taking on new life! Go with the flow. Cease struggling, as Papa takes you from Glory to Glory The dream/vision will not always tarry! Await manifestation, leaning upon the Holy Spirit for encouragement and further disclosure."

HEAVEN'S CONTAGION! "Have I not instructed My Beloved to overcome evil with Good? Would Papa ever refuse to maintain the same standard for Himself? Certainly not! We are in symphony together. When the Children obey that still, small Voice, there are no errors, only successes, as your God goes before you to prepare the way and make those crooked places straight. Has it not also been written that I will walk with, in, beside and behind the Soldier? Where sin and its byproducts abound, Grace is to be even more prevalent and visible.

Recognize the excellency of that Power, the Treasure within each earthen vessel...the Greater One, if you will. No matter where you are sent, a trail of signs and wonders will invariably follow. Look not to them (signs and wonders), but to Me, the Sender! The Church, individually and collectively, will be a spreader of the Glory...that positive, Holy Spirit Contagion. Just as the enemy uses destructive viruses to promote sickness and misery, I will invade this world with the very Presence and Essence of Heaven. The reaper is about to surpass the sower. In the eyes of man, evil has appeared to be dominant. However, that is changing even as these words are articulated. Prepare for the most awesome display of My best!

Satan crucified the Lord of Glory. Nevertheless, He is now the Resurrected, Victorious Christ. Dad sowed His only begotten Son. His Seed is presently placing a demand on the ground for a magnificent harvest of souls! And so shall it be! Your Grand Designer has spoken.

Will He not also bring it to pass?"

You Do Not Need Anyone To Teach You

Stephen Hanson

Oct. 25, 00

1JN 2:[27] As for you, the anointing you received from him remains in you, and you do not need anyone to teach you. But as his anointing teaches you about all things and as that anointing is real, not counterfeit--just as it has taught you, remain in him.

1JN 2:20 But you have an anointing from the Holy One, and all of you know the truth.

JN 14:25 "All this I have spoken while still with you. [26] But the Counselor, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you all things and will remind you of everything I have said to you. [27] Peace I leave with you; my peace I give you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid.

We are told in Ephesians 4:11 that various ministries are given to build up the body of Christ and "prepare God's people for works of service," and without these ministries then, we cannot come unto maturity. However, each of us has an inner witness, an anointing, that will teach us ALL things. This inner witness, the Holy Spirit, resides inside each believer, and is "true."

The very anointing which Christ has is inside you and me. When He went away He left a counselor, an "anointing," that would remind us of ALL that He spoke and taught. We need but listen to that anointing and we will have all that we need. He is the "way, the truth, and the life," and we have access to that truth and life. We need to realize that we can all approach the throne of God with "confidence," in our hour of need, and at ALL TIMES come before Him. We need not go to a priest, or another, to petition our requests. We all have access. He can teach us all, and we can all come to know that TRUTH.

HEB 8:10 "This is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel after that time, declares the Lord. I will put my laws in their minds and write them on their hearts.

I will be their God, and they will be my people.

HEB 8:11 No longer will a man teach his neighbor, or a man his brother, saying, 'Know the Lord,' because they will all know me, from the least of them to the greatest."

Now to sure, we must "remain in Him," in order for Him to teach us. We will wither and die if we are no longer part of the vine, and we can do NOTHING apart from Him. He is our Father, and we need not fear, but trust that when we earnestly seek Him, that He will be there and will reside INSIDE US. Those who have gone before us, the prophets, who spoke of the grace that was to come to you, searched intently and with the greatest care, trying to find out the time and circumstances to which the Spirit of Christ in them was pointing when he predicted the sufferings of Christ and the glories that would follow." I Pet. 1:10-11

Although they did not know "completely" what the Spirit was perhaps revealing to them at the time, they knew that they were serving us, and they "intently" looked into these things. But it is Christ in you, "the hope of Glory." This is the mystery hidden for ages, and yet it is so simple and yet so profound. Truthfully, we are incomplete without each other's part and without being in relationship. But again, we "all have access to Him," and that anointing will bring us into ALL things, even in showing us "things to come," and in reminding us of what "has been spoken" by Him in the Spirit and in the word.

Dear people trust that inner witness of the Holy Spirit that is inside of you. Be in relationship with other believers and do not forsake the assembling together as many do. But trust the teacher inside of you. He will bring you unto ALL truth. He will remind you of what He has spoken and:

JN 16:12 "I have much more to say to you, more than you can now bear. [13] But when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all truth. He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come. [14] He will bring glory to me by taking from what is mine and making it known to you. [15] All that belongs to the Father is mine. That is why I said the Spirit will take from what is mine and make it known to you."

Your GOD Is A Consuming Fire

Mary Koons

September 02, 2000

*Then [at Mount Sinai] His voice shook the earth, but now He has given a promise, Yet once more I will shake and make tremble not only the earth but also the heavens.
Now this expression, Yet once more, indicates the final removal and transformation of all [that can be] shaken, that is, of that which has been created, in order that what cannot be shaken may remain and continue.
Let us therefore, receiving a kingdom that is firm and stable and cannot be shaken, offer to God pleasing service and acceptable worship, with modesty and pious care and godly Fear and awe;
For our God [is indeed] a consuming fire. (Hebrews 12:26-29)*

Your God IS a Consuming Fire!
Mary (Koons) Wattenford

I AM a "consuming fire....." and yet those things which I touch that I want "kept" are not singed by My Fire. Were not Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego protected in the fire that burned SEVEN times hotter? Was the Burning Bush consumed? Was Moses harmed by My Fire that issued forth from it?

The fires rage - first to show my extreme displeasure but also to show my mercy.... In My great mercy I send "the latter rain." And for those who will but receive it - the consuming fire does not destroy, but protects! YOUR GOD IS A CONSUMING FIRE..... A fire of intense heat, fiery white heat - protecting My own, but destroying everything else in its path. Woe unto me, cried My servant Isaiah, for I am a man of unclean lips! But "the coal" placed upon his lips - MY FIRE protected him from standing before Me. Yet what did My servant Isaiah say unto Me? "Here I am Lord, SEND ME!"

My Spirit searches to and fro throughout the earth, looking for those who would "be touched" by the FIRE OF MY SPIRIT.... Who have THIS BURNING DESIRE - to serve ME! Who quake in reverential fear at My Presence, but who know I AM a God of Mercy, one who forgets their transgressions as far as the East is from the West. "Let My "purifying fire" consume ALL that is NOT of ME," sayeth the Lord, "for what remains is the PURE, FIERY WHITE HEAT of My Spirit that causes the enemy to run in terror! Even the fires of Hades can not stand My consuming fire! Who will stand in the day of My wrath? HE WHO HAS CLEAN HANDS and a PURE HEART!"

I AM A CONSUMING FIRE! Penetrating to the deepest part within you, burning through your flesh, to "IGNITE" My Spirit and causing all other things to be GONE in the desire to serve Me, even as I served. The fires around you cause havoc and destruction, property and lives have been "consumed" by the *conflagration that has not been extinguished by man's best efforts. Would it be less so with Me? Would I be less than able to consume anything within you that is NOT of ME? Will MY FIRE NOT protect and burn within you? A FIRE EVEN WITHIN YOUR BONES?

YOUR GOD IS A CONSUMING FIRE..... and the conflagration that comes forth will cause havoc and destruction, dedication and purification to serve your God. As the FIRE FALLS from My Throne Room upon My "elect," they too will become as ONE CONSUMED... CONSUMED WITH A BURNING DESIRE TO TELL OTHERS, TO SET THEIR LIVES AND PRIORITIES STRAIGHT, TO WORSHIP ME IN SPIRIT AND IN TRUTH... For I AM a GOD that seeks those who WORSHIP ME who will NOT BE CONSUMED within My presence; just as the BURNING BUSH, was not consumed. Just as My servants within the fire were protected by the Fourth Man.. and were not consumed... Even as My servant Isaiah was NOT CONSUMED. The FIRE that PURIFIES, CLEANSSES, and IGNITES THE DESIRE TO SERVE!! Be watching for this My Children - for BEHOLD IT COMES!

Then said I, Woe is me! For I am undone and ruined; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for my eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts.

Then flew one of the seraphim's to me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with tongs from off the altar:

And with it he touched my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched your lips; and your iniquity and guilt are taken away, and your sin is completely atoned for and forgiven.

Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for Us? Then said I, Here am I; send me.

And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear and hear continually, but understand not; and see and see continually; but do not apprehend with your mind.

Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and turn again, and be healed.

Then said I, Lord, how long? And he answered, Until the cities lie wasted without inhabitant, and houses without man, and the land is utterly desolate,

And the LORD removes His people far away, and the forsaken places are many in the midst of Israel.

And though a tenth, [of the people] remain in it, it will be for their destruction -- eaten up and burned; like a terebinth tree, or like an oak, whose stump and substance remain when they are felled or have cast their leaves. The holy seed [the elect remnant] is the stump and substance [of Israel].

(Isaiah 6:5-13)

Who shall go up into the mountain of the LORD? or who shall stand in His holy place?

He who has clean hands, and a pure heart; who has not lifted himself up to falsehood, or to what is false, nor sworn deceitfully.

He shall receive blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.

This is the generation [description] of those who seek him, who inquire of and for Him, and [of necessity] require Him, who see Your face, [O God of] Jacob.

Lift up your heads, O ye gates; and be lifted up, you age-abiding doors; that the King of glory may come in.

Who is this King of glory? The Lord strong and mighty, the Lord mighty in battle.

Lift up your heads, O ye gates; yes lift them up, you age-abiding doors; that the King of glory may come in.

Who is [He then] this King of glory? The Lord of hosts, He is the King of glory.

(Psalm 23:4-10)

As far as the east is from the west, [so] far has he removed our transgressions from us. (Psalm 103:12)

End Time Prophetic Vision

Yom Kippur

Priscilla Van Sutphin

<http://www.upstreamcalifornia.org> elihoenai999@aol.com

My sheep are scattered on the high mountains, but I will raise up for them deliverers, and shepherds who will tend them like I would. I will no longer wink at greed and avarice in My leaders!. I will no longer allow them to pretend that everything is OK. When I do what I am going to do, many will falsely assume it is the enemy, when over and over I have warned the church to repent, and to seek My face that I could heal them, so I could uncover their nakedness, so they would not suffer shame. I will arise with healing in My wings.

I AM that I AM!. I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy. I AM the Sovereign Lord, the Creator of all things! and I will do In LOVE what is necessary to restore My church. Do not balk at My judgements! for when judgement is in the earth, the people will learn wisdom. All the earth will KNOW that I AM LORD !

Arise and thresh daughter of Zion! it is time to move out into the streets and proclaim your love for ME. Come My Bride and dance with Me! Listen to the Sounds of angels wings, and trumpets blowing, the sound of the drums !. War in the heavens!. come dance with Me on the streets of the cities! come and spend your love for me with abandonment! He who is ashamed is not worthy of Me! Dance as David danced!. Sing as David sang!. I will come down in these times and make a show of My love to you! in front of all to see.

Is anything too hard for me!. Raise your voices in prayer! and see if I will not make good on all the promises I have made to you!. LOOK! for your Husbandman draws near! to His bride!. I am coming soon!.

Now I will arise! Now will I make Myself known! Now will I shake all that can be shaken! My fire will burn against all that has tried to destroy My vineyards and the slain of the Lord will be many.

Isaiah 2 : 5-8, NKJV O house of Jacob, come and let us walk in the light of the Lord. For You have forsaken your people, the house of Jacob, because they are filled with eastern ways; They are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they are pleased with the children of foreigners. Their land is also full of silver and gold, and there is no end to their treasures; their land is also full of horses, and there is no end to their chariots . Their land is full of IDOLS ; they worship the work of their own hands, That which their own fingers have made.

Thus will I change the order of things. In a moment! they will lose everything unless they obey my leadings. The humble will I exalt and raise up. The haughty will be brought low. A new order will be established in My true church.

Prophecy son of man, prophecy the restoration of all things!. prophecy to the four winds, that My order be established in the church of MY making. Prophecy that the knowledge of the Lord will fill the whole earth as the water covers the sea.

This feast of trumpets, a new trumpet will blow in the land! and the days of restoration of all things will begin! what the canker worm has eaten will be restored. What the swarming locust has destroyed will be restored. My will WILL be done on earth as it is in heaven through the mouths of my apostles and prophets. I will separate the chaff from the wheat so do not look to judge one another! leave judgement to the JUDGE of heaven and earth. Minister to the hands that hang low, and the feeble knees!

I AM NOT a GOD of DESTRUCTION, but a God of RESTORATION ! Still my heart cannot linger at the cries of my loved ones, who need to know Me. Those who know my character will understand. I have commissioned you as a nation to GO !!. Not to sit and grow fat on the word!. and because you have neglected this commission in every way! I will give it to the young and they will be my showbread!. and those who have been faithful, will be blessed beyond their imagination. Those whose hearts have yearned to go, will now receive what they need to fulfill their hearts' desires because I put that desire in their hearts.

Hold on dear ones, for the best is yet to come. Cry out in the night watches, For Your Redeemer draws nigh ! The arrogance of the wicked will be brought low! You will overcome by the blood of the Lamb, and the word of your testimony. Listen ! Listen for the still small voice! multitudes in the Valley of Decision!. How will they know Without a preacher ? I will raise up the voices of those crying in the wilderness, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord ! " They will speak only what I have ordained, and it will be followed with My signs and wonders.

You Know the Way

Martin Sayers

January 18, 2000:

Many of you are still in the wilderness of Kadesh where I sent you to be sanctified, that was a work of Holiness to be done by Me in you. The fires are for sanctification. Quit striving. Stop contending with Me. For it was from this place that you are that Moses was disallowed to enter into the Promise Land. Children you are at risk of losing the Promise. It is My Heart that you all come and receive, but you must stop striving and contending with Me. There is only one Way that you will enter into the Promise and that is to enter into My rest. So sanctify thyself and I will receive you back. But you must stop; get up out of your mess. Sanctify yourself and then you may come unto Me. When you were lost I came unto you and carried you back. But you are not lost and you know the way. COME.

Yeshua's Last Passover

Ephraim Frank

Dear Messianic Israelite,

Passover! An exiting time of the year, especially this year, as the 14th of the first month (Aviv), YHVH's Passover, occurs again in the middle of the week, just as it did on the week of Yeshua's execution. The Passover (actually the Feast of Matzot, or Unleavened Bread) is the first of the seven mo'adim, fixed appointments with YHVH.

What is so important about these fixed appointments, their time and place, and are they relevant for today's redeemed Israelite community? In Colossians 2:16-17 Shaul says: "So let no one judge you in food or drink, or regarding a festival or a new moon or Sabbaths, which are a mere shadow of things to come, but the substance is of Messiah." Many use this mistranslated scripture portion to disqualify the feasts of YHVH. However, the literal translation of these verses is: "Let no one be your judge in regards to food, drink, feasts, new moons or Sabbaths, but the Body of Messiah, for these are shadows of things yet to come." Thus, these Torah observances are prophetic, and by keeping them we are proclaiming something that is yet to be revealed in YHVH's plan. For this reason the Body of Messiah is "to judge" and discern these matters, as the verse points out. To those who would argue that the Torah laws were nailed to the cross, and that Yeshua has fulfilled them all, we would say that the apostle wrote this after the death of the Messiah. In other words, yes, they are shadows... of things yet to come, and therefore are prophetic in nature!

Let us walk with Yeshua this Passover, starting today, Friday, the ninth of the month of Aviv (Nissan). Each day will be much more meaningful as we ponder the mo'ed ahead of us, focusing on Yeshua's last Passover. Being the lamb of Elohim, Yeshua would have had to fulfill all the requirements of this mo'ed. In addition, there were also prophetic words that had been written about Him, and of course those that He prophesied about Himself. Here are some of the relevant scripture texts; looking at a Hebrew calendar, as you read, will help. In case you do not have one, today is Friday the fourteenth of April, but on the Hebrew calendar it is the ninth of Nissan or Aviv (the latter being the more ancient name, the former is a name "picked up" by the Judeans in Babylon). IT IS WRITTEN: "Do not think that I came to destroy the Torah or the Prophets. I did not come to destroy but to fulfill. For assuredly, I say to you, till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle will by no means pass from the law till all is fulfilled. (Matt. 5:17-18).

" Then He said to them, 'O foolish ones, and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken! Ought not the Messiah to have suffered these things and to enter into His glory?' So beginning at Moses and all the Prophets, He expounded to them in all the Scriptures (Tanach) the things concerning Himself" (Luke 24:25-27).

" Then I (Yeshua) said, 'Behold, I have come----In the volume of the book it is written of Me----To do Your will, O YHVH'" (Heb.10:7).

"Then Yeshua said to them, 'all of you will be made to stumble because of Me this night, for it is written: 'I will strike the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered'": (Zech 13:7)...

" 'Or do you think that I cannot now pray to My Father, and He will provide Me with more than twelve legions of angels? "How then could the Scriptures be fulfilled, that it must happen thus?' In that hour Yeshua said to the multitudes, 'Have you come out, as against a robber, with swords and clubs to take Me? I sat daily with you, teaching in the temple, and you did not seize Me. But all this was done that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled.' Then all the disciples forsook Him and fled" (Matt. 26:31, 53-56).

YESHUA'S PROPHECIES

The Sign of Jonah:

"Then some of the scribes and Pharisees answered, saying, 'teacher, we want to see a sign from You'. But He answered and said to them, 'an evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and no sign will be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah. For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the great fish, so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth'" (Matt.12:38-40).

"'A wicked and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and no sign shall be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah.' And He left them and departed" (Matt.16:4)

“And while the crowds were thickly gathered together, He began to say, ‘this is an evil generation. It seeks a sign, and no sign will be given to it except the sign of Jonah the prophet”” (Luke 11:29).

The Sign of the Temple

"So the Jews answered and said to Him, 'what sign do You show to us, since You do these things? 'Yeshua answered and said to them, 'destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up'. Then the Jews said, 'it has taken forty-six years to build this temple, and will You raise it up in three days?' But He was speaking of the temple of His body" (John 2:18-21).

"Now the chief priests, the elders, and all the council sought false testimony against Yeshua to put Him to death but found none. Even though many false witnesses came forward, they found none. But at last two false witnesses came forward and said, 'this fellow said: 'I am able to destroy the temple of YHVH and to build it in three days'" (Matt. 26:59-61; Mark 14:58-62). (Were these last two really false witnesses? Did not Yeshua say that He would destroy the temple? Read John 2:18-21 again.)

"And those who passed by blasphemed Him, wagging their heads and saying: 'you who destroy the temple and build it in three days, save Yourself! If You are the Son of God, come down from the cross '"(Matt. 27:39-40; Mark 15:29-30). These signs were fulfilled, and there were witnesses to verify it. Because Yehsua proclaimed that these signs were to corroborate His Messiahship, it was in the interest of the priests to ensure, in every way possible, that those declarations of His would prove false. That is why they placed soldier-guards around the tomb and sealed the stone that covered the entrance. This, however, backfired on them. As a matter of fact, the soldiers became the first eye witnesses to the fulfillment of the signs. “Now while they were going, behold, some of the guards came into the city and reported to the chief priests all the things that had happened. When they had assembled with the elders and consulted together, they gave a large sum of money to the soldiers, saying, 'tell them, 'his disciples came at night and stole Him away while we slept.' "And if this comes to the governor's ears, we will appease him and make you secure." So they took the money and did as they were instructed; and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day” (Matt. 28:11-15).

"After His resurrection, the disciples also recalled what Yeshua had said about the destruction of the “temple” and about raising it in three days" (John 2:22).

YHVH’S APPOINTED TIMES

“And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying, 'speak to the children of Israel, and say to them: `The feasts of YHVH, which you shall proclaim to be holy convocations, these are My feasts. Six days shall work be done, but the seventh day is a Sabbath of solemn rest, a holy convocation. You shall do no work on it; it is the Sabbath of YHVH in all your dwellings”” (Lev. 23:1-3). Each feast day, regardless of the day of the week it happens to occur on, is patterned after the Shabbat and is called a Shabbaton. This is why Yeshua had to be taken off the cross and buried before the evening of the coming in of the “Shabbat”. “Therefore, because it was the Preparation Day [the 14th] that the bodies should not remain on the cross on the Sabbath (for that Sabbath was a high day [the 15th]) the Jews asked Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away (John 19:31; Mark 15:42; Luke 23:54). The fifteenth was and still is the Feast of Matzot - Unleavened Bread. It is a Shabbat-like day (a Shabbton).

“These are the feasts of YHVH, holy convocations which you shall proclaim at their appointed times. On the fourteenth day of the first month between the evenings [the entire twenty four hour period of the fourteenth] is YHVH’s Passover” (Lev.23: 4-5). Please note that the fourteenth is not spoken of as a rest day or a holy convocation (see John 19:31). It was the day on which they were busy sacrificing and cutting up the lambs; from evening to evening, a day of preparation for the Shabbaton that was to follow (the fifteenth was the first day of the Feast of Matzot). “And on the fifteenth day of the same month is the Feast of Unleavened Bread to YHVH; seven days you must eat unleavened bread. On the first day [the fifteenth of the Month of Aviv] you shall have a holy convocation; you shall do no customary work on it. But you shall offer an offering made by fire to YHVH for seven days. The seventh day [the 21st of the month of Aviv, April 26th this year] shall be a holy convocation [a Shabbat-like day]; you shall do no customary work on it" (Lev. 23:6-8; ref. Deut. 16:1-3). Within the week of the Feast of Matzot it is possible to have three Shabbats; the fifteenth, which could fall on any day of the week, the regular seventh day of the week, and the seventh day feast which again may occur on any day of the week.

“And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying, ‘speak to the children of Israel, and say to them: When you come into the land which I give to you, and reap its harvest, then you shall bring a sheaf of the first fruits of your harvest to the priest. He shall wave the sheaf before YHVH, to be accepted on your behalf” (Lev.23:9-10). Literally it says, “for your acceptance”, or “that you may be accepted”, in other words, you and I can only go before YHVH if this wave offering qualifies us.

“On the day after the Sabbath (the weekly Shabbat that falls between the two Shabbatons) the first day of the week [the 18th of Aviv. In Hebrew, one and eight are equivalent to the letters that make up the word “life”), the priest shall wave it. And you shall offer on that day, when you wave the sheaf, a male lamb of the first year, without blemish, as a burnt offering to YHVH.” (Lev. 23: 9-12). Yeshua was raised on this day and presented Himself before the Father, this is why He told Miryam of Magdala not to touch Him, for He had not yet been to the Father. He was that first fruit wave offering that you and I may be accepted. “And you shall count for yourselves from the day after the Sabbath, from the day that you brought the sheaf of the wave offering: seven Sabbaths shall be completed” (Lev. 23:15). (Not forgetting to count the Sabbath of the 21st of Aviv).

LAMB FOR THE SACRIFICE

"Speak to all the congregation of Israel, saying: `On the tenth day of this month every man shall take for himself a lamb, according to the house of his father, a lamb for a household. `And if the household is too small for the lamb, let him and his neighbor next to his house take it according to the number of the persons; according to each man's need you shall make your count for the lamb. Your lamb shall be without blemish, a male of the first year. You may take it from the sheep or from the goats. `Now you shall keep it until the fourteenth day of the same month. Then the whole assembly of the congregation of Israel shall kill it at twilight [between the evenings]" (Ex. 12:3-6).

Yeshua the Lamb

“And she brought forth her firstborn Son, and wrapped Him in swaddling cloths, and laid Him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn. Now there were in the same country shepherds living out in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night" (Luke 2:7-8). The Lamb was born in a stable, in a feed troth, among the animals. Significantly it was shepherds pasturing their sheep, that heard the message of the angles. "And this will be the sign to you: You will find a Babe wrapped in swaddling cloths, lying in a manger." (Luke 2:12).

Later in the Lamb's life, John the Immerser exclaimed: "Behold! The Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world” (John 1:29).

An Ethiopian eunuch, who came to Jerusalem to worship, was sitting in his chariot reading the prophet Isaiah. "He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and as a lamb before it's sheerer is silent, so He opened not His mouth. In His humiliation His justice was taken away, and who will declare His generation? For His life is taken from the earth"(Isa. 53:7-8; Acts 8:32-33).

“But with the precious blood of Messiah, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot. He indeed was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you” (1Pet.1:19-20).

“And I looked, and behold, in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as though it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent out into all the earth. Then He came and took the scroll out of the right hand of Him who sat on the throne. Now when He had taken the scroll, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each having a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. They sang a new song, saying: 'You are worthy to take the scroll, and to open its seals; for You were slain, and have redeemed us to God by Your blood out of every tribe and tongue and people and nation, and have made us kings and priests to our God; and we shall reign on the earth” (Rev. 5:6-10).

“After these things I looked, and behold, a great multitude which no one could number, of all nations, tribes, peoples, and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, with palm branches in their hands, and crying out with a loud voice, saying: 'Salvation belongs to our God who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb'" (Rev. 7:9-17).

“They sing the song of Moses, the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying: 'Great and marvelous are Your works, Lord God Almighty! Just and true are Your ways, O King of the saints! Who shall not fear You, O Lord, and glorify Your name? For You alone are holy. For all nations shall come and worship before You, For Your judgments have been manifested'"(Rev. 15:3-4).

Passover Lamb’s Journey

“Now it came to pass, when Yeshua had finished these sayings, that He departed from Galilee and came to the region of Judea beyond the Jordan" (Matt. 19:1; Mark 10:1; John 1:28). "Now they were on the road, going up to Jerusalem, and Yeshua was going before them; and they were amazed. And as they followed they were afraid. Then He took the twelve aside again and began to tell them the things that would happen to Him: 'Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be betrayed to the chief priests and to the scribes; and they will condemn Him to death and deliver Him to the Gentiles; and they will mock Him, and scourge Him, and spit on Him, and kill Him. And the third day He will rise again'" (Mark 10:33). Please note the pronoun being used, it is as if the Son of God 'aspect' of Yeshua is speaking about the Son of Man 'aspect' of Him.

“Now they came to Jericho. As He went out of Jericho with His disciples and a great multitude, blind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the road begging. And when he heard that it was Yeshua of Nazareth, he began to cry out and say, 'Yeshua, Son of David, have mercy on me!'" (Mark 10:46; Luke 18:35; 19:1 Matt. 20:29; Luke 19:28). Interestingly, YHVH used a blind man to declare that Yeshua was the Messiah Son of David.

“Now when they drew near Jerusalem, and came to Bethphage, at the Mount of Olives, then Yeshua sent two disciples, saying to them, 'go into the village opposite you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied, and a colt with her. Loose them and bring them to Me” (Matt. 21:1-2; Luke 19:28-29).

“Then, six days before the Passover [the ninth of Aviv], Yeshua came to Bethany, where Lazarus was who had been dead, whom He had raised from the dead. There they made Him a supper; and Martha served, but Lazarus was one of those who sat at the table with Him. Then Miryam took a pound of very costly oil of spikenard, anointed the feet of Yeshua, and wiped His feet with her hair. And the house was filled with the fragrance of the oil. Then Mary took a pound of very costly oil of spikenard, anointed the feet of Yeshua, and wiped His feet with her hair. And the house was filled with the fragrance of the oil. Then one of His disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, who would betray Him, said, 'why was this fragrant oil not sold for three hundred denarii and given to the poor?' This he said not that he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and had the money box; and he used to take what was put in it. But Yeshua said, 'let her alone; she has kept this for the day of My burial. For the poor you have with you always, but Me you do not have always'" (John 12:1-8).

On Erev Shabbat, when you sit to have your meal, think about what had taken place on this very night so many years ago. Maybe find some perfume to scent the air... (fragrance of Messiah). “The next day [Shabbat the tenth of Aviv], a great multitude that had come to the feast, when they heard that Yeshua was coming to Jerusalem, took branches of palm trees and went out to meet Him, and cried out: 'Hosanna! Blessed is He who comes in the name of the YHVH! The King of Israel!' Then Yeshua, when He had found a young donkey, sat on it; as it is written: 'Fear not, daughter of Zion; Behold, your King is coming, Sitting on a donkey's colt'" (John 12:12-16). The Feast of Matzot (Unleavened Bread) was and still is celebrated on the fifteenth. This year that day happens to fall on Thursday, April 20th. If we count six days before the fifteenth of Aviv, we arrive at Friday the ninth (today, April 14th), this was the day on which Yeshua came up to Beit-Onya (Bethany) and had an Erev Shabbat meal with El’azar (Lazarus), Martha, and Miryam. Yochanan (John) tells us that the following day, which would have been Shabbat the tenth of Aviv, Yeshua rode the colt of an ass into Jerusalem. It was not Palm Sunday, but "Palm Saturday" that year. On the tenth the priests carried the lambs for the Passover sacrifices into the Temple, as commanded by YHVH (see Ex. 12:3). The lambs were examined for four days, and if no blemish or defect could be found, they qualified for the sacrifice, and were killed on the fourteenth. Yeshua went up to Jerusalem on the tenth, and for four days he was questioned and examined and in the end no fault could be found in Him. He was the perfect sacrifice. He celebrated the Passover meal the night before the rest of the nation celebrated it, as He knew He would not be around for the occasion. "Now before the feast of the Passover, when Yeshua knew that His hour had come that He should depart from this world to the Father, having loved His own who were in the world, He loved them to the end" (John 13:1). "When the hour had come, He sat down, and the twelve apostles with Him. Then He said to them, 'with fervent desire I have desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer; for I say to you, I will no longer eat of it until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God'" (Luke 22:14-16). He was then crucified on the fourteenth, which is Wednesday, the middle of the week. On the day of preparation Yeshua was put into the grave, just before the Shabbaton of the fifteenth, the eve of Thursday (please keep in mind that the night comes first and then the day). He was in the grave that night (1st night), all day Thursday (1st day, the fifteenth); the night of Friday (2nd night) all day, Friday (2nd day the sixteenth); Saturday night (3rd night) and all day, Saturday (3rd day the seventeenth). Then sometime after the Shabbat went out Yeshua rose from the dead. He was exactly 3 days and 3 nights in the grave. The religious leaders were looking for a reason to denounce him as a liar. Indeed, if He would not have stayed in that grave for three nights and three days they would have proven their point beyond a shadow of a doubt, and Yeshua could not have been the Messiah of Israel. The Good Friday and Easter Sunday celebrations only come to the aid of those who would declare Yeshua a liar. The sign of Jonah is Yeshua's answer to an evil and wicked generation. Let us be as those who have understanding and join Yeshua's disciples and remember all that has been written. "Therefore, when He had risen from the dead, His disciples remembered that He had said this to them; and they believed the Scripture and the word which Yeshua had spoken" (John 2:22).

Hag Same'ach, Shevet Achim

"Great and marvelous are Your works, YHVH Elohim Almighty! Just and true are Your ways, O King of the saints! Who shall not fear You, O YHVH, and glorify Your name? For You alone are holy. For all nations shall come and worship before You, For Your judgments have been manifested"(Rev. 15:3-4).

You Have Not Passed This Way Before

Francis Frangipane

June 9, 2000

"Then Joshua said to the people, 'Consecrate yourselves, for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you'" (Josh 3:5). Every new dimension in God requires a new consecration of ourselves. We cannot ascend higher in Christ without shedding the limitations of our previous attainments.

Israel was about to enter a new realm of spiritual fulfillment. Earlier they had been delivered from slavery in Egypt. Then, in the wilderness, God delivered the Hebrews from their inward taskmasters of sin and unbelief until, finally, they learned the source of their well being came, not from themselves, but from "every word which proceeded from the mouth of God."

THE PROMISED LAND WITHOUT A SLAVE MINDSET

Just as the Jews could not survive the wilderness with the mindset of a slave, neither could they enter the Promised Land with perceptions limited by the harshness of the wilderness. The wilderness was to prepare them for something greater than itself: a promised land, with new victories, greater power and greater enemies as well.

There is a sequence to our spiritual experiences: we begin enslaved, God delivers us, He then begins to train and discipline us. Yet, this also leads to a time of fulfillment, a spiritual "promised land," where the Lord's promises manifest in power in our lives. We must not forget what we learned in the lesser levels, but we must also remember: the wilderness is not the promised land. God has something better for us. Indeed, the living, praying church is about to be given more power and victory than we have ever known. And just as the Lord instructed Joshua to have Israel consecrate themselves before entering Canaan, so the Lord is calling for a fresh consecration among us as well, for He will again work wonders among us.

A FRESH SURRENDER

To consecrate oneself in the Old Testament meant to set aside all you were, along with your possessions and goals, and present yourself afresh to God. It means the same to us today. It cannot be done superficially and also be done right. We come like children, soft and willing to be taught new truths. Even if much of our understanding had previously come from God, there is more to learn. Consecration is fresh surrender.

Now, the wonders which God is about to perform are to reveal His glory and His goodness. This world is full of hopelessness, fear and corruption. Thus, the Father wants people to know the power and the glory of His Son. The times of extended dealings are about to be put behind us. The "wilderness era" for the church will soon lead to a different dimension: "the time . . . when the saints took possession of the kingdom" (Dan 7:22; see also Matt 24:14).

FOCUS AND FOLLOW

"It came about at the end of three days that the officers went through the midst of the camp; and they commanded the people, saying, 'When you see the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God with the Levitical priests carrying it, then you shall set out from your place and go after it'" (Josh 3:2-3).

God called Israel to follow the ark of the covenant. Their covenant relationship with God was their source of power and direction. It defined their range of possibilities.

"However, there shall be between you and it a distance of about 2,000 cubits by measure. Do not come near it, that you may know the way by which you shall go, for you have not passed this way before" (Josh 3:4).

He said, "You have not passed this way before." They had spent four hundred years in Egypt and forty years in the wilderness. They had many experiences, but nothing from their past would enable them to grasp their future. So, the Lord commanded them to focus on the covenant ark and follow it.

DEFINING OURSELVES BY GOD'S COVENANT

Likewise, we have had many dealings and blessings from God, but most Christians really have not known how to define themselves in light of God's covenant. Yet, something is happening my friends. I've talked with many national leaders. We all are sensing that a new, powerful move of God is approaching. People are feeling something deep inside. A new move of God is coming. The Lord is about to do a new thing that will release far greater power. Thus, we cannot rely on our understanding or personal, subjective experiences or traditional church procedures. Neither can we rely on what other church people have told us. Nothing in man's recent past is fit to define the unfolding glory awaiting God's elect in the days ahead, but at its essence is the unfolding of Christ's fullness in the church.

Joshua commanded Israel, not to follow the military, not to walk behind their weapons of war, not to trust the strategies of man: he said follow the ark of the covenant. As much as they had learned in the wilderness, there was more. They had learned discipline, obedience and worship, but the power of God's covenant was about to be unleashed on a new level. The covenant would break former limitations and release new wonders and revelations of God for the Israelites.

WE HAVEN'T GONE THIS WAY BEFORE

Listen, my friends, we too have "not gone the way" of the covenant before. Wait, you argue, we know about the blood covenant. We are going to heaven because of Christ's covenant, we know forgiveness.

Yes, we have known a limited experience of covenant power, but most of our expectations are for the next life. The Almighty has many unfulfilled expectations for this life-power and gifts He wants to give that will proclaim the fullness of what Christ has purchased for this realm!

Beloved, we are children of God, yet we've been reduced to man-sized dreams and limitations. We worry about health care, retirement, finances and job security. However, through the unleashed power of the New Covenant, we are about to step up to God-sized boundaries, power and fulfillment! Just as God gave Joshua the nations of Canaan, so Christ's blood will purchase the peoples of the world. Is it not written, He shall "sprinkle many nations" (Isaiah 52:15)? Yes, entire nations shall come to His light and kings shall bow at the brightness of His rising! (Isaiah 60).

A COVENANT PEOPLE

A covenant is the highest form of commitment that can be made between two parties. Just as the Jews are a covenant people, so true Christians are also a covenant people. The Jewish covenant was made between God and Israel with Moses serving as mediator. Their covenant required that they fulfill all the demands of the Law, and if they violated just one stipulation a curse rested upon them until proper atonement was made, usually the blood of bulls or goats.

Our covenant, however, comes with greater promises and potential. While Moses was imperfect, the New Covenant is an agreement between God the Father and God the Son.

"When He had taken a cup and given thanks, He said, 'Take this and share it among yourselves; for I say to you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine from now on until the kingdom of God comes.' And when He had taken some bread and given thanks, He broke it, and gave it to them saying, 'This is My body which is given for you; do this in remembrance of Me.' And in the same way He took the cup after they had eaten, saying, 'This cup which is poured out for you is the new covenant in My blood'" (Lk. 22:17-20).

GOD COVENANTING WITH GOD

It is important to understand that the New Covenant was not made directly with us, but made between the Father and Son for us. The only conditions put upon us are that we believe and receive what God has done.

The terms of the covenant were as follows: If Jesus would live His life in holy, sinless purity, never once failing to obey the Father; and if through His humiliation, chastening and crucifixion, Christ would suffer the penalty due man; then God would put the punishment due all of mankind upon Christ, freeing those who would receive Christ of the eternal penalty for sin.

By looking to Jesus, mankind acknowledges we are sinners in need for atonement; when God looks at His Son, He is satisfied that atonement has been paid. Jesus gave a perfect life in exchange for our imperfect lives, a holy life for our unholy lives. Oh what a God we serve! The Father sends His only-begotten Son-the very essence and substance of Himself-to represent us as a man, so that God could covenant with God and secure our eternal redemption!

FREELY GIVEN ALL THINGS

Yet, not only have we received salvation with Christ, but Paul tells us something perfectly wonderful. He declares, "How will He not also with Him freely give us all things?" (Rom 8:32) In other words, if God would go so far as to give His Son, what would He withhold? The answer, of course, is nothing. The blood covenant has purchased for us everything we need pertaining to life and the appropriation of godliness (see 2 Pet 1:3).

Everything has been granted us because of the blood covenant. Even though we know this truth, we have not walked in it, even as Israel knew of the promised land, but had not entered it. For us, the covenant we are called to follow will lead us into Christ's fullness in virtue, gifts and power.

UNITED WITH GOD

"Now the God of peace, who brought up from the dead the great Shepherd of the sheep through the blood of the eternal covenant, even Jesus our Lord, equip you in every good thing to do His will, working in us that which is pleasing in His sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be the glory forever and ever. Amen" (Heb 13:20-21).

Not by human virtue or self-righteous, but by virtue of "the blood of the eternal covenant," we receive "every good thing to do His will." We have God "working in us that which is pleasing in His sight." Paul tells us that God has blessed us "with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places" (Eph 1:3). We have received all because Jesus gave all. Everything is based on what Jesus accomplished in the New Covenant! God, grant revelation of this until this one holy truth becomes a fire unveiled within us.

Such is the power of the covenant. We are on God's side; He is on our side. We are united with God against every enemy known to man.

CARRY THE COVENANT

Let's return to Joshua because the next scene in this prophetic parallel to the church reveals an awesome event. Joshua told the people to follow the priests as they carried the ark of the covenant. The priests were to stand still in the Jordan as Israel passed by.

"And it shall come about when the soles of the feet of the priests who carry the ark of the Lord, the Lord of all the earth, shall rest in the waters of the Jordan, the waters of the Jordan shall be cut off, and the waters which are flowing down from above shall stand in one heap" (Josh 3:13).

THE IMPOSSIBLE BECOMES POSSIBLE

It is interesting that, almost as a foretaste of how the impossible becomes possible, the priests are required to step into the Jordan. It is deep. The text tells us that "the Jordan overflows all its banks all the days of harvest" (Josh 3:15). This water does not gradually recede as the priests draw near; it has not dried over night from a stiff wind like the water of the Red Sea. It remains flowing until the priests, carrying the covenant, step out in it.

As they dip their feet over the edge of the deep, churning water, at their right side, the river instantly stops! As the weight of their bodies follows the downward pull of gravity, the foot of the first priest lands solidly on dry ground! It is almost as if God is saying, WELCOME TO THE REALM OF COVENANT POWER, THE REALM WHERE ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE!

WHEN COVENANT POWER IS UNLEASHED

In the wilderness, for the most part, the training, the lessons, the maturing all took many years. But, when God's covenant power is unleashed, things are hastened in their time. The covenant gives you direct access to the power of God. You do not have to go through an operator to get through to God. You have the covenant hotline to the Almighty!

The priests had to obediently step into the flowing waters. This is symbolic of the land of the covenant. Here, God intends to do things instantaneously. It's not any harder for God to do something instantly than it is to do it gradually. We have thought that "gradual" was one of the fruits of the Holy Spirit. The most familiar adjective in the book of Mark concerning the miracles of Jesus, is the word "immediately."

IMMEDIATE POWER

This is about covenant power, God's power. It is not about evolutionary power. Even though we are Christians, we live as though we believe in evolution: like everything has to evolve in our lives. There is a power coming that is an "immediate" power.

Again, look in Romans. "What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who is against us? He who did not spare His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, how will He not also with Him freely give us all things?" (8:31-32)

This is the land of our inheritance: the land of the covenant God who freely gives us all things. Whether it is the Jordan stopping as our feet touch it or the sick coming forth for healing, all things are ours because of the covenant of God with Christ.

NOT "UNBELIEVABLE"

From now on, when you talk about the great things of God, the miracles seen and those that are yet to come, let us refrain from saying, "unbelievable." It is time to say, "Yes, Lord! I believe!" When the Lord heals people and does His great works of grace and you hear the report of many salvations, do not say, "It's too good to be true."

The promises of God are good and they are true. Receive His love and the fulfillment of His promises. It is not based on us. It is based on the power of the blood covenant.

Listen afresh to Christ's confidence:

"Therefore I say to you, all things for which you pray and ask, believe that you have received them, and they shall be granted you" (Mk 11:24).

TIME TO ADVANCE

Faith works by believing we HAVE received what we ask. This is not a matter of "confessing" over and over the promises, but believing that, through Christ's covenant with the Father, He has given (past tense) us all things. Before we even asked for help, God's response was already secured. As Paul said, "How will He not also with Him freely give us all things?"

Surely, in a world where our advancement is based on our performance, now we abandon ourselves to God and advance based on how wonderfully Christ performed! Truly, we have not gone this way before.

"Oh God, topple the limitations of our minds! Destroy that thinking in us that still relies upon our own righteousness instead of trusting fully in the blood of Christ. Father, let this message be a revelation, not just a teaching to us! Open wide the eyes of our understanding that we might be aware of the fullness of what You have given us in Christ! Amen.

You Have A Part

Karen Daly

August 5, 00

And the Lord would say that the time has come, it is upon you, that you must become demonstrators of My glory. I have ordered your footsteps, and each of you have been placed strategically in your homes, neighborhoods, cities, counties, states, nations, and continents. So now, go and do what I've put in your hearts to do. For each of you have a part of my vision in your hearts. Do not be a stumbling block one to another by criticism or sarcasm or mockery. Would your hand talk badly about your foot? Would it be that you would allow your mouth to curse a part of your body? Woe to you that you have done this, for each of these people sitting on your right or your left, do you not perceive that each of you are a part of My body. And it is I, the Lord your God that is your head. Do you not perceive it? And if I have numbered each hair on your head, and know when each sparrow falls, do you think that I cannot order the steps of the members of My body? You look and see, and you judge, and you criticize, out of your double mindedness. Woe to you that you would curse the hand that I would send in this direction or the foot that I would send in that direction. For I have a special task for each of you. Some will build up and set in order. Some will tear down and destroy; some will plow, some will plant, others will bring in. Woe to you who would speak with one side of your mouth, 'Blessed be My name', says the Lord; and then speak out against a member of My body with the other side of your mouth.

How does worship and cursing flow together? You tell me, for surely this is not My way. My ways and My order are foreign to your unregenerated mind. Only the pure in heart, and the humble in spirit will see my ways and walk in them.

So those who have allowed My spirit to work in you, open your eyes and learn to see. See and know the work I am doing says the Lord. For truly, the humble and contrite heart will know My ways. Begin to walk in them for the time has come, the season has begun; the work is waiting for you to do. You know this work for I have written it on your hearts. Work together my children. For as puzzle pieces scattered on a table look as though they will never fit; but as this one and that one begin to see and do My work, so will the puzzle begin to come together. Don't allow doubt and unbelief cripple you; and don't curse My foot or My hand as each begins to do the work they know they must do. But bless and encourage and uphold, and uplift, and surely blessings will flow, and My power will come, and the anointing will increase, and My glory will be demonstrated through your lives, as you line-up with my plans and purposes, thus says the Lord.

You Are Free In Him

Marsha Allred

The Lord has had me share this experience several times in the past few weeks and it has caused me to believe there are others I would not normally meet who would be set free the same as I.

From very early childhood until the age of about 14 I had a reoccurring dream which would come at least once a week if not more for all of those years. The dream was always exactly the same.

In the dream, I was walking along with a huge crowd of people and I "understood" that this was the WHOLE WORLD. My perspective was always from the back - I was watching yet I was in the middle of that mass of people walking together. Slowly - a little at a time - two from the left would move away from the group, then three from the right - one or two more from the left and two or more from the right. Finally all the people were standing away from me in a circle - more or less around me - and as if on cue they all raised their index fingers, pointing at me and said in unison, "You have never been one of us, you never will be." That would be the end of the dream - but it came again and again. I never told anyone about the dream - it was so much a part of my life and my identity it never occurred to me to tell anyone. The enemy did not stop there but orchestrated similar situations throughout my life while I was very much awake. The result of this indoctrination was rock solid - I understood perfectly if someone rejected me - they were completely correct in doing so - I wasn't one of them. I could honestly empathize with anyone repelled by me - I'm so sorry for the inconvenience.

Rejection did not bring pain - only sympathetic understanding.

About five years ago I was driving along - many years removed from that dream - I hadn't even thought of it in years. Suddenly the entire dream played in my head and in my soul - complete in every detail. It took only a few seconds, "Wow, where did that come from?" I thought. Just then the Lord spoke, "That dream was a truth, you know." I was a bit startled, "Oh?" Then He said, "You never have belonged to the world, you've always belonged to Me." It was as if tons of weight - I never knew was there, left my shoulders.

The Lord created you in a way that was special to His Heart - and no one else is exactly the same. I believe we all have a unique imprint of God in our hearts that no one else shares. God's Heart is very big - there's a lot of Him to go around! It is very important that we allow that Expression to flow through our lives so that His character is revealed in mankind. Like me, maybe you think so little of yourself you are sorry for the trouble you make just being on earth. I want to assure you - that is a lie from the pit of darkness - you were created in His Image. We do need the blood of Jesus to redeem us from the twisted living death we would live without Him and then we CAN trust His Holy Spirit to lead us into all truth about who He is and who we are to Him. I pray the blessing and healing of the Blood of Jesus go with these words - entering eyes, entering hearts, entering minds and spirits bringing freedom, release and the promise of His eternal faithfulness to each one that read this. You are loved - you are valued - you are free in Him.

Why Are You Here?

William Hawkins

Vision of the Lord July 7th, 2000-- 1:30 P.M.

The Lord came to His House on a Sunday Morning and spoke to His own.

WHY ARE YOU HERE ?

Are you here to meet ME ?

Are you here to have fellowship with ME ?

Are you here to worship ME ?

Are you here to rejoice in your relationship with ME ?

OR:

Are you here to be blessed by:

The word in teaching you seek;

The style of worship music you enjoy;

The fellowship with other believers;

To be seen;

Because it is the "THING" you need to do weekly;

WHY ?

You need to be here for one reason only; to worship me simply for who I AM.!

But, you can not do that, because you do not have a pure and clean heart before ME;

I see your heart by your actions;

I see your heart by your disobedience;

I see the very intent of your heart, ALWAYS !

You do not seek ME, because you fear what I might see in your heart, so you come to be blessed in your flesh.

CHILDREN !

You can not hide your heart from ME;

ANYWHERE;

ANYTIME;

FOR ANY REASON;

IT IS ALWAYS EXPOSED BEFORE ME!

Rise up and listen, it is I who knocks at your door, rise up and open to ME.

Do you not understand, I wish to enter MY HOUSE ! I wish to bring MY GLORY in, to show forth the very cloud of MY presence, to walk among you, and be one with you.

Do you know why I sent John the Baptist before I sent My own Son?

To straighten out the doctrines of those lost children. To show them the folly of their ways, to preach MY word among them. And what was the one word I spoke through John so forcefully ?

I spoke repentance because their hearts were far from ME, even also as are yours.

The idols are not the same as then , but, idols are idols regardless of their nature.

Repent ----Repent .

I spoke through Peter on the day of Pentecost in the Temple to the multitudes and said "Repent and you shall receive the gift of My Holy Spirit"

You still walk according to the world because you have never made a real relationship with ME, only your mouth has, not your heart. REPENT.

Your hearts overflow with Pornography that you hide from your wives, you abuse your children and your wives, sexually and physically, you drink and smoke and put drugs in your blood, you curse MY very name, you lust after other men who are not your husband, you strive for more of the world, instead of more of ME, you walk in the Filth and Mud of iniquity, and then come to MY house to be blessed--

REPENT !

You can not hide from ME regardless of where you go and how you try, for I AM everywhere and I see even to the intent of your heart.

Repent before Me in sackcloth and ashes--Repent..

I seek a people who worship ME for who I AM, not what I can do for them.

Fear ME for who I AM , not what I can do to you.

Love ME for who I AM , not what I can do for you.

I stand before you as a living flame that will bring life, it will consume the filth and burn you clean, it will carry you along with ME, wherever I go.

Repent---Repent.

OR:

That same flame shall consume you in judgment for the error's of your ways, but more for the refusal to be obedient to MY voice and My words,

Says the Lord.

Repent before Me and you shall be blessed beyond your wildest dreams and expectations as you truly walk with ME and do MY bidding in obedience and faith to what you have heard and seen this very day--

amen.

Your Time Will Come

Mark Kaphaem

I have felt the Lord speaking a very special word of encouragement to me over the last few days. He sends it as a cool breeze over the desert to bring hope to those who are sojourning there.

There has been a season of deep reflection that has passed over the body. Not just conviction of sin, but deep soul searching of the heart. You have seen the motives of your heart. You have seen the power of your words as they have passed over your lips. You are coming much closer to the glory that exposes your pride, the light that reveals you intents, the Love that purifies your motives. This is not a easy time and many are losing hope. Not only have you seen the condition of your own heart but the log has been removed from your eye and you are seeing clearly the state of the body also. Do not be overwhelmed in this time. That is the plan of the enemy for you. My plan for you is about to be revealed. For I tell you, I have prepared a hundred Abrahams in this time who through faith have laid their promises on the altar before Me. I have molded hundreds of the like of Moses who have grown humble and are ready for Me to use. There are a thousand Esther's who have prepared for this day and will soon step forth. And there are thousands of David's whose hearts have been broken before Me.

You feel like you have come to the end of yourself and for many of you this is true. You have not failed. Do not turn to look on yourself with disdain. Many of you have sought to divorce yourselves in this time. Do not divorce what I have come to redeem. Do not give up so close to the goal. Abraham laid His promises on the altar but He never lost faith. Even when the fulfillment of these promises seemed impossible in his eyes. Moses went forth only in obedience. Esther stepped out as a flower in a hurricane and prevailed. David faced his sin and was not overcome.

I have not forgotten you. I have not passed over you. Your time will come.

You Have Been Taken To The Edge

Pastor Roger Davis

18 June, 2000 @ 6:30pm

I have allowed you to come to edge of defeat and failure. I have Allowed you to be tested beyond what you thought you could Bear. I have taken you to the limits of your faith and belief – That you can see just how much that you need me.

It is those times that you have founded that I have never Forsaken you or left you. That I was always there and was Always near. What you feared was not there at all.

What you thought was going to take you under – you were able To rise above it. What had kept you back – now is not there. What Controlled you – was broken and cast away from you.

This is what the lord says, I have been preparing you and Building you up for such a time. I have positioned you and called You forth. What has taken place within has been me at work.

At times, you thought: ‘I cannot make it – this is too bad – god is Unfair’. But you have weathered it all and had stood. You have Stood. You have learned resistance and how to endure.

You have learned what is of me and what was of the flesh. It has Not been easy – but hard. And you did doubt at times if you would Survive. But you more than survived but came through and have Stood.

The testing is not easy at that time – your whole being is pressed. Your very movements are restricted. You being felt boxed in and Everything around you seems to be closed off to you.

You have found others did not understand you – much less did You understand yourself. Confusion covered you and you felt Alone. You wanted to hide and cover yourself. You said, ‘it is too Much – god is too unfair.’

This is what the lord says, you found that was not true – but That you have come forth – refined as pure gold. You are not the Same person that you were. You are becoming more like me.

Now is the time – to recognize what I have done. Now is the time – To look at yourself and say, I see what the lord has done – I am Not the same – I have been changing – Christ dwells in me and he is Mine and I am his.

Look forward – no longer hang on to the past – there is nothing There for you to look to. Look forward to what I have said and Am about ready to do. All is before you – nothing is behind you.

Hold to my words and reject the lies of the past. The false Conclusions that you have come to – are not of truth. All the Words that you have spoken over yourself are now removed.

The word curses of others are voided and have lost their power Over you. My words are what is to operate in your life now. Those are the only words that you are to accept and be governed By.

It has not been easy – there is more to come – but you are Learning more and more how to discern what is going on. You are Learning to separate the good from the evil. You are not easy Move by things, people, or circumstances – you are now learning How to be moved by my spirit.

You are truly my sons and daughters – because you are lead by My spirit. It is his voice that you are longer to hear. You have Come to depend on him. You have found he will lead you into Truth and through him you find my ways.

What you were – you are not now. What you have become is mine. You are not as you were. You are not wandering in fear and Confusion. But you see and hear clearly because I have trained You.

You do not understand all that lays before you – great things Are to come but at the same time great resistance is before you. Hell have enlarged itself to resist what I am about to do. But do Not fear or even pull back – but set your face – face the conflict.

Victory will be come. Battles will be fought – fierce will be the Battle – great will be the forces that will come against my army. But you have been well prepared. You have been trained and set In place.

I have placed you within the ranks – stand strong. You are ready – because I have prepared you. I have seasoned you with testing And trials – you are well ready.

My anointing and power is yours – you will lack nothing. Nothing will be withheld from you. All that I have is yours. You Will always have more than what the enemy has. Your weapons Are more powerful and they are outnumbered.

I have trained your hands to war. You are more prepared than What you think. You do not realize what a threat you are to Darkness. Because my light is great around you – you shine so Brightly.

My glory is over you and it covers you. You are clothed with my Presence and my brightness shines out from you.

all that has been done to you – I have taken and used it. All the Past that was meant to destroy you and even kill you – I have Taken and formed you into a strong warrior.

There are scars and disappointments – but they are marks of your Testing. They are medals of your battles --- look upon them and Say, ‘the lord has prevailed in my life.’

Hear what the lord is saying, you are ready – you are prepared – Stand ready – listen to my voice – I am calling forth – this one And that one. I have positioned you – you are ready.
